Set for His Resignation to Go Into Effect--

His Record.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., July 5.—Comptroller of the Currency Dawes has tendered his resignation to the President, to take effect October 1st. Dawes resigns his office to enter the Illinois Senatorial contest this fall.

Dawes' term of office does not expire until January 1, 1903. Dawes entered the office of Comptroller of the Currency January 1, 1898, succeeding James H. Eckles.

One of the most prominent features of Comptroller Dawes' administration has been his annual report to Congress. He came to the office at a time when the monetary system of the country was a subject of general interest and the arguments he advanced in his reports became the subject of wide-spread discussion by the press and financial journals of the United States and England. He argued against bank assets in currency under our present national bank system and opposed with vigor the idea of a prior lien of the note holder over the depositor upon the assets of insolvent banks. Owing to the passage of the law March 4, 1890, the national bank system of the country has greatly increased. During his administration he has created seven hundred and eighty-five banks. The number of national banks now under his supervision is 4064, having assets of $5,630,795,387.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, July 5.—Twenty-one disciples of John Alexander Dowie visited Evanston, a suburb, tonight and despite the efforts of the entire police force of the place, a mob of 1000 people drove them out of town. The instant the Dowieites began their meeting they were assailed with eggs, vegetables and other missiles. The guard of policemen was small and the crowd soon began to hustle the missionaries along the street in a manner that looked serious. Chief of Police Knight called the entire police force, but it included only 30 men and was unable to cope with the mob.

Several of the male Dowieites were knocked down and both women and men were liberally bespattered with eggs and mud. The Dowieites finally fled from the town, the police protecting them as they ran for the cars.

By Associated Press.

C., July 5.—President and Mrs. McKinley left Washington tonight for their former home at Canton, where they are to spend the remainder of the summer except that the former may visit the Buffalo exposition and run on to Washington for a few days. ness and pallor of her face, but she moved with alacrity from the carriage, boarded the train without any material assistance and appeared to be in a contented and cheerful state of mind and quite at ease. She cordially acknowledged the greetings of friends who had assembled at the station. A considerable number of people were at the station, mostly ladies who came to see the party depart.

Those in official life who came included Secretaries Root and Hitchcock, Comptroller Dawes and the ladies of their families.

DASTARDLY DEED

Of a Brutal Character in Guernsey County Narrowly Averted.

Special to the Leader.
Cumberland, O., July 5.—This place and the country hereabout is in a frenzy of excitement over the assault made upon the fourteen-year-old daughter of G. M. Wareham, by a tramp late yesterday afternoon.

The girl had been here doing some marketing and had started to return to her farm home, lying to the west of town. She was riding in a road cart and when she reached a lonely spot in the road a man emerged from the thick bushes and seizing the horse by the bridle brought him to a sudden halt. He then attempted to take hold of the girl, but she broke away from him, jumped from the cart and ran down the road at the top of her speed, screaming all the while.

Two men named McClelland and Martin, who were working in a cornfield hard by, heard the girl's piercing cries and started at once to her rescue. Upon sight of them, the man who was pursuing Miss Wareham, broke into the woods. The alarm was given, a posse was organized, and at an early hour this morning the man's capture was effected at a point near Hiramburg, in Noble County.

He was brought back here and positively identified by the girl, after which he admitted his guilt. He gave his name as A. W. Russell, and stated that he was recently released from the Ohio penitentiary after having served a sentence of eighteen years for rape.

Russell was taken before Squire Purkey, who bound him over to the grand jury, and he was taken immediately to the jail at Cambridge.

For a time there was considerable lynch talk, but it is now subsiding, and there is now but little fear in that direction.

The girl was greatly frightened and is suffering from the nervous shock.

SHOT

His Companion Dead and Then Suicided.

By Associated Press.
Albany, N. Y., July 5.—Raymond Albers, a thirteen year old lad, this evening shot Emanuel Kohler, a boy 12 years of age, and then hanged himself. The boys were playmates and quarreled some days ago. Albers is the son of Albert Albers, a well known painter, and Kohler is the son of Rev. John T. Kohler, a minister of the gospel.

Young Kohler was standing on a fence in the rear of Albers' house. He was with his eight year old brother, Theodore, who was the only one who saw the shooting. The two boys had some words and Albers raised a flobert rifle at young Kohler and shot him. Albers, when he saw Kohler fall from the fence, said, "I'm sorry I did it."

The ball passed through Kohler's heart. He died almost instantly.

Then Albers ran into the house and told his mother. The neighborhood was quickly alarmed with the news, and during the excitement Albers ran away. Later he was found in the cellar of his home, suspended by the neck from the end of a rope tied to a beam of the floor above.

He evidently stood on a cask and fastened the rope about his neck and then jumped from the cask. When cut down he was still alive, but he died in a few moments.
