MARIETTA, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1901.

TEN CENTS A WEEK

IDENTIFIED

The Prisoner as Ellis Glenn, Did Williamstown People.

Richards Suspected Glenn's Sex and Mrs. Hoover Says She Saw Dresses in the Prisoner's Room.

By Associated Press.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 11.—In the Ellis Glenn trial today many women were in the audience. A number of witness identified her as Bert Glenn, formerly of Williamstown.

Mrs. Vesta Hoover, Dr. Kline, A. S. Richards, S. T. Prettyman and John Richards, all of Williamstown, identified the prisoner as Bert Glenn. Richards said that at the time he suspected that Glenn was a woman. W. H. Beeson was so positive that the prisoner and Bert Glenn were one and the same that he made special oath to that effect.

TOOK THE GIRLS RIDING.

Yesterday, in accordance to Attorney Caldwell's question as to Ellis' "beaming" abilities, Mr. Hoover said as far as he knew Bert Glenn had courted the young ladies, taken them to church, swung on the front gate with them and other things. He had seen Glenn out driving with the girls.

"While at my home he built a kitchen sink, and I must say it was a marvel of neatness."

Mrs. Vesta Hoover, wife of George Hoover, was put on the stand this morning and testified as to the execution of the $400 deed of trust. She stated in substance that she was present, and signed the $400 deed, but not the one for $1,400.

RECOGNIZED GLENN.

When asked as to whether she recognized the prisoner at the bar as the Bert Glenn who had boarded at her home in the year '96 she stated to the best of her knowledge it was.

"When Glenn was at my house he did not spend many evenings at home and did not spend every night. He would occasionally go out with Miss Sarber. I have never seen him with any married ladies and I know nothing of his laundry work. While at our home he laid a floor, celled a kitchen and built a sink for us. I have known him to come in in the morning after being out all night."

"Miss Sarber came to my house frequently while Glenn was ill and carried meats to his room."

Mr. Caldwell then questioned Mrs. Hoover along the line of possible occurrences in Glenn's room between Glenn and Miss Sarber, but the Court refused to allow the examination to proceed further along those lines.

SAW WOMAN'S CLOTHING.

"I have seen woman's clothing in the possession of Bert Glenn while at my home and in her room. There was a gray dress, an apron or two and a child's cap."

The witness again identified the defendant as Bert Glenn.

Considerable discussion followed regarding the contents of the room occupied by Glenn and when a question arose as to certain parties being in that room a slight smile played about the prisoner's lips as though in derision.

"In regard to the dress, Glenn told me it was his mother's." This was brought out only after the closest cross questioning. From the manner of testifying it appeared as though the witness was prejudiced against the prisoner.

"I know that the defendant is the same person who was at Williamstown and who showed me the dress he said was his mother's."

"Do you know that this person is Bert Glenn and if so, how do you know it?" asked Attorney Caldwell.

"That's Bert Glenn," responded the witness.

DR. D. W. KLINE.

"I am a physician at Williamstown Have been there seven years. I knew a person named Glenn, who was dressed in men's clothing. He was there in September, '96, and stayed at Hoover's and Byers' places. To the best of my judgment the defendant is the same person I knew as Bert Glenn and I have seen him often in Williamstown. I treated Glenn for a wound on the hand at my office. It was a cut on the hand in the palm over an inch long. I have seen Glenn with Addie Sarber and one night about two o'clock he came for me to go to Miss Sarber who was ill with a severe headache. I refused until her brother came for me and then I went and found Glenn there.

"During the time Glenn was in Williamstown I never saw him limp."

At this point the witness criticized the actions of Attorney Caldwell and his remarks were ordered stricken out by the court and the witness was told to stand aside.

A. S. RICHARDS.

"My home is in Williamstown since 1896. I knew a person named Glenn." In answer to the state's question concerning his recognition of the prisoner as Bert Glenn the witness said: "To the best of my knowledge it is the same person."

This answer was made only after the closest scrutiny of the prisoner.

STARTLING TESTIMONY.

Mr. Richards created consternation in the court room by asserting that at that time, '96, he believed that Glenn was a woman and said so to a number of people.

The strength of this evidence was weakened by the defense bringing out that there were no holes in Glenn's clothing but merely the lack of impression that gave the witness his opinion as to Glenn's sex.

S. T. PRETTYMAN.

Mr. Prettyman being put on the stand right after dinner stated that he recognized the defendant in court. He said: "I recognize this person here in court dressed in female attire as Bert Glenn, one and the same person who was in Williamstown in the fall of '96."

He later qualified his answer by saying "to the best of my knowledge and belief." Prettyman's identification came near being the most positive of any witness yet on the stand.

"SO HELP ME GOD."

Said Squire Prettyman, "I am swearing on my own hook about this case, and am not influenced by anybody." This was brought out in regard to a question by the defense relative to a conversation between the witness and other parties concerned in the case.

In speaking further along this line the witness stated that he had stated to the other witnesses that the defendant at bar was Bert Glenn. This was before he had been put on the stand.

JOHN RICHARDS.

"My home is in Union district and knew a person named Glenn living at Williamstown in 1896. It is my opinion the Glenn here is the same Glenn."

The witness then told how he had been in Criminal Court in September and seen Glenn. The moment he "set eyes" on Glenn he recognized her as the Glenn who had been in Williamstown.

"If," said Mr. Caldwell, "this person is a woman and Bert Glenn is a man, then they are not one and the same person are they?"

"Well I presume there would be a slight difference."

RECOGNITION POSITIVE.

For the first time since the opening of the case Squire Beeson positively recognized the defendant as Bert Glenn whom he knew at Williamstown. This was the first positive recognition made by any witness in the case.

"The deed of trust," said Mr. Beeson, "I am familiar with and the one now shown me is the same with the exception of the two changes, the change from $400 to $1,400 and the name of the trustee from W. P. Beeson to Thomas Prettyman. I am the same Beeson referred to in the bill of charges in the case of William Richardson against George A. Hoover and others and called a conspirator with Mr. Hoover."

During a small intermission at this point, Attorney Caldwell lifted the monotony of the situation by singing "He died for you and me," and followed it up with selections from Shakespeare.

One hundred and nine striking machinists of the Hooven Owens and the Rentschler Company voted this afternoon to return to work tomorrow without concessions.

BLOODY

Conflict Between Missionaries and Natives.

By Associated Press.

Berlin, July 11.—The Cologne Gazette publishes a despatch from Seoul, Corea, dated July 6, saying that bloody conflicts occurred on the island of Quelpart between Roman Catholic missionaries and their pupils, and the populace of the island. Fifteen natives and about 200 mission pupils are reported killed during the encounters.

The Governor of Quelpart says the trouble is the fault of the pupils and arose from their support of tax collectors in levying illegal taxes upon natives. Quelpart is in the Yellow sea, 60 miles south of Corea, to which country it is subordinate. It is a penal settlement.

By Associated Press.

Albany, Mo., July 11.—Three children of George McCury, a prominent contractor, today found some dynamite in the cellar at their home. Thinking it putty they fed it to their pet frog. The pieces of dynamite resembled insects and the frog ate them. A large tool chest fell on the frog and exploded the dynamite which had been eaten. A chisel pierced the temple of the youngest child and killed him. Another child and Mrs. McCury, in the kitchen above, were seriously hurt and that part of the house was wrecked.

Morath, capitalist and landlord of the Capital hotel, at Philadelphia, created a sensation at the local rod mills this morning when he appeared among the roaring furnaces and picked out one of the big brawny men as his son, Joseph Morath, whom the father lost trace of twenty-one years ago. At that time the parents of Joseph Morath were poor. The mother died and the son, then a child, was taken by an aunt to rear. She died in another city and the father was never able to locate his son until this week. The son is promised an easier life in Philadelphia.

TEN KILLED

By Three Heavy Cars Breaking Through a Bridge.

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, O., July 11.—Just after 10 o'clock today three cars of a local freight went through the Nickel Plate bridge at Crooked Creek, north of East Springfield, Pa.

The train left Conneaut only a few minutes before the accident in charge of engineer Wm. Griffith, of Buffalo, and conductor Phil A. Moore, of Buffalo. The latter was killed outright. The bridge gang was at work on the bridge. Ten men were killed, mostly workmen. A fill was being made at the bridge and about 25 workmen were about the structure. The accident occurred just after passenger train No. 3 pulled through. The local, after the passage of the passenger train, passed three cars, heavily laden, out on the structure to unload stone. The work of unloading was hardly begun when the whole structure, bearing three loaded cars, filled with laborers, crashed into the valley.

The list of dead includes Conductor Phil A. Moore, of Conneaut; J. S. Seaboss, workman, of Cleveland; Geo. Swartz, workman, of Springfield; Homer Beckwith, foreman, of Conneaut; five Italians, names as yet unknown; Carl Randall, of West Springfield.

The men, as the train fell, leaped as far as possible, so that only two or three were buried beneath the debris.

The dead were all brought to Conneaut with the exception of Randall, Beckwith and Swartz, who were taken charge of by parents at Conneaut. The living were conveyed to a hospital.

The accident stopped all traffic on the line. Passengers are sent over the Lake Shore. The cause of the wreck can be laid only to an accident. For a long time all trains were required to reduce speed to four miles an hour in passing over the bridge.

GOVERNOR DURBIN

Asked to Intervene in a Controversy With Italian Government.

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 11.—Governor Durbin was called on by the State Department at Washington today to intervene in the controversy between the Wabash Railroad Co. and the Italian government, which was laid before the Federal authorities. A letter to the Governor says that a representative of the Italian consul at Chicago went to the Wabash railroad hospital at Peru to see the Italian laborers injured in the Wabash wreck near Cass, in which eight Italians were killed outright and several injured, and that "this representative consul was denied any communication whatever with the men (the Italians) by the agent of the railroad company."

The Italian consul declared to the government that the injured men need some one to look after their interests and therefore a request was made of the Department of State to intervene in the matter with a view of obtaining permission from local authorities for Consul Roscawadowski to render aid to the Italian hospital patients.

The letter asks Durbin what action he deems best to aid the friendly government.

COLUMBIA WON

With Constitution Second and Independence a Good Third.

By Associated Press.

Newport, R. I., July 11.—Columbia won today's race in fine shape with Constitution second and Independence a remarkably good third. The Boston boat sailed an exciting race with the two Herreshoffs and led Constitution at the outer mark, only to be beaten by her a little over two minutes on the run home before the wind.

The breeze today was much stronger than on previous days and Independence sailed 15 miles to windward without her jib topsail and seemed to hold higher, at the same time footing up just as fast.

The result of today's race leaves the question of supremacy of the three 90 footers uncertain. Independence not being so slow after all, while Constitution has yet to prove her unquestioned superiority to the other yachts in anything except very light winds.

The hopes of the Boston contingent have therefore gone upward with a bound tonight. Experts are trying to figure what Independence will do when it blows still a little harder.

Columbia crossed the line three minutes and forty-two seconds ahead of Constitution, Independence coming up two minutes and 15 second after Constitution crossed the line.

CASE

With Sensational Points is Ended.

By Associated Press.

La Porte, Ind., July 11.—The celebrated Brill case came to a sudden end here today when John W. Brill pleaded guilty to assault and battery and was fined $500 and costs because he shot at Attorney E. F. Weir here last January, believing the latter was unduly intimate with his wife.

A charge of attempted murder was made against Brill but after various attempts a compromise was arranged by which Brill was to plead guilty to a lesser charge. Brill is a Cleveland man who amassed a fortune in Mexican mines.

A divorce suit may be the outgrowth. Nearly two hundred witnesses had been summoned, some from Mexico, for the trial which was to have started today.
