"The man worth while" may be the man who will smile when every thing goes dead wrong; he is also the man who keeps his head in an emergency.

If you close one eye and hold a bean near enough to the other eye the only thing you can see in the universe is a bean. Works the same way if you use something besides a bean!

Don't expect the people you have served and favored, extended courtesies to and helped when you could stand by if its going to cost them anything, and verily, you shall not be disappointed.

Paddle your own canoe and fight your own battle, don't wait for someone else to do it for you. At the same time don't be so much of a pork animal that you can't help some other fellow that needs help, so shall thou attain to manhood and distinguish thyself from a sucker.

Not to be desired more than much fine gold, are those "friends and neighbors" who exaggerate the adversity of others in order to increase their own prosperity. We are thinking just now of those who are so kindly (?) warning people that Wauseon is under quarantine. It might be kind if it was true.

WILL HE KEEP IT? Somewhere, we read or heard or did we dream it—that a business man made the following resolution: Resolved that I will write my advertising copy early, so early that it will be in the hands of the editor Monday morning for that week's paper. Such a resolution would greatly lighten his work and would give me a better looking ad.

"After treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previously, I was a cripple, walking on crutches."

That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you?
