

FULTON COUNTY TRIBUNE.

VOL XXXI

Auditor, County 1-1-14

WAUSEON, OHIO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 23, 1914

NO. 41

COUNCIL MEETING

Every Councilman at His Post Monday Evening. Council Transacts Pressing Business and Perfect Arrangements to Control Smallpox Situation.

Every member of the council was in his place last Monday evening when Mayor Hoy called the second regular meeting of the new council to order. It was not an especially solemn occasion but most of the council members were in uniform because these noble men were stricken with remorse or uncontrollable sorrow but because the health officer had issued a notice to the patrons of the schools announcing the reopening of the schools on Monday, January 26th.

Mayor Hoy and Councilman Howard presented a tentative arrangement made with Dr. J. H. Miller to take care of the smallpox patients and make all necessary examinations in connection with the disease for which the village must be financially responsible at the rate of $12.50 per day; the council voted to ratify such agreement and Dr. Miller was employed to take charge of the medical part of the situation.

The situation of the council was called to the practical completion of the Brunell street improvement and the clerk was instructed to notify the city engineer to make and submit final estimate on improvement, in order that the necessary legal steps toward assessing the costs might be taken.

State Board of Health, came to Wauseon, and thoroughly investigated the conditions. He complimented the officials on the measures that had been taken, stated that they had done more than he himself would have advised and stated that the conditions did not justify keeping the schools closed any longer than was necessary to have the pupils successfully vaccinated.

The town is not and has not been quarantined and conditions do not justify anyone in staying away from the town or neglecting to transact any business that they may have.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Recent Activities—An Arrest in Akron—Trouble in Swanton Quiet—Record of Captures Shows Only Two Who Have Eluded Sheriff's Urgent Invitation.

Last Monday Sheriff McQuillin went to Akron and came back late Monday evening with William H. Case who has been wanted for some time in Fulton county to answer a charge of non-support of his wife and two small children. Case has been traveling about quite a bit of late; says he has been in New York, Pittsburgh and Cleveland and the Sheriff has heard from him in Toledo and Akron, Mich.

Case was brought to Wauseon, Ohio, and Sheriff McQuillin brought him to the city on Saturday night. Case was held in the city on Saturday night and on Sunday morning he started for Fulton county to answer a charge of non-support of his wife and two small children.

NOTICE

During the past week or ten days rumor has been spread throughout the county that I have contracted a case of smallpox, which is entirely false and without foundation. About two weeks ago I was vaccinated and about three days later contracted a severe cold and the two effects have caused me to be confined to the house about ten days.

I am now feeling greatly improved and expect to be out in a few days. I have the assurance to everyone that the above rumor pertaining to smallpox is absolutely false, I am, Very truly yours, A. EARL HARGER.

"Money Back" Medicine

Our readers never risk a cent when they buy Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh because every dealer in this liniment is authorized to refund the money if the Balsam is not satisfactory.

A EULOGY.

Thou, by the Sculptor, Infinite, From the purest granite Of manhood's highest possibility, Was chiseled with divine ability, And lines carved with care; So that thou stoodst four square To all the winds of stormy life, With all its problems, ills and strife.

Thou fearedst no one (nor thing) Save One; and dared to fling Thyself against the cohorts of wrong— It mattered not how many nor how strong. Nor soughtst thou the favored side, But always was quickly allied, In every civic or moral fight, With conscience and with right.

Thou leftst no coffers o'er flowing, Nor high and titled name aglowing; But thou buildedst high and most sure In character, and to its utmost measure. That character so noble and so pure, Shall forever with us endure. And we will it always treasure. In memory's priceless casket, safe, secure.

The sun God had not yet sank to rest In the mystic abyss of the golden west, Nor had the curtain of the night Silently fallen o'er the day's delight, E're thou wearied, sickened, died, Yes, thou fellst at life's noon tide; When thy sun, bright and high, Still was jewelled in the southern sky.

How swift the hours of thy brief day, And yet, thou'st strewn, along the winding way, The kindest of words, the sweetest thoughts, And with thy hands the knightliest deeds wrought. Thou hadst thy crown of thorns to wear; Thou hadst thy heavy cross to bear; Thou hadst thy burdens and thy care; And, of life's sorrows, thy full share.

And yet thou bore them all, true and brave, E'en to the very shadow of the grave. And when, from thy tired hands, they fell, I heard, "Thy task is done—all is well." And on the zephyrs of the night, An anthem rolled from a dizzy height, Far above all things terrestrial, As 'twere by the choir of the uncharted celestial. This and this alone was all The song and prayer at thy unspeakable funeral.

Words from the holy writ, and whaps, Would scantily cloth and wrap And console, as could no other, The aged, broken mother, And a sacred hymn might heal The pain our every heart doth feel, And thus appease the longing of the finite mind, Of weeping kin and friends thou'lt best friend.

But thy rude tenement of clay Thou'st quit and cast away, Is pulseless, deaf and blind, And could not note nor mind, Either words of praise nor bitter sighs, Nor stately pomp, that might emphasize, With somber mien or pageant splendor, Thy beautiful life in all its simple candor. Creed, conscience, character, each for the other an affinity, And these were thine, a glorious trinity.

Am I in dreamland musing; Else why this music so gently soothing Of bells, toned firm, yet clear, That reach my most anxious ear? What mystic power sets them ringing As in the vaulted arch they're swinging? They seem to be unmann'd By human power or hand. And now my senses are a reel As the chimes doth louder peal. Methinks 'tis with joy—He claims His own In yonder land—where thy spirit hath flown.

NEW DEPARTMENTS

Two New Departments Installed in The Tribune For the Use of Its Subscribers. Farmers Exchange and Employment Bureau—Use Them.

On the last page of the Tribune this week will be found two new departments headed, respectively "Farmers' Exchange" and "Employment Bureau". These will be permanent departments in this paper and are installed for the free use of our subscribers. We have had this matter under consideration for some time but have been unable to get at it until the present; it is our purpose to make this paper of the greatest possible service to our subscribers and we believe that these new departments will be of real and practical value to our patrons. Beginning with next week we shall be glad to insert a five line ad, about twenty-five words, in either of the above departments, absolutely free to any subscriber. Those who are not subscribers may use these departments by paying the regular rate which is one cent per word per insertion. Each subscriber will be entitled to one free ad in each month in either of the departments; for repeated insertions of the same ad or for other ads in the same month the regular rate of one cent per word will be charged.

Copy for ads should be in this office by Wednesday morning, at the very latest, in order to appear in the current issue of the week. The copy for the ad should always include the name and address of the advertiser. If you have anything to sell or exchange, no matter what it is; anything you wish to buy, borrow or rent; if you wish to employ help or wish to find employment, you are cordially invited to make use of these departments and the more widely they are used by our subscribers the better the publishers of the Tribune will be suited. Here is an opportunity for the consumer and the producer to deal directly with each other and we take pleasure in being able to offer you this opportunity.

Send in your ad right away for next week's issue. Address either Farmers' Exchange or Employment Bureau, Tribune Office, Wauseon, O.

NOTICE TO PATRONS OF WAUSEON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

At a called meeting of the Board of Education of Wauseon, January 17th, 1914, a resolution was passed, in conformity to the suggestion of the State Epidemiologist, to reopen the Public Schools Monday, January 26th, and admit only such pupils and teachers as present a certificate of having been vaccinated within the last five years.

It is the desire of the Board of Education to have all pupils from school on account of vaccination any longer than in the opinion of the Board is necessary to safeguard the welfare of the children. Therefore as soon as the danger of contagion is past, pupils will again be admitted to school regardless of vaccination.

From the seventh grade to the high school, the work of the next two weeks will be review and examination. Pupils in these departments who remain away from school on account of non-vaccination will be their examination when they return.

Note—The Village Council has made arrangements by which those school children who have not been vaccinated by the means of vaccination by their parents or guardian may be vaccinated free of charge. Such persons should apply to the Health Officer, J. E. Cantleberry.

By Order of the Board of Education. In view of the fact that considerable discussion has occurred concerning the legal authority of a Board of Education to exclude from school pupils who have not been vaccinated, a statement of the law may be of interest to the general public.

The statute conferring this authority is found on page 106 Ohio School Laws, section 3368, and reads as follows: "The board of education of each district may make and enforce such rules and regulations to secure the vaccination of, and to prevent the spread of smallpox among the pupils attending or eligible to attend the schools of the district, as in its opinion the board of education of the district, at the public expense, without delay, shall provide the means of vaccination to such pupils as are not provided therewith by their parents or guardians."

The constitutionality of the above section has been passed upon by the Supreme Court of Ohio. In 1907, a citizen and taxpayer of Barberton, Ohio, whose two children had been excluded from the public schools of that village because they would not be vaccinated, brought suit against the Board of Education to compel it to admit his children to the public schools. The case was tried in the lower courts and by each court was decided in favor of the Board of Education. It was carried to the Supreme Court, which upheld the decision of the lower courts. This was a full discussion of the case is contained in 76 O. S. Reports, page 297.

There is therefore no question of the legal right of a Board of Education, in any district in Ohio, to prevent the admission of pupils to the public schools who are not vaccinated; the legislature of Ohio has enacted a law conferring that authority upon Boards of Education, and the Supreme Court of the State has upheld that law.

Advertising in the Tribune is read in every home in Fulton county, with very few exceptions, and also reaches many people outside this county.

ROLL OF HONOR

Progress of the Movement to Secure the Funds to Erect a Soldiers Monument in Fulton County—List of Those Who Have Responded to Appeal of Monumental Association.

The sudden and unlooked for smallpox scare in various parts of the county has checked to some extent the efforts to complete the raising of the funds to erect a monument to the memory of the soldiers and sailors in Fulton county, the responses to the "Final Appeal" of the association which was published in most of the county papers had just begun to come in when the smallpox made its appearance. Copies of a suggestive program and subscription blanks enclosed in stamped envelopes were sent to all the township clerks in the county with the request that they mail them to the teachers in their townships. Under the circumstances, it has been impracticable, if not impossible to hold the school house meetings up to this time. It is the earnest wish of the association that these meetings shall not be abandoned but that every teacher in the county will see to it that these meetings are held at as early a date as possible.

The following have responded to the appeal to date:

V. W. Weeks. Mrs. Pauline Isbell Strong. George Lee. Mrs. Laura Eldredge. J. F. Dimke.

Mr. Weeks sent word that he had spent one day in soliciting funds with the result that he secured $28.50, $5.00 of which was in cash. He also stated that he would make a house to house canvass of his township in the interests of this cause.

Mrs. Strong sent a personal contribution of $5.00 and wrote that she wanted to have a "hand" in putting up a monument, having had a husband, one son and four brothers who served in the Union Army.

Mr. Lee furnished the names of the teachers in his township. Miss Eldredge made personal inquiries in regard to the meeting she was requested to hold.

Mr. Dimke called in to assure us that he had mailed the programs and blanks to all the teachers in Clinton township.

The association is thankful to all of the above for the interest they have evinced and we hope that we may have the co-operation of many more in this patriotic cause.
