The Weather Bureau report from Washington, D. C. for week ending July 14th states that, in the winter wheat states rains delayed harvest in the central and northern districts and much ripe wheat is still uncut, the soil is too wet for operations and wheat in shock is sprouting. The southern portions are drier and harvesting is completed and threshing is progressing with satisfactory yields. In the spring wheat states less cool weather with sufficient rains made a favorable week and wheat is now heading in the southern portion, and the outlook is promising. The conditions were less unfavorable for corn than the preceding weeks although continued rains in important portions delayed cultivation; also in the northern districts the corn continues small. Oats harvest has been delayed in some sections and rains have been promoting growth, and rust in others, but the crop is generally progressing well. Haying has been delayed by wet weather in several states.

WON BY FORFEIT.
Fans are saying that one of the fastest games of the season was played on Athletic Park. Wauseon last Sunday afternoon when the Napoleon and Wauseon teams met. The game stood 1 to 0 in favor of Napoleon from the first to the ninth inning when a decision of the umpire which would have tied the score was objected to by Napoleon's team and they left the field thereby forfeiting the game to Wauseon.

LOCAL BRIEFS

A CORRECTION.
Newspapers and magazines are continually publishing erroneous statements with regard to the number of dry states. A leading weekly periodical publishes a prohibition map showing seventeen. Iowa is omitted. A writer in one of the June magazines gives the number as sixteen. Iowa and Idaho both being counted among the wets. Up to September 21, 1914, there were nine prohibition states. Since that time nine more have been added. The eighteen prohibition states, in the order of their going dry, are:

Maine 1851
Kansas 1880
North Dakota 1889
Georgia 1907
Oklahoma 1907
North Carolina 1908
Mississippi 1908
Tennessee 1909
West Virginia 1912
Virginia 1912
Colorado 1914
Oregon 1914
Washington 1914
Arizona 1914
Alabama 1915
Idaho 1915
Iowa 1915

THEY TAKE LIBERTIES.

Last Sunday's Cleveland Plain Dealer takes liberties with our fellow townsmen W. T. Campbell and devotes nearly a page to an engraving of an interview which they have extracted from Mr. Campbell, a very excellent portrait of the gentleman and a very interesting outline history of his life and work. Of course the city paper may take liberties that the county weekly would hardly dare to sniff at, but we are not finding fault; we do not find that they have exaggerated Mr. Campbell's good qualities in the least and we are mighty glad to know that he is appreciated by busy people in a busy city as well as by his fellow citizen in his home town, it shows that the busy fellows have some sense of appreciation for Mr. Campbell hasn't a reputation as a talker here at home, especially about himself, and we extend our hearty congratulations to the city newspaper man who did the "cut" effort on the subject of an interesting article, though we are not willing to admit that he has told us anything good about Mr. Campbell that we didn't already know, nor will we admit that the city paper knows as much about Mr. Campbell along that line as we do.

QUIT YOUR KNOCKING.

Put the hammer in the locker; Hide the sounding board likewise; Anyone can be a knocker; Anyone can criticize; Cultivate a manner winning; Though it hurts your face to smile And seems awkward in beginning; Be a booster for awhile. Let the blacksmith do the pounding; That's the way he draws his pay. You don't get any more of your Saint and sinner, night and day. Just for solid satisfaction Drop a kind word in the slot. And I'll warrant you'll get action On your effort on the spot. Kindness every time beats kicking; Mirth is better than a frown; Do not waste your time in picking Flaws with brothers who are down. And it isn't so anding ining. If you give a little boost to When the chicks come home to roost.—Brighton, Colo., Register.

HAPPY OLD AGE.

W. R. Wilson and wife of 1571 West-ern Avenue, Toledo were over Sunday guests of M. A. Batdorf and family. The two old people celebrated their fifty-third wedding anniversary five years ago at the home of their son W. R. Wilson, Jr., of 103 Emery street. Mr. Wilson a veteran of the Civil War and the four scores and one years, is vigorous and alert mentally and physically with a prospect of many years before him. Mrs. Wilson, who is nine years his junior, might easily be judged as a bride of 35 years ago rather than fifty-three. Mrs. Wilson's father was Jacob Crawford a pioneer of Waldo, Morrow County, a relative of Colonel Wm. Crawford, who was massacred by Indians in 1782. Mr. Wilson's condition was considered a great prospect of crops as this county has.

NICHOLAS FROEPPLE DEAD.

Mr. Charles O. Eastman was called to Cleveland last Monday by the serious illness of his brother-in-law Nicholas Froepfle. Mr. Froepfle was operated on in a Cleveland hospital last Friday. His condition was considered very serious and the end came Thursday morning. Mr. Froepfle was for many years in the bakery business in Wauseon leaving here to engage in similar business in Kent. He recently sold his business in Kent and intended to return with his family to Wauseon. The sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends in this city goes out to Mrs. Froepfle and her four little children. Three of the children came Wednesday to be with their grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. John Swindeman. The funeral services and burial will be in Wauseon probably Saturday or Sunday.

THIS LITTLE OLD WORLD.

You can't talk about your peary gates; about them streets of gold, and them there mansions in the sky which some day will be hold; the walls may be of Jasper made, the mansions fair to see; but this here little old world, I guess, is good enough for me. You can't talk about your golden harps, of songs by angels sung of cherubim and seraphim that fly the clouds among; the streams with honeyed milk may flow—on that point I'll agree,—but this here little world, I guess, is good enough for me. It may be full of trouble—well, one can't have everything; an' every morning must its share of joy an' sorrow bring; it ain't like to be; but this here little old world I jes' is good enough for me.

PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY.

Following is a sample letter received by The Toledo Times in reply to the appeal to help the babies of the congested district of Toledo.
"I will take one mother and baby for the month of August, or two for two weeks each. We have a large yard and plenty of good milk and eggs."
MRS. J. K. ENGLISH, Maumee, Ohio.

A LONG AUTO TRIP.

Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Viers and daughters Winred Viers, M. D. and Miss Vera, of Minneapolis, Kansas, drove from their home in Kansas, a distance 1022 miles, in their Buick auto arriving in Wauseon about two o'clock Wednesday afternoon. They will visit Mrs. Viers' parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weir and other friends and relatives in Wauseon and vicinity.

Allows Audience to Choose His Encores at Chautauqua Recital

MARCUS A. KELLERMAN.
RARELY does the public come in contact with a great musician who is as thoroughly human as Marcus A. Kellerman, the dramatic baritone who is to appear in a recital on the third day of the Redpath Chautauqua. Kellerman is a giant in stature and is just as fond of outdoor sports as any other young American.
As a further testimonial of his desire to be "just folks" Mr. Kellerman has notified the Redpath Chautauqua management that during his tour this season he will sing as encores the selections requested by his hearers. From the list below patrons will choose their favorite number and leave it with the Chautauqua superintendent any time after the opening day. The selections named by the greatest number of people will be sung.
The list follows: "Evening Star," "Torreador Song," "A Little Bit of Heaven," "I Hear You Calling me," "Banjo Song," "Can't Yo' Heah Me Callin'?" "The Roary," "Mother Machree," "Valentine's Prayer" and "Danny Deever."
