

JOHN GUNCKEL

The Founder of the Newboy's Association—Friend Leader and Inspirer of Boys Throughout the Nation Passes From a Life of Noble Service.

John Gunckel died at his home in Toledo last Monday morning at 12:30 having just passed the sixty-ninth anniversary of his birthday.

There are hundreds upon hundreds of citizens respected successful and happy to day who will look back over the years of their lives and remember that it was John Gunckel who turned the tide of their lives into the channels that led to the better and happier conditions which they enjoy today.

It was a pleasure to meet him, it was both pleasure and inspiration to converse with him. He was willing always to help; in fact he gave himself without reserve to the service which was his life.

He was born in Germantown, Ohio, August 24th, 1846, educated in the Public Schools of Germantown and Oberlin College.

He came to Toledo in 1871 for a time was engaged in real estate business until 1878 when he became ticket and passenger agent for the L. S. & M. S. Railway.

He established the National Newboy's Association and the Toledo Newboy's Association and had attained national fame as the "Boy's Friend."

Since 1906 with the co-operation of the business men of Toledo, who have provided his salary since 1906 he has built the Auditorium devoted especially to the newboys of Toledo and strengthened both the National and local organizations until they have become institutions that will remain in this country during the years to come as a monument to the memory of John Gunckel.

bodied, kindly, helpful, useful and successful manhood. More than this, he has taught others how to do this great service for the race and therefore his work and the very soul of him shall go marching on through the years to come to bless and uplift to still higher planes of life generations as yet unborn.

There have been great Americans who have rendered signal service to their country and their times but in the final accounting there will be found none greater none who have rendered more important service than John Gunckel.

TRAFFIC RULES

Traffic Ordinance Soon to be Passed by Village Council—Marshals Ask For Co-operation of Citizens to Make Streets of Wauseon Safe for All.

There has been much complaint of late from many sources in regard to the utter disregard of traffic rules on the part of auto drivers and also drivers of horses on the streets of Wauseon.

There is a traffic ordinance in process of building which it is rumored will be some what drastic in its regulations and which will undoubtedly be passed by the council.

One thing that it will positively prohibit under severe penalty is speeding of either autos or horses on the streets of Wauseon and among other things that will not be permitted, are motorcycles without mufflers.

CHAUTAQUA WEEK

A Big Week For Wauseon—Good Attendance—Good Weather—Great Lectures—Royal Entertainment—A Grand Time For Young and Old

This week is certainly a great big week for Wauseon and vicinity and people are busy making the most of it. No one can say that the people of this community do not know a good thing when they see it and further more we notice that there are many who are setting all else aside for the purpose of getting all they can out of the splendid feast of things instructive interesting and entertaining that has been spread to our delectation by the Redpath Chautauqua.

The big show really opened last Friday night, when the big Chautauqua tent which has a seating capacity of 2000 was packed full and overflowing to listen to a home talent concert that pleased every body and revealed the fact to many that we have some musical talent among our home young folks that is of the first rank.

OHIO LIVE STOCK

Increases and Decreases in Various Kinds of Live Stock in Ohio for 1915—Significance of Decrease in Sheep to The State—Fulton County Increases and Decreases.

The Auditor of State's department has just completed the table of live stock statistics of the eighty-eight counties of the state for 1915, as reported by the district assessors.

There are 891,240 horses in the state, a decrease of 15,887 over 1914. In 1914 there was an increase of 90,957 over 1913.

The total number of cattle in Ohio is 1,583,878, an increase of 94,902 over 1914. There was an increase in 1914 of 228,895 over 1913.

There are now 36,581 mules and asses in Ohio, a gain of 2,328 over 1914. The increase in 1914 over 1913 was 7,133.

The number of hogs listed in the state in 1915 is almost identical with 1914, the decrease being only 141.

The total this year is 1,972,645 Hogs in 1914 increased 409,911 over 1913. Darke is still far in the lead with 62,098.

The decline in the number of sheep during the past half century is probably the most serious agricultural loss.

The high prices of wool during and following the Civil War caused the number of sheep in the state to increase from 3,308,174 in 1860 to 7,688,845 in 1904.

At that time there were 25 counties with over one hundred thousand sheep in each, and as late as 1885 there were fifteen with over one thousand each, and one, Licking, with 227,604.

In 1885 there were ten counties with more sheep than the total in the eighty-eight counties. There is not a single county in Ohio today that has one hundred thousand sheep.

This decline in the number of sheep in the hills counties of Ohio, and the decrease has been justified by the recent price of wool.

With wool above 25 cents per pound, there ought to be not less than four million sheep in the state, and that number at the present average weight per fleece would produce a larger number of pounds of wool than were shorn from the 7,688,845 sheep in Ohio in 1868.

It will be of interest to readers of the Tribune to consider the figures from the State Auditor's table of statistics for Fulton county: There is a slight increase in the number of sheep in the county; in 1914 there were 10,144, in 1915, 10,275.

Cattle show an increase of 1518 head over last year when 19007 head were reported; the figure for 1915 is 20,525.

There are 147 mules in the county this year, last year there were 147. The number of sheep fell from 8331 in 1914 to 6860 in 1915, a decrease of 1471.

There was also a marked decrease in hogs. In 1914 the assessors reported 26809 hogs in this county; this year there were 23890 reported, a decrease of 8919.
