

COMPANION TO THE GOODYEAR ALL-WEATHER TREAD

In a factory devoted exclusively to manufacturing Goodyear Tires for small cars, the two tires illustrated above are made.

One is the famous 30x3 1/2 Goodyear All-Weather Tread Clincher.

By long wear, superior traction, freedom from skidding, and ultimate economy, the Goodyear All-Weather Tread has won unquestioned leadership.

As a companion to this tire there is the Goodyear 30 x 3 1/2 Cross Rib.

Built of the same high grade Egyptian fabric and with a long wearing but differently designed tread, this tire offers unusual value.

Over 5,000,000 of these tires have been sold in the last five years.

Their quality and serviceability have proved to thousands of motorists the folly of buying unknown and unguaranteed tires of lower price. Ask your Goodyear Service Station Dealer to explain their advantages.

BLACK AND WHITE GRAY CREPE DE CHINE GOWN

Combination of Broadcloth Produces Stunning Effect. Costume Suits Offer Splendid Opportunity for the Use of the Two Materials.

Broadcloth is being used for some of the new two-piece models, and, because of the smoothness of its finish, it has an elegance of charm that is not touched by other materials.

The costume suits offer splendid opportunity for the use of two materials, with the extra coat or wrap or cape as the case may be, which is a largeness of surface on which to carry out a divergence of the principle of using two materials.

Another stunning combination is that of a piece of paisley shawl with a dark twill, which is illustrated in one of the drawings. There are many ways in which to make use of paisley material, along with some plain material, for the dull reds and blues in

Although simple in line this creation is rendered lovely by the glistening beads in diamond-shape design. The slashed sleeve is held at the wrist by a bracelet of the beads. The hat is of light straw with large frosted cherries.

WATER COLORS ON WALLS

Mottled or Flecked Effect May Be Obtained by Using Sponge Cut Across Grain.

A rather unusual, very artistic and much employed process in decorating walls, is that by which various colors are employed. First, the background of the plain flat desired tint is applied and this in turn mottled or flecked with one or two additional harmonizing colors applied with an open sponge cut across the grain so as to present a flat surface.

LESSON FOR APRIL 16

EASTER LESSON

LESSON TEXT—John 20:1-9. GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is risen indeed, Hosanna 24:24.

PRIMARY AND JUNIOR TOPIC—The First Easter. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why We Observe the Easter Day.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S AND LADIES TOPIC—The Effect of Belief in the Resurrection.

1. Jesus Manifests Himself to the Disciples, Thomas Being Absent (vv. 1-9).

He appeared to several of His disciples at several different times during that day. This is the first appearance to the disciples as a body. The rumors of His several appearances on that day caused the disciples to assemble to talk over the matter. For fear of the Jews, they met in a private room and barred the door. While they were discussing the strange happenings of the day, the Lord mysteriously appeared before them with the greeting of good cheer, "Peace be unto you." He did not come with censures for their unbelief and desertion. At His birth the angels announced "Peace." Just before He took His departure, He said: "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you" (John 14:27); "Let not your heart be troubled" (John 14:1); and how the first word after His resurrection is "Peace." Having calmed their fears, He gave them an unmistakable evidence of His resurrection. "And when He had so said, He showed unto them His hands and His side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord. Their doubts needed to be scattered, and His peace needed to be upon them. Consider: 1. The disciples' commission (v. 21).

"As My Father hath sent Me, even so send I you." This commission was both simply to a class, as the eleven, but to all Christians. In Luke 24:38 we find that there were others there in that meeting besides the eleven when Jesus showed Himself to them and commissioned them, showing that the commission is not confined to a class or order, but is wide as the Christian body itself. The Christians, therefore, are envoys and representatives of Christ. The exercise of this great function is not merely optional with the individual, but is obligatory upon them. The Lord placed it upon a plane with His own commission from the Father—"As My Father hath sent Me, so send I you."

2. The disciples' equipment (v. 22). "He breathed on them, and said unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost." The mission of the disciple is a very great one, but every one who goes forth in its execution He clothes with the power of a new life by the bestowment of His spirit. No one who has this equipment shall ever fail. The mission of the disciple is a very great one, but every one who goes forth in its execution He clothes with the power of a new life by the bestowment of His spirit.

3. The disciples' authority (v. 23). "Whosoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto heaven, and whosoever ye retain, they are retained." This authority was not by virtue of office, but by virtue of having the Holy Ghost. This would give the spiritual discernment to know who had or who had not the Holy Ghost, and consequently to pronounce pardon or not.

4. Jesus Manifests Himself to the Disciples, Thomas Being Present (vv. 24-29). Thomas was absent at the first appearance of Jesus. His absence delayed him at a vision of the Lord. Absence from the assembly of believers always occasions loss. The other disciples always go to Thomas at once with the glad news of the resurrection, but he will not believe. His stubborn disbelief is such that He, eternal life in Him, and only as He is appropriated by faith can men be saved.

5. The Conclusion of the Gospel (vv. 30-31). In these verses John's arguments are summarized, and an explanation is given as to why he wrote this Gospel. Many other things could have been written, but these he wrote because he judged it necessary to prove his point. To prove that (1) Jesus of Nazareth was the expected Messiah; (2) that He was divine—the very Son of God; (3) that those who believe on Him as God's only Son—the Messiah—would receive eternal life. Eternal life is in Him and only as He is appropriated by faith can men be saved.

SECRETS ARE WORTH MUCH

Paris Newspapers Would Like to Know More of the Wondrous "Land Where Nobody Dies."

In truth, they do die there, but not until they are very old. The country is Madagascar, or more exactly, Antanarivo, the capital, situated in the middle of the island, on a rock crowning a small plain belonging to the plateau of Imerina. According to Dr. Estrade, the colonial physician—and him—the birth rate at Antanarivo is extremely high and the mortality is surprisingly low.

These Malagasy are a happy people. "But could we not," asks the Paris Figaro, "get from them their two beautiful secrets: That of the numerous births and that of longevity? They would render us greater services than all the laws on depopulation and the bounties and other encouragements which the state gives to the parents of large families."

That Started Him. Staylate (at 11:30 p. m.)—"My note is to live and let live." Miss Bright (stifling a yawn)—"I wish it was to sleep and let sleep."

Simple. "How can I keep my toes from going to sleep?" "Don't let them turn in."

God is Victorious. If He bowed His meek head to mortal pain for a time for us men and our salvation, if He emptied Himself of His glory voluntarily in order to do this for us, if He, on Easter day, by the power of the Father rose from the grave and said on Easter morning, "I am He that lives and was dead, and behold I am alive for evermore. Amen, and have the keys of hell and death" then I have got a gospel of hope; that great enemy Sin and that great enemy Death were met in full light and were conquered by Jesus Christ, and God is victorious.—The Bishop of London.

To Draw Our Faith. Here in the Cross we see the source from which to draw our faith: here is the demonstration of love, and it is with the faith drawn from this that we face the facts of life. Conviction of sin follows conviction of love; it is when I realize against what tremendous love I have sinned, it is then the sinner can begin to repent.—The Bishop of London.

What Christ Saw in World. Christ saw much in this world to weep over, and much to pray over; but He saw nothing in it to look upon with contempt.

Happiness in Our Heart. The happiness that we vainly seek the world over is all the we within us, nestled close to our own hearts.—Bruce Calvert.

Our Comforts. Most of our comforts grow up beneath our crosses.—Young.

The Whirligig of Time. An old Arkansas man remarked the other day that "Times ain't like they used to be. In the old days the men put powder in their guns and went out to hunt the deer; but nowadays the 'dears' put powder on their faces and go out to hunt the man."—Boston Transcript.

OLD BOAT NOW POWER PLANT. Former Mississippi River Steamer Seems to Have by No Means Outlived its Usefulness.

One of the survivors of the "days made famous by Mark Twain's 'Life on the Mississippi,' the steamboat Andrew Paddock, is now serving as a power plant at New Orleans. Perched high in the air on stilts, smoking still belches forth in black masses from its tall stacks, but the stern wheel that once churned the murky waters of the river is motionless.

Success. His Sunday school teacher was doing the best to inculcate lessons of altruism, and had taken as his example the case of two little boys, one of whom was always ready to grab, while the second was willing to share everything.

"Now, children," he finished impressively, "which of these two boys will grow up into the successful and respected man?" And as one voice the class answered: "The guy that gets it!"—American Legion Weekly.

William found a pocketbook But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment.

The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee.
