FRIDAY AUGUST 9, 1907

The reason why some people cannot stand long on their dignity is because they have a very narrow place on which to stand.

The costly traction engine must be glad as the time approaches when some of the winter's accumulation of rust is to be worn off by use.

Two citizens of the state of Washington had a prize fight over a girl. Then she rejected them both. Mossbacks still talk of the inferiority of woman's intelligence. — Brooklyn Eagle.

The man who deliberately takes a risk where it appears unsafe has no right to kick if he loses by such a transaction. There is a legitimate risk taken in all kinds of crops when they are put in, but dealing on the Board of Trade has but little legitimacy in it.

The Logan county commissioners have been asked to place a bounty on red squirrels. The farmers claim that the squirrels have multiplied so fast that they are a nuisance and very destructive of crops. There seems to be thousands of them this year in that county. — Bulletin.

The man who kills another is hung. The barn door that falls and kills a pig ought to be hung. If any person who has a door propped up with a rail can see the joke in this he is welcome to it. It is easier to hang a door than to be cheated out of hanging the pig. The hog and door are all right when hung.

That Trenton girl who threw her fool escort overboard when he stood up and rocked the boat, and then towed him within wading distance of shore and compelled him to let go of the boat and wade out, deserves one of the Carnegie prizes. Her fortunate escape, however, should not encourage others to go rowing with idiots. — Press.

The breed of fowls for the farm is not of as much importance as is the way they have been bred. In the majority of cases hens are kept principally for the eggs they will produce and it is important that the poultry kept be the product of hens which have been carefully and systematically bred for layers. It is hardly necessary to say that pure bred poultry is so far ahead of the mixed fowls for egg production that there is no comparison, but many are not aware of the fact that some pure bred fowls are worth four or five times for layers as are some others equally as pure blooded, but which have not been specially selected and bred for prolific layers. As one man of considerable experience said: "A poor man would get rich with one kind, while a rich man would get poor with others." So the important point in selecting the breed for the farm is to select the breed you like best, and buy the stock from a breeder of that variety, who is breeding each year from his best laying hens and improving his strain in egg production. If eggs alone are desired the smaller non-setting breeds will probably be preferred, but where eggs and dresser poultry are both desired of the general purpose breeds will do best. — X.

The following prohibition note floating around is mighty poor advertising for Kansas: "During the chilly month of May the drug stores in Topeka, Kan., made 21,323 sales of liquor. A 'sale' may represent one bottle or a case of beer; a half pint to one gallon of whisky. And the sale can be made only on affidavit that the beverage is to be used medicinally against colds, coughs, rheumatism, or other ailments to which the flesh is heir. It is so because Kansas is a prohibition state. These statistics will bring tears to the eyes of Carrie Nation and pain to all friends of Topeka. They indicate an alarming amount of illness in the Kansas capital. The population of Topeka is less than 35,000, and, allowing for liberal duplication of the sovereign remedy in individual cases, the 'sales' appear to average at least two sick to each family. This is terrible. It exceeds the sick rate of the poorest quarters of the earth, surpassing the famine districts in India and China. We can only hope the majority have suffered from nothing worse than ordinary colds, or the mumps; but even on this supposition industrial and commercial activity must have suffered materially. — Atchison, Kan., Globe.

BALLOON ASCENSION

H. A. McAllister Went Sailing to the Clouds Saturday Eve.

A pretty balloon ascension was witnessed at 6:30 last Saturday evening when H. A. McAllister made the ascension as advertised in the last issue of the JOURNAL.

The evening was an ideal one for the flight, with little or no wind stirring.

The aeronaut with his parachute depended on the commons back of the school house. A large crowd witnessed the performance.

RACES CALLED OFF.

Owing to the rain the races scheduled to take place last Saturday by the Perryburg Driving Club were unavoidably postponed. The next contest will be announced in the JOURNAL.

STRICT POSTAL LAW.

Woe to the person who writes "Hell Bill" on the edge of a newspaper and sends the same through the mails at third class rates! says the Toledo Blade.

If caught at it the guilty person is subject to a fine of $10.

Uncle Sam insists that writing sent through the mails must be paid for at the rate of two cents an ounce, and he's getting mighty busy seeing to it that no one side-steps this rule.

John F. Hennen, postoffice inspector for this district, has discovered within the past three months over 1,000 violations of this rule. Five hundred of the violators have come forward with $10 to pay for their negligence and the government is $5,000 better off for the deal.

The government is at this time, according to Mr. Hennen, who was in the city on Tuesday, making a special effort to put a stop to the practice of persons mailing written matter at second, third and fourth class rates.

Such a thing as writing an endearing note on the margin of a newspaper, on the back of a photograph or enclosing the same in a package that is mailed as merchandise is strictly prohibited.

BATES.

Christ Bauer and wife of Toledo spent a few days with Miss Danner and Brother.

Miss Danner and brothers spent Tuesday with Philip Sattler and family at Lima City.

Miss Danner called on Mrs. C. Stricklen at Lima City recently.

Charlie Sattler and Christ and Henry Danner joined a fishing party at Lima City fishing pond in which they caught 36 suckers and one bull-head which was a site to see.

WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND

All the Horrors of Change of Life for Five Years. Leucorrhoea for Ten Years

USED ZO-A-PHORA

After Physicians Failed to Cure. That Was Five Years Ago. Still Praising Zo-a-Phora.

Woman's best friend is one that will give her the degree of buoyant health and strength that nature intended for her. Zo-a-Phora is that friend. Not a "patent cure all," but just a medicine, scientifically prepared for women only. One that acts directly on the diseased organs through the blood and nervous system, replacing the old worn-out tissues with new, and removing congestion, inflammation and unnatural discharge.

Zo-a-Phora is the well woman's friend too, because it keeps her well. Mrs. Edwin Lee, of Addison, Michigan, says: "Pen and ink can never tell what Zo-a-Phora has done for me. It is indeed a true and tried friend and has never failed me once." Whether you are sick, ailing, or well, keep a bottle of Zo-a-Phora in the house all the time. It will prove a friend in need.

Mrs. Alice Brown, of Valley Junction, Ia., wrote on May 27, 1902, "I wish to tell you that Zo-a-Phora has been a wonderful blessing to me. I have been a sufferer for the last ten years from leucorrhoea, and for the last five years with change of life and all its horrors. I look treatment from local physicians in Elkhart, Ind., but received no benefit. Finally I was induced to begin taking Zo-a-Phora, and after taking four bottles my health is restored. I can now do my own work, and can never thank you enough for the benefits derived from your wonderful remedy." On April 22, 1907, nearly five years later Mrs. Brown writes, "You may still refer any woman to me. I will gladly recommend Zo-a-Phora." Does this not prove that the benefit was permanent?

This letter is strong proof of the merit of Zo-a-Phora. The only way that you can become positively convinced Zo-a-Phora will do as much for you is to try the medicine yourself. Go to your druggist and ask him for Zo-a-Phora; no other explanation will be needed. You will receive the medicine already prepared, compounded in just the right proportions, and put up in a sealed, sterilized, one dollar bottle.

In each package will be found a copy of "Dr. Pangelly's Advice to Women," a medical book, giving interesting and instructive information about all diseases of women and the way to successfully treat them. You can now treat yourself in the privacy of your own home and need not tell your troubles to any one.

WEIMER-WALP WEDDING

At the home of the brides parents Daniel Weimer and wife, five miles north of Bowling Green on Tuesday evening, August 6, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Emma, to Frank W. Walp, of Toledo, O.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. L. Motter of Waterville in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

A bounteous wedding supper was served on the lawn to which all present did justice.

These worthy young people were well and favorably known in the vicinity and a host of friends wish them a long and happy life.

They received many beautiful as well as useful presents and commenced housekeeping at once in Toledo.

Muskat Skin Cure.

"The skin of a muskrat taken and worn next to the chest will cure any case of asthma in the world," said a Louisville man. "I had an uncle who suffered a thousand deaths with asthma and tried everything that could be bought in the way of medicine. Finally one day an old time friend told him of the muskrat skin, and he tried it. In two months he was as well as he had ever been. Just how the skin works about a cure is a mystery, but it will do it." — Nashville Tennessean.

Strange Bequests.

In his will Stephen Swain of the parish of St. Olave, Southwark, gave to John Abbott and Mary, his wife, sixpence each "to buy for each of them a halter for fear the sheriffs should not be provided," and John Aylett Stow left the sum of 5 guineas for the purchase of the picture of a viper biting the hand of his rescuer to be presented to an eminent K. C. as a reminder of "his ingratitude and insolence." — Grand Magazine.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by Wm. Comstock & Son, druggists. 50c.

VAN DUZER EXTRACT CO., NEW YORK

A MANCHURIAN INN.

Chinese Food and Beds—High Walls to Protect Against Thieves.

The Inn at Tieling, which was similar to the Inns all over northern Manchuria, had a big compound surrounded by a high mud wall with gates. The long distance cars going down the country with beans and bringing back goods are driven inside these compounds for safety from robbers each night, says the South China Post, and during the great hauling season in winter these Inns are crowded.

The walls of the Inns are of mud plastered on a center wall made by weaving reeds together. The windows are mostly of oiled paper, with possibly one small pane of glass in the center. The rafters are rounded timbers on which are spread reeds, then a layer of coarse matting and then packed mud. In the cities the better Inns have brick walls and tiled roofs, but are otherwise about the same.

It was necessary to sleep on the "kangs" and eat Chinese food. In these Inns the first place entered is the kitchen, a square space with mud floors and raised mud ovens with clay and iron pots. From this one passes through a cloth hung doorway into the Inn proper. At Tieling this was twenty to sixty feet, down the middle of which was an eight foot aisle with packed mud floor.

On each side were ranged the "kangs," raised mud embankments, brick faced, some thirty inches high and six feet wide. On these are spread mattings, and here all guests roll themselves in their own blankets and sleep side by side, with their feet to the wall and their heads to the center aisle. A fire underneath runs the length of each "kang," and a fire at one end furnishes the hot air, which passes through and out at a mud chimney and warms the sleepers.

The meals are served on these "kangs" on little tables about a foot high. At these Inns a teapot is always kept warm over a fire in a raised mud embankment in the middle of the main aisle.
