RACE RIOT NOTES.

Springfield, Ill., was completely in the control of a mob for several hours, the police, sheriff's force and troop D of the First cavalry, and the members of Gatling gun section of the Illinois National Guard being unable to do anything to control the mob, which was rendered furious by the removal from the city of George Richardson, a negro who assaulted a white woman. As the result of the mob's actions one man is dead, another will probably die and several others were injured, while Loper's restaurant was wrecked, the shanties of a number of negroes residing in the "bad lands" burned, and Gov. Deneen called a number of companies of the Illinois National Guard to Springfield to preserve order. Among the injured was R. W. Chaffin, candidate for president of the United States on the Prohibition party ticket, who was struck in the head with a brick.

To the death list of the Springfield, Ill., race war were added the names of William Donnigan, colored, killed by the mob, and Frank Delmore, shot. With the arrival of the Second and Seventh infantry regiments, I. N. G., and two squadrons of the First cavalry, all from Chicago, the entire National Guard of Illinois, with the exception of the Sixth infantry and the Eighth infantry (colored) was on duty in the riot-ridden districts. In all 4,200 guardsmen were in the city. The troops suppressed several small outbreaks. Private J. B. Klein of the First regiment, who killed a man at Kankakee while guarding the ammunition car, was exonerated by a court of inquiry.

At Huntington, L. I., a negro who attacked a white woman was put under heavy guard in the local lockup, after having been rescued by deputies from a crowd of angry citizens. In a general fight between a number of white men and negroes at Adamson, Okla., Harry Mineson, white, was killed, a number of negroes wounded, and Deputy Sheriff Wilcox was badly beaten.

PERSONAL.

Count Richard von Arkov, relative of Count Laszlo Szechenyi, and one of the guests at the latter's wedding to Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, having lost his fortune in Wall street, tried to kill himself in New York by inhaling gas.

James Wickersham of Juneau was elected representative in congress from Alaska.

Mrs. Alice Webb Duke, former wife of Brodie L. Duke, the tobacco magnate, was convicted in Chicago of obtaining money under false pretenses by passing forged checks.

Harry K. Thaw was formally adjudged a bankrupt in Pittsburg by Referee in Bankruptcy W. R. Blair.

William J. Bryan was formally notified of his nomination for the presidency by the Democratic party, the event being the occasion of a great celebration in Lincoln, Neb.

John W. Boehne, mayor of Evansville, Ind., was nominated for congress by the Democrats.

Mehmed Ali Bey, the Turkish minister to the United States, admitted that he had received advice from his government recalling him from his post.

GENERAL NEWS.

William E. Annis of New York, owner and publisher of several magazines was shot six times at the Bayside Yacht club, Bayside, L. I., by Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., U. S. A. Annis died a little later in the hospital at Flushing. He was accused by Capt. Hains of breaking up the latter's home.

Fire destroyed the mining camp of Ripetown, Nev., the loss being $100,000.

FIVE ARE DEAD IN SPRINGFIELD RIOTSMILITIA SUCCEEDED IN RESTORING ORDER IN CITY RAVAGED BY RACE WAR.

REFUGEES FILL THE ARSENAL.

Scores of Negroes Leave the City—
Leader of the Mob That Wrecked and Looted a Restaurant
Was a Woman.

Springfield, Ill. — Two deaths of persons injured in previous mob fights, the attempted cutting of the fire alarm wires, the exonerating of Private J. B. Klein, First Illinois infantry, by a court of inquiry for the killing of Earl Nelson at Kankakee and the pursuit of a mob by guardsmen were the chief developments Sunday in the race war in Springfield.

The attempt to cut telephone and fire alarm wires leading into the city hall was not successful. A policeman saw three men on top of an outbuilding trying to reach the lines overhead. He turned in an alarm to the headquarters of Gen. Wells, commanding a provisional brigade, and the latter sent a wagonload of soldiers to the scene. They arrived before the trio had done any damage. The wire cutters fled.

A genuine scare was caused at headquarters in the arsenal Sunday night after a squad had been sent to disperse a crowd at Allen and Spring streets. Five minutes later a report reached Lieut. Col. Eddy that shots had been fired in the threatened quarter.

The soldiers sent to the place pursued a crowd for several blocks and the place, which is near the scene of Saturday night's lynching, was in an uproar for a few minutes.

The arsenal was crowded last night with negro refugees from Springfield and surrounding towns. About 200 men, women and children sought shelter in the building and slept on the floor, or in chairs. Most of these people were old and infirm, but they endured the hardships of their quarters rather than pass the night in their homes, beset with momentary fear of attack.

With the arrival Sunday of the Second and Seventh infantry regiments, I. N. G., and two squadrons of the First cavalry, all from Chicago, the entire national guard of Illinois with the exception of the Sixth and Eighth infantry (colored) is on duty in Springfield. In all, 4,200 guardsmen are in the city.

Two deaths due to the violence of Friday and Saturday occurred Sunday at St. John's hospital. William Donnigan, an aged negro whose throat was cut Saturday night, and Frank Delmore, shot through the lungs on Friday night, died of their wounds. This brings the list of violent deaths during the race troubles up to five.

Scores of negroes have left Springfield, either on foot or by trolley cars, the latter class riding as far as their means permitted and then striking across country. These tramping parties, aimless and penniless, are causing some complaint from the communities through which they pass. The whites assert that the presence of these paupers imposes unnecessary burdens and also argue that only the shiftless and immoral portions of the Springfield negroes are represented.

Sunday afternoon an alarm reached the arsenal from Spring and Edward streets, where William Donnigan was lynched. A rapid fire squad was sent to the place on the double quick. Within five minutes the squad had cleared the streets for half a mile from the threatened corner, three companies of infantry being held under arms at the arsenal meanwhile.

The leader of the mob which wrecked Loper's cafe was a woman. She was arrested and gave her name as Kate Howard. Detectives who searched the prisoner's resort say they discovered table linen and silver belonging to Loper in the house. It is said that the crowd feared to enter the cafe until the Howard woman appeared. With arms slung in the air, and shouting she dared the men to follow where she led. With a shout the amazon led in demolishing the place.

Springfield, Ill. — Following the addition Monday of two victims to the death list and with sporadic outbreaks of lawlessness in various parts of the city, indicating that the mob spirit still prevails in Springfield, Gov. Deneen last night issued six proclamations offering rewards aggregating $1,200 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of the riot victims.

The death list now numbers seven, but since one death was due only indirectly to the disturbances, no official notice has been taken of it.

Three People Drowned.

Buffalo, N. Y. — Three persons were drowned in Niagara river Sunday when a motor boat was run down by a pleasure barge. Mrs. William Pagels, Mrs. Charlotte Meyers and Raymond Pagels, a 10-year-old lad, were drowned.

Will Stand by Their Employers.

St. Paul, Minn. — Three hundred railroad employes, representing all railroads in the northwest, met here Sunday to organize an association to fight legislation hostile to railroads.

THE HAINS-ANNIS TRAGEDY

MURDERER'S BROTHER IS SAID TO HAVE INSTIGATED CRIME.Several Queer Features are Noted in the Case—A Speedy Trial of the Case is Promised.

New York City.—Of far more interest than the formal arraignment in a police court Monday of Capt. Peter C. Hains, jr., who shot and killed William E. Annis, advertising manager of a magazine, on Saturday at the Bayside Yacht club landing while his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, held at bay a crowd of yachtsmen who sought to prevent the tragedy, was evidence which came into the hands of District Attorney Darrin upon the motive for the shooting. It was established that Capt. Hains and Mr. Annis were on such friendly terms that they went automobiling together as recently as May 29 last.

"I have also been told by friends of both Capt. Hains and Mr. Annis that this friendship ceased after a talk Capt. Hains had with his brother, Jenkins Hains," said the district attorney. "I intend to have Jenkins Hains tried as an accessory before and during the fact, as I believe he is as guilty as his brother. It was his letter to Capt. Hains that made the latter hurry home from the Philippines and question his wife regarding her alleged conduct with Mr. Annis, and it was Jenkins Hains who prevented anyone from preventing Capt. Hains from shooting Mr. Annis."

Another remarkable feature of the case is the friendship which exists between Mrs. Annis and Mrs. Claudia Hains, Capt. Hains' wife. Mrs. Hains called upon Mrs. Annis Sunday afternoon and remained with her until nearly midnight. Mrs. Annis, who witnessed the shooting of her husband, has been prostrated since the tragedy and cannot be seen. It is said she has several letters written by Capt. Hains to her husband threatening his life. District Attorney Darrin tried to secure these letters, but owing to the illness of Mrs. Annis he was unable to obtain them.

When the Hains brothers were taken to a police station at Long Island City Monday they had to wait until a lot of petty cases had been disposed of before their case was called. They were locked in the prison pen and when arraigned stood on the bridge handcuffed together. Their father was in the court room, but had no chance to speak to his sons.

Their counsel, William C. Percy, asked for an adjournment of a week and it was granted. Then the brothers, handcuffed to detectives, were taken through the streets to a trolley line five blocks away, followed by a big crowd.

Later the prisoners were taken to Brooklyn police headquarters, a trip of 15 miles, in a patrol wagon and photographed and measured up for the Bertillon records.

District Attorney Darrin in the afternoon announced that he would convene a special grand jury in an effort to have an early indictment of the brothers, and he says he expects to have them on trial by the middle of September.

Jenkins Hains killed a man at Fort-ress Monroe, Va., 17 years ago.

A PLOT TO BREAK UP A UNION

A Sensational Story is Told by a Female Detective.

Los Angeles, Cal. — The arrest by private detectives in this city of Fred Yockey, vice president of Union No. 44 of the Western Federation of Miners at Randsburg, Cal., on the charge of conspiracy to blow up the Yellow Aster gold mine with dynamite, has developed a complicated situation.

Yockey was arrested, it is said, upon complaint of Mrs. Alice G. Clark, a detective working for a detective agency retained by the Yellow Aster Mining Co. to secure evidence. According to published stories Mrs. Clark now charges that all of the accusations against Yockey are false and says she was compelled to swear to them by another detective, who forced her to sign the statements at the point of a pistol. The whole plot, she avers, was an effort to break up the Miners' union at Randsburg.

"The evidence trumped up against me is just like the evidence that was made to order for the prosecution of Moyer and Haywood and Pettibone," said Yockey. "It is a parallel case exactly. There was not anything doing up in the Randsburg country and some detective simply worked out a plan to make business good. I do not take much stock in the story that the company thought it was being robbed of rich ore. There has been a strike against the Yellow Aster since 1903, and of course it is not friendly with the union. It is true I was vice president of the union at Randsburg, but I resigned that office a short time ago and left the mines."

Bicyclist Killed by an Auto.

San Jose, Cal.—Isaac Upham, a retired wholesale merchant of San Francisco, while riding a bicycle on Monday was killed by an automobile driven by S. B. Hunkins, president of the Garden City bank.

Steamboat Blew Up.

Traverse City, Mich.—Mrs. Isabel LaBonte of this city was killed and 20 passengers were injured Monday by the explosion of the boiler of the passenger steamer Leelanau, on Carp Lake.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.

A Columbus, O., Groceryman and His Wife Are Found Shot to Death.

Columbus, O.—Arthur Neidlander, 34 years old, and his wife, aged 19 years, were found dead Sunday morning, the former in a room above his grocery store near the western corporation line, and the woman in the street adjoining the store. The man's body lay in bed. He had been shot through the left breast, the bullet leaving his body through the back. There were two knife wounds in the heart. The woman had been shot in the side. The bullet passed through both lungs and, coming out, went through the floor of the grocery below the room where her husband was killed. She is believed to have been shot while in the grocery and then to have plunged headlong through a glass in the door and made her way to the street where she fell dead. She was also stabbed in the heart. There were marks on the throat to indicate that she had been choked.

Although neighbors heard a commotion in the building at 2 a. m. and heard a threat in a woman's voice to kill some one, they did not enter to learn the nature of the trouble and the tragedy was not disclosed until daylight.

The police have made one arrest. That of John Newkirk, a painter, who lives with his parents not far from the Neidlander grocery. He is said to have threatened to kill the pair because their dog bit his mother recently.

The police say a section of a painter's ladder found at his home fits a section of a similar ladder found leaning against the store. The police are by no means sure that they have solved the mystery, as Newkirk and his parents maintain that he was at home all night, and because the cash drawer of the grocery had been rifled. Neidlander's first wife got a divorce after much domestic trouble and he and his second wife did not live happily.

Laning Must Stand Trial.

Norwalk, O.—Congressman J. F. Laning was ordered tried on four charges of embezzlement and one of larceny in a decision handed down by Judge Doyle in common pleas court Monday. The judge refused the plea of abatement made by the indicted banker's attorneys. The indictments charging Laning and James G. Gibbs with obtaining money under false pretenses, and the indictment brought under the free banking act of 1851, charging misapplication of $56,864, were dismissed. The judge held that the latter indictment is not good because the Ohio Trust Co., of which the two men were the heads, was not doing business under the law.

Fraternal Congress Assembles.

Put-in-Bay, O.—The international fraternal congress, which embraces 15 fraternal insurance societies and represents 8,000,000 persons in the United States and Canada, began its annual session here Monday. Gov. Harris, who was unable to be present to welcome the congress to Ohio, was represented by Hon. J. D. Clark of Dayton, O. Edward L. Young of Norwalk, O., welcomed the congress in behalf of the Ohio fraternal congress.

Men Injured by Gas Explosion.

Cleveland, O. — Two men were probably fatally injured in a gas explosion in a tunnel at East 110th street Monday. They were dragged from the tunnel by firemen. The two men were fixing wires in a conduit when accumulated gases in the underground passageway exploded. They were hurled against the top of the tunnel and fell back to the bottom. The men were Michael Lavelle and Austin Gallagher, city employees.

Refuses to Probate the Will.

Cleveland, O.—The will of the late J. M. Gasser, the wealthy florist who died several weeks ago at a sanitarium in Michigan, was offered to probate Monday. Judge Hadden announced that he would not accept the document, three witnesses having testified in court after the will was filed that they did not believe the testator to have been of sound mind when he made the will.

Prisoner is Said to Have Drowned.

Sandusky, O.—To escape two officers who were taking him to jail on a charge of rioting at Cedar Point, Charles Link, aged 30, jumped into the bay from the deck of the steamer Wehrle late Sunday night and has not been seen nor heard from since. It is thought that he was drowned.

A Sensational Statement.

Cleveland, O. — William Backus, veteran brewer, makes the charge that John D. Rockefeller contributes $25,000 a year to the legislative campaign fund of the Anti-Saloon league for the purpose of controlling the votes of members thus elected when matters affecting his interests come up in the legislature.

Engineers Won First Prize.

Camp Perry, O. — The United States army, navy and naval academy shot up the field Monday in the championship regimental skirmish match, winning the first five places. Victory and the $250 trophy went to the corps of engineers with a score of 440. The United States cavalry for practice made 426. The marine corps scored 403 and took second prize, $50, and the naval academy won third money, $25, with 398. The cavalry's other team for practice made 391. The Oklahoma riflemen led the militia.

HOW LONG TO SLEEP.

Impossible to Lay Down Any Hard
Fast Rule.

There can be no hard and fast rules set for the length of time one should sleep. All depends on the person and temperament.

We are told that brain workers and those of a nervous nature need more sleep than others, yet some of the greatest thinkers in the world sleep but four or five hours a night with no ill effects.

A good rule to follow is to sleep until one awakes refreshed, whether that is in five hours or ten.

If possible, do not be called. This is particularly important for growing children. Some parents make a fetish of early hours for their children and think so much of getting them out of lazy habits that they do not consider their nervous systems.

Even when you must go to work at an early hour do not train yourself to depend on an alarm, which gives a shock to the nervous system. Go to bed with the fixed idea in your brain to awaken at a certain hour, and it rarely fails that your eyes pop open at that minute.

If it will be to sleep until refreshed it is not well to indulge in the habit of turning over for another nap. Get up as soon as you awake and you will not be sluggish and stupid for several hours of the morning.

Don't be one of those persons who says with an air: "I never sleep in the daytime." If you have any regard for your looks and health you will take a short rest each day, even though you think you cannot possibly sleep. It won't be long before you are saying: "I believe I just dropped off," and will feel better and brighter for it the rest of the day and evening.

Remember there is nothing like sleep to build up and restore nerve power.

About Rats.

"Tom" Speedy, the Liberton naturalist, has "delivered judgment" in "The Scotsman" on a lot of interesting correspondence concerning rats. The statement that the progeny of a single pair of rats will in three years increase to 658,808 should, he says, be accepted with the proverbial pinch of salt. As the result of observation Mr. Speedy declares that 15 was the largest brood he had ever seen and four the smallest. Seven was the average of those kept in confinement. The young are born blind, and it is 14 days before they can see. A month later they are displaced by another brood and they are driven from the nursery to fend for themselves. Frequently only one female is found in a brood, and this in a large measure must check the geometrical tendency to increase. What becomes of so many young bachelor rats Mr. Speedy does not state. It is asserted that old males, when opportunity offers, destroy young broods, but of this Mr. Speedy has no knowledge. This he does know, that the mother rat keeps the old male away from her brood in confinement.—London Globe.

Valuable Find in Old Coat.

A laborer named Christensen who lives at Copenhagen bought an old overcoat for ten cents two years ago. He recently noticed something hard in the lining at the back, and, on regretfully cutting it open, discovered a savings bank book with $446 credited. He reported the treasure to the police, but they have not been able to find the original owner, and the money has been awarded to the laborer.

Japan's Cotton Imports.

Consul Hunter Sharp of Kobe advises that the value of raw cotton imported into Japan during the first three months of 1908 was $18,249,466, against $18,312,576 during the same period last year. Owing to trade depression there is a congestion in stocks.

Not Suitable for Automobiles.

American-made automobiles are popular in Norway. The character of the roads there, however, makes their use somewhat limited.
