FOUND THE MAN

Sheriff Roach Gathers in Deserter from U. S. Army.

Sheriff Roach went down to Woodside Tuesday afternoon and arrested Harvey E. Kohli, who had deserted from Troop H, stationed at Forth Ethan Allen in Vermont, on the 9th of March.

Sheriff Roach received a circular, showing a photograph of the man and learned that he had relatives living near Woodside.

Two Columbus detectives were in Woodside looking for the man, but Roach waited until after dark and then walked in and gathered in the prize.

Kohli claims he could not get "justice" in the service, but his talk indicated that he simply was sick of his job and was fool enough to think he could get away, but has now learned his mistake.

Sheriff Roach took the man to Ft. Wayne and delivered him to the U. S. government officers.

MAN FOUND DEAD

Hungarian Dies on the Streets of Bowling Green.

A Hungarian, who came here with a number of others to work in the Mercer quarries, was found dead on Palmer avenue, Sunday morning, says the Sentinel. He was lying on his face with his cap so lying beneath it as to apparently shut off his breathing. Corner Canfield was called and investigated the death.

From the other Hungarians who came here it was learned that the man's name was Joe Fugide and that he had been a resident of Toledo, on Genesee street, for six years. For the last two years he has been sick and unable to work and this winter he has been eating at the free soup house in Toledo. He came here Saturday with others. He left the camp about five o'clock Saturday evening which was the last they knew of him until Sunday when the report of the finding of his dead body came. The infirmary directors will take care of the remains and the bill will be sent to Lucas county, he having been a

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Stranger's Dead Body Found in Straw Stack.

On Friday afternoon the body of a strange man was found in a straw-stack on the farm of David Hahn, about a mile and a half south of the upper Terminal bridge in Wood county.

The body was discovered by David Hahn, who sought eggs in the straw-stack. The man had removed his shoes and apparently slept the night before in the stack. In his right hand was a 32-caliber revolver with one shell empty. A small hole in the center of the forehead showed where the bullet had entered. A son of Hahn heard a shot at 6 o'clock in the morning, to which he paid little attention at the time. It is believed the man shot himself at that hour.

In the pockets of the dead man when found were a dollar watch, still running; a pocket knife, six cents in pennies and a note book containing the name and address: "S. R. Lightner, Prospect, Ohio." He was about six feet tall, wore a suit of brown corduroy and cloth cap, brown hair, brown eyes, old wound on left side of body and a decaying upper front tooth. The man was still covered with straw as he had apparently arranged himself before going to sleep the night before.

Coroner Canfield was summoned and the body placed in his charge and brought to A. J. Witzler, and the Coroner communicated with Prospect, Ohio, and talked with E. R. Lightner, who came to Perrysburg, Saturday morning and claimed the body as that of his brother, S. R. Lightner, who had been residing with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Lightner, in Prospect, where he cared for her property and had left there Friday evening of the previous week without a word as to his intended destination.

It is also learned that the man had once before made an attempt on his life.

He had been in poor health and was undoubtedly mentally unbalanced.

The remains were taken to Prospect on Saturday.

STEAMER FOR RIVER.

Boat for Wallbridge Park, Perrysburg and Toledo.

King Wamba will be the name of a fast, commodious light draft steamer that will probably be operated on the Maumee river this season from Bay View park to the Jefferson avenue wharf, Walbridge park and Perrysburg, says the Blade.

S. Bickford, an experienced steamboat man, who is Toledo agent for the Star-Cole line of steamers on the Georgian Bay route, with offices at No. 7 Marine building, is organizing the company to operate the river steamer. His project has letters of encouragement and commendation from a large number of prominent railroad men whose roads bring excursions to Toledo; from Mayor Whitlock, President W. L. Milner and Secretary G. B. Storer, of the Chamber of Commerce; W. C. Carr, president of the Business Men's club, and many others.

Mr. Bickford and those associated with him are confident that their proposition will be a paying one and that the stock will find ready buyers. For years Toledoans have had no facilities, except occasional moonlight excursions, for a steamboat trip without devoting an entire day to it.

This year, with the military tournament at Bay View park, the Inter-Lake regatta on the river and bay, the King Wamba carnival and the naval militia maneuvers, as well as more conventions than have been booked for Toledo in any previous year, it is believed that a river steamer giving popular priced short trips would do a thriving business.

Mr. Bickford has an option on a boat which will carry about 500 passengers, the name of which, if brought to Toledo, will be changed to King Wamba.

WATCH THE HENS

Gather the Eggs and Market them Promptly.

"Ohio farmers permit enough eggs to spoil each year to buy an agricultural township in the state," said L. B. Spencer, of the E. L. Humphrey company, explaining a campaign dealers have started for betterment of conditions, says the Toledo Blade.

"In practically every case of eggs received there is sure to be a certain number unfit for use and these bring down the value of good stock. By marketing at least twice a week and exercising ordinary care, farmers in Ohio can save at least $3,000,000 a year."

Dealers of Toledo, Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati and other important consuming centers are carrying on a crusade for an improvement by means of circular letters and a printed treatise on the subject. Among the admonitions are the following: "Keep the nests clean, and if possible covered, so as to have eggs clean and free from stains caused by wet nests. Eggs should never be washed, as the water seems to enter the pores of the shells and makes the eggs spoil quickly. Any competent egg dealer can immediately tell whether an egg has been washed."

Gather every day, and when you find new nests, keep these eggs separate from the fresh. Have your buyer test them and pay what they are worth. In this way you will not lose the value of good eggs. Keep out the small and double yolk eggs to be used at home, as too small eggs have to be sold in the market at a lower price, and the double yolk eggs get broken in shipment. Market your eggs as often as twice a week.

"Here are a few don'ts for the farmer: Beware of violating the law by selling bad eggs. It is unlawful for the farmer to sell unfit eggs to the merchant, as it is a misdemeanor for the latter to sell bad stock to the consumer. It is a violation of the national law to ship them from one state to another. The law relating to sales was passed in the interest of honest dealing and it is not honest to sell bad eggs for good money."

COURT HOUSE CULLINGS

April Term of Common Pleas Commences Monday, April 5.

The Grand Jury for the April term of Court will appear for duty on Monday, April 5, and the Petit Jury will commence their labors on April 12.

The assignment of cases for the first three weeks of the April term was made on Friday last by Judge Baldwin.

Judge Baldwin on Friday rendered his decision in the cases of Henry Young, ex-saloonist, convicted in mayor's court of selling intoxicating liquors and for keeping liquors in violation of the law.

In the first case the decision of the mayor's court was sustained so far as the charge of selling was concerned but the sentence of imprisonment and the fine was reversed on the grounds that the sentence did not state that the offender should be imprisoned in the work house and there to remain until the sentence had been completed and that the fine and costs, if not paid, should be worked out at the rate of sixty cents per day. The decision of the lower court was reversed on the grounds that it was not sufficiently specific. This will require a re-sentence.

The judgment of the mayor's court in the case where Young was found guilty of maintaining a place where intoxicating liquors were sold was reversed on account of error in the admission of testimony. This case will be taken to the circuit court by the prosecution.

The case of Emma Miller against Robert Miller for divorce was decided by Judge Baldwin on Friday, and divorce was refused to either party and petition and cross petition therefor dismissed. Custody of children continued with plaintiff, she to have earnings of children. Defendant ordered to pay $4 per week for support of children following further order. Injunction dissolved. Defendant to pay costs.

In the case of Solomon Houad vs. Mabel Houad. Plaintiff ordered to pay $20 attorney fee and $10 to enable defendant to prepare her defense, all as alimony pendente lite and to be taken in consideration upon the question of settlement on final hearing.

SOLDIERS BURIAL LAW

Information Concerning Burial of Soldiers and Memorial Day.

The General Assembly passed the following law May 9, 1908:

Section 1. That the county commissioners of the several counties, of the state of Ohio, are hereby authorized, to appropriate annually, to each Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, in their respective counties, a sufficient sum of money, not exceeding twenty-five dollars each, to aid in defraying expenses of Memorial Day.

Senate Bill passed April 9, 1908, provides:

Section 1. That it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county in the state to appoint two suitable persons in each township and ward in their respective counties, other than those prescribed by law for the care of paupers and the custody of criminals, whose duty it shall be to contract with the undertaker selected by the friends of any of the persons hereinafter mentioned, and cause to be interred, in a decent and respectable manner, in any cemetery or burial ground within the state, other than those used exclusively for the burial of paupers and criminals, the body of any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine having at any time served in the army or navy of the United States, or the mother, wife or widow of any such soldier, sailor or marine, or any army nurse who did service at any time in the army of the United States, who shall hereafter die, not having the means to defray the necessary funeral expenses, at a cost not to exceed seventy-five dollars.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the persons appointed in the foregoing section, before they assume the charge and expense of any such burial, to first satisfy themselves beyond a reasonable doubt, by careful inquiry that the family of such soldier, sailor, marine, wife, widow, mother, dependent father, or army nurse, as before mentioned, is unable, for want of means, to defray the expenses, or that the family may be deprived of means actually necessary for their immediate support. Whereupon they shall cause to be buried such soldier, sailor or marine, wife, widow, mother or army nurse, as provided in section 1 of this act; and they shall also report the same to the county commissioners of their county, setting forth the fact that they found the family of such deceased person in indigent circumstances, and unable to pay the expenses of burial, together with the name, rank and command to which he belonged if a soldier or sailor, the date of death, place where buried, occupation while living, also an accurate itemized statement of the expenses incurred by reason of said burial.

Object to Strong Medicines.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by C. P. Champney.
