FRIDAY, MAY 14, 1909.

Governor Harmon has issued a proclamation prohibiting the importation into Ohio of cattle affected with tuberculosis. Henceforth, all cattle shipped into the state must be accompanied by certificates from licensed veterinarians.

It is said that Texas offers the $10,000,000 and the location necessary for the construction of the huge compound mirror with which to signal Mars. From what we have heard of Texas we believe it would be much easier for that state to get in communication with Hades than Mars.

A peculiar accident occurred south of Upper Sandusky, Sunday evening. An Upper Sandusky woman school teacher was driving a horse and because of the rain had the curtains on the buggy pulled down. She drove onto the Hocking Valley track not seeing the north bound passenger approaching. The engine struck the horse, cut its head off, cut off one hind leg and threw it into a ditch. The buggy, in which was seated the woman, was not overturned and the driver was not scratched.

We would be inclined to doubt the above story if it did not come from Bro. Speck, who, no doubt, made careful inquiry before making his report.

Rev. Herbert Bigelow of initiative and referendum fame announces that he and his followers are against the proposition to call a constitutional convention. Of course, this is merely a political announcement and will not stand when Mr. Bigelow finds that the next legislature will not give him the initiative and referendum. He says that the I. & R. has a better chance before the legislature than it would have before a constitutional convention.

Gov. Harmon is dividing his time now-a-days between campaigning for the presidency and mourning over bumps he is getting in his work as chief executive. The Governor has found, much to his regret, that his ideas of administering state affairs are not altogether in conformity with the constitution and laws. Some little time ago he announced that Gov. Harris had exceeded his authority when he appointed Judge Metcalf of Chardon, circuit judge for the Seventh Ohio District to succeed Judge Burrows, who resigned. Just as a little evidence that he knew all about it Gov. Harmon appointed Judge Hoyt of Painesville, to the judgeship. The matter was taken to the Supreme Court but in advance of that tribunal's decision the Governor announced that there was no doubt but that his appointment would stand and that Governor Harris' action would be declared illegal. As usual in every matter that has come to final determination, Governor Harris has proven to have been right. The Supreme Court says that Burrows' appointment was legal.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Perrysburg Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Perrysburg. Follow the advice of a Perrysburg citizen and be cured yourself.

Mrs. E. R. Trombla of Main street, Perrysburg, Ohio, says: "Kidney complaint troubled me for many years and three years ago I had a very severe attack which laid me up for several weeks. My back was so lame that it was impossible for me to stoop. I wore plasters and took several remedies but obtained little relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me from the first and I know that they will live up to the claims made for them, if given a fair trial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Mr. Hoover is from Perrysburg and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and architect for the firm of Morgan & Hoover. The wedding will take place the 16th of June. Both Mr. Hoover and Miss Paterson have already been the recipients of much social attention in honor of their engagement and on Monday evening were guests of honor at a dinner given at Cloyne Court by Will C. Hayes.

Whooping Cough.

This is a more dangerous disease than is generally presumed. It will be a surprise to many to learn that more deaths result from it than from scarlet fever. Pneumonia often results from it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, and always with the best results. Delbert McKelg of Harlan, Iowa, says of it: "My boy took whooping cough when nine months old. He had it in the winter. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which proved good. I cannot recommend it too highly." For sale by C. P. Champney, Druggist.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. James Wright, of Spurlock, Ky., shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a 16-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a godsend to weak, sickly rundown or old people. Try them. 50c at C. P. Champney, druggist.

We have never paid less than 5 PER CENT On Savings

We cannot reiterate too often that the fact that this Company pays five per cent is no indication of a lack of conservatism, but it is simply because HERE you get a DIVIDEND of all that your money earns, while in a bank you get INTEREST while the stockholders get the DIVIDEND, which consists of the extra profit they make on your savings. Make your money work FOR YOU.

PURCHASED NEW BUILDING.

An item clipped from the Monroe, (Mich.) Democrat, indicates the faith a Perrysburg business man has in Monroe property:

From the First National bank, Wm. Comstock has purchased what is known as the Sackett building. Some three months ago Mr. Comstock and his two sons purchased the drug stock and business of that store and continued it with so much success as to warrant them in purchasing the building. Messrs. Comstock have made many friends since they came to Monroe and their list is growing every day.

The purchase price was $10,000 and Mr. Comstock seems well pleased with his location and prospects. We wish him good luck.

For a burn or scald apply Chamberlain's Salve. It will allay the pain almost instantly and quickly heal the injured parts. For sale by C. P. Champney, druggist.

LAHEY--ECKEL MARRIAGE.

William Lahey of Dowling and Miss Grace Eckel of Perrysburg township were united in marriage at St. Rose de Lima church at 9 a. m., Tuesday, May 11, 1909, by Rev. Schoendorf.

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Anna Eckel, as bridesmaid and Thomas Lahey, brother of the groom, as best man.

The bride is the daughter of John Eckel and wife, and is a charming young lady with many friends, while the groom is a son of David Lahey and wife of Dowling, and is a young man of sterling character and a host of friends to extend congratulations to himself and bride.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, and the bridal couple left for Buffalo and Niagara Falls at 6:30. On their return they will commence housekeeping in a newly furnished home at Rudolph, and will be at home to friends after June 1.

Many congratulations.

Chamberlain's Liniment.

This is a new preparation and a good one. It is especially valuable as a cure for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and for the relief from pain which it affords in acute inflammatory rheumatism. Those who have used it have invariably spoken of it in the highest terms of praise. Lame back, lame shoulder and stiff neck are due to rheumatism of the muscles, usually brought on by exposure to cold or damp, and are quickly cured by applying this liniment freely and massaging the affected parts. Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is allayed by this liniment. For sale by C. P. Champney, druggist.

IN RUBBER LAND
H. M. Hoover of Perrysburg, is visiting in Mexico, where he has interests in a rubber plantation and writes the Journal an interesting letter as follows:
Tuxtepec, Oax., April 24, '09.
If anyone asks where I can be located, tell them that if they will call at a fine villa, on the hacienda situated on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, in the State of Oaxaca, Mexico, I will try and give audience, although it is mighty hot I should request the party to be very brief.
I thought I would tell you a short story on rubber, as I am in the land of rubberdum, and as there is none raised in the Burg, that I am aware of (EXCEPT BETWEEN HEAD AND SHOULDERS), a little knowledge on the subject may possibly induce someone to embark in the enterprise.
Following the introductory, I will say that I returned today noon from a long ride over the hacienda (plantation). I covered over Three thousand acres of rubber fields, all under cultivation. The tree is very graceful and distinctive in its appearance. Most of its branches hang in tiers, at intervals along the trunk, all curving out at approximately the same angle. These branches are self pruning, and fall off at maturity, leaving a small scar upon the trunk which finally disappears in a few years. The few remaining branches at the top assume a more vertical shape (or direction) than the others. The leaves often approach two feet in length. Rubber trees thrive the best on dry rolling land, and present a striking spectacle, when seen from the hill tops with long and regular rows of cultivated trees, extending as far as the eye can see, and miles beyond. The milk, (or latex), is contained in the bark, distinct from the sap of the wood. The thickness of the bark ranges from one quarter, to three-fourths of an inch, and is very full of milk, and is very sensitive to an injury, so much so that should a cut climb a tree, it would be followed by a trail of milk emitting from the puncture of its claws.
No traveler has really seen Mexico, until he has visited the beautiful rubber forests down in the tropics. It must be remembered that rubber will not grow and thrive north of the 18th degree of latitude, and from two to three hundred feet above sea level. This locality is known as the rubber zone in the Province of Mexico. It is quite narrow and extending in length from north to south, and the soil is extremely fertile. Mexican rubber now sells in New York and London, at as high a price as the fine PARA, of South America. Ten years ago, cultivated rubber was unknown owing to the ignorance of the nature of the tree and the country. Improved methods of tapping are being introduced, giving a much larger yield of rubber, and less injury to the trees. It is now claimed that under the advanced knowledge of handling the proposition that rubber can be prepared for the market for one-fifth of the market price.
I saw an account in a paper today that a blizzard is raging in northern Ohio, hot air is raging here. Every day this week, the thermometer has registered 98 to 100 in the shade. None but the natives can well stand the sun's rays after eleven o'clock.
I take a horse-back-ride in the morning while it is cool, nights are usually cool here and were they not, an American would soon "pass in his checks."
As I sit writing I occasionally see a parrot flit past my window. There are numerous birds (strange to the writer) in this locality.
We have pine apples and bananas in large quantities. Some of the pine apples are twelve and thirteen inches long. We have several nice deer, I go out nearly every day and feed them bananas. There is lots of game around here, such as tigers, deer, snakes, wild hogs and monkeys, and several curious things that I cannot name, for getting the lock-jaw. If one rides out in the early morning, he can hear a hundred pheasants squacking, the forest is full of them. I would like to run across a tiger just to see how frightened I would be. They are seen every day by some of the men.
We had a fine voyage from New York, stopping at Havana, Cuba, Progresso, Yucatan. I went out to Marida, the home of the "henquin." It is about thirty miles inland, and is a very interesting place. I was also in Campeche, landing in Vera Cruz. Haven't decided by what route I will return, think via, Mexico City, San Luis Potosi, Tampico, Mexico and New Orleans, U. S. A.

Biliousness and Constipation.
For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me, which petite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by C. P. Champney, druggist.
