

Toledo Theaters

Attractions at the Valentine, week of October Fourth.

Patrons of the Valentine theatre, Toledo, Ohio, will have the opportunity on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 4th, 5th and 6th of witnessing one of the foremost dramas of recent years, "The Thief" enacted by two of the most polished players of the stage for three seasons and will doubtless continue to do so for a good many more.

One of the newest successes of the stage, Maelyn Arbuckle in "The Circus Man," will be offered at the Valentine theatre, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 7th, 8th and 9th.

AT THE LYCEUM. BUSTER BROWN.

"Buster Brown" whose name is a household word almost all over the world will come to the Lyceum theatre in Toledo, on Sunday afternoon for four days and it is hailed with delight and one grand exhilarating hurrah, for he comes this season with a splendidly equipped and new edition of the always popular musical comedy of the same name, "Buster Brown" which is always a success with a capital S.

MORRISON'S 'FAUST.'

Readers and literary students generally are not aware that the oft-repeated quotation, "He loves me, he loves me not," which is frequently employed nowadays in a vein of levity, originated in Goethe's imperishable poem, "Faust," the dramatic version of which retains the pretty incident. It occurs in the garden scene where the transformed philosopher, Dr. Faustus, enraptured by the charms of the simple peasant maiden, Marguerite, has been drawn by the call of love.

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

In the case of Orlie Park vs. Laura Park, answer has been made in which the defendant admits their marriage and the fact that they have a child but denies all other allegations and asks for dismissal of the petition.

Answer and cross petition has been filed by Security Savings Bank & Trust company in the case of Geo. W. Fearnside, treasurer of Wood county against T. P. Brown, et al.

Friday afternoon just before the case of Catherine Hoffman, as administratrix of the estate of John G. Hoffman, deceased, vs. Lewis L. Fink, was to be taken before a jury in common pleas court, E. M. Fries for the plaintiff and McClelland & Lewis for the defense, got their clients together and a settlement was effected.

The time of Harvey Hill's trial has been changed from October the 8th to October 4th.

The J. F. Ernsthansen ditch will be sold October 5th at 10 a. m. This ditch commences at the southeast corner of Section 31, Freedom township, and runs north a mile and an eighth. It has also a branch at the northeast corner of section 31, of about twenty rods.

The apportionment of the Emil Berndt ditch was adjourned today until October 14, at 10 a. m., because some interested parties had not been notified by the county commissioners.

—Don't wait for us to find out in some round-about way that you were out of town visiting or that you had visitors at your home, but kindly send or telephone the item to the Journal office that we may use it in our social columns.

Woman's Home Companion for October.

It is possible to get a most amazing amount of interest out of practice articles, when they are handled like those which appear in Woman's Home Companion for October.

Such an article is that containing William Armstrong's advice to the ambitious music student who wants to study abroad. Mr. Armstrong has made a careful special investigation, and his advice is to study at home first.

In "Short Cuts to Health," Dr. Woods Hutchinson waves a danger flag over many popular old-fashioned remedies.

"Why I Left the Ministry" is a startling confession by a country parson, who is anonymous for obvious reasons.

Mothers will be pleased with two new departments dealing with the bringing up of children, which begin with this issue. These are conducted by Jean Williams, M. D., and Mary Louise Graham.

The Idea Club will prove a source of wealth to many a church aid society. But perhaps the best thing in the whole issue is Myra Kelly's "Games in Gardens"—that wonderful humorist never wrote anything funnier than this. There are also good stories by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, Katharine Holland Brown, Temple Bailey, Mrs. John Van Vorst and Kate Douglas Wiggin.

"Choice Cake Recipes," "The Formal Dinner," "How to Furnish the Boy's Room," the Big Fashion Department—each has in it something for every woman.

More Than Enough Is Too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys.

WOMAN'S WORK.

Women's Industrial and Educational Exposition, Toledo, Ohio.

The Toledo Federation of Women's Clubs, numbering about 2,000 club women of the city will hold an Industrial Exposition at Memorial Hall, Sept. 29 to Oct. 9, inclusive.

The object. To show by exhibits, lectures and demonstrations, the progress made in all lines of women's work, industrial, educational and philanthropic, to familiarize women with the many new articles on the market as aids to their work, especially in the culinary line.

Interesting lectures and novel demonstrations along these lines will be given each day in the auditorium, and every day will be one of interest to the visitor.

Money Comes In Bunches

to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness, and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Blood and Nerves. 50c at C. P. Champney, Perrysburg.

A GOOD THING

At the Ottawa Fair Next Week.

Chief Inspector of Orchards and Nurseries, Prof. N. E. Shaw, of Columbus, will make an interesting exhibit at the Putnam County Fair. It will be in the nature of different insects and pests that are troublesome to our fruit trees and other shrubs.

He and some of his men from the Ohio Department of Agriculture will be on hand throughout the fair to give talks and instructions as to the care of trees, bushes, vines, etc. The planting, trimming, spraying and cultivating will be given special attention. All persons are invited to ask him or his men any questions and bring samples of any diseased trees that they may have, for his inspection.

Different kinds of spray material will be exhibited and uses of same explained. Questions also answered referring to any shade trees. This will be one of the strong educational features of the fair. It is easily possible for any owner of trees or shrubs to make a good day's wages in talking to Prof. Shaw. The Fair is worth while. It will be made up of things worth any body's time to see. From no stand point can you or your neighbors afford to miss it. Come on in. The water is fine.

Long Service in Pulpit.

Old age does not seem to incapacitate the English clergyman. The Rev. W. W. Wingfield, vicar of the established church in Gulval, Penzance, recently celebrated his ninety-fifth birthday and seventy-fifth anniversary of his appointment to his present living. He is still able to preach and write with much vigor. There are half a dozen other clergymen who have been in charge of their churches for more than 60 years, and a tenure of 40 years is quite common. The longest service on record is that of vicar of Rickmansworth, who held the living for 81 years, from 1589 to 1670. Perhaps if the churches chose their vicars as the American churches choose their pastors there would be more frequent changes.—Youth's Companion.

Not Coughing Today?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says. He knows. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Robust health is a great safeguard against attacks of throat and lung troubles, but constipation will destroy the best of health. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills.

TOLD BY THE FAKIR

DIRE POVERTY COMPELLED HIM TO BECOME A PROPHET.

Now He Laughs at the Gullibility of the Dupes on Whom He Fattened as a Teller of Fortunes.

I never guessed that I was a seer until the spur of poverty drove me into prophecy. Then I happened to light upon the advertisement of a wholesale dealer in prophesying machines at an address in Brooklyn—of all places!—and he sold me an outfit for a low price. Advice he gave free.

"Look wise," he said. "Hand 'em a line of hot talk full o' big words. They'll fall easy."

The machine has been seen by millions of Americans and trusted implicitly by hundreds of thousands. It is to be found at nearly every seaside and mountain resort in the country. What met the eye of the victim was a swarthy, hollow, bodiless head of papier-mache, mounted on a tall tube that sprang from a pedestal. The head was wrapped in a turban and the dreamy eyes peered afar into the future over a scrubby plantation of black Oriental beard. That head was my familiar, and I was Abdul Aziz Khan. Had I, too, been of swarthy and Oriental appearance, that fact might have been some palliation of the folly of the gabies, who flocked around the cheat. But, far from suggesting the mysterious east, I am a blonde, blue-eyed, thin, nervous American, impossible to be mistaken for a citizen of any land east of Cape Cod. The stupidity of the dupes was gross and unpardonable.

Madam and I collected the nickels and distributed the blank sheets of paper among the dupes, asking each jolthead whether he or she preferred an answer in English, French, German, Spanish or Italian, and giving each one a sheet bearing the prophecy already written in the language chosen. My loyal partner never permitted herself the luxury of a smile at the gross credulity all around us. Each dupe wrote his initials with lead pencil on a proper blank sheet of paper handed to him and when 50 or 40 sheets had been collected I put them in a solid block in the metal box and numbed a jumble of polysyllables at the crowd while the invisible words were stewing into visibility.

This done, I tapped the box with the wand most majestically, opened it to the accompaniment of an incantation and distributed the sheets each to its rightful victim. Shall I ever forget those scenes, always alike, the quick gasps of surprise, the gleam of staring eyes, the hastening off to a remote corner, there to read in obscurity the oracular hodgepodge I had cooked for them. Sometimes I could have sworn that I heard the paper-mache laughing. Poor old Ab! He did the work and got none of the nickels.—Harper's Weekly.
