Stories of Success

HORACE GREELEY

A name that will live long after writers and statesmen of greater pretension are forgotten is that of the noble founder of the New York Tribune. Premier of editors and first to establish the one-cent newspaper, the most famous figure in American Journalism was Horace Greeley. All through his life he aimed to promote the good and prevent the bad. He supported every movement which seemed to tend toward right and justice. He abhorred debt. "If you have but fifty cents," said this great man, "buy a peck of corn, parch it and live on it rather than owe a dollar. The young man who early begins to save is fairly on the road to wealth. A savings account is better than the reputation of being a spender. Deposits of one dollar and upwards are received here, and with interest compounded semi-annually it is remarkable how your savings account will increase. Start today and tomorrow thank yourself.

STADIUM CLOTHES.
WOODHULL GOODALE & BULL.

It's A Big Gamble

To buy clothes that fit, OR clothes that look well OR are made well. But it's good sound business policy to buy clothes that embody ALL these things and in addition bear the Guarantee and Union Labels.

That's what Stadium Clothes do. The Guarantee Label warrants the garment to give good wear and Perfect Satisfaction.

The Union Label is a guarantee in itself, assuring the buyer of skilled workmanship by well paid clothes artists under ideal factory conditions.

MORMONISM EXPOSED.

At the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening, November 7, there will be a free lecture on the subject, "Mormonism Exposed" by Mr. Hans P. Freece, an attorney of New York City. Mr. Freece is well qualified to discuss this subject being the son of a Mormon elder and a plural wife. He has lectured in every part of the United States and Canada and is an interesting speaker. There will be no admission charged but a collection taken to defray expenses. Everybody welcome.

FOOT AMPUTATED.

On Wednesday at 3 a. m., while working in the Edward Ford Glass works at Rossford, Alfred Wolf, of Perrysburg, sustained injuries that will cripple him for life. His foot was caught beneath the wheels of a car used in the factory and so badly crushed that the front half of the member required amputation.

He is now at the home of his mother Mrs. Emma Wolf, and is doing as well as could be expected.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

A VILLAGE NECESSITY.

The voters of Perrysburg corporation should consider the importance of having one of the Board of Township Trustees, a resident of the village.

Many matters of importance to the village must be attended to by the Trustees thus making it a great convenience to have a resident member of that board.

The only candidate in nomination for that office, is E. A. Underhill, one of the Republican candidates, and without any disrespect for the other candidates, I consider it highly important that Mr. Underhill should be elected.

—An exchange says that this notice was found posted on a deserted house on a homestead in the wild regions of Kansas. Four miles from a neighbor; twenty miles from a school house; forty miles from a church; one hundred eighty miles from a republican; half a mile from hell and the same distance from a democrat. Gone back to Ohio to get a fresh start.

—Ardo M. Lee, of Mt. Blanchard is now employed in the C. P. Champney pharmacy, having accepted the position made vacant by the resignation of Allison Webb. Mr. Lee's experience in the drug business is such as to fully qualify him for the important position he holds in the Champney pharmacy.

—Commissoner John Isch of Moline was in town Monday evening the guest of relatives. Mr. Isch has been assigned the townships of Perrysburg, Middleton, Washington, Troy, Ross and Lake as his territory. He seems to take up the work like a veteran, and his years of experience as a township Trustee and Infirmary Director give him much help in his present field of labor.
