COURT HOUSE NEWS
Circuit Court Opens Monday With Very Light Docket.

Circuit court opened the April term on Monday, but the term will not last long as there are but few cases on the docket.

The case of Stanley F. Sawyer against the B. G. Motor Car Co. which was set for hearing Friday was settled out of court, costs paid and case dismissed.

Deputy Sheriff Shoecraft Friday took to the workhouse at Toledo Stanley Dudek, the Hungarian, convicted of taking $25 belonging to a Rossford man named John Zalka. It will take him about 65 days to work out his fine and the costs.

Prosecutor Hatfield won a victory in probate court Saturday morning when Judge C. R. Nearing found Eugene Helwig of Walbridge guilty of keeping a place where liquor is sold. Sentence was deferred until motion for a new trial can be filed.

Mr. Helwig keeps a restaurant at Walbridge. The place was searched by Sheriff Heald and Deputy Skibbie on March 1 and they found five bottles of beer in a valise in a room adjoining the restaurant. The defense was that this room was for the private use of Mr. Helwig and his wife as a clothes and other store room and that the beer was for his own consumption.

Prosecutor Hatfield suggested to the court that whatever fine might be imposed should be suspended, as he believed Mr. Helwig had been sufficiently punished and the lesson of not keeping liquor about a public place had been sufficiently impressed.

The attachment suit of Eli Cookson against John Avery which was begun in Justice Comstock's court, was appealed to common pleas court and Judge Baldwin heard it Saturday morning. He released the attachment on Mr. Avery's automobile and remanded the suit back to Justice Comstock. Mr. Cookson claims he was deceived as the soundness of a horse for which he paid $140 at auction sale recently and he seeks to recover $215 in all.

Harry Badger the former Rossford man who was brought back from Nelsonville, pleaded guilty Monday afternoon to nonsupport of his minor children and was given six months in the workhouse at Toledo and was assessed the costs.

Executions have been issued to Sheriff Heald against Roger Brothers and George Carmack in the ten liquor cases in which the Supreme Court upheld Judge Nearing and in one against Carmack in which his insolvency plea was rejected. The amount of the first is $1717.49 and that of the latter is $100 with costs of about $75.

New Cases.
Thomas J. Fuller has brought suit against the T. B. G. & S. T. Co. for $10,000 damages and his expenses of $85 which he claims was entailed as the result of having the costal cartilage between the seventh and eighth ribs loosened and broken through an assault, beating and kicking administered by a conductor on a car of the defendant on February 17th last. He alleges that his ticket called for Craw's Station but that he was carried a mile beyond that and let off in the snow.

John G. H. Stein, trustee for Sarah J. Stevens, devisee of the will of Walter Davidson, has brought suit against Edward Beverstock and the American Bonding Co. for $5,000. It is claimed that Beverstock's last account before he was removed as trustee shows that there was this balance of $5,000 due the plaintiff on January 1, 1912.

RIVER TAKES ANOTHER
William T. Wing Drowns When Boat Capsizes.

Another life has been added to the toll the Maumee river takes from those who seek pleasure in boating.

On Sunday, while sailing near Perrysburg opposite the car barn, William T. Wing and John Eddis, his nephew, in turning, their catboat upset. Both men succeeded in climbing on the upturned bottom of the boat where they remained a short time but feared they could make no one hear them and Wing decided to swim ashore, but had swam only about 60 feet, when he shouted to his nephew that he was becoming exhausted. Eddis called to him to return to the boat and he started back. Wing had taken only two or three strokes on the return trip when he began to flounder in the water and call for help. Hastily taking off the rest of his clothing Eddis plunged into the water and started to swim for his uncle. Before he had gone more than four or five feet the younger man was so chilled that he was almost powerless. Realizing that he could not keep himself afloat more than two or three minutes, Eddis turned and made his way back to the upturned boat. Before the youth reached the craft his uncle sank.

R. E. Messenger heard the call for help and with Smith Stickle started in a rowboat to assist Eddis, but the boat leaked so badly they had to put back to shore and their craft was almost swamped. Messenger and Stickle then got a canoe with which they rescued Eddis.

Wing was a single man, aged 33, and a veteran of the Spanish war.

BIBLE CLASS MEETING.
The young men's Bible class of the M. E. church meets every Sunday morning 9 a. m. Young men are welcome to visit the class. Come out next Sunday morning.

THE DEMONS OF THE SWAMP
are mosquitos. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength falls; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50 cts. at C. P. Champney.

COULD NOT KILL IT.
Will Eliminate Park But Will Pave Main Street.

At a meeting of the Council Monday night it was decided to pave Main Street. The park plan was voted down, but the decision to pave the street was unanimous.

This decision places a great load of sorrow on the shoulders of the few who usually shudder at the mere mention of a public improvement, and who have interposed every possible effort to kill the improvement.

We believe an excellent opportunity for an artistic arrangement of the street plan has been overlooked, but the Journal is so thoroughly patriotic in its devotion to Perrysburg interests, and so exceedingly anxious to see the village progress and improve that we feel like congratulating everybody upon the fact that the chronic obstructionist has lost out in the effort to block progress, and, at last, Perrysburg's Main street will be elevated from a mud hole to a real street, passable at all times of the year.

Oh joy!

ROBBED WHILE SLEEPING

The Lima News says: Robbed while he lay asleep on the Pennsylvania fast flyer from Chicago to Lima Saturday afternoon, and stripped of his last dollar, Alfonso Meyntjes, an intelligent Belgian bridge worker, together with his neatly clad wife and two small sons appeared at the Central police station and sought transportation to their destination at Lima City, O.

Lured to Lima City by promise of a lucrative position, Meyntjes gave up his job at Chicago, sold his belongings and with the proceeds—$65 in cash—in company with his wife and two sons took the Pennsylvania train for Lima City. Saturday night while they lay asleep in the day coach of the train, someone robbed the forger of his wallet containing the $65. Only when he arrived at Lima where the connections were to be made to Lima City, did he discover his loss.

The city infirmary directors were notified and the family was given transportation to Lima City.

LIME CITY.

Mrs. J. Huber spent Thursday with Mrs. Geo. Miller.
Mrs. Ed. Clegg spent the day Thursday with friends in Toledo.

Mrs. V. Zingg is spending the week with Mrs. A. Christ and other friends in Toledo.
Mrs. A. Hitchcock spent Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. G. Wiseman, in Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cornelius and daughter Agnes were the guests of their son, Frank Cornelius, and family, in Perrysburg, Sunday.
Chas. Goodman, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Geo. Miller left Tuesday for a few weeks' visit with relatives at Clyde, O.

Joe Huber and wife spent Saturday and Sunday in Toledo with relatives.

Mr. Felix Liestuecher has returned to Pittsburg after spending the week with J. C. Huber and family.

There never was a time when people appreciated the read merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. If you or your children are troubled with a cough or cold give it a trial and become acquainted with its good qualities. For sale by all dealers.

BAD CONDITION
Of Seed Corn as Shown By Tests Made.

Much of the seed corn in this community is in poor condition and will not grow according to the instructions from the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, who accompanied the C. H. & D. agricultural special and lectured at Perrysburg, Tuesday forenoon. Three samples of corn collected at Perrysburg and tested by the College of Agriculture only showed a germination of 72 per cent, 66 2-3 per cent and 33 1-3 per cent respectively. These tests are considered by the College men to be very low and if corn of this kind is planted will give poor stands and low yields.

The agricultural special train which is making a four-day trip over the C. H. & D. railroad started from Toledo Tuesday morning carrying a party of agricultural college men and railroad officials. The men from the College of Agriculture are: O. M. Johnson, W. H. Darst, O. M. Kile, H. E. Eswine, C. S. Wheeler, W. E. McCoy, W. W. Brownfield and T. L. Wheeler.

Instruction on corn culture and soil improvement by means of lectures and illustrated literature is being given at 33 different towns along the way. The lectures are given on board the train. The train was met here by a good sized crowd of farmers and others interested in agriculture.

The three steps necessary to insure a good corn crop, according to the instructor from the College of Agriculture in his lecture on the agricultural special, are: (1) Early, thorough preparation of the soil; (2) careful selection and testing of seed ears; (3) constant shallow cultivation of the crop. In discussing these three points, the instructor emphasized the importance of early plowing for corn. This, he said, would allow the land to settle before planting time; would favor the rapid decay of organic matter; and allow the soil to absorb more moisture.

The selecting and testing of seed corn is one of the most important means of insuring a corn crop. Field selection is the most desirable, but where this was not done last fall, the best looking ears should be selected from the crib and tested for germination. Directions for making a home made germinator were given the farmers cautioned against planting any ears that do not show strong germination. Poor seed causes imperfect stands, which in turn means low yields. With a perfect stand and every stalk bearing a twelve-ounce ear, it is possible to get over 100 bushels per acre.

Persistent, shallow cultivation during the growing period is very desirable, not only as a means of keeping down weeds, but in conserving soil moisture. Deep cultivation cuts off the corn roots and injures the crop.

For every dollar the man spends for acid phosphate or floats to reinforce barnyard manure he can expect five dollars in the crop, said the next speaker in his talk on soil improvement. He pointed out that it pays to fertilize the corn crop, and that all fertilizers should contain phosphorus. As to whether they contain nitrogen or potassium depends on whether manure has been used and clover has been one of the crops in the rotation. The corn crop probably makes the best use of manure. It should be applied to the sod to be plowed for corn, as soon after harvest as possible. The earlier applied the better the results. Manure is high in nitrogen and potassium and should be reinforced with acid phosphate or floats. Eight to ten tons of phosphated manure, lime if needed, clover in the rotation and fertilizer higher in phosphorus than in nitrogen or potash on the wheat, such as a 5-10-5, were recommended.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newburg Junction, N. B., writes: "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effective and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.
