ATTRACTION AT THE VALENTINE THEATRE, TOLEDO, OHIO.

CORNELIUS VAN VLIET
Cellist, with Maennerchor Orchestra.

Minneapolis Orchestra and
Della Thal at the Valentine, February 25

The Minneapolis orchestra, Emil Oberhoffer, director, will appear at the Valentine theatre the night of Tuesday, Feb. 25, under the auspices of the Eurydice club.

Richard Carle and Hattie Williams.

"The Girl from Montmartre," a farce with music, adapted from the French, with music, adapted from the Williams as its stars, will be the attraction at the Valentine theatre, Toledo, the afternoon and evening of Saturday, March 1.

Carle is always popular in Toledo, and Miss Williams has a part in the play which gives her many opportunities to display her ability. A part of "The Girl from Montmartre" is the J. H. Barrie sketch, "A Slice of Life," a satire on the modern problem play, which is said to be filled with the kind of comedy which sets the audience rocking in the seats. The playlet is interpreted by Mr. Carle, Miss Williams and William Danforth. The two stars are supported by a big company and chorus.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

"TRUXTON KING" NEXT WEEK.

TRUXTON KING.

Persons interested in the progress of the war in the Balkans where the armies of the "league" have been so soundly whipping the Turk will recall that "Truxton King," the play to be presented at the Lyceum theatre, Toledo, all next week, has to do with the mythical principality of "Graustark," supposed to be situated in the Balkan country. Indeed, Graustark, with its bitter political strifes, its court intrigues, wars of diplomacy, actual clash of arms, and its fierce loves and hates, might easily be imagined as to be found in some corner of Bulgaria, or Servia or Montenegro. George Barr McCutcheon, who wrote the novel, tells a tale full well, and he gives his fertile imagination full sway when his pen has to do with the Graustark region. What with its sparkling romance and clear note of action "Truxton King" ought to make as pleasing a stage entertainment as "Graustark," which novel of Mr. McCutcheon's certainly proved an agreeable play.

All of the characters move through the stage story. There are four acts, one in the glow of the Alpine mountains, one in the anarchists' underground room and two in the throne-room of the royal castle in Edelweiss.

HORTICULTURAL BUILDING, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

The Palace of Horticulture will be set in a great tropical garden near the main entrance to the exposition grounds. It will be 672 feet long and its greatest width will be 225 feet. An impressive nave eighty feet high will run the length of the building and paralleling the central nave on either side will be two side naves fifty feet in height. At the main entrance to the building a huge arch will be adorned with classic bas-reliefs suggestive of the purpose of the structure. The entrance and interior of the Palace of Horticulture will be decorated with trellises upon which flowering vines will be trained. When the exposition opens the Horticultural Palace will appear as if set in the heart of a marvelous garden. Although wood will be used in connection with glass the Palace of Horticulture will be in every sense a glass palace; it will be the largest glass structure ever built. During the night illuminations at the exposition the vast surface of the building will present unusual and beautiful reflections.

Horndon-on-the-Hill, a village of six hundred persons, in the county of Essex, England, has attracted notice as being a spot where old age reigns in undisputed triumph. Walk through the picturesque narrow main street which twists across the hillside and from the doorways the passerby will see smiling at him the happy, ruddy faces of the ancients of Horndon. A London newspaper the other day found in this village, which by the way has not a doctor in it, twelve persons whose united ages are 1,040 years, these ages ranging from eighty-four to ninety years, while young persons, men and women of seventy-five and thereabout, were too numerous to deserve notice. One lad of eighty-six, who is on the way to be a philosopher, said: "A smile and a kiss made the world easy and do a lot of keeping one young, this and a fair share of work." In illustration of a part of this axiom he snatched a kiss from his wife, who is one year his senior. "You're nearly as bad as when you were young," said that lady, "and he wanted a lot of watching then."
