

PERRYSBURG JOURNAL

VOL. LXII—ED. L. BLUE, Publisher.

PERRYSBURG, WOOD CO., O., FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1914.

$1.00 IN ADVANCE—NO. 3

SOME OBSERVATIONS

Concerning Nothing Very Serious But Worthy of Thought.

"Be One of Us and Boost Your Home Town."

The old, old story is being revived, and whispered into the ear of the country editor. It is the tale of the hopeful and promissory candidate, who now seeks a boost in the country paper, in return for which he promises to be very grateful and to "show his appreciation" later. Dear old story! How many times we have heard it. It's a safe promise to make, because it has no future. There is no "breach of promise" case possible, so, the country editor who is wise, sadly takes from the shelf the old volume and dusting off its cover he reads the label—"Liars Register"—and adds another name to the long list.

C. P. Champney, says it does pay to have a neat window display. Glen Hoskinson, his assistant pharmacist, is an artistic window dresser, and the drug store windows are always attractive. Get the habit.

The heavy ice in the Maumee river may cause trouble in case the usual heavy March rains come before the ice has had time to wear thin. Heavy rains within the next two weeks might cause another flood.

A friend says: "Charity suffereth long, and so does the man who lives on it."

Eliminate the grouch or the grouch will eliminate you.

An elderly lady, now living in the West, came to visit relatives in an Ohio town. A favorite nephew had entered the ministry, and she was very anxious to hear him preach a sermon. At dinner, subsequent to the sermon, she heard him deliver, it was observed that the old lady was singularly reticent. Suddenly she broke her silence by asking her nephew—"William, why did you enter the ministry?"

"Why, aunt!" He exclaimed, "What a question! I entered the ministry because I was called."

With a faint smile the lady responded: "Are you sure, William, that it was not some other noise you heard?"

The cry "pass prosperity around" used so lavishly by orators in the last campaign, seems to have been taken too literally by democratic tariff makers, whose efforts on this line have resulted in passing prosperity clear around the country to foreign lands.

Stubborn, Annoying Coughs Cured

"My husband had a cough for fifteen years and my son for eight years. Dr. them, for which I am most thankful," writes Mrs. David Moor, of Saginaw, Ala. What Dr. King's New Discovery did for these men it will do for you. Dr. King's New Discovery should be in every home. Stops hacking coughs, relieves the grippe and all throat and lung ailments. Money back if it fails. All druggists. Price 50 and $1.00.

H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

R. P. BARTON, UNDERTAKER

Both Phones Main Twenty-seven.

FREDERICK C. AVERILL
ATTORNEY
AND COUNSELOR-AT-LAW,
818 Spitzer Building,
TOLEDO, OHIO.
Home Phone 1499.

Dr. B. Kinsley
DENTIST
Office Hours:—8 to 11 a. m., 1 to 5 p. m.
Office up stairs corner Second and Main Streets.
Phone Main 14
PERRYSBURG, OHIO.

ROBBERS AT LIME CITY

Frank Rider's Hardware Store Entered and Robbed.

On Monday morning when Herman Claybarger opened the C. F. Rider hardware store at Lime City he discovered that others had been there.

A side window and the glass in a side door had been broken and the show cases indicated that the nocturnal visitors had carried away watches, cutlery, revolvers and safety razors to the value of about $200.

They did not leave any address. Toledo police were notified and shortly before the noon hour on Tuesday Traffic Officer Green noticed a man walking down St. Clair street, carrying a heavily loaded dinner pail.

The dinner pail contained four watch chains, several razors, a revolver several watches and other articles which Rider had reported stolen from his store. Under his arm he carried a package containing other articles.

The man, who gave his name as Frank Blair and his residence Toledo, was held pending investigation.

The goods were identified by Mr. Rider.

MIDDLETON TOWNSHIP

Miss Edith Mullenup of Bowling Green spent Sunday with her sister Mrs. Lee Vermilya of Haskins.

A party was given at the home of F. J. Dauer Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Cora Bausman who will leave soon for her new home in Scotch Ridge. Those present were: Hazel and Lawrence Sutton, Edwin and Earnest Bobel, James Cordy, Dudley Dawson, Berna Vermilya, Mathilda and Arnold Dauer, Elmer Liebberr, Ruby Wayne, George and Earnest Walker. After playing many games light refreshments were served. All reported a good time.

Mr. Stonebrook and daughter Ruth of Maumee spent Sunday at the L. D. Stonebrook home in Dunbridge.

Mr. Wm. Bausman of Haskins has moved his family to Scotch Ridge.

Mr. John Vermilya who has been attending college at Ada returned home Friday.

Mr. C. S. Walker spent Sunday at the R. H. Bates home in Bowling Green.

Mr. Ray and Harold Vermilya spent Sunday afternoon with Wayne and George Walker.

Mr. Philip Ziss and son started Sunday night for Chicago Ill., where they will buy a car load of cattle.

Miss Elsie Weimer of Haskins has been spending the week with her sister Mrs. Binger of Dunbridge.

A party was held at the home of Frank Rider Saturday evening. All reported a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson and son Dudley spent Sunday with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pope and son Floyd spent Sunday at the home of J. Yount.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bobel spent Sunday afternoon at the George Bobel home in Pontogany.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Asmus and sons Clarence and Paul spent Sunday at the home of Ben Liebberr.

A household remedy in America for 25 years—Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. For cuts, sprains, burns, scalds, bruises, 25c and 50c. At all drug stores.—Adv.

-John Zurfluh-
PRACTICAL
WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER
Dealer in
Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Spectacles.
906 Monroe St., Toledo, Ohio.
Near Michigan Street.
Special care will be taken with the repair of all kinds of Watches, Clocks and Jewelry

EDWARD M. FRIES
Having retired as Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, is now engaged in the general practice of the law, with offices over Lincoln's Drug store, Main street, Bowling Green, O.

A GOOD GRAIN MARKET

Brings Trade To Every Business House in Town.

One of the best business drawing institutions a town can possess, is a grain market, and there is no other class of business that does so much to build up general trade in a village like Perrysburg.

Surrounding Perrysburg are many wealthy farmers, whose trade is valuable.

They sell their grain where they can obtain the highest price and if the Perrysburg market will pay that price the grain will come to Perrysburg.

Mr. C. L. Maddy has united with him in the management of the Perrysburg elevator, a firm with large capital and he informs the Journal that he is now in position to go into the market and offer the very limit in price for the produce of the farm and will allow no opportunity to pass in supplying the farmer the necessary inducements to bring his grain to Perrysburg.

This effort on the part of this firm should be encouraged by every business man in town.

Help to boost the Perrysburg grain market and thus help to boost all branches of Perrysburg business.

The money obtained from this grain market will go into Perrysburg banks.

And a part of it will be spent with Perrysburg merchants.

It will buy groceries, dry goods, clothing, hardware and shoes.

And the merchants should remember that the day when "anything is good enough for the farmer" is long since passed.

To-day the farmer wants the best. He dresses well and a pair of gauntlet gloves and automobile goggles and coats look as well on him and his good wife as on the millionaire—and well he knows it.

His pretty daughters want fine clothes and they will have them.

His sons want stylish, well fitting clothes, and they know the styles.

The Moral:—Perrysburg merchants should BUY the farmer's grain, and SELL him his merchandise.

The Fact:—Perrysburg merchants can do this as well as any class of merchants anywhere.

ELKS ELECT OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected at the meeting of Bowling Green Lodge of Elks on Thursday evening:

Exalted Ruler—E. E. Coriell.
Leading Knight—C. O. Shrader.
Loyal Knight—Gus Skibbie.

Lecturing Knight—W. C. Douahey.
Secretary—C. H. Russell.
Treasurer—Fred Kimmons.

Tyler—T. S. Forrest.
Trustee for 3 years—F. D. Carlisle.
Representative to Grand Lodge—R. S. Gillespie.

After the election a lunch was served to those present.

Spring Blood and System Cleanser.

During the winter months impurities accumulate, your blood becomes impure and thick, your kidneys, liver and bowels fail to work, causing so-called "Spring Fever." You feel tired, weak and lazy. Electric Bitters—the spring tonic and system cleanser—is what you need; they stimulate the kidneys, liver and bowels to healthy action, expel blood impurities and restore your health, strength and ambition. Electric Bitters makes you feel like new. Start a four weeks' treatment—it will put you in fine shape for your spring work. Guaranteed. All Druggists, 50c and $1.00.

H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

ENTERTAIN VISITORS

Weston, Haskins and Waterville Send Delegations to Perrysburg.

Tuesday evening was the time and the Presbyterian Church in Perrysburg the place, when and where a most interesting occasion was enjoyed by a delegation of men from Weston, Haskins and Waterville representing Bible classes in Presbyterian Sunday Schools in those towns, who were guests of the Mens Bible class of the REV. G. H. LOWRY.

Presbyterian Sunday School of Perrysburg.

It was a Brotherhood meeting and was a most delightful occasion.

A banquet was served in the church parlors after which a programme of speeches and singing was given.

Mr. George McKay, chairman of the Maumee Presbyterial Brotherhood, acted as toast master and proved most pleasing in that capacity.

The principal address was delivered by Rev. Henderson, member of the National Presbyterian Brotherhood committee. He spoke of the objects of the Brotherhood and of the great work that is being done throughout the country among men through the agency of the organization.

Representatives of each of the delegations were called to respond to toasts.

Mr. Fred Bargy of Toledo directed the congregational singing and the mens meeting was of extraordinary interest.

The Presbyterian Bible class of Perrysburg numbers about 28 members, with Mayor Finkbeiner as President and Rev. G. H. Lowry as teacher.

PRIMARY ELECTION IN AUGUST.

Inquiry has been made concerning the time for holding the primaries for the county offices at the fall election. The primaries will be held Tuesday, August 11. Section 4963 says:

Primaries under this chapter for members of the house of representatives in the congress of United States and for all elective states, district and county offices and to select committees, shall be held in each county at the usual polling places on the second Tuesday in August of the even numbered years. To nominate candidates for township and municipal office, justice of the peace and members of the boards of education shall be held in each county at the usual polling places on the second Tuesday of August of the odd numbered years.

Best Family Laxative.
Beware of constipation. Use Dr. King's New Life Pills and keep well. Mrs. Charles E. Smith, of West Franklin, Me., calls them "Our family laxative." Nothing better for adults or aged. Get them today, 25c. All Druggists or by mail.

H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

BUYING AT HOME

Depends Upon Being Able to Buy What is Wanted.

"Be One of Us and Boost Your Own Town."

This is the invitation that greets the eye as the citizens pass into the business houses of the village.

It is an invitation to join the Perrysburg Civic Association, to lay aside the hammer and begin boosting Perrysburg.

"Boosting" does not mean getting everything you can OUT of Perrysburg. It means PUTTING SOMETHING IN, so that the town will progress.

TALK is very cheap. What Perrysburg needs is ACTION.

Perrysburg business men can do more than any other class of citizens to build up the town.

They can supply such merchandise as the people in the town and surrounding country need and wish to buy.

This does not mean the buying of a stock of goods such as will produce the largest profit to the merchant and then expect the public to buy them, whether or not they are what the customers want.

It is unreasonable to expect the people of a town to buy at home unless the home market supplies the customer with the goods desired.

Every citizen is in duty bound to buy from his home merchant whenever his requirements can be supplied at home, and the home merchant can increase his business and at the same time help BUILD UP THE TOWN if he will supply the goods the customer desires.

Trade will go to the store that supplies the goods. No merchant has the right to dictate to the customer what he shall buy.

Good merchandising consists in supplying the trade what it desires at right prices.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

As a proof of this statement we can refer to the dry goods business of W. J. Veitch. When he entered the dry goods trade here the store contained a very small stock of the commonest class of goods. He realized that in order to sell goods he must have what the trade demanded, and whenever he had a demand for goods he did not carry in stock he asked his customer to give him an opportunity to secure what was desired upon approval and in this manner he built up a splendid trade which is increasing every day.

He won the good will of his customers by showing a desire to supply what was wanted and he has discovered it to be a good, paying business proposition.

FAREWELL AND WELCOME

Members of 111th Regiment O. V. I. Will Remember this Greeting.

The following letter of farewell to his Comrades and "Welcome Home" to the members of the 111th Regiment, was presented the Journal by Mr. A. J. Witzler, who values it as one of his late fathers treasures.

We are about to separate as soldiers, and go to our homes as citizens. Before we part allow me to thank you for the generous courtesy you have always shown me as your commanding officer. The work which we enlisted to perform has been well done, and you go to your homes with the proud assurance of having participated in the most decisive battles of the war. For your heroic conduct at Franklin, you were complimented in "General Orders," and on twenty battle fields you have carried the tattered flag of the 111th Ohio in the front line, and sustained it triumphantly. I do not part with men whom I have been so intimately associated for three long years, without feelings of regret. These soldier friendships, formed in bivouac and on the battle field, will never be forgotten; and I shall ever remember your unswerving fidelity with the liveliest emotion of pleasure. You go to your homes as American citizens, knowing what it has cost to maintain our national integrity. Show by upright, honorable lives, my fellow soldiers, that you fully appreciate those sacrifices. Remember our brave comrades who fell at Stone River, Huff's Ferry, Loudon Creek, Campbell's Station, Knoxville, Strawberry Plains, Rocky Face, Resaca, Dallas, Burnt Hickory, Pine Mountain, Kennesaw, Peach Tree Creek Atlanta, Utoy's Creek, Lovejoy's Station, Columbia, Franklin, Nashville and Ft. Anderson. Many of them are lying in unknown graves. Let us ever cherish their memory with reverence. Let us show by our lives that we fully appreciate those noble sacrifices of our brave comrades, and extend our sympathies and our charity to the soldier's widow and the dead soldier's friend.

Brave comrades, farewell; may Almighty God bless you; and may a grateful people reward you for your many and daring sacrifices for Country, Liberty and Peace.

ISAAC R. SHERWOOD.
Lt. Col. Brevet Brig. Gen.
Commanding

Welcome! welcome! Hark! the greeting
From the glad home-voices comes,
Words, which echo is repeating,
With the triumph speaking drums,
Welcome home from fields of glory,
Sacred evermore in story,
Won by you in battles gory:
Welcome home!

Welcome! welcome! We remember
When you proudly took the field—
'T was the beautiful September,
And the war-trumps loudly pealed,
Oh! how proud you seemed, when passing
To the front, where troops were massing,
Loyal from disloyal classing:
Welcome home!

Welcome! welcome! We are thinking
Of the wilds of Tennessee,
When with Burnside, all unshrinking,
You assumed supremacy:
And from then, your name maintaining,
Honors new and noble gaining,
Well you bought the praise we're naming:
Welcome home!

Welcome! welcome! Ask of Sherman
What of honor you may know?
He will answer, "Robes of ermine"
Gold and gems, cannot bestow,
H-If the fame on those who wear them,
And in princely power bear them!"
Who with honor would compare them?
Welcome home!

Welcome! welcome! Months have
Vanished,
Since on frowning Rocky Face,
You all thoughts and feelings banished,
Save to fill the hero's place,
Never were you seen retreating,
But the haughty foe defeating,
While the wildest storms were beating:
Welcome home!

Welcome! welcome! Those were battles
Which the world is proud to name;
Freeing all the human chattels,
Filling traitor-hearts with shame,
Resaca's destructive charges,
Dallas and Lost Mountain's gorges!
Kennesaw—the theme enlarges!
Welcome home!
(Continued on Eighth Page.)

THE CITIZENS
BANKING
CO.

Depository of the U. S. Government, Postal Savings System.
Depository of the State of Ohio.
This bank has a record of Thirty-five years success.
Commenced business in 1879.
Four per cent. interest paid on deposits for one year.
J. DAVIS, Chairman. WM. COMSTOCK, President.
D. K. HOLLENBECK, Vice-Pres. NORMAN L. HANSON, Vice-Pres.
R. R. HARTSHORN, Cashier. GERTRUDE E. CHAPMAN, Teller.
Resources over a Half Million Dollars.

OLDEST
BANK
IN WOOD
COUNTY