BADLY INJURED

Stony Ridge Man has Narrow Escape from Death

On Thursday afternoon last, Mr. Louis Sherman aged 47, sustained injuries which it was feared would prove fatal. A young team he was driving became frightened and ran away throwing Mr. Sherman out of the wagon. He struck on the stone road with such force as to break two ribs and cause concussion of the brain from the effects of which he was unconscious for three days. Dr. Price is attending him and now hopes that his patient will recover.

DEATH OF MRS. LALLY.

Mrs. Martin Lally, Jr., died of pulmonary tuberculosis at her home in Toledo, on Sunday last at 8:30, after an illness of about three months duration. The funeral services were held at St. Josephs Church on the corner of Erie and Locust streets on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, Rev. Father Schritz officiating, and the remains were brought to Perrysburg and laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery. The deceased was born at Veeve Indiana, thirty seven years ago and was united in marriage with Martin Lally at Findlay, Ohio on May 15, 1900.

Mrs. Lally is survived by her husband, two brothers and two sisters and many friends who deplore her demise, and who are the recipients of the sympathy and condolence of a host of friends, who will cherish the memory of the deceased for her beautiful and unselfish traits of character which endeared her to them all.

MEMORIAL DAY AT HASKINS.

The people of Haskins are making extensive preparations for memorial day. An appropriate and interesting program is being prepared.

At 1:30 p. m. a parade will form in which the veterans, sons of veterans, the public schools, the orders of Odd Fellows and Macca-bees citizens generally will march, led by Scott's drum corps of Perrysburg.

Coughed for Three Years

"I am a lover of your godsend to humanity and science. Your medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery, cured my cough of three years standing," says Jennie Flemming, of New Dover, Ohio. Have you an annoying cough? Is it stubborn and won't yield to treatment? Get a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery today. What it did for Jennie Flemming it will do for you, no matter how stubborn or chronic a cough may be. It stops a cough and stops throat and lung trouble. Relief or money back. 50c and $1.00 at your Druggist. Bucklen's Arnica Salve for Pimples.—Adv.

HAMMANSBURG LOST

It was a Shame to Take the Money For the Show.

Ashamed of the game put up by an aggregation of so-called ball players who came over from the forests of Hammonsburg last Sunday, Manager Harper of the Perrysburg team offered to return the money paid by the audience who witnessed the burlesque game.

This Hammonsburg aggregation might do very well playing with the Toledo's in the Southern Michigan league, but they will never do for Perrysburg.

There will be two games at Perrysburg this week. Decoration day the Champion Spark Plug team of Toledo Saturday afternoon League will furnish the boys with a contest. And Sunday, May 31, the Strong Toledo All Stars will meet with the locals. These are good teams, so we will have real Base Ball. Come out and root for the home team. Admission 20c. Ladies Free.

TO THE PUBLIC AT LARGE

Those having friends, who were former residents of Perrysburg will kindly send the names, and local city addresses, if possible, to the undersigned. Invitations will be sent to each of them to attend the Home Coming, August 5th., 6th., 7th., and 8th.

This requires early attention as the time is getting short.

Respectfully yours,
D. K. HOLLENBECK, Chn.,
Home Coming Committee.

LIFE CRUSHED OUT

Engineer Falls off Road Roller to His Death.

On Thursday last while operating a steam road roller on the road between Maumee and Holland, George Snyder, aged 22, fell from the machine while it was in motion and was killed beneath its ponderous wheels. His body was terribly crushed.

He was taken to St. Vincents hospital in Toledo where he died a few hours later.

Remains were brought to Witzlers for preparation for burial and the funeral was held at Holland on Saturday last.

MARRIED IN LIMA.

On Saturday, May 23, 1914, Mr. Charles Snyder and Miss Huldah Schaller of Perrysburg journeyed to Lima where they were united in marriage by Rev. Constein at his residence in that city.

A charming dinner was served after which they went to Cincinnati for a brief wedding visit.

The Lima Times-Democrat says: "The bride wore a handsome and stylish creation of white embroidered voile, trimmed in lace, which accentuated her natural beauty."

Mr. and Mrs. Schneider have a large circle of friends in Perrysburg who extend to them congratulations and the hope that their married life may be one of happiness and prosperity.

OFFICERS WILL MEET.

The State Agricultural Commission has invited farmer institute officers and persons who want an institute in their community, to meet C. R. Wagner at Court House Bowling Green, Ohio, Monday, June 1, at 10:30 a. m.

At this conference, the time and place of holding institutes, making programs, advertising, items of legal expense and manner of conducting institutes, will be discussed.

WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE

You, boys and girls, did you ever dream of taking a great trip?

There are chances to make these dreams come true by winning a free trip to Washington, in some of the contests.

Time for entering the Corn Growing Contest is drawing to a close, but there is yet time to enter.

Domestic Science Contest entries close July 1st.

Write A. P. Sandles, Columbus, for blanks.

DO IT NOW.

TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS.

Field day for township schools June 3rd at Ft. Meigs.

Teachers will meet Supt. Haylor June 6th at 10 a. m. and make their final report at that time.

Township boards meet June 6th at 2 o'clock. They will bear final reports and elect teachers.

Every now and then, to show that he is still in the game, Uncle Joseph Gurney Cannon has another birthday.

WELFARE WORK

How it Improves Morals and Health of the Community.

The free Motion Pictures and illustrated talk by Mrs. Josephine L. Nesbit of the Ohio Agricultural Commission at the Perrysburg town hall, this (Thursday) afternoon and evening should be attended by every citizen of this locality, youth and adult.

Colored slides and moving pictures will be used to show how one neighborhood was changed from shambling back yards and garbage-strewn streets and alleys to one of the most beautiful residence sections of the city, and how any neighborhood can be made more beautiful and attractive.

The lecturer will also illustrate, with pictures from actual life, the manner in which hundreds of boys who found delight in breaking windows, were changed into industrious little gardeners and furniture makers, and developed into useful citizens.

This is an opportunity seldom offered and should be enjoyed by everybody. Remember it is free and no collection to be asked.

FROM SUNNY ITALY.

Florence, Italy. May 7, 1914. My DEAR BLUE:—

I have been sitting at my window in this hotel listening to the flow of the beautiful river Arna, which recalls memories of our own Perrysburg and the Maumee.

We had an uneventful, but pleasant ocean trip in the largest and I think the best ocean steamer—the Emperor. It is a perfectly delightful boat to travel in and I can recommend it to any one making the trip.

After seeing something of London and old England where we met many friends, we visited Belgium and saw something of Antwerp and Brussels and the battlefield of Waterloo. At Brussels we met and were delightfully entertained by Brand Whitlock and his wife. Mr. Whitlock as you know is the present American Minister to Belgium.

From Brussels we went to Neuremberg and Munich. All of these places abound in old churches, palaces, prisons, castles, histories and legends, and with many paintings, frescoes, mosaics and works of art in all forms. The railway trip from Munich to Venice Via Sharnitz, Innsbruck and the Brenner pass was one of the most delightful and interesting of our experiences. The entire trip with ever changing scenery through and over the Bavarian and Austrian Alps and the beautiful Tyrol country climbing mountains to almost their very peak, from where we could look down and see at one time ten or twelve villages nesting in the Valley almost directly under and far below us was all interesting. The beautiful Alpine pines covering the bottoms of the snow and ice crested peaks; the rushing torrents; the many old and mostly ruined castles perched in many inaccessible mountains tops, and

SOME OBSERVATIONS

Concerning Nothing Very Serious But Worthy of Thought.

The Sentinel-Tribune copied the Journal's article of last week on the Home Coming, and thus indicates that paper's good will toward the Journal and Perrysburg.

Indigestion has made many a man turn reformer.

The man who makes a mint bed needn't lie down in it.

It is with pleasure that the Journal returns thanks to our many friends who kindly favor us with news items. These people not only help us but help every reader of the Journal by these kindly acts. We regard it as a great favor when we are called to "take a news item" over the phone.

It will be manifestly impossible for Mr. Wilson to be father-in-law to the entire cabinet.

Although posing as strictly non-partisan, cupid seems especially to favor the present administration.

From the interest manifested by our readers in all sections of the country we have every reason to believe the Home Coming in Perrysburg on August next will be an event that will be enjoyed by a large attendance and will be long remembered by all who participate.

The big guns with the fleet at Vera Cruz haven't made as much noise as some nearer home.

It must be admitted that it takes more courage to be a war correspondent in Mexico than in this country.

An expert says there is greater danger from disease in Mexico than from anything else. Yes, and everything is catching down there except the bandits.

It is said that Huerta is trying to raise more money. He might try a tag day.

One of the busiest men in Perrysburg is Mr. Graham Lowmsbury who is not only Assistant Secretary and assistant "Everything Else" in the Perrysburg Civic association, but is the manager of the approaching Summer Festival and is working like a hive of bees on the plans for the big event. Every possible assistance should be given him in his work by the people of the village. Lets help him make the Festival the biggest and best of its kind ever held in the State.

The Journal announcing the Home Coming is being sent to every former citizen of Perrysburg whose address can be obtained, for the purpose of advertising the Home Coming, and the "boys and girls" of former days are helping us in the work by sending names and addresses of those they know. We will be thankful for letters from these people giving suggestions and words of encouragement for the great event. Write to us. Your friends will be pleased to read a few lines from the old friends and neighbors.

MY SOUTHERN HOME

Rev. Lowry Visits the Scenes of His Boyhood Days.

Maryville, Tenn., May 19, 1914.

DEAR MR. BLUE: I promised you a letter, so here goes. I am down here on my native heath in the old "Volunteer State;" that state of which someone has said that "Its women are the prettiest, its horses the fastest, its climate the loveliest; its men the bravest, and its politics the consarnedest." I am willing to subscribe to all this except the last. I do not believe after nearly twenty years residence in Ohio that my Northern State has any thing to boast of in the matter of bad politics over the state of my adoption. Owing to a division of the Democratic party upon the temperance question, Tennessee has had a Republican governor for the last four years—Gov. Ben. Hooper, who seems likely to succeed himself for another term, for while the Democrats are holding many horny meetings they are proving to be jarring meetings instead.

This is the season to visit the south. It is all abloom now and everywhere you see great banks of roses and other flowers, and the genial air of spring is truly bewitching. I am amazed every time I visit this section by the many marks of progress seen on every hand. The west may be a broad country; Ohio may be God's country, as we love to say up there, but there is no mistaking the fact that the south is the coming country. The way industries are springing up; agriculture being improved; education advanced; immigration—moving in from every quarter, convinces one of that. When I look at conditions here in the south now, and contrast them with the conditions here when I can first remember, and when the south lay prostrate and crushed by the war, I am reminded of the fabled Phoenix that rose out of her ashes.

To the writer there is no part of the southland more attractive and interesting than Eastern Tennessee,—that section of the state that lies between two Mountain ranges—the Cumberlands on the west and the Unaka or Great Smoky. This section has been called "The Switzerland of America," and its physical aspect certainly justifies the appellation for her.

"Mountains like giants stand To sentinel the enchanted land."

The character of the people too goes far to justify the appellation. The people are almost entirely of Scotch-Irish extraction with a slight mixture of Huguenot blood. Their loyalty and devotion to country is a matter of history. It was from these hills and vales that little force was gathered that marched across mighty and trackless mountains into North Carolina and dealt the British forces a telling blow at the battle of Kings Mountain, one of the most glorious battles of the Revolutionary war. It was from here that the larger part of that force was gathered that lined up behind the breastwork at New Orleans under General Jackson and repelled the fierce attack of the veterans who had
