

FRED E. FARMER,

Democratic Candidate for County Auditor.

Mr. Fred E. Farmer at present is at the head of the men's clothing department of the A. Froney & Company department store, in this city. In this capacity he has become acquainted with many citizens of Wood county. His congenial disposition has won him many personal friends, who are now supporting him as the Democratic candidate for county auditor. The good people of Bowling Green elected Mr. Farmer to serve as their councilman-at-large. He is now serving in that capacity. As a candidate he solicits your support at the polls on November 3rd, and if elected promises to give the taxpayers his entire time. Coming into this county, an entire stranger to everyone, some years ago, Mr. Farmer, without the aid of relatives or influential friends to "boost" him, but by strict attention to business and correct habits he rapidly made himself known, and now occupies a very responsible position with A. Froney & Co. His personality and influence has been felt by all those who have come in contact with him.

ON THE NON-PARTISAN JUDICIAL BALLOT VOTE

For Judge of the Court of Appeals, (Unexpired term), CHAUNCEY L. NEWCOMER of Bryan, Ohio.

Two Judges of the Court of Appeals are to be elected this year, one for the full term and one for the unexpired term caused by the resignation of Judge Chittenden to be a candidate for mayor of Toledo.

The custom has been to select one of the Judges of this court from Toledo, one from the east end, and one from the west end of the district. The east end has a judge.

All of the candidates for the full term and the other candidate for the unexpired term live in Toledo. Mr. Newcomer is the only candidate outside of Lucas County. Let us be fair and elect one Judge from Lucas County and elect Mr. Newcomer of Williams County. Adv.34c.

Moving Mark for Soldiers.

It is likely that in Germany a portion of the soldiers' rifle range work hereafter will be done with moving figures for targets. A test of the new contrivance at the Doberitz range gave good results, and the emperor, who witnessed the tests and himself fired a number of shots, was pleased with the innovation.

Long rolls of paper are unwound past a given point and on them appear in outline marching soldiers, cavalrymen, artillery in full gallop, cycle troops and other moving objects. The instant a bullet strikes the paper the spot of impact is brilliantly lighted and the movement of the contrivance is arrested for nearly a second, giving an opportunity to see the full effect of the shot.

It is believed that the invention will not only improve the soldiers' marksmanship, but will also prove valuable in training them to aim and fire rapidly.

EDWARD C. TURNER

Republican Candidate for Attorney General.

EDWARD C. TURNER, Republican nominee for attorney general, is at present prosecuting attorney of Franklin county. He is 42 years of age and a graduate of Ohio State University with degrees of LL.B. and LL.M. He is a 32 degree Mason, a Shriner, an Odd Fellow and an Elk. He is married and has a family. He is a quiet looking little fellow, with the determined chin of a man who doesn't make much noise but who never lets go.

When his first term as prosecutor of Franklin county had rolled by, three state senators were languishing behind the bars of the state penitentiary, and members of the lower house of the general assembly, and two lobbyists had paid into the state coffers fines levied against them for their legislative activities. In his campaign for re-election Turner faced the people on his record, and when the votes were counted it was found that while Governor Cox had carried the county, Prosecutor Turner had been elected on the Republican ticket by 5,289 votes the other way. He led the ticket.

During his term of office Prosecutor Turner established the precedent of compelling the county treasurer to collect delinquent taxes instead of farming the job out to private citizens on a percentage basis. In his work as prosecutor he has collected nearly $200,000 for the county from unpaid costs and other items that have been considered heretofore "dead wood." When he took office, the civil and criminal docket of his office was about 300 cases behind, but now it stands up to the scratch.

JUDGE E. S. MAHTTIAS

Republican Candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court.

JUDGE EDWARD S. MATTHIAS of Van Wert is one of the nominees in the Republican primary for judge of the supreme court. Though but forty-one years of age Judge Matthias has been judge of the common pleas court nearly ten years, and has achieved a record seldom equaled in this great court of the people. This fact is attested by the action of the attorneys of nine northwestern Ohio counties unanimously commending his services and endorsing his candidacy for the supreme bench. Judge Matthias taught school and attended college alternately until he graduated from the Ohio Northern University and later entered upon the practice of law. Prior to his election to the common pleas bench in 1904, he had been twice elected city solicitor of Van Wert. During the Spanish-American war he served with credit as captain in the Second Ohio Infantry. Every duty that has come to him has been discharged with promptness, ability and fidelity. In one of the first cases before him Judge Matthias clearly demonstrated his independence of thought and action, for which he has become widely known, when he held that officers and directors of corporations are trustees for the members, and, if lacking in care and diligence in the discharge of the trust, are accountable to those who suffer loss. The candidacy of Judge Matthias for the supreme bench should have the approbation and support of all who regard faithful service the test of fitness for positions of public trust.

JOHN H. ARNOLD

Republican Candidate for Lieutenant-Governor.

JOHN H. ARNOLD was born at Freeport, Armstrong county, Pennsylvania, December 11, 1862. His ancestors were Scotch-Irish and the Dutch side settled there when Pittsburg was Fort Pitt, and on the father's side from the Douglas clan, Scotland. They were Presbyterians. He secured his education in the public schools of Pittsburg and Western Pennsylvania and at Freeport Academy. After leaving school he followed lumbering in Western Maryland for several years, then came to Columbus, Ohio, October 1, 1885, with his mother, where he still resides.

While employed in the Pennsylvania shops at Columbus, Ohio, he took up the study of law in the office of Henry F. Guerin, one of the prominent attorneys in the city, who is now a candidate for common pleas judge in Franklin county.

Mr. Arnold is progressive, capable, fearless, a loyal friend, and affable and likeable. He is a strong advocate of representative government, opposed at all times to centralization of power in an executive officer, believing that sooner or later it would lead to a monarchy and the destruction of American liberty.

He is an ardent good roads man. In 1891, he and others of the League of American Wheelmen, spent much time and money advertising good roads.

Mr. Arnold has always taken an active part in Republican principles—and two years ago ran as national delegate for Senator LaFollette in the 12th district. When defeated, he continued to stand loyally by the Republican party.

Mr. Arnold was married in August, 1904, to Eleanor Moore, an Ohio girl, and they live in Columbus.

JUDGE THOMAS S. JONES

Republican Candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court.

JUDGE THOMAS A. JONES of Jackson, Ohio, one of the Republican nominees for supreme court judge, is a judge of the court of appeals in the fourth appellate district, composed of fifteen counties in southeastern Ohio. He has served longer on this appellate bench than any of its judges except one—and is well qualified by training and experience for a service on our supreme bench.

After seventeen years of law practice he was elected to the circuit court in 1900; he was re-elected in 1906; and was again re-elected in 1912 to the court of appeals on the non-partisan ballot. That his qualifications and service merited the approval of his constituency in the fifteen counties of his district is shown by the result of that election. Although the Democratic gubernatorial candidate carried his district by about 8,000 plurality, Judge Jones carried it by nearly 7,000.

In 1911, Judge Jones was the chief justice of the circuit courts of Ohio. He is 55 years of age and a graduate of the Ohio University, which has conferred upon him the degree of bachelor and master of arts.

"On the bench, Judge Jones brought to the discharge of his official duties, a thorough knowledge of law and equity, a strong passion for justice, a rigid integrity and hard common sense, which has made his judicial administration in this circuit court district a signal success, and which brought him almost a unanimous re-election."—Chillicothe Scioto-Gazette.
