COURT HOUSE CULLINGS

Happenings in and About the County Headquarters.

The grand jury reported last Wednesday afternoon. The indictments returned were as follows: Joseph Moliner, shooting with intent to kill his wife at Rossford. Anzo Rutledge, Harry King and Earl Van Orman, grand larceny, theft of three bicycles from the streets of North Baltimore.

Ben Dye and Wilbur Croninger, burglary and larceny, two cases, one for burglarizing the Singer store and the other the C. H. & D. depot at Weston.

One indictment returned in secret.

Seventeen cases were considered.

Prisoners were arraigned before Judge McClelland Friday morning and pleaded to indictments, Harry King, Anzon Rutledge and Earl Van Norman pleaded guilty to stealing bicycles at North Baltimore. King was sent to the pen to serve from one to seven years and the other two to the reformatory at Mansfield.

Ben Dye and William Croniger pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny of the Singer store at Weston. Dye was sent to the reformatory at Mansfield and Croniger to the pen to serve from one to fifteen years. Croniger and King are the men suspected of trying to saw out of jail.

Joseph Molinar denied that he had shot at his wife with intent to kill and his trial was set for September 28th. He was unable to furnish $500 bond. Molinar said he intended only to kill himself. He did shoot himself just above the heart.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Freight Train Backed Into Taxi at Tontogany.

Mr. F. M. Sibert, 40, proprietor of the general store here, was almost instantly killed Friday at nine o'clock when a C. H. & D. freight train backed into a taxi driven by I. I. Sutton, who was perhaps fatally injured. Charles Hibbs, of Bowling Green, the other occupant of the machine, was also injured. The auto was carried for two hundred feet and was a complete wreck. The accident happened at the Main street crossing. The machine was owned by E. G. Gill.

TWO PERSONS BADLY

HURT IN COLLISION.

Constable Wolgamuth of Rossford, brought to the county jail Wednesday night Ralph Warke, aged 25, of Lime City, who is to appear before Justice Fields. He is accused of driving his motorcycle carelessly. His machine collided at Rossford with a little girl Monday. Both her legs were broken and his companion sustained a broken skull and is now in a Toledo hospital.—Sentinel.

FIENDISH ATTACK

Made Upon Weston Farmer by Gang of Thieves.

Four men attacked John Stinger, 65, in his home south of Weston, Saturday, partially emasculated him, robbed him of $1.50, all the money found on the premises, and escaped on a freight train, presumably to Toledo.

Stinger staggered 40 rods to the home of Elmer Brown, who called a physician and notified the sheriff of Wood county. He is in a critical condition, it is said.

Stinger lives alone on his brother's farm and was surprised by the robbers. He furnished the sheriff with a description of the men.

Toledo police arrested several suspects in the Weston robbery Sunday night, but were unable to find anything incriminating.—Toledo Times.

LATER—Several men were arrested in Toledo and taken before Steinger for identification but he failed to recognize any one.

Steinger is recovering from his wounds which were not as serious as first reported, and he is now able to walk.

MORSE SCHOOL REUNION

A school reunion was held at District No. 9, August 30, 1916. All who had ever attended this school and all former teachers were invited. Old schoolmates and teachers met and exchanged reminiscences. A strong feeling of good fellowship pervaded during the entire meeting. After the picnic dinner had been enjoyed the meeting was called to order by J. D. Greiner, who acted as chairman. It was unanimously agreed to make a permanent organization. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—J. D. Greiner.
Secretary—Mrs. S. E. Wagoner.
Treasurer—Frank Kurfis.

It was voted to meet next year on the last Wednesday in August.

A short program was rendered consisting of short talks by former teachers, music and a short talk by the present teacher, Miss Faye Wagoner.

The following selection was read by Mrs. Josephine Blue Scott, who taught at District 9 in 1865.

RANDOM RECOLLECTIONS

Some Presidential Campaigns of Many Years Ago.

About a week or ten days after the events which have already been narrated took place, our town had another pole-raising. This time it was the other political party that did the business. The Democrats of Perryysburg and vicinity had secured two fine hickory trees and had them spliced together, (with the brushy part of the top section tied in such a manner as to resemble a broom,) which made a very fine pole indeed. It was fully as long, if not longer, than the pole the Republicans had erected a short time previous. The location selected for this hickory pole was on the northeast corner of Louisiana avenue and Second street, in front of the building erected a few years ago and occupied by the Perryysburg Banking Company. There had been a heavy rain early in the morning of the day chosen for the raising, but during the forenoon the clouds broke away and by noon it had cleared up, and an immense crowd of faithful Democrats from the village and township had gathered for the occasion. A. L. (Lock) Scott seemed to be the master of ceremonies for this raising, and while watching him putting the finishing touches to some braces that were to be used at the base of the pole, he, together with a passer-by, frightened me very much by saying that the old cannon was again to be used for firing a salute during the ceremonies. However, I was frightened over nothing, as no salute was fired.

Early in the afternoon, when the "shears" had been rigged up and block and tackle in proper shape, the men fell in line at the long hoisting rope, and at a signal from the one in charge, tugged at the rope with a hearty good will, and in a very few minutes the pole stood erect, earth was thrown into the hole around it and firmly tamped down, and braces erected to hold it in position. Then, while three cheers and a "tiger" were given for Seymour and Blair, a large American flag was hoisted to the top and floated to the breeze as proudly as did the flag across the street on the pole of those of the opposite political faith. All arrangements for this raising had been very carefully made, everything worked out to perfection and there were no mishaps of any kind, not even minor ones, on this day. After the pole-raising there was the usual speech-making, without which an occasion of this kind would not be complete. Who the speakers were for this day has gone out of my memory.

Somehow or other the Democrats of that time seemed to be a little suspicious of their brethren of the opposing party, for every night the halyards of this pole were drawn over and fastened in the window of the second story of the building occupied at that time by the late Joseph Crabb as a grocery store, and which was occupied for a number of years by J. Wetzel & Sons as a cigar factory. No doubt they feared that some naughty Republican would come in the still of night and pull the halyards through.

Reports at the Ohio Experiment Station show that scab is more prevalent in wheat this season than any previous year, due to the weather conditions favorable to its spread. Cleaning seed wheat and treating it with formalin will control this fungus and prevent stink smut at the same time.

The scab fungus is carried in the diseased wheat kernels and after seeding attacks the young plants. With some varieties of wheat on the Station farm about half the heads were infected.

Many of the lighter infected kernels will be removed if the seed is recleaned thoroughly in a fanning mill. Scab spores will still be left adhering to the sound grain. Seed treatment as used for stinking smut of wheat is also recommended by the Experiment Station botanist. One pint of formalin (40 percent formaldehyde) is mixed with 40 gallons of water. This is then sprinkled over the wheat spread on a tight floor or canvas. One gallon will treat one bushel of grain. After two or three hours the grain should be spread out to dry and then handled in bags and drills disinfected with the same solution.

A CHECK BOOK THE BEST STABILIZER IN LIFE'S FLIGHT

YOU'VE read about Orville Wright's success with his aeroplane stabilizer, the balance wheel of flight. In life's flight you need several balance wheels. For instance, you need the balance wheels of honesty, of morality, of physical well being, of money. One might write a column about life's stabilizers. Instead we suggest that you THINK this sketch over.

BEATEN! B'GOSH!

Bowling Green Trimmed the Perryysburg Team Last Sunday.

Perryysburg closed their baseball season at Bowling Green Sunday with a defeat by the score 6 to 0. Both teams played good ball, but ten clean drives netted Bowling Green six runs while Perryysburg could not get their runners any farther than third base.
