HAVE LITTLE SUPPORT

Fans are Missing Best Football Ever Played Here.

The Adrian football team come to Perrysburg last Sunday prepared to take home the long end of the score in their clash with the Perrysburg-Maumee team. They went home sadly disappointed. Three Adrian College players were in the visitors' lineup, but even they failed to make any impression on the locals.

The scoring came in the first and second quarters. Renaux and N. Sassa scored the touchdowns. Kopp and Renaux kicked the goals. Adrian strengthened up in the last part of the game and held the home boys scoreless in the last half.

The disappointing feature of the game was the small attendance. Manager Harper is having a difficult time getting teams in a class with the locals. Only one amateur team in Toledo this year. The Navys is heavy enough to give the fans their money's worth and he therefore has to get teams from a greater distance, meaning a big expenditure of money. The crowd of last Sunday only netted about two-thirds of the expense.

A better class of football than is offered here is hard to find. The boys are practicing faithfully and their work shows it. When Perrysburg went to Fremont a crowd of rooters numbering 2,000 turned out to see the bunch that the Fremont Messenger called "the classiest team in northwestern Ohio." On the advertising cards the Fremont manager said Perrysburg is too well known to say anything further and he remarked that a game with Perrysburg always brings out the largest crowd of the season. Now in the face of such comment as this from rivals, why don't the Perrysburg people turn out in greater number.

Next Sunday Delta will be the attraction. Delta has always been a bitter rival of local teams in both football and baseball, and has won a majority of the games. Your support is needed to help the newly combined Perrysburg-Maumee team win this game.

Mrs. P. O. Stuchell Tells How She Cured Her Son of a Cold.

"When my son Ellis was sick with a cold last winter I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It helped him at once and quickly broke up his cold," writes Mrs. P. O. Stuchell, Homer City, Pa. This remedy has been in use for many years. Its good qualities have been fully proven by many thousands of people. It is pleasant and safe to take.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Rev. C. W. Wiltmer, pastor. Services for Sunday, Nov. 25, 1917. Sunday School opens at 9:00 a. m. The lesson for this precious hour of study is found in Psalms 103. Subject: "A Psalm of Thanksgiving." Golden Text.—Bless Jehovah, O My Soul and Forget Not All His Benefits. Psalms 103-2.

We are admonished to give thanks in everything. Too many people in our country fail to render to God the gratitude that is due Him for his goodness. A legend of olden times tells of two angels. The one is known as the angel of prayer; the other the angel of thanksgiving. They came from Heaven on a Divine mission. The former came with his vessel to gather up human prayers; the other to receive human thanksgivings. The angel of prayer soon had his vessel full, so that he could scarcely bear it to the throne. But the other returned with his vessel almost empty. Is this a picture of our own hearts? How much oftener do all of us utter our cries to God for help, for blessings for special favors, than expression to the joyful spirit of thanksgiving. Come and help to make this a real Thanksgiving service. Was pleased to have you with us on last Sabbath, come next Sunday. Yours in the work for the (Continued on page 8.)

RANDOM RECOLLECTIONS

The Old Perrysburg Cadet Company of the Early Seventies.

To remember the names of all the members of the old Perrysburg Cadet company after the lapse of nearly forty-five years one would need to have a very extraordinary memory, something the writer freely admits he does not possess. However, to the best of my recollection the following names were on the muster roll when the company had its largest membership: Frank Baird, Oscar Bates, Ed. L. Blue, Chris. Brown, Clark Brown, Will R. Champney, Walter Clark, Charlie Cook, Hamilton Cook, Will Curtis, Fred D. Dodge, Frank Eberly, Walter Escott, Frank Fowler, Albert M. Getz, Harry A. Hamilton, Jimmie (Cappie) Hayes, George Hillbrand, Alfred Hirth, George Hirth, Alpha Hitchcock, Fred Hollenbeck, George Hoshel, George Knoll, Ernest Miller, Shelley E. Miller, Ed. Morton, Jesse Norton, Will P. Norton, Gussie Perrin, Willie Perrin, Fred Perry, Adorno Powers, Johnnie Powers, Frank Raab, Ed. Roach, John Roach, George Seibert, Joe Seibert, Will Slauson, Cliff Spafford, Elmer Spafford, Wallie Thompson, Ren. Tyler, Henry Veber, Oscar Wallace, Lewis M. Webb, Harley E. West, Jimmie Westcott, and Will M. Wilkinson. Freddie West and Willie West were the "mascots" or markers for the company, and accompanied them at all drills and other occasions. They each carried a nice little blue silk pennant on which was inscribed in gold the initials, "P. C."

It is barely possible that some of the above mentioned boys were not members of the company, and if they were not, all I can say is that they should have been. They all lived in the village at about the time the Cadets were organized, and were of about the right age, and pretty husky youngsters, so if their names were not on the muster rolls it was probably their own fault.

Of all the members of the company mentioned above, only two still reside in the Burg. They are Ed. L. Blue, "ye editor" of the Journal and George Hillbrand, who on my last visit to the town was the village street commissioner. The following members of the old company have answered their last roll call, and been mustered out from all things earthly, some of them many years ago: Will R. Champney, Walter Clark, Charlie Cook, Fred D. Dodge, Frank Eberly, Walter Escott, Harry A. Hamilton, Ernest Miller, Jesse Norton, Ed. Roach, John Roach, Will Slauson, and Wallie Thompson.

The remaining boys of the company have scattered to the four points of the compass, and it would be an impossibility for me to state where they are all located, as I have had no correspondence of any kind with any of them who left the Burg since their leaving. However, I have been casually informed of where some of them are, and the line of business a few are engaged in, so here goes: Frank Baird is in Toledo, where he was politically active a few years ago; Oscar Bates, railroad man, Chicago; Hamilton Cook, livery and automobile business in Bowling Green; Frank Fowler went to Wisconsin; Al Getz was located for many years in Texas, but I have been recently informed he is now with the Western Union Telegraph Co. at Toledo; Jimmie Hayes is a railroad agent at Bucyrus, Ohio; Alpha Hitchcock, prosperous farmer at Lima City; Fred Hollenbeck is in the real estate business at Seattle, Wash.; George Hoshel is or was in Chicago; George Knoll went from here to Texas many years ago; Shelley E. Miller was connected with the large Simmons Hardware Co., of St. Louis, Mo. for many years, but I think he is now located at St. Joseph, Mo.; Fred Perry is a prosperous druggist on Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich.; Johnnie Powers has been located in Marshalltown, Iowa, for many years; George Seibert is in the harness business in Toledo; Joe Seibert is a prominent business man in Piqua, (Continued on page 8.)

RED CROSS NOTES.

It has been decided that the convalescent suits or lined pajamas described in Article 405 are to be made in factories exclusively, and chapters are requested not to make them.

About 3,000,000 surgical dressings are now being supplied each month by the American Red Cross. This is not sufficient. We need 5,000,000 a month. At this point let me say that no supplies are sold to soldiers by the Red Cross. I want to make this plain to offset reports to the contrary.—General Manager Gibson.

Red Cross nurses unfortunately are not always prettily clad, as you might imagine from the magazine covers. In Serbia the Scotch nurses worked in pajamas soaked in paraffine to keep down the vermin, shaved their heads for the same reason, and because there were no stretchers, carried their patients through the streets on their backs.—Miss Burke.

The Red Cross nurses in Serbia hadn't the sporting chances that the men in the trenches had. Once they went into an abandoned tobacco factory to nurse the men who were sitting about on the stone benches watching as much as the stupor of typhus fever would let them watch, for the men to die, so they could take their places on the mattresses on the floors.—Miss Burke.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels try Doan's Regulax, a modern laxative. 30c at all stores.

NEWS FROM THE CAMPS

Boys in Training Write Very Interesting Letters Home.

Camp Sheridan News.

(By Jay Simmons)

We are now under good headway with our intensive training, which is becoming very interesting. Batteries A and B, that were on the boarder last year, have turned over their material to our regiment. Our battery have the horses and guns twice a week, and are making a good showing for the amount of training we have had in that line. We are through with infantry drill, and most of our time is spent in signaling, practicing on the buzzer, and making good horsemen and gunners of ourselves.

Most of our regular officers are with us again, and their main object is to make us hard, which they surely are doing. That means we get two hours' daily of good stiff calisthenics, of which we could hardly stand 15 minutes at the time we enlisted. And often we get long hikes through the swamps that encircle our camp and are taken through the worst and hardest places for a man to traverse. We have heard that our intensive training has been cut down to eight weeks, which leaves us only six more, at the end of which, we hope, we will leave for over there. We want to show the people of dear old Perrysburg that we can and will do our duty, and hold up or, if possible, make better the good reputation Perrysburg has always had.

Last night the whole regiment turned out in a "shirt tail" parade after which was held a grand mock review. Everybody was dressed in underwear with a black tie running over the left shoulder, and under the right arm, and with shoes and puttees on, and a large bath towel wrapped around and pinned at the back of the head, with the ends hanging down. The sergeants acted as the high commissioned officers. There certainly was lots of good sights and fun.

There was some excitement the other day when we witnessed a real fight between Ed Schuster and another fellow of our battery. Ed did very well until the fifth round (Continued on page 8.)

An Old Man's Stomach.

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain pepsin, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.
