A DMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

"IF WE KNEW." If we knew the woe and heaft-ache; We knew the wor and heart-ache;
Westing for us down the road.
If our lips could taste the worm-wood,
If our backs could feel the load;
Would we waste to-day in wishing;
For the time that can ne'er be; Would we wait in such impatience. For our ships to come from sea?

If we knew the baby-fingers
Pressed against the window-pane,
Would be cold and still to-morrow—
Never trouble us again;
Would the bright eyes of our darling
Catch the frown upon the brow?
Would the print of rosy fingers
Vex us then as they do now?

Ah, these little ice-cold fingers,
How they point our memories back,
To the hasty words and actions Strewn along our backward track! How these little hands remind us,

As in snowy grace they lie, Not to scatter thorns—bus roses— For our reaping by-and-by! Strange we never prize the music Till the sweet-voiced bird has flown;
Strange that we should slight the violets
Till the lovely flowers are gone;
Strange that summer skies and sunshine
Never seem one-half so fair.

As when Winter's snowy pinions Shake the white down in the air Lips from which the seal of silence None but God can roll away, Never blossomed in such beauty As adorns the mouth to-day;
And sweet words that freight our memory
With their beautiful perfume,
Come to us in sweeter accents
Through the words of the tomb

Through the portals of the tomb Let us gather up the sunbcams, Lying all along our path; Let us keep the wheat and roses, Casting out the thorns and chaff; Let us find our sweetest comfort In the blessings of to-day; With the patient hand removing All the briers from our way,

A Curious Lawsuit. In 1863 an old School Presbyterian A shrill voice in the crowd went minister named Curran went to the town of wabash, Indiana. The old gentleman had long been counted as an ardent ultra Democrat; in fact a copperhead. He had refused to preach under the stars and stripes, and was generally counted disloyal. On this occasion his daughter, who was with him, went shopping in Wabash, and in a dry good store met a lady, the wife of a soldier who had just returned from Vicksburg, Mississippi. The minister's daughter wore a butternut, on her watch chain, and, getting into an altereation with the soldier's wife, told her she was a Ir is not work that kills men : it "Butternut,' and she thanked god for it, is worry.
