THE "UNLOADED" REVOLVER.

Particulars of the fatal shooting of Wm. H. Eberle, at Jacksonville, Florida—Times for Funeral Services.

The family of Wm. H. Eberle, whose death by an accidental shot, at Jacksonville, Florida, last Sunday, has been mentioned, has received a long letter from a friend of the deceased, giving full particulars of the terrible occurrence, which are as follows: The writer of the letter is Dr. F. Crabbe, of Palatka, Fla., who says his home is in Indianapolis and that he is an invalid, like his friend Eberle when he first went South. The letter states that Sunday morning last, January 25, Will attended church, and in the afternoon wrote a letter to his sister and went to the postoffice to mail it and attend to his duties as mail agent on a steamboat running to Palatka. He had forgotten something and left the office for the boat, saying he would return in a few minutes. At the boat he entered the dining room where a drunken deck hand had just been showing a revolver, offering to sell it. As Eberle came up the man approached him and said, pointing the pistol: "Here, Eberle, is the kind of a shooter you should have," at the same time snapping it and discharging the fatal bullet into Eberle's right temple. The man had, as he supposed, removed all the cartridges, but as usual missed one, which thus did its fatal work. The totemism all agree that the shooting was wholly accidental and that there was good feeling between them and deceased, who was liked by all the hands. The Sunday liquor traffic is responsible for the crime, although the unintentional perpetrator is chargeable with criminal carelessness. Eberle tried to speak once a moment after the shot, but almost instantly became unconscious and ceased to breathe in about twenty minutes. He did not suffer for a moment. As seen by Dr. Crabbe on Tuesday the remains appeared very natural, a half-mile resting about the lips. The friends of the deceased are members of the La-goda U. B. church, but will join a church in Florida. His friend speaks of him as a true child of God, whom death found ready. He was often struck by his child-like and beautiful trust in God's love and care for him. He often spoke of the wonderful ways and kindness of Providence toward him, especially since his residence in Florida. He was a young man of strong faith and daily secret prayer, never neglecting to kneel and commit himself and loved ones to his heavenly Father's care. Dr. Crabbe speaks of the true friendship existing between him and deceased as a noble, very warm-hearted and devoted Christian friend and brother, referring especially to the last night they were together. Will had saved nearly money enough to send to his father for the purchase of a horse, and anticipated the sending with pleasure. The remains, in charge of Geo. Eberle, are now on the way here, and are expected to arrive sometime to-day night or Monday morning, in which case the funeral will be Tuesday.

Miss Mamie C. Gilmore, of Kenton, left for home yesterday morning, after a very pleasant visit at Mrs. Chas. Wood's on West High street.

Council Finance Committee came to no conclusion, at their meeting Friday night, regarding the Bolan claim for some extra excavation.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Knapp are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Book walter on South Market street. Mrs. Knapp was formerly Miss India Crothers.

The bill abolishing separate colored schools, in this State, is set for consideration Thursday next in the legislature. There is good prospect of its passage.

Infirmary directors met yesterday and had plenty of business. The township trustees say January bills for relief of the poor will be much heavier than were December bills.

Belle Stuecky was run in Friday night by Officer Record for drunkenness. The Mayor arrested her conduct at the time of the arrest and yesterday morning fined her $5 and costs.

Our leading farmers are quite positive no serious damage has been done yet, this winter, to wheat in this county, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. The fruit-killer is on top yet and around numerous, however.

During the fine sleighing Friday Mr. Christie Holloway got out his big sleigh and took out a merry party consisting of Mrs. H. L. Rockfield, Mrs. Jerome Fessler, Mrs. Armin Fessler, Mrs. O. S. Kelly, Mrs. Starkey, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Van Tassel, Mrs. Rouse, Mrs. Christie Holloway, Miss Mary Cassidy, and Miss Daugherty, of Dayton.

Witnesses in the damage suits against the P. C. & St. L. Railway Co., in connection with the killing of a team of horses belonging to the Champion Coal and Ice Co., at Fair street crossing a year or more ago, have been subpoenaed for Tuesday next, when it is expected the case will come up for hearing in Common Pleas. There was no court Saturday. In Probate court an incorrigible candidate for the girls' reform school was held to be sent to that institution.

W. S. Newberry, Esq., of this city, has received an invitation from the editor of the Cleveland Gazette, colored people's paper, to write an article for his columns, giving his views as to Forsaker's candidacy for the Republican nomination as Governor. Mr. Newberry has not decided as to complying with the request. The Gazette is outspoken in opposition to Judge Forsaker's nomination again, and claims to speak for a large body of intelligent colored voters.

The members of the Woman's Benevolent Society felt obliged to make the statement to the public that, notwithstanding the generous assistance afforded them by the citizens of the town, the demands upon them have been so onerous by the suffering poor and those out of employment, that they have been obliged to suspend all aid among them for the present on account of lack of funds. This is printed at the request of the Executive Board of the Woman's Benevolent Society.

The dates fixed for the holding of the Clark County Farmers' Institute of 1885 are March 20, 21 and 22, and Hon. John Howell, committee on place of meeting, is looking around for a suitable hall. It is likely the institute will be held in G. A. R. hall, as last year, and the upper room in the court house is also talked of. The official programme is not quite complete but will be ready for publication in a few days. The points have been given, but assignments for particular sessions have yet to be made.

The Water-Works Trustees met Friday night at the office in the Arcade and passed a number of bills filed. They discussed the question of increased water supply at the reservoir, in view of the approach of the season when work can be commenced. Nothing definite was decided upon, but some new light gained on the subject and points discovered in which the plans suggested last season can be modified somewhat and still be made practical. Further attention will be given this matter in the near future. The standpipe has been re-painted a delicate red; something between a maiden's blush and a new brick pavement.

The utter recklessness of Young America while coasting lasts is really appalling. Regardless of their own safety or that of pedestrians, he takes possession of pavements and roadways on hilly streets and his peremptory cry: "git out of the road," greets any foot passenger who gets in front of him. The police wish the warning given thus publicly that arrests will be made and costers taken to the station house if they are not circumspect and if they do not keep off of the pavements. In some places it is next to impossible for a lady to pass along, such is the constant stream of sleds, each with a yelling youngster upon it. One of them, name not learned, had a leg broken Friday night while indulging in the dangerous sport on Lincoln avenue.

Ed. Garrett returned from West Liberty Friday afternoon, having left his brother Sam, cut at a ball there Thursday night, in no immediate danger, but still not able to be moved. The cutting is now said to have been done by one James Cook, a saloon-keeper at West Liberty, with whom Sam Garrett had a difficulty over a game of pool early in the evening. As stated Cook drew a revolver on Garrett when the trouble began, and would have used it but for the interference of Jack Whetzel. There was also trouble about the white men who forced their way into the hall, wanting to dance with some of the colored damsels, and one of them was knocked down by Grant Jackson. Garrett made a statement with a view to having it used against his assailant in case of his (Garrett's) death. Cook, who did the cutting, was arrested Friday by the Marshal of West Liberty, and the Mayor held him in $500 bonds for examination on charge of cutting with intent to kill, Cook's father going on his bond. Frank Miller, another of the white men, was arrested for carrying concealed weapons, and on his plea of guilty was fined $13.60.

There was no quorum Friday in the meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps, G. A. R., and consequently the reception of new members was deferred until the regular meeting next Friday, when reports will be presented from the Akron meeting. At that meeting Mrs. Kate Putnam, delegate from Mitchell Corps, was elected one of the representatives from Ohio to the National Convention of the W. B. C., in Portland next summer, and Mrs. Delo, of No. 32, was elected State Inspector, an important and responsible position. Newly-elected officers of the Department Encampment and Relief Corps were installed before final adjournment at Akron yesterday. The banner described Friday was presented through, not by Commander Lloyd. The Department Encampment paid for it.

One enthusiastic and hopeful First-ward Democrat says to his friends: "Just wait till after the foot of Mar-c'h, when Cleveland comes in, and this whole year apron. Bedad he'll dale it out by the bucketful till yez all. What a fall will be there, me countrymen!"

The funeral services of Mrs. Prince, mother of Mrs. Dr. Webb, will be attended on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the house, corner of High and Spring streets. These services will be brief and conducted by Rev. Dr. Falconer.

The electric light company is removing the low poles erected for the new line of wire on North and Columbia street and replacing them with others of regulation height, as required by Council.

Capt. L. A. P. Folthert, of Camden, O., accompanied by Miss Cora Arbogast, of Springfield, O., made a flying visit to his sister, Mrs. Carson, of Yellow Springs, O., on the evening of the 29th inst.

Mrs. Charlotte Kenney, 50 West Jefferson, fell on the pavement Saturday morning and broke her hip and either broke or dislocated two ribs. At her age (about 75) the injury is that place.

Mr. A. H. Griffith, of this city, was at Bellbrook, Greene county, on Tuesday, and will probably receive the contract for furnishing the stage decorations for the new hall in that place.
