THE SPRINGFIELD GLOBE-PUBLIC
Volume XX, Number 261.

OWEN, PIXLEY & CO.

Ohio Valley and Tennessee: Slightly warmer, fair weather today, followed on Sunday morning by rain or snow, or partly cloudy weather; variable winds.

Will you go with us to our Factory at Utica, N. Y.? We are there in twenty hours. We enter at No. 3 John street and ascend one flight of stairs.

Here we are in a large double room, probably 250 feet square.

This separate apartment at the north-west corner is our office, where books are kept and business in general is transacted.

Directly opposite, or the south-west corner office, is occupied by our buyer, Mr. John Owen, who there attends to the selections and buying of all materials used in the Manufacture of Clothing, Cloths, Casimires, Linings, Buttons, Sewings, &c.

Between, and in the rear of these finely arranged offices, are our sales rooms, where the bulk of our finished products are stored, awaiting shipping orders from our various Branch Houses, or to be sold to retail dealers throughout the country.

Separated by shelves and tables to facilitate selections and shipment, are the Men's Wear from the Youths—as are also the Boys' from the Children's.

We take the elevator and rise to the next floor, which is of equal dimensions, but partitioned through the center for convenience. This half—125x125, or thereabouts—is used exclusively as a Custom Department, where all orders from our branches for Suits, Pants, Overcoats, &c., to measure, are received, and the garments cut and made in the height of fashion, by the best of skilled workmen money will hire, in from 8 to 10 days from receipt of measurement, and expressed to their proper places, while you wait.

Here on the right and through the center of this large room, you find case upon case, and stacks and stacks of fine Casimires, Twillings, &c., in readiness for orders.

Beyond the partition, the other room of equal size, is devoted to marking and cutting. Here you see an army (so to speak) of expert, busy with tape, chalk and patterns, measuring and marking bolt after bolt of cloth, preparatory to being cut into garments by the steam cutting machine.

By the way, this steam cutter is among the great labor-saving inventions of the age, and does more toward cheapening clothing than any other one machine known.

In capacity being from fifteen to twenty garments at one cutting. Strange as it may seem to those unacquainted with its workings, it is operated by a single man.

In the rear of this room is our cloth sponging and button hole department. Here are seven peculiarly constructed machines for working button holes.

Whereby a better worked button hole is made than is possible to be made by hand, at the rate of two a minute.

Here are the sponging vats and rollers, where every yard of cloth used, is first examined, then put through the sponging process and afterwards run through the steam drying rollers, when it is ready for the markers.

Take the elevator again to the next floor above. This floor, divided as below, is used in part for our season stock and the cutting and making of overalls, jumpers, working shirts, &c.

We will now proceed to the top floor.

This whole floor is used exclusively for Furnishing Goods, Hats, and Traveling Bags. Here in bewildering assortment may be seen everything in the line of Handkerchiefs, Handkerchiefs, Collars, Cuffs, Neckwear, Dress Shirts, Flannel Shirts, Underwear, Gloves and Mittens, Rubber Garments, Hosiery, Hats, Caps, Boys' Satchels, &c., all of which are Retailed at Wholesale Prices, in keeping with our enormous clothing stocks throughout the West.

Wanted for Murder and Robbery.
The postoffice at Huntington, Ind., was robbed about ten days ago, and in a fight with the thieves the city marshal was shot and wounded and one of the burglars, named Newcomb, was shot dead by another, named "Shamus" O'Brien. The gang have all been captured, excepting O'Brien, for whom a reward is offered. The Urbana Citizen of Friday says of him:

Shamus O'Brien is one of the most daring men on the road, and although only about twenty-three years of age, has made a bad record. He was sent to the penitentiary from Springfield when but sixteen years of age, for knocking a man down on the public streets in day light, and robbing him. He received eighteen months sentence for it. He was only out a short time until he was arrested here for highway robbery, and was again sent to the penitentiary for three years and a half. His term expired only a year ago. Besides the two terms in the penitentiary he has had a number of jail sentences for petty offences. He now says that he has been over the road twice and before he will go again he will die. He is heavily armed and is not slow to use arms, when necessary. Recently, the man he accidentally shot, was arrested here once for horse stealing and taken to Dayton, where he was a member of the famous Blackburn gang and was sent to the penitentiary.

Caboose Burned.
The fire department had the first run this month at about 6:30 yesterday morning, on call from Box 27, at East and Pleasant streets. The fire proved to be in Ohio Southern freight caboose, No. 101, standing on the Champion works switch, between East and York streets, at the head of Central avenue. The roof and sides were burned partly off, but the lower part of the car was saved by quick work of the firemen, although the car was in a bright blaze when discovered by people living in the vicinity. Those in charge at the round house say that the caboose came in yesterday and had been standing on the siding all night without any fire in it, as far as they knew, and the supposition is a lot of tramps who were hanging around spent the night in the car, and either intentionally or accidentally, set it on fire. The loss is estimated at $75 to $100. There was nothing of any particular value in the car.

The Indian Reservations, Appropriations, etc.

WASHINGTON, February 14.—SENATE DAY: At one o'clock matter over till Monday, Lapham still having the floor. The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up. The Senate committee amendments, having been agreed to, some discussion arose as to the proposed amendment by the committee which would strike out the clause of the House bill involving general legislation. The special clause, on which point was raised, was one authorizing the secretary of the treasury to extend the time of the payment of lands forming part of the Omaha reservation, authorized by the act of August 22 to be sold. At the close of the discussion Dawes consented in getting the Senate to agree to the committee amendment striking out the legislative item indicated. The reading of the bill then proceeded.

Tramps Wreck a Train.
LAWRENCE, Kansas, February 14.—There was an attempt made yesterday by three tramps to wreck the east-bound Santa Fe passenger train. The party boarded the train at Topeka and refused to pay fare. As there were no stops between Topeka and Lawrence, the conductor did not attempt to put them off, but waited until the train arrived here, when he locked the doors of the car and demanded their fares or threatened to have them arrested. Opening a window they escaped and walking down the track broke a lock on the switch and turned it. The engine was derailed but the rest of the train was saved by the slow speed at which the train was moving. As it was a few minutes to the engineer and fireman was all the personal damage done. The wreck was cleared so that trains were moving by noon. Two of the parties have been captured and the third has been traced to Leavenworth, Kansas.

More Threats.
LONDON, February 14.—The authorities have again received letters containing warnings that St. Paul's Cathedral and the Bank of England will be attacked with dynamite. Detectives Rocher and Wilson, two of the government's principal witnesses against Cunningham and Burton, are annoyed by the frequent reception of threats against their lives. Recently, these threats have been written on paper stamped with skull and cross bones and apparently issued by some murderous organization. Detective Rocher received a letter advising him to order his coffin and assuring him that he would meet his fate before next Saturday.

That October Election.
WASHINGTON, February 14.—Clark, Commissioner of Pensions, was before the committee on payment of pensions, bounty and back pay, today, and testified that while he was acting commissioner, during October last, Ratsbach and Jacobs, special pension examiners, were absent from their work at Columbus, Ohio, without his knowledge or permission; that they had no right to leave their work without his permission. He said, further, that those special examiners were acting under orders from Colonel Dudley, who was then at Columbus, Ohio.

Grateful Relief for Ireland.
DUBLIN, February 14.—The London correspondent of the Dublin Freeman's Journal states that the government has decided to reduce the present system of judiciary in Ireland. The bill for this purpose, the correspondent says, is already drafted. Among the changes which the measure will introduce will be a considerable reduction in number of the Irish judges and in the number of officials comprising judicial staffs.

Examination of Short.
NEW YORK, February 14.—The court decided that the examination must be confined to the evidence in the defense. Phelan, on cross-examination, said: "I came to New York last January for two purposes—one to visit my sister, Mrs. Levi, at Northampton, Mass., and to explain to certain persons the article in the Kansas City Journal. I had a talk with Keenan about the article, about my purpose in coming here."

Threatening Letters.
LONDON, February 14.—The police and other witnesses for the crown in the case of James G. Cunningham, alleged dynamiter, charged with high treason loyalty, in causing the recent explosion in the Tower, have received letters threatening them with death if they persist in giving damaging testimony against the prisoner.

Ice in the Muskingum.
CINCINNATI, February 14.—The Times-Star's Zanesville, Ohio, special says: The Muskingum river is gorged from here to McConnellsville, thirty miles. The mills here have been stopped by back-water. Travel on the roads along the river bank is suspended by overflowing ice.

A Colony Heard From.
LONDON, February 14.—The governor of Victoria has cabled the Home government, tendering to the Queen assurance that the colony of Victoria is ready to do its part as an integral portion of her majesty's Empire to assert the power of England in Egypt.

No Blockade.
CINCINNATI, Ohio, February 14.—Trains on the Ohio and Mississippi rail road have been and are now running regularly on schedule time. There has been no snow blockade on the line.

Assassination.
DUBLIN, February 14.—Peter Kelly, formerly living near the town Mote, in county Westmeath, was found dead near his house this morning, his skull battered, and the place where the body was found showed signs of a fierce struggle.

Ferocious the Chinese.
VICTORIA, B. C., February 14.—The anti Chinese immigration bill, with very stringent provision, is on its way through the legislature. A similar bill, passed by parliament, last year, was rejected by the Ottawa government.

Colored Troops for Egypt.
COLLINGSWOOD, Ont., February 14.—The mayor of this town has volunteered to raise a colored regiment for active service in the Sudan.

Snow in Virginia.
LYNCHBURG, Va., February 14.—It has been snowing for two days, with slight intermissions. It is now falling lively, and is likely to be the deepest snow for many years.

DOINGS IN SOCIETY.

PICKED UP BY THE SUNDAY GLOBE'S SOCIETY REPORTER.

The Aesthetic Craze is Not Dead.—The Teagarden Reception.—Other Receptions and Tea Parties.—Society Personals.—Other Notes of Interest to Society People.

The aesthetic craze was but short-lived. Its tidal wave swept "over land from sea to sea," and receded rapidly. But, it left in its wake the debris of many tasteful ideas; many hints of comfort and beauty which, acted upon by the ready wit and strong acquisition facilities of our American house-mothers, have brought forth excellent results. It is well that it surged in upon us even if the source of its rise was in a whirlpool of extravaganzas, for it has educated the incipient artist of every home-circle, and given a curvilinear turn to the stiff, rectangular usage of the old-time furnishings.

Never in the history of our country has there been a time when beauty of surrounding was so imperative, and its need was the precursor of so much artistic effort.

The modern screen is an aesthetic exercise, but one which cannot well be lopped off. The home-maker wonders what she used to do without its graceful break lines. It alters perspectives, creates alcoves, builds up corridors and throws out angles. It is not only "a thing of beauty" with its panels glowing flowers and rubes, but it is an article of utility, henceforth to be incorporated in the very body of household indispensables.

The harp screen, with three panels; the smaller end of each struck off, and each panel decreasing in size; the whole shaped like "the bay which once through Tara's halls" is occasionally making its appearance in the drawing-room. Its effect, however, is not so charming as that of our older friend, and its existence will not be so continuous.

It always amuses the "gallery gods" when Hamlet, in the interview with his mother, aroused by a noise behind "the arras," cries out: "How, now? A rat!" and makes a pass through the scenery, killing Polonius. It is all the funnier because the scenery usually represents the solid wall, and leaves the god wondering why it is called "the arras." It is now permissible to hang the flat walls of drawing-rooms with curtains much in the style of the old-fashioned arras, which were intended portiers, draping panels and concealing recesses.

We have lately seen a representation of a sixteenth century sitting-room, which in nearly all its appointments might be taken for one of today. This history repeats it self.

The reason why it is correct in society parlance to speak of a dinner or reception as "pretty" or "chance" is because it is judged almost altogether by its effect from an artistic standpoint.

Mrs. Thurza Teagarden's handsome reception on Thursday evening in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Campbell, of San Francisco, was the social event par excellence of the past week, which has been replete with luncheons and very pretty tea parties. The pleasant, roomy and centrally located residence was well filled with handsomely dressed ladies and gentlemen in evening attire, and the sweet music of Bigio's harpe floated through the vista of the rooms.

Supper was served at seven o'clock by the incomparable Mrs. Emily Thomas and her efficient corps of waiters. The tables, tastefully garnished and occupying two rooms, presented a charming aspect to the bon-vivants present who enjoyed the finest collation of the present season. The jellies of rare and fanciful kinds, and the ices in various forms of fruits and flowers, in natural tints, were especially appreciated. There were noticed among those present: Dr. and Mrs. Falconer, and Mrs. T. F. McGrew, J. H. Thomas, Chas. Ludlow, Frank McGrew, P. P. Mast, Theobald, A. C. Black, W. M. Black, George Arthur, John Shipman, Geo. Hance, Burr Wright, Wm. Grant, Dr. and Mrs. Smith, Col. and Mrs. Kilpatrick, Mrs. Rachel Baldwin, Mrs. Edwin Dooley, Mrs. F. M. Bookwalter, Mrs. Geo. Spence, and Mrs. Wm. H. Cummins. Mrs. Teagarden received in black silk velvet with diamonds. Mrs. Thurza Campbell's stately beauty appeared to advantage in an elaborate gown of champagne silk. Mrs. Frank McGrew wore flame color and cream brocade satin and diamonds; Mrs. J. H. Thomas, pearly velvet in train with diamonds; Mrs. P. P. Mast, black silk velvet and diamonds; Mrs. Theobald, hunter's green velvet; Mrs. Dr. Falconer, dead-leaf brown silk and velvet; Mrs. George Arthur, black velvet and diamonds; Mrs. W. H. Cummins, brocade black satin, with garnitures of rich lace; Mrs. Col. Kilpatrick wore a handsome Parisian gown of velvet with rare lace; Mrs. F. M. Bookwalter's costume of black brocade satin was worn with Brussels lace; Mrs. Burr Wright was charming in cardinal satin with black lace overdress.

Mrs. Campbell, with her two children, Alfred and Myra, will remain in Springfield until the middle of March, at which time they return to their beautiful home in San Francisco.

Cards were issued yesterday which read: Mrs. John H. Thomas, Miss Thomas' Reception, Tuesday afternoon, February 17th, from three to six o'clock, 329 East High street.

Miss Thomas had but recently returned from an extended visit with friends in Memphis.

Mrs. T. F. McGrew, on Tuesday evening gave a tea party to about fifteen ladies. Tea was served at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Theobald's luncheon, at one o'clock last Wednesday afternoon, was attended by about sixteen of her social friends. The course bouquets of carnations and rose buds tied with white ribbons, were very tasteful and dainty.

Mrs. A. C. Black was at home to a few friends Friday evening.

Mrs. Dr. Smith of W. High street gives a High Tea during the coming week.

Mrs. George Spence extended the courtesies of a tea party at her lovely suburban home at tea evening. Covers were laid for twenty.

Lagonda Notes.

All the workmen of Lagonda take and read the Springfield Sunday Globe-Republic.

Brother Newton Turner, of Lone Star Lodge, I. O. O. F., is on the sick list.

Mr. C. W. Morrison looks about a foot taller since last Sunday. It's a nine-pound boy.

Mr. Jacob Hofman has taken the agency for this county for the German electro-galvanic belt, manufactured in Berlin.

There was a select dance given at Loth-scheuts hall last Wednesday evening, by the same parties who gave the social hop, in this vicinity, a few nights ago.

Miss Rita Oreters, of the city, was a guest of Miss Belle Funk, Sunday last.

Mr. David Funk and Mrs. M. Thrasher were in Xenia, Tuesday last, making arrangements for the admission of four of Mrs. Thrasher's children to the Soldiers' Orphan Home.

Mr. Howard Larrie removed his family from the city, to this place, Tuesday last.

Mr. Frank Mickle starts for Nebraska in a few weeks, to go up with the country.

Mr. Rei Rathbun and Mr. McCoy, of Vienna, were in our village, Monday last.

Mr. Ed. Furniss is again at work after being laid up several days with a sprained shoulder.

The protracted meeting is still in progress in our church, there were six accessions Sunday last.

Our people say the street-car line is just immense, but it would be a great deal nicer if there was a waiting-room at the other end of the line, where they could sit and wait for the cars, instead of standing out in the cold.

Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, of the city, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Derrickson, Sunday last.

Miss Carrie Haus, of Moorfield, was a guest of Miss Alice Fox, Sunday last.

Mr. N. M. Leatherman, of the city, was shaking hands with his many friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Albert Young was on the sick list the past week.

One of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Kerstner's children is quite sick with lung fever.

Back Creek Tribe of Red Men will confer the Warriors' degree Tuesday evening next. All red-skins are requested to be present.

Rev. S. W. McCorkle and J. M. Berger were in Bowlsville Friday, making arrangements to start a series of revival meetings there, with a view of starting a mission in that vicinity. Preaching elder, Rev. J. W. Killbourn, will conduct the meetings which are to begin the 23rd inst.

Several of the workmen here had their ears badly frozen Tuesday evening in going home from the shops.

Rev. Geo. K. Little, the boy evangelist, who carried on such a successful revival in this place last winter, will arrive January 27th, 1895, to Miss Annie C. Bittinger, at the residence of the brides parents, at Lisbon, Iowa. Bro. Little has been a very successful evangelist for several years, and we understand that this young wife is a very devoted Christian, a sweet singer, and takes a decided interest in the meetings conducted by her husband.

A protest to the proposed annexation of school district No. 13 to the city, signed by all the residents of the district outside of the city limits, was filed with the county auditor Tuesday last. The county commissioners will take action on the case at their meeting in March, in time to let the residents here have a vote for the election of a member of the school board, in April. We are glad that the residents outside the city limits have the pluck to enter a protest, for should the city propose to keep the house here only for a primary department, then there would be quite a number of children who would have two or three miles to go to attend school, that is should the city build a school house near the rail road crossing, on Lagonda avenue. Springfield township school board were aware of this before they proposed to dissolve this district, but they seemed so anxious to get rid of the district, they did not care what became of it after they got it off their hands. We say to those entering the protest to kick hard.

The members of Fidelity Lodge, Daughters of Rebecca, will have work to do before long, as several of our fair maidens are talking of taking the degree.

Last Sunday morning while the good people of Lagonda were on their way to church, a terrible racket was heard at Bennett's saloon. Upon inquiring the cause, it seemed the proprietor of mixed drinks was trying to persuade his better half to arise and get his lordship something to eat, she not responding as quickly as he wished her to; hence the racket and call for the patrol wagon.

Mrs. J. M. Derrickson is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Smith are both sick. Mr. Chas. Holden goes to Cincinnati this week on business.

Blink News.

A fair sized crowd was in attendance at the gentlemen's contest, last Tuesday, and eighteen gentlemen contested for the prize skates. As usual, a vote of the audience was taken, which resulted in giving the prize to Master Burrus Deffenbach. It was conceded by all that the young man won fairly, but more or less blame was given the managers for the rink for allowing one so young to participate.

A long-looked-for and much-talked-of attraction is booked for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, the 17th and 18th, in the way of the famous Midgits, of Providence, R. J. They are Ethel and Edna Taber, five and seven years of age, and are the smallest skaters in the world. They give an exhibition of single and double fancy skating that is wonderful for their age, and are greeted
