

CITY MATTERS.

Mr. Hall, brother of Dr. Hall, is in the city. J. W. Webb, of the C. M. & St. P., is in the city. C. L. Hillery, lost car agent for the I. R. & W., is in town. C. C. Kirkpatrick departed today for Chattanooga, Tenn. W. H. Van Tassel has returned from a trip over the O. S. with the pay-car. F. J. Maybury, traveling passenger agent of the G. R. & I., is in the city. J. W. Pickering, traveling passenger agent of the Central Iowa, is stopping here. J. A. Barker, traveling auditor of the I. R. & W., honors Springfield with his presence. Mrs. Fannie Watkins, of Columbus, nee Pretzman, is visiting her parents at 74 West High street. Council meets at seven o'clock this evening. The new Council will be called to order at 7:30. Dr. Welsh and wife returned today at 3 a. m. from their visit to Lancaster. They spent yesterday in Columbus. William D. Mulford, who recently sold his residence on Linden avenue, has bought property at Lebanon, where he will shortly remove. A certificate of incorporation was issued by the Secretary of State at Columbus yesterday to the Shaw Hill Union Sunday School Association of Clark county. A coat worth $10 or $12 was stolen last evening from a "dummy" outside L. Stern's clothing store on West Main street. The man inside was no dummy when he discovered his loss. Representative Littler introduced a bill in the house at Columbus yesterday to authorize the city of Springfield to appropriate a portion of the $150,000 raised by sale of bonds of the city, under former act of the legislature for market house purposes, for purchase of a site for the proposed building. A team of mules belonging to Funk & Minahan, the contractors, ran away on West Main street this morning, with a hay rack loaded with empty barrels, which were scattered at intervals of a dozen feet or more for a long distance. The appearance was as though the celebrated "Battle of the Kegs" had been fought out on this ground. No particular harm was done. No hope for Constantine after all. The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer telegraphs: "Mr. Malcolm Hay, the First Assistant Postmaster General, is now in the South for the benefit of his health. His duties are performed by Mr. E. C. Fowler, of that office, and the Postmaster General has no intention of designating any one to take the office, as he has been reported. Mr. Hay is expected to return soon and enter upon his duties." Last night, Marshall Edwards, a young colored man, was arrested at the saloon, corner of Fair and Miami streets. Marshall was arrested for a cutting scene which happened last Saturday night, when he and two other gentlemen, of the names of Davis and Ross, got into an altercation which ended in several severe wounds on all sides. Ross was arrested yesterday, and at once filed an affidavit against Edwards, who was patrol-wagoned in to jail for cutting with intent to kill. Mr. Constantine held Mayor's court at nine o'clock this forenoon, passing sentence in one case. None of the others held under his sentences since Friday have been released, nor will they be, probably. Officer Wilson filed a new affidavit upon Farrow, arrested by him for burglary, and served warrant upon him to appear before Mayor Goodwin, so that he cannot escape. The query is now made what will be the probable effect of these proceedings upon the Mayor's and Marshall's bills, now pending in the Legislature, and it would surprise nobody to see them both pass. The wife of officer James Norton died about midnight at the family residence on Spring street, south of Main. Funeral services (high mass) will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Raphael's church. Mrs Norton was prostrated early in January with malarial fever, and also afflicted with some form of heart trouble. It was for a time thought recovery was possible, but early last evening there was a relapse with the result stated. Thomas Norton, of the Factory street engine house, was called home and the family were all at the bedside of the wife and mothered the last. They have the sympathy of numerous friends in this great bereavement. The Salvation Army. Captain West and his assistants had a large and orderly audience at the Lotzschuck Hall last night. Captain Demerit, a "Hallelujah Lass," was present from Cleveland and spoke very effectively. One person professed to be saved. Captain Whitmore, with his cornet, and the "Saved Minstrel" with his band, will be here Saturday. Meetings are to be held at the hall every evening. Transfers of Real Estate. J. C. Amable De Groot to Leon H. Houston, quit-claim to 25 acres of land in Harmony township $300. Charles T. Johnston to James W. Johnston, two lots in Zion: $1,000. W. B. Baker, Sheriff, to John J. Shaw, lot on Taylor street: $1,500. Matthew Black to Giles T. Thompson, 166 acres of land in Pike township: $5,742. W. E. Woodard to Sarah A. Kockel, lot in Tremont City: $700. Hazel Kirke Tonight. There was never a play that met with more sincere and hearty sympathy than "Hazel Kirke," nor one more pure and elevating in tone. The Helen Desmond company will present this delightful drama at Black's Opera House this evening, with Miss Desmond as Hazel. The company is really an excellent one, and those who may hesitate to patronize it because of the low prices of admission will find that there are few better organizations on the road. They presented the "Two Orphans" last night with more artistic form and effect than was ever before known in Springfield. It is conceded by Dealers at Cigarettes and about the Richmond Straight Cut Cigarettes are the best.

ALFRED TENNYSON,

The British poet-laureate, can take a worthless sheet of paper, and writing a poem on it can make it worth $10,000. THAT'S GENIUS. The United States can take an ounce and a quarter of gold, stamp on it an "eagle" and make it worth $20. THAT'S MONEY.

Vanderbilt, with a few strokes of the pen, can transform a scrap of paper into a check worth $5,000,000. THAT'S CAPITAL. The skilled mechanic, with raw material worth $5, can manufacture a watch valued at $100. THAT'S SKILL.

And Rouse & Parsons, 26 South Market Street, can sell you shoes of medium and low price, no shoddy, in all the leading styles for Ladies, Men, Boys, Misses and Children at lower figures, quality considered, than any other shoe dealers in the city. THAT'S BUSINESS.

LOW PRICE BUT NOT LOW GRADE. SHOES! CHEAP For the Money. NOT SHODDY.

TOO PREVIOUS.

Interesting Habeas Corpus Proceedings— It is Mayor Goodwin's Today. Proceedings for release from the station house of a colored boy named Walter Oglebie, on writ of habeas corpus were instituted yesterday by George C. Rawlins, Esq., and the prisoner was before Judge Miller in Probate Court in the afternoon. He was arrested on charge of disorderly conduct and sentenced by Mayor Constantine. The grounds of application were that Mr. Constantine had no jurisdiction and no authority to pronounce sentence, in case not being at the time of sentencing the case Mayor of Springfield, his successor, Mr. Goodwin, having then been elected and qualified. Judge Miller, upon a full hearing, dismissed the petition, and recommended the prisoner. It was for him to decide whether there was legal authority for detaining the accused in custody and he found there was. The objection to the manner of sentence was purely technical. Mr. Constantine, under his obligation, was Mayor until his successor was elected and qualified, but how was he to become aware of that until legally and formally notified, which he had not been. About fifteen prisoners were held in the station house under the same sort of sentence as Oglebie and to release him on this technical objection would be to cause a general jail delivery. The interests of justice forbade this. Upon investigation it proved that the official oath taken by Mr. Goodwin obligated him to "faithfully and truly" perform the duties of his position, while the formula fixed by law reads: "Faithfully, honestly and impartially." It was therefore a question if the qualification was, in a strict sense, legal.

A Change of Base. Nothing daunted by the result of the Oglebie case, Mr. Rawlins this morning instituted proceedings this time in Common Pleas court for the release of the tramp, Lavan, also sentenced by Constantine, setting up the same claims as in the other case. Lavan was brought before Judge Goode and the hearing lasted for an hour or more, resulting in the discharge of the prisoner. The Court held that the objection to the form in which Mr. Goodwin took the oath of office was purely technical, as the words used covered the same ground, substantially, as those prescribed in the law, and that his qualification was legal. He held further that the requirements of legal election, taking the oath, filing and proper approval of official bond, having been complied with, Mr. Goodwin was in law and in fact from that time Mayor of the city, and should act as such, unless in case of absence or disability the property constituted and designated substitute served in his place. That Mr. Constantine had acted without any authority at all in assuming to be Mayor, and all his transactions as such, since Goodwin's qualification was perfected, were void. As Lavan left the court-room he was re-arrested by officer Wilson, but before they had reached the court-house corner the Court sent out word that the arrest could not be made on the same charge. Wilson returned to inquire about the matter, and the late prisoner made the best use of his legs up the street and was out of sight in a jiffy.

Rawlins was counsel for Oglebie in the hearing before Constantine and claims that he was treated very cavalierly by the latter in his attempt to be heard, Constantine declaring testily he "would have no circus here." Rawlins brought the habeas corpus proceedings to test Constantine's authority, therupon. So it is settled that Mr. Goodwin and not Mr. Constantine has been Mayor of the city since last Friday evening.

Accident at Evans & Foss's Manufacturing Company.

An accident which will be attended with serious and, not improbably, fatal results, occurred at the Evans & Foss Manufacturing Company about twelve o'clock today. About that hour a large grindstone at which J. P. Arnold, of Kelly avenue, was grinding, burst into three pieces, one of which struck Mr. Arnold, bruising his head severely and almost severing one ear from the head. The patrol wagon took him to his home and Dr. Dunlap were summoned to attend the unfortunate man. Up to the time of writing he had not regained consciousness and it is impossible to tell whether he is injured internally or not. The fragment which struck Mr. Arnold weighs nearly two tons, and it goes without saying that, if he had been standing squarely in front of it, he would have been killed instantly. From the appearance of the wounds he must have been standing a little to one side, and the stone merely grazed his head. It is impossible to state just how it happened, however, as no one was in the shed at the time except himself. The engineer was the first to hear the report, and on rushing to the spot found Mr. Arnold on the ground with pieces of boards lying around him, while the two tons weight of stone had been thrown clear through the side of the building.

Signaling General Grant's Death.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says: In case of the death of General Grant a given signal is to be sent from the fire-alarm box in General Grant's house to the engine house in Sixty-seventh street, and a general signal sent out. The fire bells, which are never rung in New York, will then be sounded thirteen taps. A similar signal announcing the event will be given in Philadelphia. If the sad news comes to the Globe Republic at a time when it is practicable to notify the fire department, it will be sent to the Central engine house at once and the firemen may sound the thirteen taps here if it is thought proper.

MONEY WANTED!

I must convert a large lot of surplus stock into cash within the next twenty days, and there will be such a slaughter of QUEENSWARE, GLASSWARE, LAMPS, ETC.,

At my new store as was never before known in the city. T. J. MONAHAN, 44 SOUTH MARKET ST.

El Medhi's Right Hand.

One night of May, eleven years ago, in a dingy back room of an old brick house in Wooster street, I met a young Frenchman who even then had played a part which had doubtless prepared him for the extraordinary adventure in which he is now engaged. He was amid a group of his friends, and just reached the city as a refugee. He had been an actor in the Paris revolt of March, 1871; he had escaped the massacre that followed the suppression of the commune; he had afterward been arrested and condemned to death; his punishment had been changed to that of banishment to the penal colony of New Caledonia, in the Pacific; he had then, with a few companions, got up a daring plan of escape, that had carried out that plan amid dangers as great as ever were encountered, and in May of 1874 the little party of fugitives had arrived in San Francisco, from where Mr. Olivier Pain hastened to New York, where he spent a few days prior to his departure for England as a place of safety.

When here he looked about 30 years of age, and was tall, lithe and handsome, possessed of both the vivacity and the gravity of an experienced workman of Paris. He had done duty on the press as an assistant of the editor, he had done service in the field during the Franco-German war; and subsequently during the revolt of Paris; he had suffered the hardships of French convict life, and was then in full flight from one kind of peril to another; but, withal, he demoted himself as though his life was not yet been tested and when charged with offenses, all their rights and public trial and all legal defenses.

No other information of the citizenship of the Frenchman was given, and the only fact contained in your communication, which I received in this Department. Due inquiry will be made and the proper steps taken. I am, sir, your obedient servant. T. J. MONAHAN. Accident on the New York City Elevated Railway. NEW YORK, April 14.—At a few minutes after nine o'clock yesterday morning, three trains on the Third Avenue line were proceeding on the way down town. They were very close together and packed with passengers, many of them being merchants and brokers. The first train pulled up at Hanover Street station and signaled train No. 100, right behind it. Train No. 100 stopped and signaled No. 204, but the latter was only fifteen feet away and could not stop. The engine crashed into the rear car of No. 100, tearing the wood work to pieces. The steam pipe burst, creating the wildest excitement among the passengers, some of whom climbed out of the windows and ran to the street below. Women fainted and the utmost confusion prevailed. The street below was filled with debris. The body of Fireman Charles McArthur was found in the engine, held fast by the wreck. Both were broken, and he was injured internally. He will die. A relief train soon came and took the passengers off. Mr. Pain had a varied experience after leaving New York. He went to London, and next to Geneva, where he was concerned in several newspaper ventures. When the Russo-Turkish war broke out he entered the Turkish service, was captured by the Russians, and condemned to death as a spy, but the sentence was commuted to imprisonment and he got out of prison in time to return to France and to Parisian journalism under the amnesty of 1880. It was as a correspondent that he penetrated to the camp of El Medhi, where his knowledge of the art of war brought him to the front. The English papers have given notice that he will be hanged as soon as Lord Wolsey gets hold of him.—John Swinton's Paper.

The writer par excellence of war ballads was Henry Clay Work, who died in June, 1884. To enumerate and comment on his pieces only would make an ordinary newspaper article. The title alone would cover those that are not most familiar, i. e.: After naming "Marching Through Georgia," "Kingdom Coming," "Babylon Is Fallen" and "Wake, Nicodemus," let the reader propose to himself from other equally popular pieces during the war. Work himself wrote besides "Corporal Schnapps," "Brave Boys Are They," "Little Major," "Song of a Thousand Years," "Our Last Grand Camping Ground," and many others less known. Of all these "Marching Through Georgia" stands without a peer. It is the only one that has stood the test of years, and it is as readily recognized to-day as "Yankee Doodle." More than 400,000 copies of the song were sold by the publishers. It has been sung in every state in the Union. No Grand Army camp-fire is only opened till the boys have fairly raised the roof with its resounding melody. I once saw General Sherman himself attempt to sing the words with over 4,000 school children gathered to do him honor; but the magnitude of the scene, the impressiveness of the children's reverent overflow of him; his voice faltered, and with reddened eyes he passed through the crowded lines, grasping as many as he could of the eagerly outstretched hands.

Saved from a Horrible Death. NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 14.—John Waugh, ex-Mayor of this place, who has been falling in health of late, walked out on the railroad suspension bridge Sunday afternoon, climbed over the railing, and hung from one of the girders underneath the bridge, 100 feet above the rocks, near the water's edge. Some friends saw him climb over, and ran out on the bridge, expecting to see his body dash into the pieces on the rocks below, but the man retained his act, and held on for dear life, calling for help. Soon three young men ran to his aid, and by bracing themselves with their legs and leaning over the side of the bridge, to the danger of their own lives, rescued Waugh from his perilous position. Mr. Waugh has for sometime past shown symptoms of insanity, caused by over exertion in political life.

Important Suit Decided. WASHINGTON, April 14.—A decision was rendered in the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of the State of Pennsylvania against the City of New York, in which it was decided that the State of Pennsylvania cannot tax the Ferry Company. The State of Pennsylvania claimed the right to tax the New Jersey corporation because of their owning a slip in the city of Philadelphia and landing their passengers there. The court in its decision holds that if this principle prevailed, every vessel carrying passengers and touching at points in various States would be taxed by the States in which the passengers were landed.

Negro Raped Lynched. NEW ORLEANS, La., April 14.—A negro tramp assaulted Miss Sarah Thompson, of Thompson County, Miss., on Thursday night. The tramp escaped, but was captured on Sunday in Colbert, Ala. He resisted arrest, and was not captured until brought down by shots from the Sheriff. He was taken to Lusk, Miss., and lodged in a jail where a mob overcame the Sheriff, forced their way into the jail, took the negro out and lynched him.

T. J. MONAHAN.

MONEY WANTED!

I must convert a large lot of surplus stock into cash within the next twenty days, and there will be such a slaughter of QUEENSWARE, GLASSWARE, LAMPS, ETC.,

At my new store as was never before known in the city. T. J. MONAHAN, 44 SOUTH MARKET ST.

EL MEDHI'S RIGHT HAND.

One night of May, eleven years ago, in a dingy back room of an old brick house in Wooster street, I met a young Frenchman who even then had played a part which had doubtless prepared him for the extraordinary adventure in which he is now engaged. He was amid a group of his friends, and just reached the city as a refugee. He had been an actor in the Paris revolt of March, 1871; he had escaped the massacre that followed the suppression of the commune; he had afterward been arrested and condemned to death; his punishment had been changed to that of banishment to the penal colony of New Caledonia, in the Pacific; he had then, with a few companions, got up a daring plan of escape, that had carried out that plan amid dangers as great as ever were encountered, and in May of 1874 the little party of fugitives had arrived in San Francisco, from where Mr. Olivier Pain hastened to New York, where he spent a few days prior to his departure for England as a place of safety.

When here he looked about 30 years of age, and was tall, lithe and handsome, possessed of both the vivacity and the gravity of an experienced workman of Paris. He had done duty on the press as an assistant of the editor, he had done service in the field during the Franco-German war; and subsequently during the revolt of Paris; he had suffered the hardships of French convict life, and was then in full flight from one kind of peril to another; but, withal, he demoted himself as though his life was not yet been tested and when charged with offenses, all their rights and public trial and all legal defenses.

No other information of the citizenship of the Frenchman was given, and the only fact contained in your communication, which I received in this Department. Due inquiry will be made and the proper steps taken. I am, sir, your obedient servant. T. J. MONAHAN. Accident on the New York City Elevated Railway. NEW YORK, April 14.—At a few minutes after nine o'clock yesterday morning, three trains on the Third Avenue line were proceeding on the way down town. They were very close together and packed with passengers, many of them being merchants and brokers. The first train pulled up at Hanover Street station and signaled train No. 100, right behind it. Train No. 100 stopped and signaled No. 204, but the latter was only fifteen feet away and could not stop. The engine crashed into the rear car of No. 100, tearing the wood work to pieces. The steam pipe burst, creating the wildest excitement among the passengers, some of whom climbed out of the windows and ran to the street below. Women fainted and the utmost confusion prevailed. The street below was filled with debris. The body of Fireman Charles McArthur was found in the engine, held fast by the wreck. Both were broken, and he was injured internally. He will die. A relief train soon came and took the passengers off. Mr. Pain had a varied experience after leaving New York. He went to London, and next to Geneva, where he was concerned in several newspaper ventures. When the Russo-Turkish war broke out he entered the Turkish service, was captured by the Russians, and condemned to death as a spy, but the sentence was commuted to imprisonment and he got out of prison in time to return to France and to Parisian journalism under the amnesty of 1880. It was as a correspondent that he penetrated to the camp of El Medhi, where his knowledge of the art of war brought him to the front. The English papers have given notice that he will be hanged as soon as Lord Wolsey gets hold of him.—John Swinton's Paper.

The writer par excellence of war ballads was Henry Clay Work, who died in June, 1884. To enumerate and comment on his pieces only would make an ordinary newspaper article. The title alone would cover those that are not most familiar, i. e.: After naming "Marching Through Georgia," "Kingdom Coming," "Babylon Is Fallen" and "Wake, Nicodemus," let the reader propose to himself from other equally popular pieces during the war. Work himself wrote besides "Corporal Schnapps," "Brave Boys Are They," "Little Major," "Song of a Thousand Years," "Our Last Grand Camping Ground," and many others less known. Of all these "Marching Through Georgia" stands without a peer. It is the only one that has stood the test of years, and it is as readily recognized to-day as "Yankee Doodle." More than 400,000 copies of the song were sold by the publishers. It has been sung in every state in the Union. No Grand Army camp-fire is only opened till the boys have fairly raised the roof with its resounding melody. I once saw General Sherman himself attempt to sing the words with over 4,000 school children gathered to do him honor; but the magnitude of the scene, the impressiveness of the children's reverent overflow of him; his voice faltered, and with reddened eyes he passed through the crowded lines, grasping as many as he could of the eagerly outstretched hands.

Saved from a Horrible Death. NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 14.—John Waugh, ex-Mayor of this place, who has been falling in health of late, walked out on the railroad suspension bridge Sunday afternoon, climbed over the railing, and hung from one of the girders underneath the bridge, 100 feet above the rocks, near the water's edge. Some friends saw him climb over, and ran out on the bridge, expecting to see his body dash into the pieces on the rocks below, but the man retained his act, and held on for dear life, calling for help. Soon three young men ran to his aid, and by bracing themselves with their legs and leaning over the side of the bridge, to the danger of their own lives, rescued Waugh from his perilous position. Mr. Waugh has for sometime past shown symptoms of insanity, caused by over exertion in political life.

Important Suit Decided. WASHINGTON, April 14.—A decision was rendered in the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of the State of Pennsylvania against the City of New York, in which it was decided that the State of Pennsylvania cannot tax the Ferry Company. The State of Pennsylvania claimed the right to tax the New Jersey corporation because of their owning a slip in the city of Philadelphia and landing their passengers there. The court in its decision holds that if this principle prevailed, every vessel carrying passengers and touching at points in various States would be taxed by the States in which the passengers were landed.

Negro Raped Lynched. NEW ORLEANS, La., April 14.—A negro tramp assaulted Miss Sarah Thompson, of Thompson County, Miss., on Thursday night. The tramp escaped, but was captured on Sunday in Colbert, Ala. He resisted arrest, and was not captured until brought down by shots from the Sheriff. He was taken to Lusk, Miss., and lodged in a jail where a mob overcame the Sheriff, forced their way into the jail, took the negro out and lynched him.

MONEY WANTED!

I must convert a large lot of surplus stock into cash within the next twenty days, and there will be such a slaughter of QUEENSWARE, GLASSWARE, LAMPS, ETC.,

At my new store as was never before known in the city. T. J. MONAHAN, 44 SOUTH MARKET ST.

EL MEDHI'S RIGHT HAND.

One night of May, eleven years ago, in a dingy back room of an old brick house in Wooster street, I met a young Frenchman who even then had played a part which had doubtless prepared him for the extraordinary adventure in which he is now engaged. He was amid a group of his friends, and just reached the city as a refugee. He had been an actor in the Paris revolt of March, 1871; he had escaped the massacre that followed the suppression of the commune; he had afterward been arrested and condemned to death; his punishment had been changed to that of banishment to the penal colony of New Caledonia, in the Pacific; he had then, with a few companions, got up a daring plan of escape, that had carried out that plan amid dangers as great as ever were encountered, and in May of 1874 the little party of fugitives had arrived in San Francisco, from where Mr. Olivier Pain hastened to New York, where he spent a few days prior to his departure for England as a place of safety.

When here he looked about 30 years of age, and was tall, lithe and handsome, possessed of both the vivacity and the gravity of an experienced workman of Paris. He had done duty on the press as an assistant of the editor, he had done service in the field during the Franco-German war; and subsequently during the revolt of Paris; he had suffered the hardships of French convict life, and was then in full flight from one kind of peril to another; but, withal, he demoted himself as though his life was not yet been tested and when charged with offenses, all their rights and public trial and all legal defenses.

No other information of the citizenship of the Frenchman was given, and the only fact contained in your communication, which I received in this Department. Due inquiry will be made and the proper steps taken. I am, sir, your obedient servant. T. J. MONAHAN. Accident on the New York City Elevated Railway. NEW YORK, April 14.—At a few minutes after nine o'clock yesterday morning, three trains on the Third Avenue line were proceeding on the way down town. They were very close together and packed with passengers, many of them being merchants and brokers. The first train pulled up at Hanover Street station and signaled train No. 100, right behind it. Train No. 100 stopped and signaled No. 204, but the latter was only fifteen feet away and could not stop. The engine crashed into the rear car of No. 100, tearing the wood work to pieces. The steam pipe burst, creating the wildest excitement among the passengers, some of whom climbed out of the windows and ran to the street below. Women fainted and the utmost confusion prevailed. The street below was filled with debris. The body of Fireman Charles McArthur was found in the engine, held fast by the wreck. Both were broken, and he was injured internally. He will die. A relief train soon came and took the passengers off. Mr. Pain had a varied experience after leaving New York. He went to London, and next to Geneva, where he was concerned in several newspaper ventures. When the Russo-Turkish war broke out he entered the Turkish service, was captured by the Russians, and condemned to death as a spy, but the sentence was commuted to imprisonment and he got out of prison in time to return to France and to Parisian journalism under the amnesty of 1880. It was as a correspondent that he penetrated to the camp of El Medhi, where his knowledge of the art of war brought him to the front. The English papers have given notice that he will be hanged as soon as Lord Wolsey gets hold of him.—John Swinton's Paper.

The writer par excellence of war ballads was Henry Clay Work, who died in June, 1884. To enumerate and comment on his pieces only would make an ordinary newspaper article. The title alone would cover those that are not most familiar, i. e.: After naming "Marching Through Georgia," "Kingdom Coming," "Babylon Is Fallen" and "Wake, Nicodemus," let the reader propose to himself from other equally popular pieces during the war. Work himself wrote besides "Corporal Schnapps," "Brave Boys Are They," "Little Major," "Song of a Thousand Years," "Our Last Grand Camping Ground," and many others less known. Of all these "Marching Through Georgia" stands without a peer. It is the only one that has stood the test of years, and it is as readily recognized to-day as "Yankee Doodle." More than 400,000 copies of the song were sold by the publishers. It has been sung in every state in the Union. No Grand Army camp-fire is only opened till the boys have fairly raised the roof with its resounding melody. I once saw General Sherman himself attempt to sing the words with over 4,000 school children gathered to do him honor; but the magnitude of the scene, the impressiveness of the children's reverent overflow of him; his voice faltered, and with reddened eyes he passed through the crowded lines, grasping as many as he could of the eagerly outstretched hands.

Saved from a Horrible Death. NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 14.—John Waugh, ex-Mayor of this place, who has been falling in health of late, walked out on the railroad suspension bridge Sunday afternoon, climbed over the railing, and hung from one of the girders underneath the bridge, 100 feet above the rocks, near the water's edge. Some friends saw him climb over, and ran out on the bridge, expecting to see his body dash into the pieces on the rocks below, but the man retained his act, and held on for dear life, calling for help. Soon three young men ran to his aid, and by bracing themselves with their legs and leaning over the side of the bridge, to the danger of their own lives, rescued Waugh from his perilous position. Mr. Waugh has for sometime past shown symptoms of insanity, caused by over exertion in political life.

Important Suit Decided. WASHINGTON, April 14.—A decision was rendered in the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of the State of Pennsylvania against the City of New York, in which it was decided that the State of Pennsylvania cannot tax the Ferry Company. The State of Pennsylvania claimed the right to tax the New Jersey corporation because of their owning a slip in the city of Philadelphia and landing their passengers there. The court in its decision holds that if this principle prevailed, every vessel carrying passengers and touching at points in various States would be taxed by the States in which the passengers were landed.

Negro Raped Lynched. NEW ORLEANS, La., April 14.—A negro tramp assaulted Miss Sarah Thompson, of Thompson County, Miss., on Thursday night. The tramp escaped, but was captured on Sunday in Colbert, Ala. He resisted arrest, and was not captured until brought down by shots from the Sheriff. He was taken to Lusk, Miss., and lodged in a jail where a mob overcame the Sheriff, forced their way into the jail, took the negro out and lynched him.

LUDLOW'S FRAGRANT MYRRH DENTIFRICE

I AM MAKING THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE. And I only express the opinion of all my customers when I assure the public that this preparation is unsurpassed for cleaning the teeth, purifying the breath and keeping the gums in a healthy condition. It is put up as nicely as any dentifrice in the market. Price 25 cents.

CHAS. LUDLOW, Druggist.

FENCING PICKETS

Are away down in price; so are CEDAR POSTS. We offer MOLDINGS below cost. ALL BUILDING MATERIAL for the next 30 DAYS we shall offer at great sacrifice in order to CLOSE OUT.

WOLISTON, WILDER & CO., 410 WEST MAIN STREET.

BANKRUPT STOCK OF BOOTS & SHOES

Men's Working Shoes 90c to $1; Men's Balm. Congress and Button $1.25 to $2; Men's Calf Boots $1.25 to $3.50; a job lot Men's GENUINE HAND SEWED Balm, Button and Congress, TO CLOSE, at $4, as good as any $6 shoe in the city. Ladies' Fine Kid Button worked button boots, $1.25; Ladies' Pebbled Polish, solid, 90c to $1; Boys', Youths', and Misses' School Shoes 85c to $1.25; Gent's Rubbers 50c; Ladies' Light Spring Overshoes 20c.

W. A. HANCE, 40 South Market St.

AGREAT REVOLUTION IN THE TREATMENT OF Liver and Kidney Complaints, Diabetes, Gravel Stone in the Kidneys and Bladder, Bright's Disease, etc.

DR. CARPENTER'S Calculi Resolvent.

The following are specimens of testimonials he has daily received by the Calculi Resolvent from his patients:

WANTED—BUYERS TO FEED PRESERVE MUST be experienced. Globe Printing Co. WANTED—SITUATION IN PRIVATE FAMILY. Will do general household. Call at 246 E. Columbia. WANTED—OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS zinc, lead, tin, rubber, bones, etc.; will pay J. W. Meador, 72 Winter street, Springfield, Ohio.

FOR RENT. FOR RENT—DESIRABLE BRICK HOUSE OF 12 rooms, large lot, trees and shrubbery, rent low to desirable tenant. Apply to Thos. W. Bean, 24 South Limestone. FOR RENT—LARGE STORE ROOM, 9000 FT., Main street. Rent low. For further particulars see address J. H. HARRINGTON, City.

FOR SALE. FOR SALE—CHEAP—MARBLE TOP OUTLET. Ice cooler; three blocks and all suitable fixtures for meat store. Call on J. W. Green, 23 North Factory street. G. W. Green. FOR SALE—A NUMBER 1, GENERAL PURPOSE horse, also a fine lot of posts. Enquire at Ulmer's coal office, Jackson Street, Springfield, Ohio.

PERSONAL. FOR GOOD WORK GO TO THE LAOGONDA House Barber shop; five first-class workmen to wait upon you. NOTICE. THE co-partnership under the firm name of Thos. T. Troup & Co. is this day dissolved by mutual consent. Thos. T. Troup, who has been in charge, taking stock, collects all outstanding book accounts and paying all claims against the firm. FRANK H. COLBERT, Trustee. Springfield, O., April 9, 1886.

LADIES ONLY! Just published, illuminated "Treatise on Self-Destruction of the Female Body," colored and engraved plate, full explanation, medical opinions, etc. Shows that underdone or abnormal condition is abnormal and unhealthy; how to enlarge to full and proper proportions; safe, simple, and absolutely certain. For particulars and members developed by similar process. A copy of this valuable book, mailed in sealed envelope for 25 cents. Address, P. O. Drawer 179, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOUSE MOVING! MR. ALBERT M. Long and favorably known as a competent house mover and raiser, desires to notify the public that he is still prepared to do work in that line, together with the mason work, in a reliable and workmanlike manner at low rates. Leave all orders, No. 12 East Main street, or address me at my residence on West College avenue, city.

Many a Lady is beautiful, all but her skin; and nobody has ever told her how easy it is to put beauty on the skin is Magnolia Balm.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was cured of hip joint disease." Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was cured of hip joint disease." Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was cured of hip joint disease." Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was cured of hip joint disease." Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was cured of hip joint disease." Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.