The party was a grand affair and closed with a brilliant dance, a band of Italian harpists from Springfield furnishing the music. LITTLE GAMES OF THREE OUT.

Springfield Presents Youngstons Another Ball on Ice—Entertained Hits and Loose Work in the Field Do the Business.

There could hardly be imagined a worse day for good ball playing than yesterday. A young blizzard shook the grand stand and whirled blinding clouds of sharp and coarse diamond and field constantly. Of course it was as fair for one side as the other, and this explanation is not particularly to excuse or explain the failure of the home combination.

Springfield scored many colored wamuses, Jack Shoupe making a Prossian banner of himself in a red cap, yellow Jersey and black socks. Youngstons shivered outwardly and glowed inwardly and wouldn't have covered up the gorgeous new uniforms if the mercury had been at zero.

For good news, let's get the Springfield some fancy new duds. Youngstons put in Darrah to pitch and we Darrah-soft he's good one. He hasn't much for a professional stock in trade but an out-curve, but that seemed to catch his opponents, who wouldn't wait for a ball to come where they called it but struck at anything. The detailed batting record would seem to show that Springfield ought to have won, but the fact is they bunched their errors while Youngstons bunched their hits and did some first-rate team work, although their fielding was not so good as in the former game. It seemed as though the Springfield sluggers batted at somebody every time.

They made 9 base hits with a total of 12, and Youngstons 6 hits with a total of 9. About the only interesting point in the game was when another Faatz tied the score in the ninth inning. The light hitters came to bat in the next inning, however, and that settled it. Youngstons objected to Galvin's high arm pitching and he was called down. He pitched a good game throughout, striking out no less than twelve of the visitors. Cady hardly caught him as successfully as in the Dayton game and made a poor hand throwing to bases, the Youngstons, in fact, winning the game on Toole's, Weir's and Buckley's daring base running.

Dick O'Brien, of this city, acted as umpire, but with little satisfaction to either side. He was clearly off in calling balls and strikes, and it happened that Springfield got the worst of it in the log run.

Neither side saw the home plate for a run until the fourth inning. For Youngstons Buckley struck three times, but got to first on Cady's error, and was brought in by little Weir's surprise three-base hit. Weir struck out. Ake hit into Faatz's slipper and Corry struck out. In the fifth McCollum hit to Shoupe and never got to first. Darrah struck out. Toole hit to left center for first, went to second on a passed ball, stole third and came home on Gilman's hit, on which "Gillie" was caught at second. In the eighth Toole, who loomed up head yesterday, spite of his two errors, hit to left for two bases and came in on two successive passed balls. Gilman was out at first, Buckley tied out to Shoupe, and Weir struck out. In the ninth McAleer took his base on balls and stole second, Ake, out at first. McCollum got to first by a scratch and went to second on an error. Jo's only one. McAleer scoring, Darrah struck out again, Springfield tying the score in this inning. In the tenth Toole took first on a safe hit, went to third on a passed ball (which struck Cady's trousers) and was sent home by Gilman, who trotted the ball to center for a single and scored on Buckley's sacrifice. Weir went to first on an error by short and was caught at third by Cady's throw to Shoupe. McAleer was out at first.

In the fourth inning for Springfield after knocking the ball over right field fence which, much to the general surprise, was decided a foul, Shoupe took his base on balls and second on a pass, Arundel tied out to Gilman. Weir let Galvin's hot one slip through him, Galvin going to first and Shoupe scoring. Galvin was caught stealing second and Cady was out at first. In the seventh. After Cady was out at first and Arder struck out, Peckinpaugh hit to right field and took second on a passed ball. Baker took his base on balls. Faatz knocked a corker to left center, Peckinpaugh scoring and Baker going to third, where he was left by Huey fouling out to the catcher. Arder sent a warm wave over the grand stand by one of his timely three baggers to right and Weir's fumble of Peckinpaugh's lively one let him in, Frank taking first. Baker verified his monotonous by striking out. Faatz sent her whizzing to right for two bases, Peckinpaugh going to third and home on Huey's sacrifice to first. Faatz tied the score, running in on a passed ball (Youngstons kicking on the umpire's decision), and Shoupe was out at first. In the tenth Springfield drew a blank. Following is the score:

A Great Year For Cheating Gum.

This is a great gum year in Maine, especially on the Penobscot, and now that the sun is climbing up into the north a little and the lumbermen are coming out, the air is fairly redolent with the perfume of the spruce. There are two or three firms here which make large quantities of it from the lumber and gum hunters for the purpose of refining it, as they say. But as a general thing the refining consists in adulterating with resin. They throw it into a big kettle, bark and all, and boil it to about the consistency of thick molasses, skimming the impurities. There are no impurities in the gum, but the purpose of refining it, as they say. But as a general thing the refining consists in adulterating with resin. THE STATE WIGWAG.

A Verdure-Clad Country.

A Hainese landscape has its peculiarities and its beauties. It is always green, the outlines are flowing and varied by distant peaks of volcanic formation, the vegetation is luxuriant; here and there arise the usual level cocoanut palms, singly or in clusters, and an occasional pagoda, a tower, a chattering magpie, which is so tame that it almost alights on your shoulder, and some of the beautiful brown and olive-colored cattle for which the land is famous. Beggars are strewn all along the highway, and blind persons especially abound in the country.

LOCAL NOTICES.

A Great Discovery.

Miss Farion, the cooking expert, says she "makes kisses by beating the whites of six eggs with a Dover beater, and adding a cup of mixed sugar, which she stirs in very carefully."

Never Give Up.

Of the cat, bear and squirrel the latter only can run down a tree head first.

Desolation in Java.

In some parts of the country, the earth quakes have been so frequent and so violent, that the people are fleeing to the mountains, looking like the bottom of a dried-up sea.

Cures For Piles.

Piles are frequently produced by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs.
