

LAGONDA NOTES

FURNISHED BY A SUNDAY GLOBE REPUBLIC REPORTER.

The Coming Entertainment to be Given by the Young People's Literary Association—The Basket Social Given at the Red Men's Hall Thursday Evening—The "Workers Band" is Terminated—A Nuisance—Brief Mention of Local Happenings in and About Lagonda.

Mrs. Wm. Conner has returned to her home in Bellefontaine.

Mr. Charles Holden has greatly improved the appearance of his home by giving it a coat of paint. Charles has the finest looking residence in Lagonda, now.

Mrs. Harriet Hammond, of North Plum street, city, spent several days, the past week, the guest of her sister here.

Teachers' meeting was held at the home of Willie Gordon, Friday evening.

Grandma Neal who has been confined to her home for several months by sickness was able to be out to church Sunday last.

Miss Mary Jackson, of Kenton, Hardin county, visited relatives and friends here the past week.

Mrs. Mary J. Winters and Mrs. Aaron Tiffany, West Jefferson street, city, spent Monday with relatives here.

Next Thursday evening the members of the Young People's Literary Association will meet in the church for rehearsal; also to elect the officers for the coming six months. None but members of the society will be admitted to the church during the rehearsal. The public entertainment will be given on Thursday evening, May 21st. Programme will appear in next Sunday's issue of the Globe-Republic.

The basket social given at the Red Men's hall last Thursday evening was a success both socially and financially. About two hundred persons attended and all say they never enjoyed a more pleasant evening together. The baskets were put up at auction and sold from 25 cents to $2 apiece. One basket in particular was marked, and the young men present got into the racket and made the purchaser pay a good round price for his supper. After the baskets were all disposed of, the purchasers secured their partners and adjourned to the rooms below the hall, where the tables were prepared with the good things from the well-filled baskets, and all spent an hour or two discussing the good things to eat; after which they again returned to the room above and made the "welding ring" with their merry games until near the hour when ghosts are said to walk abroad, when they returned to their homes.

Monday afternoon two ladies of the city took a drive out on Lagonda avenue, and endeavoring to turn the horse toward the city again, thinking they had driven far enough, the avenue not being sufficiently wide enough they drove over the grade and overturned the buggy, throwing the occupants to the ground, shaking them up a little, but they were not seriously hurt. The buggy was badly broken.

Mrs. James Crabbill and family spent Sabbath, a week, at Lagonda, and during their absence from home some unprincipled person opened a gate at an entrance to a wheat field and fastened it open and gave liberty to a lot of Bunker Hill cattle, which were mowing away what wheat they could find. Every person was absent when this act was performed. The charge will be fixed if the act is repeated. There are persons who witnessed it.

Old Rought and Ready of Bunker Hill ventilates the youths of this place quite frequently here of late, and he comes down on them hard, at that.

Mrs. Herman Krouse, of the city, was the guest of Mrs. Al. Young, the past week.

Several months ago Rev. S. W. McCorkle organized what he termed a Worker's Band in this place, the members comprising almost all the little children of the place. A little pasteboard box was given each member with instructions to carry it to every one they knew and every one they didn't know, and solicit money from everybody and deposit the money in the boxes, and at certain times, at their meeting the boxes were to be opened, and the one having the largest amount of money was to receive a prize. Well, this thing has been going on so long that it has become a nuisance, for one can scarcely go on the street any more without being solicited for missionary money by at least six of the little b-x carriers. We hope when this lot of boxes is called in there will never be any more seen in this place. It is the money raised by this means was to be used to pay off our own church debt, which, by the way, is very large; people would look at it in another light, but to be begging money all the time for others when we need it so much in our own church, is what we cannot see into. We do know though who will get the credit for raising all this money, but, at the same time, it is establishing a precedent that other ministers assigned to this place will be compelled to follow.

The degree staff of Lone Star Lodge I. O. O. F., conferred the second degree on two applicants last Monday evening. Next Monday evening is the first nomination night and every member is expected to be present.

Mrs. Leonard Croft, of the city, spent Thursday here, the guest of Miss Julia Dorst. Sabbath school teachers meeting will convene at the residence of Mr. D. E. Lawrence Friday evening next.

Mr. Nick Nimsger has the Tennessee fever very badly just now. He says one thing in favor of that land is they don't have fifteen or sixteen months of winter every year like this part of the country has. Fifteen or sixteen months a year is good. You may go to Tennessee, Nick.

During the thunder storm, Thursday last the lightning almost made a home run on John Coe's balloon, striking a gate post just in front of the building, shivering the post in splinters. John says a mis is as good as a mile.

Mr. Walter Gibson, formerly city editor of the Globe-Republic, has accepted a situation with the Cincinnati Evening Telegram. Mr. Gibson has numerous friends in this city, who wish him success in his new undertaking.

Hugh Welsh, a noted young tough, and a son of Michael Welsh, on Cherry street, was run in by Officer Nicholas and the patrol wagon, for stealing the residence of Mrs. Lockwood, on the above named street.

Lon Shaw, the old Springfield boy, who has been giving exhibition games of pool and billiards at Coban's, for a couple of nights past, will probably play several games at the gymnasium, this week.

HOUSE AND PARSONS.

Special Features for the Season.

With all the newest shapes and finest grades of Shoes, with a stock so extensive and varied that it even surpasses our own original estimates, with new goods being made to our order and constantly arriving from the leading manufacturers, we find that we are better than ever prepared to maintain our reputation as the foremost dealers in Shoes in this portion of the State.

THE ENGLISH WAUKENPHAST.

This Shoe, made to conform in shape to the natural outline of the foot, is one of the most popular ever designed for men's wear. Being the first to introduce it in Springfield, we are still the first to carry it in all styles and grades.

MEN'S KANGAROO SHOES.

These Shoes are made of kangaroo skin, soft and elastic as kid, and are as easy on the feet as moccasins. For summer wear they are unequalled, being light, handsome in appearance and durable.

EASY FITTING STITCHDOWNS.

These common-sense Shoes are perhaps the best ever designed for workmen, mechanics, salesmen and others whose business requires them to do much walking or rom in long on their feet.

LADIES' FINE SHOES.

There was never before shown in this city such an elegant line of Fine Dress Shoes for Ladies as we now have in stock. Indeed, the beauty of shape, the extraordinary quality of material and the excellent workmanship manifest in the more recent arrivals are to be described by no other term than perfection.

ROUSE & PARSONS, 26 S. MARKET ST.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

Knights of Pythias.

Capt. Fred Weis, of Humboldt Division, No. 11, and also Sheriff of Montgomery county, was in the city last Monday. He reports that the Dayton Division all expect to go into camp in August, at Cleveland.

Bro. James Duffy, of Olion Lodge No. 23, Evansville, Indiana, has accepted a position in the Arcade barber shop.

The Executive Committee held a meeting in the lodge room last Thursday evening, at which time it was decided to procure enough suitable flags to decorate the hotels and the place of holding the Grand Lodge sessions.

Monmouth Lodge No. 33, held its regular meeting last Friday evening. One Page was proved an Esquire, and the regular order of business gone through with, which was about all there was to do.

Champion City Division No. 44 held their regular monthly business meeting last Wednesday evening with a good attendance. Two applications were received and the applicants elected. The rank will be conferred at special meeting, that will be called for that purpose. No notice will be given until the rank will be conferred in the best possible form in the drill armory.

A number of the Sir Knights of No. 44 think that there should be one more social before the weather gets too warm. All that is necessary is to make a start and it will be a success.

The order for the uniforms for the two applicants that were elected last Wednesday has been sent in. As soon as they come the rank will be given them.

Secret League.

Only one candidate to receive the degree and two applications for the same, were had at last meeting of Hope Lodge No. 6.

Next Tuesday evening being the time set apart specially as ladies' night, it is to be hoped that all who have any intentions of joining the order will do so at that time.

Brother Supreme Vice Cardinal C. D. Spang and Brother Supreme Treasurer John Furnas are sure to be with us on the above occasion, accompanied with their wives and delegations from Indianapolis, Ind., and Troy and New Castle, O.

Every member of No. 6 is expected to be present at our next meeting.

The special committee to whom was delegated the task have prepared a very nicely arranged programme for the entertainment of visiting and newly initiated members at our next meeting.

Bro. Supreme Recorder writes: "Two more Lodges of the Order are fully expected to be instituted this week."

From latest word received there has been some half dozen ladies examined up to this time, and again we urge all ladies who have contemplated joining, to do so on next Tuesday evening.

Next meeting being an adjourned meeting it is to be expected that the press of business at that meeting, that the Lodge open at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock.

Patriotic Order Sons of America.

Four candidates for membership were elected at Camp 44 on last meeting night.

Members of both Camps, 44 and 51, seemed to be in a hurry last Monday evening, as after close of work in the initiatory members hurried out, and it is to be supposed, home, leaving but few to attend to the degree. This should not be; but every member should take enough interest in the order to stay until the necessary work of the evening is done.

The several camps located at Columbus have extensively advertised and will run an excursion over the I. B. & W. R. R. from this city to the Soldiers' Home, Dayton, on Saturday, May 23, at the low rate of $1.50 for the round trip, tickets good to return Sunday, May 24.

Brothers Secretary E. J. Swerer and State Treasurer T. M. Barrett will be in this city and officially visit the camps here at the session of Camp 51, on the evening of May 18. Let us arrange for their welcome.

Let us have a good 44 on Thursday evening, and especially let none of the officers be present if not absolutely detained by unavoidable circumstances, as no other excuse will be entertained.

Order Iron Hall.

The Sunday News of May 3 contained an article furnished by one R. N. Davenport, who came to this city from East Liverpool, Ohio, under commission from the Supreme Justice of the order, as a Deputy, to initiate a branch of the order here, at the same time as a Deputy holding commissions for the Order of Workmen and National Union.

His record with the two last orders is as unimpaired, and has caused as "big stink" as it has with the Iron Hall, a brief review of which is here given:

Branch 188 O. I. H., was instituted by him March 26, 1884, at which meeting he was elected its chief officer, on his assurance that he had made Springfield his future home, and with the understanding that he could do all for the interest of and building up of this branch and order than say of our own citizen members, because he had and would employ the time required to be at the third meeting of the Branch he desired to be appointed Solicitor to procure new members, and to have for his service the whole of the initiation fee, $5. Branch could not see it, but subsequently voted a less commission to each member for bringing in new members, which placed all on an equal footing. During the summer he was one of the first men on the sick list and his claim with that of others, was allowed and by the Supreme Sitting promptly paid—the accountant being previously instructed to publish the receipts, in order to give the public some reliable reasons for uniting with so beneficent an order.

After receiving his sick benefit money, and the publication of the notices in the daily papers at the expense of Branch 188, of which he was chief officer, and five days before the next meeting, he informed the accountant that he had commenced obtaining signatures to a petition for a new branch instead of using the notices referred to in the interest of bringing the applicants into this branch. This was a direct violation of his obligation as Chief Justice, his repeated promises in open branch, and to individual members outside. Persisting in which the branch sent a protest signed by every member but himself to the Supreme Justice and requested his removal as D.puty, which was referred to friend Sombery, Deputy Supreme Justice, who came here, investigated and reported accordingly, and Davenport's commission was thereupon revoked. He has been three times sick and drawn $350 from the order.

After sending in his last claim for $225 he asked the branch to recommend him to the Supreme Justice for re-appointment as Deputy to enable him to institute branches in other places, which he refused to do and as a matter of spirit he commenced suit, before his claim had been either approved or rejected by the Supreme Medical Director, in accordance with the laws and constitution of the order.

He was then in other places, which he refused to do and as a matter of spirit he commenced suit, before his claim had been either approved or rejected by the Supreme Medical Director, in accordance with the laws and constitution of the order. He was then in other places, which he refused to do and as a matter of spirit he commenced suit, before his claim had been either approved or rejected by the Supreme Medical Director, in accordance with the laws and constitution of the order.

When suit was called he withdrew it, paid his own costs, and accepted the amount due him less the sums advanced to him by the branch during his sickness.

In regard to the charges against Sombery and the deficits of the order, they are emanations of leeches of the same ilk as R. N. D., proof of which is ample. Some of the original members of the order, "the late Supreme Accounts" among them, agreed among themselves to be life members, entitled to vote, travel expenses and pay at supreme meetings, but neglected to embody that agreement in the constitution of the order; hence the decision of the present Supreme Justice H. E. Lewis, adverse to their claim, which was sustained by unanimous vote of the last supreme sitting.

During seven months, from July 1, 1883, to February 1, 1884, the net gain of members in the order was only 17, while from February 1, 1884, to March 1, 1885, the order gained 2,320 new members, and 44 new branches; 12 new branches instituted in March, and 6 during the first ten days of April, 1885; 741 new certificates of membership were issued between March 1 and April 15, 1885; 4,550 sick benefit claims have been paid during the four years existence of the order, amounting to $277,058, and the assessments have averaged only one each month.

Soldiers' Pay in China.

The economical habits of the health-Chinese are notorious, and they are well illustrated by a correspondent, who, writing from Tien-tsin, says: "The Chinese infantry soldier is paid once a month, when he receives 24 taels of silver. This sum, which is equal to about 19 shillings of English money, is given him in scrap bullion; and during the night preceding each pay day the paymasters are busily engaged in weighing out silver and making it up into neat little packages for distribution. As soon as he has obtained his share of silver the soldier takes it to the nearest shopkeeper or money lender, who, in return for it, hands him 3,500 copper per cash, the aggregate weight of which is quite as much as he can conveniently carry. Out of this the soldier has to keep himself in food and clothing; and the pay cannot, therefore, be called excessive. A Chinese man, however, lives almost exclusively upon rice, a month's supply of which costs a good deal less than 1,000 cash, and many a private not only supports a family upon the balance of his earnings, but puts by a few hundred cash every month. One fellow soldier here is said to wear a general's uniform, and to carry a sword beneath his uniform; and I am told that he has a wife and three children who never want. Seeing that the small change for a tael weighs about five pounds, I feel sorry for this model paymaster."

Kangarooing.

Kangarooing is the most interesting sport in Australia, and is one of the most exciting in the world. Large troops are organized, consisting of from twenty to thirty joining in these hunts. They ride to the kangaroo grounds, and as soon as an animal is sighted the two dogs are released and the horses are given their heads. If the Australian horse is well up in his business, and if you let him take his own way, he will try to take him, he will carry you safely, avoiding trees and underbrush. A good, strong kangaroo will give you a long chase, and very often the dogs cannot follow him. In this case, when the horseman gets up to the kangaroo he takes off his stirrup and strap and knocks the animal over the head, which he then kills and skinned. The hind quarters are given to the dogs. It is good enough for eating, but too strong to be palatable to those of delicate taste. The tail, on the contrary, is considered a delicacy when made into soup. The average size of a kangaroo is about three and a half feet high, and the man kangaroo is often six feet, and is very fierce when cornered; he has even been known to rip men open with a single blow from one of his hind legs.

Rolled-gold jewelry is the fashion. The term was invented for the purpose of giving the public the impression that the goods so sold were solid gold, but that by reason of its being rolled the cost of manufacture was greatly cheapened. This idea caught the public fancy, and the trade soon assumed enormous proportions. As the demand for this kind of jewelry increased, the demand for solid gold decreased, and at present there are only a few of the old established houses which deal exclusively in the pure metal. Popularity speaking, all gold used by jewelers is rolled into plates or drawn into wire before it is shaped into any particular style of jewelry, and this is understood by the public generally as rolled gold plate.

GLEANINGS.

The houses and stores in Santiago de Cuba are so built that the walls can be almost entirely thrown open, while the interiors have courts that are unroofed and unobstructed to the sky.

Joaquin Miller has swapped off a manuscript copy of one of his poems for the duplicate of another design he saw at the New Orleans Exposition. The silverworker wanted pay in Miller's poetry.

Those persons who are "peach" crazy around Quaker-town, N. J., are renting land at from $8 to $10 an acre per annum. The terms run from ten to twelve years—the usual life of an orchard in that vicinity.

Over one hundred different answers have been received to the "latest mathematical question," resurrected by New York and Philadelphia journals: "Two girls meet three girls, and all kissed. How many kisses were exchanged?"

The somewhat remarkable statement is made that the city of New York, covering only 27,000 acres, supplies to 24 per cent. of the population of the country 70 per cent. of all the water used for domestic purposes throughout the land.

San Francisco has a "lumber bonanza"—a place where the extensive syndicate which controls the greater part of the lumber cut on the Pacific Coast sends any cargo that may arrive which appears to be in excess of home demand, and at the first favorable opportunity ships it to any part of the world.

A New York lady of leisure and money sailed for Paris recently to consult a celebrated dog doctor about her poodle's health. The cur has a bad cough, and is described as being "as ugly as a dingy door mat." He is six years old, and his mistress is anxious that he shall live until he is twenty-five.

The Western weed, loco, acts upon horses and cattle almost the same as alcohol does upon man. Upon eating it they lose all appetite for normal food, become apparently intoxicated at times and finally die from a disease strangely like delirium tremens. From the vice comes the California expression: "As bad as a locoed horse."

Albert Hector, says the Liberty Register is quite quietly constituted in one respect. He sheds all of his finger nails and two of his toe nails yearly. The old nails are gradually crowded off the fingers by the new and tender nails growing behind and under them. Bert is unable to explain why his nails leave him in this way, but they do.

Two Frenchmen, the brothers Forre, have invented a new kind of string, made entirely of wood. Instead of cutting the inventors use strips of American fir. The sound is produced, as in the ordinary harp, by the contact of the fingers, but the player wears leather gloves covered with rosin. The tone of the instrument is said to be of remarkable purity.

There is no financial nonsense about the Presbyterian pastor at Palmyra, Mo. On the first day of each month he draws his check upon the bank for his monthly salary in advance, and the bank regularly honors the check and charges it up to the deacons, who are personally responsible for the salary. Thus no delay or default in paying the subscriptions can affect him.

As an instance of the great age to which elephants sometimes live, it is said that when Alexander the Great had conquered Persia, King of India, he dedicated to the sun a great elephant which had fought valiantly for the King, and let him go with this inscription: "Alexander, the son of Jupiter, dedicated Ajax to the sun." The elephant was found 350 years afterward, still bearing the above inscription.

Pennsylvania has a state tax on watches, the results of which, as reported by the Secretary of Internal Affairs, are amusing. The population of the state is about 4,500,000. The number of voters last November was 900,000. But in all this population and this army of voters there were only 45,596 watches, gold, silver and "common." So it would appear that there were last year 4,454,404 Pennsylvanians, not one of which had a watch.

Colonel Napoleon Crosby, of Georgia, relates that upon one occasion his company was forced to march for several days over the unbroken snow, and his eyes became so weak and inflamed that he blackened his whole face with soot to counteract the brilliant reflection from the snow. He says, of course, it was a failure, but he persisted that it was a great relief, and in less than a day the whole company presented an unbroken line of blackened faces and eyeballs.

William P. Hopkins, of Lawrence, Mass., has in his possession a letter written 221 years ago by James Chalmers, one of the judges in the time of Charles I., to Lady Ursula Fairfax, whom he afterward married. The letter, of whose authenticity no doubt can be said, is dated, "London, 18 Nov. 1663," and it is addressed: "To his entirely loved and highly honored Mistress Ursula Fairfax."

The most peculiar part of a wedding festival among the middle classes in Europe is the blowing. At the moment the bride leaves her father's house a shout of "Kel lo!" announces the fact. All the guests carry lanterns on high poles to lead and light the way. As the procession approaches the home of the bridegroom several sheep are sacrificed in honor of the bride. They are slain at her feet as she steps over her husband's threshold for the first time. Then invoking blessings on the pair, all wend their way home, and the festival is over.

Adronack Murray now keeps a restaurant in Montreal, and he finds time to study Dominion politics. He writes to the Boston Herald that there are a large class who believe that Canada is destined to be something more than a colony of the British Empire. They hope for an independent nation. They hold that her population will soon outgrow that number which can be accommodated within colonial limits, and that the day will speedily come when a natural and peaceful separation will take place between her and England.

A dog belonging to a Wanaqua, N. J., had had for a long time been in the habit of picking up his breakfast and running away with it instead of eating it. The boy followed him on Friday, and the dog led him a roundabout trip, evidently to tire out his pursuer. Finally the dog lay down and waited for the boy to go away. The boy started abruptly as if to go home. The dog then ran very fast and disappeared in a covert, where investigation revealed a decrepit and emaciated old dog, who was engaged devouring the breakfast.

An ingenious contrivance which will effectually protect the soldiers in the Soudan from the rays of the burning sun is being made at the Japanese village in London by order of the government. It is in the form of an umbrella, made of light bamboo and paper, and will be fastened to the shoulders. The weight will scarcely be felt, and the wearer will thus enjoy all the comforts of a large umbrella without experiencing the inconvenience of holding it up, and his hands will be left entirely free to carry his rifle or other articles.

The question whether money found in a shop belongs to the keeper of the place or the finder is often disputed. A writer in the Pharmaceutical Record relates that a customer in a drug store once picked up a dollar note from the floor between two parallel counters. He inquired if any one in the store had lost it, and finding they had not, he appropriated it. His claim to it being disputed, the case was submitted to a lawyer, who said: "The open passage between the two counters was dedicated to the public, not in fee simple, but as a highway while they were invited to occupy for purposes of traffic." So the finder kept the dollar.

Merely oddity of style is contemptible; but there is a charm in uniqueness, even if it be bristling with crudities, provided it present something worthy and significant. Carlyle sometimes clutches a thought, as if by the throat; and you can almost hear the thing wheeze under the pressure. He makes one feel a little dread of his next sentences. Deliberate excesses of all kinds are vulgar, and come of selfishness. In literary style a desire to strut and display a peacock tail, and to strain the extremes of diction, is the same desire that prompts the patent-medicine man to out-do all his fellows in taudering out his fences and roadside stones with his name and that of his drug.

There is a diversity of opinion as to whether young George Gould will keep the Gould possessions together or not. Thus far he has not fulfilled all the fond desires of his distinguished parent. He has not much of a head for finance or a surplus of aptitude for speculation. To be a good speculator requires much sagacity. He enjoys the theaters very much, and likes to slip in behind the scenes among the pretty chorus of ballet girls, and his head aches quite frequently next day during business hours. Nevertheless, Mr. Gould is making every effort to make a business man of him, and he ought to succeed.

The finest confectionery and ice cream parlors ever in Springfield will be found at No. 33 East Main street. Mr. R. E. Lobenzner, well known as our leading caterer, is the proprietor, and that of itself is a guarantee of the excellence of the place.

A. M. Kzeorston on the B. & O. From May 15 to 22, 1885, the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Co. will sell round trip tickets to Martinsburg, Harrisburg, Hagerstown, Shippensburg, or Chambersburg, from Columbia, at $1.50 for the round trip.

This affords the Betheers, who will attend the annual meeting, in Pennsylvania, an opportunity to visit friends in the Shenandoah and Cumberlands Valleys. Tickets will be good returning for thirty days.

These tickets will be good going or returning via Wheeling and Pittsburg, or via Parkersburg, at the option of the purchaser. In purchasing your tickets over the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. you get your tickets for instance, have the choice of two routes, and are carried on fast express trains.

BANKRUPT Dyspepsia

or Indigestion is the stomach's protest against unsuitable food, the excessive use of alcohol or tobacco, hasty eating and drinking, and all irrational habits of living; and Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the stomach's best friend, relieving it of distress, and aiding its return to healthful action. C. Canterbury, 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., a confirmed dyspeptic, was cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He says: "I suffered severely from Dyspepsia for several years. I consulted five or six physicians, who gave me no relief. At last I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and by its use I am entirely cured." O. T. Adams, Spencer, O., says: "I have for years suffered acutely from Dyspepsia, scarcely taking a meal, until within the last four months, without enduring the most distressing pangs of indigestion."
