DEPARTING KNIGHTS.

GRAND LODGE OF O. O. F.

LARGE Amount of Important Business Transacted—In Fact it Was a Strictly Business Session—Next Meeting of Grand Lodge at Youngstown.

Business in Ohio Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, in session here for two days past was expedited to such a degree that adjournment was possible last evening, many of the representatives taking their departure on late trains, but quite a number remaining over until today.

One and all express satisfaction with their experience while here, and with the manner in which they have been entertained and provided for. Having cut loose this first time from the "hush-and-feathers" feature; the parades, receptions and so on which have usually delayed and obstructed the actual business and attracted attention from the real object of the meeting, this was essentially and preeminently a business session.

Grand Chancellor Burns, in fact, states that in actual, practical results, the session of Ohio Grand Lodge, at Springfield, takes the lead of all which he has any knowledge. The delegates all brought clear heads, and minds not pre-occupied with things of minor importance to the consideration of matters presented affecting the interests of the noble Order throughout the State, which is the more benefited thereby. At the same time there has been sufficient observance of the social feature to give variety to the proceedings and offset the dry details of routine business, and this has been none the less enjoyed for that it was informal, without heavy speech-making, while hearty and spontaneous.

The reception by Champion City Division, No. 44, at their army, elegantly decorated for the occasion, last evening, was of that description, and was attended by most of the members of the Grand Lodge, including Past Grand Chancellor Burns. There was beauty and bravery; good music, dancing and sociability without restraint. Also refreshments of the very best in apparently inexhaustible supply. No. 44 scored another, and not the least of her successes.

While the Buckeye Knights of Pythias were well pleased with Springfield as a "business" sort of a place, Springfield was yet more pleased with them as a well-appearing, wide-awake, refined body of representative "business" men, whom it will be an increased pleasure to accommodate again.

Upon re-assembling of the Grand Lodge Wednesday afternoon, in Odd Fellows hall, the location of next session, in selection of place of meeting, received attention. Invitations were received from Youngstown and Chillicothe, the former being fixed upon as the place and the second Tuesday in May, 1886, as the time for assembling the seventeenth session of Ohio Grand Lodge, K. of P.

Among other business of general interest transacted was the following: Trustees elected for the year were Franklin H. Hays, Troy; Thos. J. Collins, of Toledo, and J. W. Myers, of Columbus.

Representatives of this Grand Lodge to the Supreme Lodge, which meets in Toronto in 1886, were instructed by unanimous vote to work for such change necessary as will make the Endowment Rank of each State separate. Supreme Representatives were also instructed to vote and work to have the session of the Supreme Lodge for 1888 held in Cincinnati.

Officers of the Grand Lodge for the present year were installed with appropriate ceremonies, Past Grand Chancellor Burns acting as installing officer, with P. G. Banker, Ingham as Grand, Chancellor, P. G. Prelate, Thos. J. Collins as Grand, and P. G. Hester at Arms, Charles J. Beck as G. M. at A. The new Grand Chancellor, Alden P. Butts, of Cincinnati, upon assuming control, made brief inaugural remarks, complimentary to the administration of his predecessor in office, and appealing to the brethren for the same support and assistance which had done much to make Grand Chancellor Burns' rule so successful. He expressed appreciation of the honor done him in election without opposition to the two highest offices in the organization.

The Grand Chancellor recommended that the Grand Lodge extend the term of the Grand Keeper of Records and Seal from one year to two years. The matter necessarily lies over to the next session.

A resolution for appointment of a committee to confer and report as to establishing a permanent home for the Grand Lodge was voted upon adversely.

Supreme Vice-Chancellor Douglas having been summoned by a telegram announcing the illness of his wife, to leave before adjournment, as informed the Grand Chancellor, who called up the Grand Lodge and took leave of the gentleman by extending the supreme honors.

The secret work was exemplified with great impressiveness by Supreme Representatives Richie and Shumate, occupying a portion of this closing session.

The committee on losses by fire recommended in their report that all subordinate lodges in the jurisdiction be ordered to insure their property against such loss.

A resolution was unanimously adopted requiring a lodge located at Zanesville composed exclusively of Hebrews, to change its name to Hebrews, and with it to the Cemetery. The lodge has been meeting regularly on Sundays, to the scandal of the Order before the community.

Resolutions passed by unanimous vote tendering the thanks of this Grand Lodge to the I. O. O. F., of Springfield, for free use of their hall at some inconvenience to themselves, as regular meetings had to be postponed. Also to Monicree Lodge, No. 33, K. of P., and Divisions 6 and 44, U. R., for courteous and kind treatment and successful efforts to entertain the Grand Lodge.

A vote of thanks was also tendered the retiring Grand Chancellor, J. C. Burns, for his efficient and faithful discharge of duties.

The sum of about $400 remaining in the treasury of the fund appropriated for relief of sufferers by floods in the Ohio river, was by vote, turned over to the Knights of Pythias Orphan fund, to be placed at interest for its benefit.

An important amendment was submitted and lies over, under the rules, to the next session, providing for alternate or proxy representation in the Grand Lodge.

Supreme Chancellor Rathbone spoke some feeling farewell words and took his leave by the early evening train for Washington.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church tender to Mr. A. C. Black their sincere thanks and heartfelt appreciation for the free and generous use of his opera house for one week. By order of the National Festival Committee Mrs. J. H. THOMAS, President.

Mrs. G. G. GIBSON, Vice-President. Mrs. W. S. HUFFMAN, Secretary.

Decorations Day.

To the Editor of the Globe-Republic:

This beautiful, appropriate and patriotic usage opens this year on Saturday. It is quite possible that many of our citizens will think it unnecessary, if not impossible, to close their shops and stores on that busy day, and devote a few hours to the memory of our noble dead. For one, I should exceedingly regret to see any diminution of interest in the observance of the day.

As an objection to the rising generation, showing that republics are not ungrateful, it is worth vastly more than all it costs in time and money.

But it has seemed to me that there are reasons why we should give special attention and emphasis to the approaching observance of this day on Saturday next. No reasonable citizen objects, of course, to a change of offices when the people vote one party out and another in. But when a chief magistrate seems to take pains to select for the highest places he has to bestow the most conspicuous rebel leaders of the South, and the most offensive copperheads of the North, it looks as if he meant to make treason honorable, and loyalty to the old flag odious. It does make a man's blood tingle in his veins to see maligned and scarred veterans turned out of office to make places for men who did everything in their power to destroy the government.

The old soldiers may be at a discount just now, at Washington, but let us show on Saturday that the people of the North have not forgotten them, and will not forget them.

During the procession and the ceremonies at Ferrisville every store, shop, factory, office and other place of business ought to be closed absolutely, so that all could join in the patriotic services. It is to be hoped, too, that unusual attention will be given to the display of flags from every business house and private dwelling.

"Four hundred thousand men, The brave, the good, the true— In tangled woods—in mountain glen, On battlefields and broken tombs, Lie dead for me and you!"

"Four hundred thousand of the brave Have made our ransomed soil their grave. For me and you! Go! Friends, for me and you!"

"On many a bloody plain, Their ready words they drew, And poured their life-blood like the rain, A home—a heritage to gain, 'Tis ours for me and you!"

"Our brothers martyred by our side, They marched and fought and bravely died, For me and you! Good friends, for me and you!"

"A debt we never can pay To them is justly due, And to the nation's latest day, Our children's children still shall say, 'They died for me and you!'"

"Four hundred thousand of the brave, Made this, our ransomed soil their grave, For me and you! Good friends, for me and you!"

Trim them; polish them; scrape them; and fit them all to your feet, yet they will never be truly beautiful unless the circulation of the blood is healthy, and the blood itself in perfect order.
