OWEN BROTHERS

Indications.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Tennessee and Ohio Valley, generally fair weather, except in extreme northern portion, occasional local showers, slightly warmer, southerly winds.

Men's, boys' youths' and children's suits and overcoats to begin the cooler months with.

THREE WAYS

To meet a sudden weather change: 1st, by adding a heavy overcoat; 2d, by changing to a fall suit; 3d, by putting on heavier underwear.

The chief difference, here and elsewhere, is in the prices; perhaps not, though. Maybe quality is chief.

Our fall clothing shows marked differences in price over last year. Our stock throughout, Clothing, Furnishing Goods and Hats, is worth showing and seeing—the newest of goods that haven't had a word of praise or a place on our tables till now.

For this little snap of frozen September we are prepared with stocks of medium weights, overcoats, suits, separate pants of our own manufacture at prices no competition can reach within one profit.

There is much to see among the world of new things just made and placed in store that cannot fail to interest shivering humanity.

We have gathered the best the world affords; we have advantages in buying and manufacturing. We pass the advantages over to you in several ways. Prices, liberality, obligingness, durability, responsibility, linked with the golden rule of one price.

A SCOUNDREL HANGED.

A BRUTAL NEGRO HANGED BY A MOB.

The International Yacht Race—A Scow Capsized and the Crew Drowned—A Hot Fight Among the Wheeling Coal Miners—The Fallures of the Past Week.
CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 11.—Last Saturday a negro named Scales, who had just been discharged from the Cincinnati workhouse and had obtained employment on a farm in Boone county, Ky., made a brutal assault and rape upon a four-year-old daughter of a poor man named Lunsford. The negro knew that the child was alone in the house before he entered it, having threatened to kill her if she told. The little one did not tell her mother until her pain enforced the disclosure. Scales was arrested and with difficulty taken to Burlington jail. There have been rumors nightly of attempts to lynch him. Last night a mob gathered at Florence and in wagons and on horseback went to Burlington, broke into the jail and carried away the negro to the dark woods on the turnpike and hanged him to a tree.

AFTER HIS CHILD.

Mr. Brown, of Medway, whose wife and child are the ones referred to in the article concerning Gearing elsewhere, came up this morning, accompanied by the marshal of Enon, in order to procure his child. At first he went to the house on North street to have a peaceful parley, but found himself locked out. He went to the mayor to get a warrant, but could not get one. He then went to the Probate Court to get a habeas corpus, but as Judge Miller was out of town he failed again. Just there the case stands.

This morning Coroner Coleman took the testimony of W. W. Hovey, in the Haylor inquest. Hovey was the express messenger on the wrecked train. He testified that he heard the engine whistle for the station at the usual time, and felt the air brakes put on just before the train shot onto the siding. He knew, then, that something was wrong and clung to the safety board at the top of the car.

AT THE BANQUET BOARD.

The Army of the Tennessee Indulging in Toasts and Responses.
[From Morning Edition.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The annual meeting of the Army of the Tennessee closed here today. Tonight three hundred sat down in the banquet room at the Grand Pacific Hotel. The toast list was a long one, and the responses generally were in a happy vein. Col. Gilbert A. Pierce responded to "The Nations," Col. R. Dwyer, of St. Louis, spoke to the sentiment, "The President of the United States," Gov. Oglesby spoke upon "Our Boys," Gen. Belknap responded to "The Memories of the Campaign," Gen. M. M. Bane, of Washington Territory, spoke upon "The Army of the Tennessee," and Gen. Logan spoke upon "The Statesmen and Lawmakers of the Civil War." Gen. Logan spoke of the statesmanship displayed by the earlier presidents, and coming down to the present times, said: "Douglas was a statesman whose call to arms for the defense of the union, when all else had failed, accomplished much, even after death had called his glorious soul away." He cited Lincoln as the greatest statesman developed in the century of American independence, and said that the statesmanship which would give protection to American industries and provide for the maintenance of the free schools of the nation would win in the future.

It was decided today to hold the next meeting of the Army of the Tennessee at Rock Island, Sept. 15 and 16, 1886. Gen. A. L. Chittenden, of Chicago, was chosen orator, with Major General Force, of Cincinnati, as alternate.

Quilley, the chairman of the committee of the holders of the first mortgage bonds on the line between Toledo and St. Louis, in which that gentleman says that they will try in the road when it is sold and make a new first mortgage to the amount of $15,000 per mile of the line, the new first mortgage to become the second, and the proceeds of the first to be used to change the gauge to the standard width, buy a new equipment, etc. It is asserted that the Canadian line is in this scheme, and will use the road to St. Louis, as a connection.

THE TUCKER CASE.

Judge White Refuses the Petition of the Plaintiff for Divorce.

In the common pleas court yesterday Judge White was engaged in hearing the evidence in the divorce case of John H. Tucker vs. Amelia C. Tucker. The parties were married in October, 1883, and have no children. The defendant is a rather good-looking, though shabbily-dressed young woman of twenty years, while her husband is considerably older.

The plaintiff stated that he went home on the night of June 13th last, and found the door locked. He unlocked the door and went in, to find his wife in a drunken room with a man, who, he afterwards ascertained, was Michael J. Haley, a married man living on Callegher street, and employed as a woodworker at Thomas'. Both the man and the woman were in disheveled. The plaintiff identified a coat and hat which were produced, as that of the man who left them at his house.

The plaintiff further testified that when he entered the room Haley commenced to "jump round" and got very much excited. He attempted to cool him down by rapping him over the ear with a cane, when Haley concluded it was about time for him to leave, which he did with great alacrity, and without his coat and hat.

On being called to the stand in her own defense, the defendant testified that on the evening in question she had an errand to Stiles' grocery on Clifton street, after which she stopped at the house of a friend, near by, leaving there at about 9 o'clock. She met Haley, whom she had been previously slightly acquainted, on her way home, having with him a young child with her, and she was glad to avail herself of his proffered assistance, and he took up the child and went with her to her home. At the gate he was about to leave her, when she requested him to carry the child into the house, which he did, laying it on the sofa. As it was very warm, he took off his coat, and asked her for a drink of water, which she brought to him. Just then Tucker came in and in a belated Haley over the head with a stick, and drove him out of the house without his coat and hat. She denied that anything criminal had occurred between herself and Haley, who corroborated her story in essential details. He also stated that the room was not darkened.

At the conclusion the court refused to grant the divorce, as he did not consider the evidence conclusive as to the guilt of the defendant.

The plaintiff will institute new proceedings, claiming to be able to produce numerous acts of infidelity on the part of his wife.

OVER HIS DEAD BODY.

Remarkable Orgie Following a Fatal Snuff-Addiction.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 10.—A special to the Daily Gazette from Wabash, Ind., says: About seven o'clock this evening Sylvester Anderson became involved in a saloon fight here with Jacob Mader, a henchman from Peru, Ind. Anderson was badly wounded. He went away and returned half an hour later with his brother James. The brothers entered the saloon by a side door, and made motions as if to strike Mader with their hands. Mader warned them to keep off, but they persisted. Mader then drew a pistol and fired at Sylvester Anderson, but, missing him, the ball struck James in the chest, killing him instantly. Mader calmly walked away. Matthew Anderson, another brother, entered on the scene just after the shooting. He and Sylvester, both intoxicated, executed a war dance around the body of their brother. Officers Hines and Burbank, in arresting the brothers were roughly handled. Hines being seriously stabbed. The Andersons were lodged in jail. Mader is still at large.

A Strategic Railway.

Brussels, Belgium.
"Russia is building a strategic railway to the Austrian frontier. You know what a strategic railway is, don't you? Buys its right of way from the farmers for an annual price, then gets all the land condemned and takes up the papers, then gets a state grant of two or three crores for the directors, buys its iron on long time, and pays for its grading with construction bonds, then issues mortgage bonds in everything outstanding and exchanges it for a deficit, changes its name from the "North and South Air-Line" to the "East and West Shore-Line," divides the swag among the directors and runs the road with the deficit. It may be new in Russia, but it's an old thing with us. Country's just full of strategic railways."

The Description Will Not Do Good.

Philadelphia, Pa.
The late Prince Gustav Adolf, at the Berlin conference, told a friend that Lord Salisbury was only a wooden man painted to look like iron. His lordship has done nothing since to make this description inapplicable.

It is a Fact All the Same.

Chicago Tribune.
It is not very creditable to human nature, perhaps, that it is so, but the fact remains, all the same, that nothing succeeds like success, and next to that repeated and determined effort to success.

Wherein He is Like Necessary.

Atlanta Constitution.
A Louisville paper doesn't hesitate to use the maxim word "unreliability," when speaking of an esteemed contemporary. A mad newspaper man knows no law.

It runs you in sewing to change your position frequently.

BABRILLES WAS HASTY.

AN INCIDENT OF THE GERMAN OCCUPATION OF YAP.

MADEIRA, Sept. 10.—It is stated that the Spanish commander at Manila telegraphs that when it was found that the German flag had been hoisted at Yap, the governor of the Carolines, Senor Babriles, visited the commander of the German gunboat and accused him of piracy and breach of international law. The German commander replied that he had simply obeyed orders. A hot argument ensued ending in a scuffle when the German commander retired in his ship. The governor then boarded the Spanish man-of-war, San Quentin, and requested the captain to fire on the gunboat. The captain refused, however, the governor of the Philippines having ordered him to avoid a conflict. Babriles ordered the crew to fire, whereupon the captain drew a revolver and threatened to shoot the first man who obeyed or repeated the order. Babriles again ordered the men to fire, when the captain shot him in the shoulder. Babriles was afterwards taken as a prisoner to Manila, where his trial is proceeding. The government formally denied that there was any altercation on shore, but are silent in regard to what occurred on the ship.

SPAIN GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS.
MADEIRA, Sept. 10.—The government has just dispatched a special messenger to Berlin with an additional note to Germany regarding the serious question at issue between the two governments. This note, which was approved at the council of ministers held today, requests Germany to renounce all intention of establishing a protectorate over the Caroline and Pelew Islands. Without such guarantee, Spain must decline to give satisfaction for the recent insults to the German embassy.

REMARKS DON'T KNOW IT WAS LOANED.
BERLIN, Sept. 10.—The Office Gazette says that on Aug. 19 the government received a note from Spain protesting against Germany's occupation of the Caroline Islands. Prince Bismarck's reply was handed to the Spanish minister of foreign affairs on Sept. 4. In his reply Prince Bismarck pointed out that German traders who had resided for many years on the Caroline Islands, believing the islands to be unclaimed, had demanded the protection of Germany. Such protection, the chancellor said, would have been neither solicited nor granted if it had been known that Spain claimed the archipelago. Official inquiries showed that the only interests represented on the islands were German and Danish, the former largely predominating. In view of the German's note of March, 1875, to which Germany refused Spanish claims, to the Carolines, Germany was justified in regarding the island as ownerless. The annexation had been effected in good faith, and Germany was willing, in a friendly spirit, to examine into the claims now put forth by Spain, or to submit the matters to arbitration. The chancellor, in concluding his reply, said that the question was too trivial to imperil the friendship existing between Spain and Germany.

SPAIN'S ANSWER TO GERMANY.
MADEIRA, Sept. 11.—King Alfonso presided at the cabinet council. An elaborate answer to Germany was drawn up, in the most friendly terms, explaining the claims of Spain to the Caroline Islands and demanding that Germany recognize them.

CANADIAN CROP PROSPECTS.
TORONTO, Sept. 10.—The report of the Ontario Bureau of Industries, based on returns made under date of the 3d inst., has just been issued. The yield of fall wheat is 23.3 bushels per acre as against an estimate of 23.3 bushels per acre. In spring wheat the ravages from rust have turned out to be much more serious than was supposed. The yield will be only 11.2 bushels per acre as against an estimate of 18. The outlook for oats is less favorable than it was earlier in the season.

Breaking In the Records.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 10.—Five thousand persons witnessed the bicycle contest at Hampden Park today. They were generally well contented and excited and a number of records were lowered. V. J. Webber, the Englishman, cut down the American record for twenty miles to 35:50.1-5. In the five mile professional race, Wood made a world record for two miles of 5:29, and a new American record for four and five miles of 11:32.5 and 14:34.1-5 respectively.

He Needs Encouragement.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 10.—The prohibitionists held a state convention here today, and went through the formality of nominating a ticket. A platform was adopted favoring female suffrage. Ex-Governor St. John was introduced and addressed the convention. He hoped that the convention would result in the nomination of a woman to be governor of Ohio
