REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION. OHIO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION ROOMS, COLUMBUS, O., May 6, 1886.

The Republican State Convention of 1886 will be held in the city of Columbus, on Wednesday, August 25.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF. Two-thirds of the business part of Ellettsville, Ind., was destroyed by fire.

The nomination of Mr. Riley for the Cincinnati post-office has not yet been confirmed by the Senate.

The Knights of Labor made a fine demonstration at Princeton, Ind., yesterday. The attendance was very large.

The associated builders of Detroit have declared a lockout against the bricklayers similar to that in Cincinnati.

Cleveland, O., has a company of over fifty young men drilling and putting themselves into a deplorable condition.

James E. Lowry, Chairman Republican State Committee, Joseph K. Brown, Secretary.

COUNTY REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Sheriff, WILLIAM B. BAKER. For Treasurer, JOHN W. PARSONS.

For Commissioner, JAMES FOLEY. For Inferiary Director, GEORGE ALE.

TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 3, 1886. It certainly is humiliating for a man to realize that his support of a candidate or measure is a damaging influence.

It is said that there is a barrel on tap in this district, and that the Commercial Gazette has its bucket under the spigot.

The names of our streets should be placed in the gas posts, and not in the buildings, so that they could be read by night as well as by day.

We suggest to Dr. Leonard that he employ an official stenographer to travel with him. His double-barrelled mouth is always getting him into trouble.

The Dayton Journal is engaged, almost exclusively, these days in firing hotshots into Murat Halstead, much to the amusement and satisfaction of the general public.

If the editor of the Commercial Gazette will persist in making a fool of himself regarding Congressional matters in this district, the people will try and bear with him.

The Enquirer has so much improved under the management of Allen O. Myers that it has become a matter of general comment. Allen knows what constitutes a newspaper.

Poor Shakespeare. The theory of future rewards and punishments, is about to be verified in his case. Bob Ingersoll has chosen him, as a lecture subject, for the coming season.

Modesty prevents us from naming our Presidential ticket for 1888. We have such good material in Ohio for both first and second place that we cannot make up our mind yet to go outside the State.

We are in favor of hiring an ordinary dog pit and turning the head devils of the Commercial-Gazette and Enquirer loose until they fight their differences to a finish. A long-suffering public want a rest.

The insinuation that Governor Foraker is meddling with congressional nominations in this, or any other district, is unjust to the governor. He is for harmony and no act of his can be honestly interpreted otherwise.

Those who were in haste to visit Lima, and see the "stone man," now report surprising towns was the attraction. That absurd story got going, and, under powerful lubricating influences, can not be over-taken.

We have great sympathy for Riley of Cincinnati and Gillespie of Dayton. Their chances for confirmation by the Senate this session are fast fading away. They have been so long hung upon the hooks that even a rejection would be a relief. They pine for action, let it be favorable or adverse. In the meantime, however, the citizens of the two cities above named continue to receive their mail from trusted republican officials.

There is some newspaper insinuations current, to the effect that I. F. Mack, of the Sandusky Register, brought some undue influence to bear upon the board, of which he was president, to secure the location of the State soldiers' home at his own city. This is unjust. Editor Mack is a gentleman against whom such imputations cannot be truthfully made. He favored Sandusky, undoubtedly, and used every honorable means to secure the plumb, but his skirts are clear of all trickery.

The Fayette county Herald has the following to say regarding congressional matters in this district: "We hope that General Keifer will be the nominee of the Republican party in the eighth congressional district; not that there is not other gentlemen in the district who would make as good congressmen—but no better—but General Keifer has been unjustly misrepresented and bowed down with cause by Colonel Boynton, the Washington City correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, General Keifer, when he was in congress, was one of the ablest members from this state. Our state felt proud of him, and there are hosts of as good Republicans as there are in the state who would rejoice to see him returned to congress. He is a statesman of rare practical intelligence, and a good worker for the interests of the whole people, and his return to a seat in congress would be a proper tribute to the people of the Eighth district."

"True, we are not now in the eighth district, but whoever is elected in that district will not be representative of the district only, but the representative of the people of the state and of the nation." The above that is heaped upon General Keifer emanates largely from the newspaper end of the Commercial-Gazette, and is having an opposite effect to that intended.

In Saturday's issue of this paper Dr. Leonard published a card in which he denied the report that he had publicly stated, at the prohibition state convention, recently held, that Francis Murphy was being led over a barrel, and coming to the attention of Mr. Murphy, called forth the following reply from him: "This non-partisan movement has paralyzed the third party political movement in Ohio. People who would do good to their fellow men are satisfied that they cannot do it by a third party, and so have united with the prohibitionists and prohibitionists, feeling that non-partisan action is right. It is not a political party that we want, but a party that will have individuals more than run. The political third party have not men to sign the pledge that I know of. They do not offer a pledge. Their business is to organize a party and get elected to office by denouncing demagogues and republicans. This is not temperance, nor is it worthy the name of temperance. I believe the third party movement has injured the cause of temperance everywhere. I regard the prohibition nominations of yesterday as many obstacles to the cause of temperance, and I do not think it a party issue, and it is the greatest mistake to cast it into the lottery of politics. As well treat in this way the cause of the school children and the orphan of Christ. Liquor is not removed by legislation, but by individual abstinence."

Let the reported utterances of Dr. Leonard be true or false, the words of Francis Murphy contain food for serious reflection. We comment them to all third party workers.

Every citizen of Springfield and of Clark county should be thinking of county fair, and begin preparing for the exhibition. The time for holding the fair will soon be here, and our people should take sufficient interest in the matter to make it the finest county show in the State. It can and should be done.

Two-thirds of the business part of Ellettsville, Ind., was destroyed by fire.

The nomination of Mr. Riley for the Cincinnati post-office has not yet been confirmed by the Senate.

Look Before you Leap.

A stranger walking down Main street; He hailed from the eastern shore, And being slightly out of gear, Went into a clothing store.

In vain the smiling salesman Showed the whole stock through. He tried a dozen garments on, But none of them would do.

"Why," said the honest stranger, "Is this what you call cheap? I'll go and try at J. M. Knot's place; I'll look before I leap."

At length he reached J. M. Knot's. And through the open door, Sees rows upon rows of summer goods A model clothing store.

And from this great assortment He is fitted in a trice— A suit both cool and latest style At less than wholesale price.

"Hurrah," he cries, "for Knot's. The house that bargains keep; Let all in search of honest goods Just look before they leap."

A Newspaper Correspondent Under Fire. One day, as we lay in our earthworms under a sharpshooter's fire, I saw a civilian clad in a long linen duster ride toward our battery. I thought he had a queer idea of a pleasure trip. To my great amusement he rode into the battery and asked if I were present. I was, and promptly said so. "Well, if you are the man, and I guess you are, here is a package of tobacco for you, and a couple of pounds of plug tobacco. This under a brisk picket and sharpshooter's fire."

He dismounted from his horse and stood by his side, and talked to me for a moment or two, and I heartily wished he would go away. He told me that he was a New York Tribune correspondent. He smiled, pointed to a couple of dead men and asked me to raise his curious inquiry: "Rather warm here, eh? Sharpshooters get the range, but I'm looking toward the woods where those murderous devils lurk. It is a long shot, but I'm sure I can make my mark, and coolly mounted and deliberately rode off. He was a newspaper man, and he was the only man from headquarters whom I saw on a portion of the line held by the Second corps while we lay at North Anna.—Frank Wilkinson.

Painting Houses All One Color. "People who build houses to rent in this city are not half sharp," said a contractor. Chosen as he closed a bargain to paint five pairs of twin tenements a dirty drab. "Most folks like to have it seem as if they owned the place they live in, and painting a whole row of houses all of one color makes it evident to the most stranger that they are all rented. It would cost no more to vary the colors and would increase the rental capabilities of houses 25 per cent.—Minneapolis Journal.

If you have made a fool of yourself, and feel any pride in the matter, don't tell of it. The world does not notice in such vanity, and you will only be laughed at. —Jud Lafagan.

LOCAL NOTICES. If people troubled with colds would take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before going to church or places of entertainment they would avoid coughing, greatly to the comfort of both speakers and hearers. Public speakers and singers find that "Ayer's" wonderfully increases the power and flexibility of the voice.

WILLIS L. CULVER, of Pavilion, N. Y., says that Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir cured him of a long standing Throat and Lung trouble. For sale by The Troupe, drugist.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens. "I am directed by my uncle, Hon. A. H. Stephens, to say to you that he is inclined to believe that he has derived some benefit from the use of Simmons Liver Regulator, and that he wishes to make a return for the same. Yours respectfully, W. G. STEPHENS. "Crawfordsville, Ga., March 31, 1870."

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 31, 1870: "I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons Liver Regulator, with good effect." A. H. STEPHENS.

Serofula, and all forms of scrofulous diseases, are rapidly purged by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

There is no one article in the line of medicine that gives so certain a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Beadonna Backache Plasters. 7c

Hay Fever Sufferers. The number of people annually afflicted with this most annoying malady seems to be increasing. It is a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Beadonna Backache Plasters. 7c

Dr. Ira M. Linn, a prominent physician in New York says: "I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. Have found it very serviceable in above diseases, and it is easily administered on account of its palatability."

Consumption Cured. An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, he will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using, sent by mail, addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Noyes, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

The Shakers do not use Cosmetics, but whoever has seen them must have noticed the bright, clear complexion of the sisters. There is no tint of tinge of yellow about the eyes, no dark brown spots on the skin. They look bright and cheerful because they enjoy good health; they maintain perfect digestion by the use of the Shaker Extract of Roots (Siegel's Syrup). John Conner writes from Roscoe, Mo., Aug. 16, 1884: "I must say a word or two in regard to your GREAT medicine. About four years ago I was taken down with a burning in my stomach and rheumatism. I began growing weak and could not eat anything. I tried everything I could hear of but could not find any help. I was induced to try a bottle of the Shaker Extract of Roots, and I commenced getting better at once. I have used six bottles, and now I can eat anything without its injuring me. I gladly recommend it to anyone suffering with Dyspepsia."
