WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Ohio local rains of snow, higher temperature.

SPRINGFIELD, O., February 14, 1887.

SKEPTICALLY

Inclined people will find truer styles and wider scope for choice among the greater stocks.

There is but one big store and one big stock of clothing and furnishing goods in Springfield, where the wants of the masses are generously provided for, where producer and consumer are brought face to face together, where goods are marked in plain figures and sold as marked. Where no misrepresentations are allowed. In short, where its absolutely safe to deal.

If we save you half on underwear, (which we do not make but buy in enormous quantities), is it not consistent with your believing capacity that we can make it to your interest and profit to see us for clothing that we do make? Greater differences than you, all of you, are aware, come of manufacturing and furnishing single wares direct from the mill.

For example, take boys' knee pant suits. Look here, there and everywhere, compare at home or elsewhere, and what'll be your decision? Almost invariably here for the best made garments for the least money.

From $2 to $3 to $5, to $8, to $10, for short pant suits. We're willing and wanting your price judgment.

In larger boys' suits you find the same great price and quality difference.

And let us not miss this opportunity to speak of the knowledge to be got here in shirtwaists. A museum of handsome garments for the little boys. Delicacies of the season. From the pure, clean, wholesome white, without a spot or blemish, to those of spots in plenty are here. Your shirt waist education will be sadly neglected if a day or a part thereof is not spent among them.

Of hats to keep the head cool, umbrellas to keep the rain off, and other little articles of wearings and carryings necessary for the convenience, comfort and health of humanity at large, our stock shows greater variety and lesser prices than is possible to be worn outside.

THE MICHIGAN FLOOD.

Ice Gorge and Flood at Lyons and Three Rivers—Great Inconvenience and Distress.

The Chinese Massing Near the Russian Border—Spain Fortifying the Sultan of Zanzibar and the Portuguese—Other News.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 14.—An Evening Journal special from Lyons, Mich., says the ice-gorge is frozen solid to the depth of five to ten feet. The river flows through the main street and the merchants are building trestle-works to their stores, only to find their goods frozen in the ice. The cold weather has settled the water nearly a foot, but makes work almost impossible. No working in the water, as it is covered with ice. The first mail steamer last night arrived today, being carried across the gorge below. Families who were driven from their homes without a change of clothing are returning in boats through the windows to find everything covered with ice.

Three Rivers special to the Journal says: The waters began rising again Saturday afternoon, and this morning is six inches higher than the great flood of 1880. Men were at work all night in dredging the Lake Shore track, which is only saved from being washed out by the severe freezing.

Carrying the War into Africa. LONDON, Feb. 14.—A special from Zanzibar states that the sultan has refused to comply with the demand of the Portuguese government of Mozambique, to surrender territory claimed by Portugal, but recognized in the Anglo-German agreement with the sultan as belonging to Zanzibar and has referred the matter to the friendly powers. Portugal has also refused to accept the sultan's relations with the sultan, and has handed down the Portuguese flag from the consulate at Zanzibar. In addition to this a number of Portuguese vessels were destroyed in Tunic, the bombardment of which is threatened.

The Cameron and Hale bills for increasing the navy were reported. The conference on public building at Lafayette, Ind., agreed. The senate then took up the postoffice appropriation bill.

House.—After a long discussion the senate bill for the retirement of the trade dollar was passed, with an amendment providing that the amount of monthly purchases of silver bullion, the rest of the session was devoted to the consular and diplomatic bill.

OHIO LEGISLATURE. Second Session, Sixty-Seventh General Assembly. COLUMBUS, Feb. 12.—SENATE.—No business of importance was transacted. HOUSE.—Bills introduced: Providing for the collection of insurance laws; providing how jurors shall be called. Adjourned until 5 p. m. Monday.

LAGONDA NOTES. Items of Interest from Springfield's Lively Little Suburb.

Miss Etie Chamberlain, of Dayton, is visiting friends in this place.

Our Sabbath school yesterday morning numbered 208. The collection was over $4, ninety-five cents.

The many friends of Hayes Taverner will be glad to learn that his little boy, Bobbie, is slowly improving from his attack of diptheria.

John M. Berger, who runs the Lagonda sand-bank, had his hand badly mashed Saturday. He was driving along the pike and his hand was caught between the front wheel and boiler, and drawn through a narrow place made by frozen mud on the wheel.

On Sabbath evening the monthly prayer meeting was held and attended by a large audience. The children's meetings always draw a large crowd. On this occasion the speakers were all in the young class. Some of the children were very interesting. Rev. C. J. Burkert conducted the services. The following recitations were recited: Ollie Budge, "Not Stangers There," Dollie Spencer, "Live for Something," May Schleich, "Little Hands in Heaven," Arthur Funk, "The Love of Jesus," Willie White, "Bertha Essick," For my King, "Stella Kershner," "An Humble Mind," Nellie Funk, "No Man Knows his Spousetime," "Mabel Lamb," "Come to Jesus," Kate Diefel, "The Mock," "Wanted," Walter Culp, "Only One," Ralph Willis, "If I were a Sunbeam," George Burkert, "The Way, Mark," "The Love of Jesus," "The Young Men of the Present Day," "Allie Culp," "Bessie Berry," "Don't Forget the Old Folks," "Mabel Kelley," "The Good News," "Noble," "Come to Jesus," "Minnie Fowler," "Little Quakeress," "Lula Noble," "Scatter Seeds of Kindness," Emma Higley, "The Shining Stars," "Meyra Culp," "The Love of Jesus," "Cliffie Grove," "Th. P. Poon's Social," "Tina Fowler," "The Tall Tree," "Dottie Lauer," "Sum in Arithmetic," "Flossie Scott," reading "She Ourselves." The programme was excellent, and well rendered, the little folks facing the large audience like young heroes.

Stated for Their Sins. The station house slate this morning presented the following choice selection of names: Charles Daugherty, sale-keeping; Geo. A. Morris, drunk and disorderly; Henry Miller, disorderly; Ed. Clark, drunk and disorderly; Tom Vanderbit, drunk and disorderly; Fritz Benick, Sarg. McCann and Edward McCann, disorderly; William and Kate Katruff, disorderly; Eugene Crumbeater, violating Sunday ordinance and assault and battery.

William Zink, a workman in the Bar and Knit shops, had his right hand badly crushed Saturday afternoon. The finger in one manner was caught in the cogs of a machine and badly mutilated. He was brought to the office of the Drs. Dunlay, where the second finger was amputated. The other fingers were badly mangled, but not permanently. Zink resides on east Main street.

CONGRESS. BLOODY BEATEN. Conrad Hergl Seriously Cut Up With a Beer Glass in the Hands of Granbacher.

A racket occurred early Sunday evening at the Western House, on West Main street, which is a combined hotel and saloon, presided over by Eugene Granbacher. The proprietor has a room or two upstairs supplied with tables, where young men are wont to congregate on a Sunday afternoon and indulge in a quiet game of cards and play their best. This last night, however, and yesterday brought the proof, Conrad Hergl and four others were so engaged yesterday, when, after possibly getting a little drunk, they were suddenly around, some difference arose between Hergl and Granbacher, whereupon the latter seized a heavy beer glass and struck Hergl over the head with several times. The man was knocked down and laid fearfully.

A companion finally succeeded in getting the man to his home, in the rear of 177 West Main street, where he lives with his young wife. He is a baker by trade, working in one of the city bakeries, and is only twenty years old. Dr. Russell was called at once summoned, and made an examination which revealed no less than six long gaping cuts scattered over the top of the man's head, every one open clear to the skull. The wounds were washed and dressed and bandaged, but the doctor did not dare to take any stitches for fear some pieces of glass should have been shattered off by striking and bone and found lodged there. This is very likely to have happened, as the blows were administered with all the force imaginable. The skull, however, showed no signs of having been cracked. Hergl's sole danger now lies in possible poisoning from the glass, which is always considered a very serious substance. Beer glasses are no exception. In such cases erysipelas is liable to set in.

Later in the evening Granbacher was again in jail under the double charge of violating the Sunday ordinance and assault and battery. Affidavits will also be filed against the remaining four members of the party.

THE RINEHART WILL CASE. The Circuit Court Sustains the Probate and Common Pleas Decisions.

Oscar T. Martin, Esq., has received a letter from Judge Sinsack, of the circuit court, stating that that judiciary had rendered the decision in the now noted Emeline Rinehart will case. The circuit court unanimously sustains the finding of Probate Judge Miller, and of the Clark county common pleas court. Judge Miller's decision in brief, was that Miss Emeline Rinehart, deceased, at the time of her death, was a resident of, or in legal possession, had her domicile at Lafayette, Ind., and not in Springfield, Ohio. That being under 21 years of age at the time of her death, she was, according to the laws of Indiana, a minor, and could not make a will.

Being 18 years of age, she might have made a will in Ohio, and J. W. Beasley and wife, of Lafayette, Ind., near relatives of the deceased, stating that the will could not be probated in Indiana, according to law, offered it for probate here. Judge Miller, as stated, decided that the place of domicile was in Ohio, and that the will was made by Oscar T. Martin, Esq., and J. P. L. Cochran, Esq. The decision of Judge Miller was sustained pro forma by the common pleas court, and taken at once before the circuit court, the decision of which will be appealed.

RAILROAD TRAVEL. All the Roads Report a Rushing Business Today.

They also sent out A. Henderson and wife, of the St. J. P. O. train, and the office force, Edward Kinnear and J. Williams, and wife to New York. Mrs. John Webb, Louisville, Ky., John Monahan, James Wolf and E. P. Torbert, Lexington, Kentucky.

The L. & W. folks report the best day's work of the year, having sold tickets to eleven cities, and taken at once the following points: Oberlin (21), New York, Hoxie, Ark., Hagerstown, Md., Ft. Wayne, Ind., Cleveland, Kansas City, Baltimore, Gordonville, Va., Toledo (4), Adrian, Mich., (2), Detroit, Lansing, Mich., (2), Eureka, Ills., Troika, Kas., (2), Philadelphia, (2), besides a large number of short distances and local tickets.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT, WHO?

The Question to be Considered at the School Board Meeting Tonight—The Aspirants.

From Home and Abroad—Mr. Holden's Deal and Mr. Taylor's Chance—Letter From Superintendent White and His Final Directions.

The meeting of the board of education this (Monday) evening will be one of supreme interest, from the fact that the all-important question of who shall succeed Colonel W. J. White as superintendent of the public schools is to come up for discussion, perhaps for disposition. It has practically resolved itself into a plain political question, and the democrats, led by C. E. Holden, of the Eighth ward, claim their ability to elect their man, A. E. Taylor, of the first ward, insisting that they have already received the ten votes necessary to his election. The color headed members of the board—acting independently of political preferences—are arguing, that the matter be not pushed through with such urgent haste. They claim that it is a question of the most profound importance to the educational interests of the city, and should not be rushed through like the election of a janitor. It is their wish that, since no alternative is possible, the resignation of Colonel White, superintendent of the schools, be not accepted until the candidates are announced to the board as such; and that the entire matter be then referred to the committee on the subject, consisting of J. J. Jones, J. W. White, and J. W. White, for their consideration.

Mr. Holden, floor manager of the Taylor, says that at the meeting of the board, he proposed Friday evening, resolutions were passed sanctioning and approving the selection of Mr. Taylor as superintendent of the schools. He said that the board had been particularly desirous that so grave and important a matter be kept in the hands of the board, and that the candidates receive fair and thoughtful consideration.

He said that the board had been particularly desirous that so grave and important a matter be kept in the hands of the board, and that the candidates receive fair and thoughtful consideration.

As was already stated, Prof. A. E. Taylor, Prof. W. H. Weir and Prof. Frank P. Davidson are the leading local aspirants for the position. It is also mentioned in connection with the place, but he insists that it was only a joke and that he never had a serious thought in the matter. He said that he had received applications for the position, but by no means limited to this city alone. President Lorenz has received applications from applicants from all over the country, among them being some very prominent educators. Chief of those who have applied are:

Prof. J. A. Andrews, head master of a university at Pawtucket, Rhode Island.

Hon. L. Roy D. Brown, state commissioner of common schools, Mr. Brown announced that he had resigned his position, but that his term as state school commissioner does not expire until July, 1887, but in the event of his election as superintendent of the schools, he would resign at once.

MEETING AT TEMPERANCE HALL.

The Hall Packed and Thirty-two Signs Secured, Including a Prominent Contribution.

The temperance meeting yesterday afternoon was the largest held for weeks. The audience, too was a fine one, made up largely of young people.

Seated also on the platform were Rev. Dr. McDonald, pastor of Frewell Baptist Church, R. N. Thompson, Rev. J. W. Ryder, Uncle Jas. Clippinger, Mr. Starr, of Marysville, some members of the Young Men's Association, and several other gentlemen.

The meeting was begun by the singing of a grand song, after which Rev. Ryder read a report of the committee on the hall, and then the leader made an appropriate introduction of the speakers. The first was a characteristic address.

Miss Minnie Starr then favored the audience with a recitation of "The Last Hour," which was most exquisitely rendered and allowed the display of considerable elocutionary art.

Short addresses were made by Will Taylor, Mr. Starr and others, but the great interest of the meeting centered in getting signatures. For a while the meeting resembled one of the old Murphy meetings in the City Hall. It is a fact, however, that after song was sung, and young men and women, old men and boys, went up and signed the pledge, many of them for their own sake, and many for the sake of others.

It was found that thirty-two had added their names to this roll of honor. Among the number was James R. Russell, the general agent of the Young Men's Association, who will delight a host of friends. The announcement of the committee's name by Mr. Starr was greeted with another round of applause.

Miss Starr was called forth again and rendered "The Lazarus' Feast," which was a most beautiful and touching address. Dr. McDonald pronounced the benediction.

The Band of Hope meeting which preceded the temperance meeting, was a most outpouring of children and young people being wonderful. Miss Starr delighted all by reciting "The Kumbesler's Bill," which was a most beautiful and touching address.

On Thursday forenoon and afternoon the Clark county W. C. T. U. holds its regular quarterly meeting at the hall, with open doors, a general invitation being extended to men and women, and to all who are in the Union or not. An interesting programme has been prepared and will be carried out.

SPRINGFIELD THEATERS. The Black Crook This Evening—Marie Prescott, as Czeka—Nancy & Co.

This evening at the Grand opera house the famous Black Crook will be presented. Of the company and performance, the Utica (N. Y.) Press says:

Notwithstanding the unusual capacity of the Grand opera house, the grand room only was announced, and Major Rufus Soperby, the indefatigable veteran manager, who chanced to be in town, was the chief, which was a very fortunate circumstance, as he is a most judicious and successful manager, and all did their best to please an audience of, as shown by the ticket count, nearly 1,200 paid admission to the performance. The programme was pleased was heard from the frequent and hearty applause, which continued at intervals until the transformation scene was reached. The grand finale, a piece of scenic work. In the third act, O. Diman, the well-known and excellent ventriloquist, the three Herbert brothers, the two young men, the two young women, and Vichie, Japanese musical artist, appeared in their several specialties, all giving excellent satisfaction.

Secure your seats for the evening of Tuesday (Wednesday) evening Springfield theatre-goers are to have a genuine treat in the presentation of the grand opera house, of "Czeka," by Marie Prescott and her powerful company. The play is pronounced by the press of the country to be one of the best of the season. It has been seen. The Burlington Herald says:

Marie Prescott has made a hit in "Czeka." Few, with such wealth of form, stage presence, and with such a voice, have ever given so magnetic power, musical intonation and charming manners, have ever appeared in Burlington. Miss Prescott's voice has a richness and a sweetness, which she possesses the consent of the passions softly and with refinement. While she is a very young lady, her range, in her most joyous and graceful, and her great consuming love she bears her husband with portraiture of life truthfulness, and the contending passions of love and jealousy, which she finds her returned husband's love given to another, are terrible in their concentrated power.

Seats are now on sale at Pierce's. NANCY & CO. Augustin Dal's latest and merriest comedy "The Boys Profit by Your Experience" will be given at the Grand opera house, Wednesday evening, February 16th, by an excellent company. The New York Times says:

"The Boys Profit by Your Experience" is a witty and successful comedy, and is well adapted to the stage. The play is pronounced by the press of the country to be one of the best of the season. It has been seen. The Burlington Herald says:
