BEFORE HIS HONOR.

"Munk" Sikes Bound Over to Court - Other Cases Disposed Of.

Several cases were disposed of by Judge Young in the police court yesterday afternoon, the most important being that of Munk Sikes. He was bound over to the next grand jury in the sum of $300 for robbing Sam Hing, the East Main street Chinese laundryman of $170. He confessed the crime and will doubtless have to answer the grand jury. In default of bail he was remanded to jail. Patsy Sullivan, his alleged accomplice, pleaded not guilty and will be heard.

Joseph Baneroff got $10 and costs for being disorderly, while William Cook, and John Baner got $5 and costs each and Dick Strider $2 and costs for the same offense. George Smith, for loitering, was fined $10 and costs. Mason and William Armstrong, Al Logan and Dan Brubaker charged with being disorderly, Joe Hallock, for drunkenness, and Margaret Hunt, for loitering, were dismissed.

Sam Tinsling to the Arcade Electrical Force. Mr. Charles Gibford, of the Arcade hotel office, last Monday evening received a telegram from his home in New York city, announcing the critical and probably fatal illness of his mother, who has been stricken with an attack resembling paralysis. Mr. Gibford left for the east on the 9 o'clock train last evening.

Mr. Frank Van Ness was also called away yesterday by the death of his brother-in-law at Cleveland. Mr. Ralph B. Thoburn is temporarily assisting in the Arcade office.

It is since learned that Mr. Gibford's intention is permanent, as it was his intention to resign June 1, anyhow. Mr. Frank Weaver, formerly head clerk for Mr. Lockfield, but late of the Hotel Koffner, at Charleston, W. Va., will take his place.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Alonso Leffel's Residence Not of Fire Last Evening.

At 6:20 o'clock last evening an alarm of fire was sent in from box 28, at the South engine house, caused by a slight blaze in the roof of Alonso Leffel's residence, No. 190 east Patton street. Lightning had struck one of the chimneys and knocked it down, setting fire to the roof. Within three minutes after the house was struck the Southern boys had a hose on the roof and before the fire had fairly started it was extinguished. The boys were highly complimented on their promptness. The damage was not over $10 and the house was insured.

Patent Fertilizers for Fruit.

Patent fertilizers have decidedly improved the desirable quality of fruits. Wherever the percentage of this element has been raised the change is accompanied by an increase of sugar and decrease of acid. This is hardly necessary to say is an important and desirable change - a matter of dollars and cents. Other things being equal, the fruit with the largest per cent. of sugar will bring the highest price. Moreover, less desirable varieties may be brought up to a higher standard, thus giving value to some good quality, as hardness and prolific bearing are highly valued. The quality and character of garden and orchard products can be modified by the effect of special fertilizers is of immense importance in its practical as well as scientific bearing.

Diamond Sales.

Diamonds ought not to be worn on the sides of the shoes, as a certain French actress once wore them. She had to faint every night, and be carried off the stage, so she increased the sole of her shoes with diamonds. I remember reading that cracks used to go lightly to see her be diamonded chasseur. But they may be worn as buckles on the shoes, or even grouped in a monogram on the toes. - London Times.

Paris' Clique System.

Paris still retains the clique system of men, and one of the prominent chiefs has resigned rather than submit to a reduction in his salary. The great man was better paid than the average actor, and had twenty of the best seats in the house at his disposal every night. - Chicago Times.

Cabling to their Doctors.

Of late the Atlantic cables have been often used by wealthy Americans to consult their physicians who were traveling abroad. The other day a New York doctor cabled to a young American physician who has recently located in Paris for advice in a very important case. - Chicago Times.

LAGONDA LAGONICS.

Interesting and Newsworthy Items from Springfield's Lively Suburb.

Rev. S. M. Hipperd, of Westerville, general agent of Otterbein university, made a short call upon Rev. C. J. Burdett on Monday.

Mrs. Woodward, of Franklin, O., has been here a few days, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Forest Groves. She returned home on Monday.

Rev. Z. Warner, D. D., of Dayton, will preach at Lagonda on Sunday next, morning, at 10 o'clock, and that the shops at Lagonda run until 9 o'clock, so the voters could not attend. As it was a number of the faithful, they were disappointed, and were left forty different delegates voted for.

Ryan & Spillney have at last completed their water works ditch through this place. To the great delight of all parties concerned, and they were tomorrow, as all felt more or less interested, as travel was greatly disturbed for months. They now have the great ditch filled up, fences rebuilt, etc., and the damage to a few can never be placed.

Our councilman, F. J. Miller, will present a large petition to council tonight, signed at Lagonda on Sunday next, morning, and traveled by the corporation line. This is necessary before we can have sidewalks, which we greatly need. Lagonda has been left out very much, and asking favors of the city, but we feel that we are not an unimportant quantity, and as we have been taxed for years to fix up the roads, and to have sidewalks, we feel almost wholly neglected, we feel like asking that we may receive. We refer more especially to the north side, where the school and the depot are situated, and the town is located. The south side has the water works and gas, through the efforts and influence of the Champion firm, while the other side has been getting along in the darkness and mud, the best we could, hence we feel like speaking our little piece and reminding the great city that, though we be forgotten, we are not dead.

Death of an Old and Respected Citizen of Clark County.

On last Friday Mr. Benjamin Woodley, one of Madison township's wealthiest and most prosperous and highly esteemed citizens, died at his home near South Charleston at 10 o'clock. Mr. Woodley was a farmer and one of Clark county's most substantial citizens. He was about seventy years of age and had been a resident of Clark county for more than fifty years. A wife and four married children mourn his loss. The funeral occurred on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Alleged Robbers Arrested.

Some time ago George Burnett, who keeps a cigar and tobacco store on south Yellow Springs street, lost a lot of cigars and tobacco by burglars. The police have been working on the case, and Sunday night officers Marshall and Thompson arrested Frank Phillips and lodged him in the station house on the charge of petit larceny. He is supposed to be one of the robbers. Yesterday a young man named Anderson was arrested by Chief Walker on the same charge and for the same case. The proof against Phillips and Anderson is said to be conclusive.

Knights of Pythias.

Quite a number Knights of Pythias from Dayton and Cincinnati passed through the city yesterday, en route for Sandusky, where the Grand Lodge of Ohio will convene in annual session tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Sir Knights J. S. Miles and W. H. Burnett go as delegates to the Grand Lodge from Red Star lodge of this city, and Sir Knights O. E. Frost and Thomas McKinney, as delegates from Monocroft lodge. Sir Knight J. W. Coles, of this city, who is grand master of exchequer, left for Sandusky yesterday.

To Manufacturers of all kinds of Patent Machinery of Springfield, Ohio.

Eureka, Kansas, is located in the center of a large farming district with good rail road connections with Texas, Nebraska, and Colorado, and direct connection with Missouri and Arkansas, where the best of timber and live oaks are to be had in abundance. It is well situated for the manufacture of machinery. Write me and I can show you how you can make two dollars here to one there.

New Uses for the Shoe Button.

It is a singular fact that nine out of ten of the buttons and tramps brought into the station house have on their person a shoe button. No matter what kind of shoes they wear, still they have one of these simple instruments. Lieut. Hambrick decided a week ago to make a collection of the shoe buttons taken from the prisoners brought into Brecken street station. In the seven days they numbered eighteen, and like young ladies do with their strings of buttons, he strung them together. He has now a chain some three feet in length. A peculiar thing is that the hook end is bent into a variety of shapes. The penchant for having buttons attracts the attention of the detectives long ago, and it happened to strike some bright minded policeman that the little instrument could be made to do the work of a skeleton key, as far as the locks in common use were concerned. In reality, the shoe button, to all intents and purposes, was converted into a burglar's key, and still could be readily passed off as a necessary implement in arranging one's toilet. The possession of a skeleton key is a serious offense and carries with it conviction of a penal term. The law, however, cannot regard the shoe button as a contraband article and still the evil intending are as well fortified with it as with the burglar's favorite tool, since, when properly shaped, it does the work equally as well. The expert can pick a lock with one of these little hooks with as much facility as if he had a skeleton key, and yet if caught with it in his possession enjoys immunity from the statute covering the offense. Usually, when one of these instruments is found on a prisoner's person it is thrown away, or perhaps given back if the owner is released. No doubt in the course of a year several hundred are taken up by the police. The amount of theft that could be traced to them would very probably prove startling. - Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE TRAIN DISPATCHER.

A Man Who Holds the Life of Every Passenger in His Hand.

There is a class of railway employees, almost entirely unknown to passengers, whose responsibility is much greater than that of any other class of men. They are the train dispatchers, whose every order is implicitly obeyed by trainmen, and while they are not directly responsible for the movements of that train alone, the dispatcher holds in his hands the lives of every individual on every train on the road, and on a train having a large train of freight cars, the responsibility is still greater. This class is the most important in the public prints. This class is the most important in the public prints. This class is the most important in the public prints.

Every one understands that all trains are chartered, or have a time set for passing each station, which time can in no instance be anticipated, and hence all trainmen know where all other trains ought to be at any particular moment. If on time, but as trains frequently and generally get late, the train of inferior class must have its movement expedited by some extraordinary cause, or it may be delayed for hours awaiting a train that may have been wrecked, or has been kept back for some other of many causes. Then the duties of the train dispatcher are of importance. He will probably give an order to the delayed train by telegraph directing it not to go beyond a certain place which he thinks it can reach without difficulty, and he directs the opposing train to proceed to the same place and there pass the other train, and in that manner the trains are enabled to pass each other without any delay to either. His great responsibility consists in that he may have a dozen other trains in his charge at the same time, and in directing one train to go beyond its usual place to meet another, he may neglect to give an order to the second train, and in such an event a collision would probably ensue, much property be destroyed and probably lives be lost.

It will readily be seen that the slightest mistake of a train dispatcher might cause serious results, and in this respect his responsibility is probably greater than that of any other individual under whose charge the public are placed. - Philadelphia Times.
