

SOAP.

Springfield Republic

EVENING AND WEEKLY:

The REPUBLIC prints the New York and Western Associated Press Dispatches and the Reute Cable (Foreign) Telegraph.

C. M. NICHOL THUS, G. BROWN, PRESIDENT.

SPRINGFIELD PUBLISHING COMPANY,

Publishers and Proprietors. THE EVENING REPUBLIC to published every evening except Sanday, and is delivered at the rate of loc. per week. Single copies 2c. THE WEEKLY REPUBLIC is published

All communications and contributions should be addressed to Chirton M. Nicuota, editor, and all business letters to Thomas G. Baows, manager.

REPUBLIC BUILDING,

"Telephone No. 250. MONDAY EVENING. AUGUST 22, 1887.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET

Lieutepant Gevernor

Supreme Judge (long term).

ome Judge (short term) F. J. DICKMAN.

State Auditor.

Member Board Public Works. C. A. FLICKINGER

BEPUBLICAN SOUNTY TICKET

Representative. GEORGE C. RAWLINS. Probate Judge, JOHN C. MILLER.

Auditor, o. F. SERVISS. JAMES H. RABBITTS.

S. A. TODD

Commissioner

W. H. STERRETT. Infirmary Director JOHN M. STEWART

J. M. BENNETT.

Let us pulverize Powell

The new State Journal's "Round Table" is always piled high with good things.

The new King building is an architect-

This is county fair week. Let everybody visit the grounds and see the finest exhibition of agricultural products, machinehibition of agricultural products, machine-ry and horses and cattle ever seen in this by-laws of the assembly Wade was illegally city since the state fairs were held here.

democrats about their man Powell. They has a principle or two.

tions are producing inflammation in the bowels of the bourbon traternity.

the fine steel frigate, Chicago; the dispatch | the erection of new buildings, etc., etc. boat, Dolphin, about which so much has been said; the tine, large twin screw steel cruiser, Charleston; the steel cruiser, Baltithe "gun boat No. 1," the "Dynamite shops will be running by the time the active These are all savage ships, constructed with chine town in the world-with fifty to the purpose of doing damage to the enemy, seventy large factories, all running on full and they constitute a pretty substantial time in their season, and all prosperous. beginning.

la lelphia, the well-known book publishers. provements that would have made local and Messrs. Charles H. Pierce & Co., the Springfield booksellers, have united in pre- accustomed to large things of this sort that what did I see stacked upon every side of senting to the editor of the REPUBLIC, the new edition (with supplement) of Dr.
we have failed to appreciate their full imnew edition (with supplement) of Dr.
weetance and significance. It is our only of tobacco, wine from Berne, cigars from new edition (with supplement) of Dr. portance and significence. It is our opin- Vevey, and heaven knows what besides! Joseph E. Worcester's magnificent union that the East street shops will be It was a complete store house, in fact, and guage," a large quarto, of 2126 pages, and cumstances, but should this industry fail to hide away the contraband merchandise probably the finest specimen of book- to be revived it should be understood that tains the very latest results of the researchtains the very latest results of the research-es and discoveries of words and puts the city—a city that cannot fail to grow and ever to recover from the amazement of, the times. The table of synonymes; the individuals or one or two local industries. Pronouncing Dictionary of Biography; the Pronouncing Vocabulary of Christian Names; and the Pronouncing Gazetteer of tribute to the enterprise of the Ohio State the world, are in plain, readable type, nice- Journal. It can afford to do so, for it is, ly arranged, and are wonderfully complete. Itself, an unquestionably first-class news-In these features, Worcester is superior to paper, With the State Journal coming out any dictionary that has ever been pub- in the morning and the Disputch in the lished. The work has also a key to the evening, Columbus is well equipped in the classical pronunciation of Greek, Latin and line of metropolitan newspapers. Scripture proper names, with terminational vocabularies, and a fine, ample collection Greek, Latin, French, Italian and Spanish venerable Thomas Nast as the caricaturabout as much as he could carry.

A press dispatch from Jamestown, N. Y. lated Saturday. August 20th, states that Mr. Lewis Miller, of Akron, president of I knew not whitherward my soul is setcottage holders, for an attempt to take the Laugh the green valleys with their hurrying affairs of the assembly into his own hands.

We quote from the dispatch as follows: meeting of the cottage owners he appeared in a lawful capacity, and that Policeman Taylor, by order of President Miller, illegally arrested him without any reasonable cause or justification, and demands judgment in the sum of $5,000, together with the sum of $5,000, together with the sum of $5,000 together with the s

It is understood that Chancellor Vincent It is understood that Chancelor Cincent has threatened there would be no pro-gramme at Chantauqua in 1888, and that the gates would be closed unless the cot-tage owners submitted to the decrees of the The arrest has caused a the managers, arising out of the attempt fire, like the rest of us, for warmth and of the boarding-house people to escape the comfort, the herdsmen smoked and lisprovisions of leases signed by them, in which they agreed to pay ten per cent, of their receipts to the managers, the money received being used for the improvement of the hut, a Vandois gendarme, wet and of the grounds. The case against the lawyer. Wade, was dropped, last week and heels, showed himself in the opening. it is not likely that his proceeding against Placing his capote and carbine in a cor-real points at issue are in the equity, in due time, and the assembly man-acers—who are honest and square men—life before had I seen so strange a countewill abide by the result, as will the cottage holders. Mr. A. C. Wade, attorney at law. Jamestown, is getting about ten thousand a patchwork of seams and cicatrices. dollars' worth of of free advertising in the Nevertheless, in spite of fits disfigure every Thursday, and is one of the most complete family newspapers in the country; and we think that that is about all that he will get, or exith news and miscellany. It per year, invariably cash in advance.

In the country is published one, the face was a kind one, the face of an old and brave soldier. The conversation, checked for a moment by his coming, was renewed again, the will, very naturally, make all he can, for newspapers of the country, and we think ments, the face was a kind one, the face will, very naturally, make all he can, for painful duty of the mountain guards, the himself, out of the situation, but the affair tragic story of cont abandists, forming is one that only interests him and his is one that only interests him and his something to relate, and when it came to clients and the assembly managers and the turn of the gendarme, cheered by fre-

> Since writing the foregoing we see in a Chantanqua dispatch to the Tribune, New tangua platform last night that unless the smugglers, whose route I had to watch! cottage owners stopped the trouble at once Many a night have I passed in a hole in no programme would be issued next year the rocks or in the branches of the pines and that the assembly gates would not be in those trackless woods where one only open during 1888.

If this is true the cottage owners will be pretty apt to subside, for without the as- noon the corporal came to me and said:

"Much ado about nothing" has been described as follows, in the James- must start at once and take Bijou with town (N. Y.) Sunday News: The meeting of the members of the As- quires nerve.

theater, besides printed notice in the As-sembly Herald. The rules of the assembly require a lease holder to record the lease wounded and blee and vote. His authority was demanded The new King building is an architectural beauty, and the new Henry flats building, now going up on the site of the old Werden house, will be another, on a much larger scale.

becopie to reorganize, and a man by the name of Gale was made chairman. Wade then moved that the ten per cent tax be rescinded. At this stage Mr. Miller, president of the assembly, ordered Wade's arrest, which was made. Wade struggled and who hours, when at last I approached the two hours, when at last I approached the abused the officers in profane and threaten ing language. Gale was arrested also, and both were released on their own recognipresent at the meeting, had no right to It isn't kind in republicans to twit the sition all through was untenable.

This is the whole matter in a nutshell. feel badly enough about him, themselves, Messrs, Miller, Root, and others at the head Our Clark county delegates wanted Camp- of the Chautauqua movement, with Chanbell, who is a man of some character and celler Vincent and Secretary and Superintendent W. A. Duncan, are men of the highest character, liberal and generous in the snow to smoke. The night was The democrats are not cuitivating the Christian gentlemen, who have put hunprohibitionists as much as they have been dreds of thousands of dollars into this enin former years. The union labor party terprise, conducted purely in the interest of has loomed up among them and its opera- the cause of popular education and enlightenment in the homes of the people of America, and in the homes of Englishmen, We are glad to learn from the September Russians, Chinese, Japanese, and of the issue of the American Magazine (130 and luhabitants of other portions of the world 132 Pearl street, New York.) that we are as well, and they have never taken a dolbeginning to have a navy. In a descriptive lar out of the proceeds, all of which will article in this magazine we have illustra- be devoted to the extinguishing of the tions representing the sloop of war, Boston; debt and the improvement of the grounds,

This is the time for the manifestation of courage and nerve by the business men of more; the twin screw steel cruiser, Newark; Springfield. No doubt the East street Cruiser:" the "gun boat No. 2," the doub'e season of 1888 opens, but if the whole plant turreted monitor, Puritan; a single turreted were fenced in for all time, Springfield monitor, and the torpedo boat, Stiletto, would still be the largest agricultural ma-Several very important enlargments have been made during the year, and several The J. B. Lippincott Company, of Phinew factories erected. These were imbooms in most other cities, but we are so amine the surroundings; but, sacre Dieu running again, in due time, in improved cirmaking ever produced in America. The these shops represent but a small part of supplement, consisting of 200 pages, con- the manufacturing operations of Spring-

The Dispatch pays a graceful and hearty

And now we are to have an illustrated of getting out—I was caged like an animal, and with my lamp drawing to a close, the wick already leaping and sputof words, phrases and quotations, from the democratic weekly in New York, with the languages. Indeed, the work, in general ist. If the democrats can stand this inand in detail, is complete and really su- fliction we are sure the republicans can. perb. Mr. Sam. Harford, (of Pierce & Co.,) but in the name of all that is wonderful and brought the book over to us and it was mugwumpish, what's the matter with Puck of cranny or narrow break extend and Harper's Weekly?

A JOURNEY.

Mr. Lewis Miller, of Akron, president of the Chautauqua assembly, with two policemen, were to be arrested for suppressing a Jamestown lawyer, at a meeting of cottage holders, for an attemot to take the

And smile the angels o'er heaven's parapet. In the affidavit and complaint Mr. Wade one straight, dark path • • • and these things sets forth that at the time of the annual are so fair.

Might I but climb the mountain's gleaming

Life's dark path leadeth thro the gathering

A GENDARME'S STORY.

In the autumn of 18-we round ourgreat deal of excitement, and was a dis-couraging feature of (this) Grand Army the Chalet of Tranbelane. It was well This is a tempest in a teapot. It is raged on the outside, sweeping and howl-This is a tempest in a teaper. It is simply the result of a conflict between some boarding-house keeper at Chautauqua and hurling itself with fury upon the pines of the Swiss Jura. Gathering about the

Mr. Miller will amount to much. The ner with the rest of the trappings, he explained to us that he, too, had been surs. G. BROWN.

sec y and tracks, and will be settled, decisive lost in the prised by the storm and for several hours courts, and will be settled, decisive lost in the pines. As the light of the burning logs fell upon the new arrival I nance. The nose was broken and bent > the basis of our tak. Every one had is of no concern whatever to the outside quent trips to his gourd and the grateful world. The Chautauqua assembly will warmth of the fire, he gave us the follow-

> "go right along," from year to year with its grand educational work, all the more successfully from the settlement of a perplex-for I was but 25 years of age, and, with ing local question which is sure to come out flattering myself, a well set boy.
>
> Com this appeal to the courts.
>
> Detailed to the post of Cure—the extreme station of the canton of Vaud, near the Fort des Rousses—in the winter of 18—, I York, dated August 20th, the statement day of my life exposed to the danger and hardships of that open frontier and the Dr. Vincent announced from the Chau- forests of Amout. Ah, those miserable > meets with crows and poisonous reptiles! "But to return to my story: One after sembly Chantangua would be a barren and his two dogs of brothers will load waste, so far as the boarding-house keepers | themselves at Des Rousses; they will be obliged to return through the hollows of hind them, the lieutenant under the Vermillay, and you in the hollow itself. As made concerning an affair which is you have a longer route than we, you you. Come, hurry up, boy; this trip re> sembly for the annual election of trustees resulted in much confusion, and was the scene of a disgraceful attempt to disrupt the proceedings. The printed constitution and by-laws give notice of the time and place of meeting, and public notice was given from the platform of the amphi-

"I had found him after a brawl, wounded and bleeding; had cared for and ore such person shall vote for trustees. | cured him; and since then he had never number than usual gath- left me. By 4 o'clock I was on the road. third of the whole number entitled to vote across my shoulders, the sword at my as required by the constitution. Then according to the rules the meeting was adjourned and the body of trustees proceeded to the election. During the meet-beart in spite of my difficulties, pleased ing Mr. A. C. Wade, the counsel of the cottagers, opposed to the 10 per cent. tax. strength in open fight with this terrible attempted to take part and make motions. Petit Francois, who daily defied our watchfulness, and on Sunday openly walked with the girls of the neighborownership. As the lease was not on the villain knew that we were not made to recognize him, and he began to ballof stone, and with an income of only of 3 o'clock. We walked for an hour of 3 o'clock. We walked for an hour of the recognize him, and the began to balldoze the officers, using violent, abusive thirty cents a day from the government and threatening language. The assemblage adjourned when Wade called on the "When I think of him, that scamp with two hours, when at last I approached the hollow of Crousz, a narrow defile between the Noir Mont and Mont Sallez, a mere goat's path, in fact; to the right of it s fearful precipice, to the left a polished wall-and what a height-not less that

1,000 metres! 'Imagine for yourselves the cold and the gloom of those interminable forests with their centenary pines, whose trunks were mossed with age, whose branches bent and cracked under the weight of snow-and not a soul save myself in the whole of that icy solitude! I walked perhaps 100 feet into the defile, then seated mysel clear and bright, but I smoked with composure, for I knew perfectly well that the smugglers would remain at Des Rousser until 10 o'clock at least, in order to arrive at Begnins about daybreak. "By this time, the cold beginning t affect me, I was growing very drowsy when suddenly my attention was attracted by the strange behavior of Bijou. He had burrowed into a pile of snow heaper against the wall of the hollow, and in stead of squatting himself quietly on his hannehes, as was his habit, was digging scratching and sniffing about the excavation as if seeking to unearth a treasure.

" 'I must see what he is about,' I said to myself; 'there's something suspicious over there.' And leaning my carbine against the rocks, I took off my sword and began to dig in the hole at which Bijon was still pawing. Ah, bot it was funny, for suddenly, something giving way be neath us, we fell and were buried out of sight, a great pile of snow and ice resting upon our heads. When I was free agair I found myself in a sort of cavern, the floor dry and covered with gravel and fine sand. Bijou, already on his feet, jumped about me barking and whining, di or uneasy at the position in which be found himself, it was difficult to tell which "By the light of my lantern, fortu nately unbroken in the all, I began to ex vidently a den of Petit Francois in which brought into France. In all there was, perhaps, 2,000 francs' worth, and as the state gave us the right to one-half the onfiscated property you can imagine my dictionary abreast of, if not a little ahead prosper, whatever may become of a few which the sight of these things had given me when my duty as sentinel returned to mind; but how was I to get out of this hole, thirty feet at least beneath the surface of the ground, and the walls as smooth as glass? It was impossible to ling to it, and the sweat of agony broke out all over as I thought of Petit Francois and his devilish brothers. If they should return and catch me in this place I was lost. A slug of lead or a knife in the vitals would soon end the business for me.

> crack! it was out. The darkness of Ere "In the meantime I had noticed a sort of cranny or narrow break extending along the base of the wall at the end of alon tering in its last rays. A moment later, tion, feeling along with my hands. Bijou was there before me! you what I felt regarding this strange and perilous adventure. It is always painful to die at 25—and then, what a path above me—instead of defending it would expose me. My poor old mother! I was her only child. I had sent her my by the driver of the Nyon diligence just the evening before, and she had only this pay to live upon. And Rosette, who would come to the chalet of Trelasse the following night to meet me-Rosette whom I loved, and who returned that

"Think of it, gentlemen, the cruelty of this fate; and I had only been in that devilish post of Cure three months, all But it is useless to speak of that, or to tell you of the fears, the regrets and memories that threw me into a sort of torpor. I was 'senumbed, stupefied, and at last fell aslesp.

"Suddenly I awoke with a start. I had heard a voice that to me had the sound of hell. It was the voice of Petit Francois speaking to his brothers. "The spy is down there, of course,' said he: 'but no matter; in any case we must try the fire, and smoke him out. Tune up the violins!' Then all was "A man in the hour of approaching death has such need of tenderness and af-fection that I wished even to embrace for the last time my little Bijou; but where was he? I felt all around me, I called him softly; he was gone—my only friend had disappeared!

"The silence continued perhaps for half ness, determined to sell my life as dearly as possible in case they should unexpectedly invade the cavern by an entrance known only to themselves.

age! It comes from that awful experi-God keep you from suffering the had begun their infernal work—they were smoking me out! To leave my hiding their revolvers. On the other hand, the acrid smoke of the burning boughs filled my throat and stopped my breathing. My begged; 'do not burn me, for I surrender. Kill me afterward if you please, but air for the love of God, give me air!"

" 'Then it is you, Abram,' he replied; 'you, the spy! So much the better. I long ago reserved you for a morsel for the dogs. But, draw him up, boys; draw him to the top. I wan't to see the grimaces he'll make when we hang him to the branches. Let down a rope, he'll cling to it fast enough. And be sure,' he added, in a lower tone of voice, 'that no one else is there.

"A moment later the rope descended, and, like the drowning man who clings to a straw, I was not long in seizing and lashing myself to it, for between two deaths one is certain to choose that which obliged to return through the hollows of is furthest off. 'Pull up' cried Petit Crouaz. I am going to post myself be-bind them the lieutenant, under the Verlevel of the path when he rushed upon me, upset me and bound me hand and me, upset me and bound me hand and foot, and with those never to be loosened knots of the contrabandists

" 'Now, children,' said he, 'we must decamp from here and as quickly as possible. Recover the opening with pine boughs and snow, and then. Monsieur Abram, we will take you for a prome-

"The entrance to the cavern again concealed, Petit Francois slackened the cords which bound my feet enough for me to walk, hung upon my back and neck a bundle of merchandise and ordered me to fall in line and 'carry' like a beast of bur-den. Ah, how those scoundrels laughed and jeered as they prodded me along with ered and a ballot was taken, when it was found that only 126 votes were cast, which number was not the necessary one of my snow shoes. The carbine slung began to have a little hope. There was a chance, you see—a slight one, it is true— that some of my colleagues would be on sentry at a narrow defile not far from the hollow of the Crouaz, where there was a sort of breach in the wall for concealment.

"The contrabandists evidently had the same reflection, for they turned to the right and continued the ascent by a more longer, when Petit Francois called a halt and, taking the package I had carried since we left the hollow, he concealed it in a crevice of the rocks which overhung the

"Take a look at your gibbet, Abram he cried, with a mocking laugh. You cannot say that I have chosen it badly; and he pointed toward a monster pine tree occupying the center of the clearing whose branches, thick as ordinary tree trunks, extended from the sides like the arms of a huge candelabra.

"All summer long the tourists of the nountains will come to call upon you as rou came to call upon me-for which, m pretty blackbird, approaching me with curses, 'you will hang up there. "If you had seen the face of that mon ster, his lips trembling with rage, his hands as big as battledores, and covered with rough and hairy skin, you would have known at once that prayers and ap- taken against fire? Porter-Yis, mum; be peals to his mercy would simply have been time thrown away. It only remained for me to die, and to die bravely for the honor amuse ourselves with the gentleman who | ulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is explores so well. The amusement of Petit Francois consisted in binding me securely to the trunk of a tree, after which he took off his cont. rolled up his sleeves, and arranging him-self some twenty paces in front of me, went to work to make a target of me, the missiles used being heavy, jagged stones which his brother collected for him be-neath the cliffs. The first stone missed me, but gradually, as Francois warmed to his work and aimed with greater precision they began to tell. One broke my wrist, another buried itself in my ribs; the third crushed my nose, knocked out my teeth and tore the flesh from my cheeks. "From this on I knew no more-I had fainted away." "When I came to myself again I was that nearly all the ice was melted before resting against the pine that was to have been my gibbet; Bijon was licking the blood from my face, and before me, lying on the snow, two dead bodies—Petit Francois and my own corporal. The lien-tenant who had been on guard at the Villemay bent over me, rubbing me as hard as he could, trying to restore me to con

"Do not talk, Abram," said he, as struggled to speak; "the villains have their deserts, and have decamped with a shot in their wings. They cannot go far as for the corporal, he is done for, Fran-cois also. My bayonet went through his ungs. You were in a bad way, my lad, when we got to you; but I must go to Saint Bergues for aid. Bijou, who saved you, will stay with you. I will wrap you in this heavy blanket, and you will do well till my return. Here is a loaded re proach you pepper them well.

In due time he returned with re-enforce nents and litters. They placed me on one of them, and the corporal and Petit Francois on the other. The lieutenant. Francois on the other. The lieutenant, after seeing that I was safely dispatched sentenced to the galleys for life "I was three months in the hospital of with me, and married the grocer ses, a well known receiver of stolen goods, though we could never prove it. "The government stitched a stripe upon the coat sleeve of the lieutenant, a greater

"As for mysett i was made appointe, on, teering along with my hands. Bijou and shall always remain so. I am too ugly "It is useless, gentlemen, to describe to and too much disfigured to care to be any thing else. Bijou, my savior, as the leutenant called him, had succeeded in crawling through the crevice at the base of the cavern wall, and running to the "Even my carbine remained upon the "Even my carbine remained upon the save the sentry. Returning toward the Crouaz, he had followed the trail of the lieutenant and corporal, who, suspecting that a misfortune had happened, started out to find me.

"The gendarme corps of Vaud have had him christened "Bijou D'Or," and presented him with a cross of gold, which, as you see, gentlemen, hangs from his

The cavern of Petit Francois is now known as 'Poilechaud' in honor of my adventure."—Translated for The Enquirer from the French of Hugues Miller-Darier, by E. C. Waggener.

Persian Jewelers of Wonderful Skill. The goldsmiths' and jewelers' shops in Persia present little attraction to the eye Perhaps there is a small glass case con-taining a few of the less costly objects, but the owners are not wealthy men, and keep little or no stock, merely working to order. The artificer, with his one or two grimy journeymen and perhaps a couple of apprentices, may be seen hard at work in the open air from morning till night. There they sit in the little brick archway. with a tiny furnace of live charcoal, at which the youngest apprentice is seen blowing with primitive bellows made of a goat skin. Their tools are few and rough, but their work is invariably original. With the silversmith it is another affair. So common is the use of silver that it is an hour. Mechanically grasping the hardly looked upon as a precious metal.

The Persians are particularly clever The Persians are particularly clever in both incised and chased work, and in re-pousse work of the highest class. The incised work resembles the best of the Scinde work, with which the recent Indian "See my hair, gentlemen; white as the driven snow, and I am not yet 40 years of As for chased work the Persian is inimitable. Every artisan is prepared to pro-duce scroll work and tracery strikingly original. Many a ragged workman can "But all at once," the gendarme continued, "the place was filled with a flash of light—Petit Francois and his brothers battle scenes, hunting scenes and representations of men and animals in motion, wonderful little groups, battle scenes, hunting scenes and representations. sentations of birds, fruits, foliage and flowers. Engraving upon metal, in fact, place behind the bales of merchandise and is carried in Persia to its highest perendeavor to extinguish the brands would fection. Pipe heads, water bottles, basins, only be presenting myself as a target for their revolvers. On the other hand, the of silver and sometimes of gold; horse think of wearing aught but ornaments of wandering tribes and by negresses. Coral, too, being out of fashion, is rele-gated to slaves.—Jewelry News.

Plantation Philosophy. Er 'oman wins er man by de way she acks; Sometimes er dozen wise men may git ter geder an' be foolish, but er dozen fools kain't neber git tergeder an' be wise. De thoughts dat er pusson thinks fur no one but hisse'f air his best an' his wust. Dem whut comes between he gins ter de public. It is sometimes ensier ter flatter er wise man den it is er fool, fur de wise man may think dat yer's got some cause ter praise him, but de fool may know at onct dat yer's a liar -Arkansaw Traveler.

Not Quite So Modern.

"I say, stranger," whispered a western man, who had strayed in an uptown theatre where the play of "Romeo and Juliet" was going on, "I can't make head nor tail of this thing. What's the name of this play, anyhow?"

gusted westerner, "I wouldn't have come in. I understood the feller at the door to say it was something about Omaha and Joliet."-

GLOBE BUILDING,

I have a love-I call her dove-And she is passing fair, oh! Though plump is she, there are who say She's what they call a sparrew.

Specialty.

PATENTS

IS ALL PATENT MATTERS

SPRINGFIELD, O. Branch Agencies: Washington, D.C.; Los on, Eng.; Paris, France.

For Billousness, Constipation.
It cools the Blood; it gives delight.
It sharpens up the appetite.
It aids the liver do its part.
And stimulates the feeble

LADIES' SEMINARY! Frank H. Coblentz, corner Market and A Home School for Young Ladies.

ATE UNIVERSITY,

PENNYROYAL WAPERS are

Rooms 5 & 6, Mitchell Block

T. A. LEWIS, S. E. Cor. Main and Market Sta. W. H. SMITH, BELVES OF ACRING TRETH CAPPED

JOB PRINTERS.

All kinds of Shirts Ready-made and Made to Order. Bottom Prices.

he Shirt Maker and Men's Furnisher. No. 5 East Main Street.

OLD RELIABLE

J. D. Smith co.

PRINTERS, BINDERS

AND STATIONERS. Blank Book Work and Legal Blanks s

N. E. C. WHITNEY.

COUNSELLOR

For Sick Hendache, Dyspepsia. Hollidaysburg, Pa.

Thorough drill in the English Branches and in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Exin the Ancient and Modern Languages. Ex-ceptional advantages for the study of Music, instrumental and vocal. Special attention paid to health, morals and manners. Apply for catalogue to REV. R. S. HITCHCOCK, D. D. Reference—Rev. W. C. Falconer, D. D.

WITTENBERG BOX 164, SPRINGFIELD, O.

MIU DIAIL COLUMBUS.

DON'T WAIT! COME AT ONCE!

BRUCE, HAUK & CO.'S GREAT

Hundreds of men's Sack and Frock Suits, open or to button, high, round or square cut, bound or doublestitched edges, cut high, medium or low. These suits, made to sell at $15, $17, $20 and $22, will be slaughtered this week at $8, $10, $12, $14 and $15, in blue cloths, plaids, checks stripes, etc. Suits for business marked down to $5, $6, $7 and $8.

Children's $2.50. $3 and $3.50 Knee Pants School Suits, reduced to $1.25, $1.50, $2 and $2.25. Children's $4, $5, $6 and $7 Suits, reduced to $2.50, $3 and $4.

The Biggest, Most Palpable Hit of the Season.

BRUCE, HAUK & CO.,

POPULAR CLOTHIERS, 17 AND 19 HIGH ST. AND ARCADE.

WHEN YOU BUY YOUR

Boots and Shoes

OF---

Houses. GEORGE C. HANCE & CO.

No. 14 West Main St.

You are always sure to get value received for your money. Big blow and high prices is not our motto.

HOLMAN ADJUSTABLE BABY CARRIAGE

TESTED 40 YEARS. BEST APERIENT KNOWN. EFFERVESCING

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE.

Iriday. September 2. 1881, for intraining the labor and materials for the steam heating and plumbing of hespital buildings and the erection of a boiler house according to the plans and specifications on file at the office of C. A. Creager, room 23, Mitchell block.

The committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

J. S. ELLLIOTT.

Secretary Board of Hospital Commissioners any or all bids. J. S. ELLI.10TT, Secretary Board of Hospital Commissioners. LYON & HEALY 20

PAXSON & WELLAND EXCLUSIVE AGENTS No. 9 East Main Street, Springfield, O

Children Cry For PITCHER'S

CASTOR A Practically Perfect Preparation for Children's Complaints.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

DENTISTS. C. B. CONVERSE,

WITHOUT PAIR,
Masonic Building.

B. LIMBOCKER, 55 and 57 Arcade, Print; ser, Engraver and Fashionable Stationer, Wedding goods and calling rands a specialty. ${f SHIRTS}$ furniture and stirrups, trays, dishes, sword hilt and scabbards, dagger and ears already rung and roared with the knife handles, boxes and mirror frames, noise of a thousand devils. drinking cups and goblets, as well as ter "At last I could stand it no longer, and urns and services, are ordinarily made of the precious metals. Every villager has cried for mercy.

"Do not burn me, Petit Francois," 1 the precious metals. Every villager has his silver mounted pistol; the stock of his gun is often ornamented with silver plates. No lady, however poor, would the purest gold. Silver ornaments are only worn by the part the women of the

"Romeo and Juliet."
"Well, if I'd known that," said the dis-

A Promising Youth. Magistrate (to Chinaman)—What is your complaint against this young man, John? Chinaman (unable to collect a laundry bill) -He too muchee by and by.-New York

Unto the duck I'd weave a sons For, though her head is plumed with gold. There's very little linnet. Canary love be like this love

That keeps my beart a throbbin'?

Wherein does beauty lie?

It steels my thought by night and day And all my peace is robin. Oh, what a goose am I to quail hen near the pretty sinuer; -Omaha World

The skin, mouth, nose, the eye Are points where beauty we descry: Themost important is the skin And there we will begin And make its beauty for us win Admiration from lover and from churl By using Champlin's Liquid Pearl.

has the house inshoored for twice wot it' of my division.

"Put up the rope, Louis,' Francois called to his brother; 'tie it to one of the lower branches; while waiting we will purities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofinvaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal

> The real estate craze in southern Cali ornia has even demoralized the doctors In writing a prescription recently one of them added this direction: "Take one third down and the remainder in one and two years, secured by mortgage."

CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH AN Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure. For sale by F. A. Garwood. A big schooner lader, with ice arrived at Philadelphia, and was to be unloaded next day. As she lay at the dock she sprung a leak, and the salt water rushed in so fas could be got out of the hold.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Casteria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria printed. In the negro cemetery at Monte zuma, Ga., one of the labels is pasted or headboard of a grave. "ROUGH ON PILES."

Why suffer Piles! Immediate relief and complete cure guaranteed. Ask for "Rough on Piles." Surecure for itching, protruding, bleeding, or any form of Piles. 50c. At Druggists or mailed. E. S. Wells, Jersey City, N. J.

There is a brand of eigars called "Ever Faithful." A large dog is lithographed on the cover; on his neck the above words are Wells' "Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Impotence, Nervous Debility. For Weak Men, Delicate Women. $1. WELLS HAIR BALBAM. If gray, restores to original color. An elegant dressing, softens and beautifies. No oil not grease. A tonic Restorative. Stops hair com-ing out; strengthens, cleaness, heals scalp. 50c.

Lawrence and Harry, sons of the late Dr. Mark Hopkins, have bought the Sherman and Whitney farms, comprising two hundred aeres and commanding some fine views, near Williamstown, Mass.

