

WEATHER FACTS. WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Ohio fair weather; clearing in east from portion.

THE MOSQUITO.

"About this time of year," as saith the almanac, the mosquito getteth ready for the fall campaign. He arouseth himself from his summer sleep and stretcheth his wings, rejoicing as a strong man to run a race.

It is the human race the mosquito runneth. He runneth his bill into the eye, he doth! Oh, he do! S-ing! Zip! Slapp! Then blessings, not "loud, but deep." For this the mosquito now prepareth. He sharpeneth his bill preparatory to presenting it, and he will not be denied.

He always draws on sight. It is time for his season at the watering places, and he hieth thither; but he leaveth cohorts at home to attend to business in the cities, and he is diligent in business. Small but powerful; neat but not gaudy; as the monkey said when he painted his tail sky blue. The mosquito—but there will be time enough to attend to the mosquito; his visit is only begun. Do you attend to yourself. Come and get some of those unlaundried night shirts.

Our fall and winter goods are partly here. We will be able to show you the latest styles and the nobbiest patterns, and the best fitting ready-made clothing in the United States. Retail at wholesale prices at the

THE WHEN, 25 and 27 West Main Street, SALMON STEAK EXTRA FINE. FAT AND JUICY, CHOICE MIDDLE CUT, COLUMBIA RIVER.

Try a can and you will use no other. Only 20c. per Can

NEW White Clover Honey, EXTRA FINE. J.M. NIUFFER, ARCADE GROCER.

GEO. A. DEWIL, 78 and 75 EAST MAIN ST. MAN TELS, GRATES, DOORS, SASH, BLINDS, GLASS, OIL CLOTHS, BIRD CAGES.

FOREST HOUSE, No. 23 W. JEFFERSON STREET, SPRINGFIELD, OHIO. WANTED—A few first-class gentlemen boarders; good, first-class table board; good rooming, and in fact every accommodation to make home pleasant.

Dr. Levitt E. Custer DENTIST. Preservation of natural teeth by latest approved methods. Strictly first-class work guaranteed.

FRANK COLLINS Wholesale and Retail Dealer in ALL KINDS OF COAL. OFFICE: Spring Street, opposite Coffin Factory; 107 South Street, opposite Reid, O. Telephone No. 247.

IMPORTANT ACTION.

The Stove Molders of the United States to Demand an Advance of Wages.

Plates for Printing of "College Currency" Seized at Hamilton. Important Decision by Judge Kuntler, at Cincinnati.

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—The International Stove Molders' Union has suddenly determined upon demanding an advance in wages, varying from 10 to 15 per cent., all over the United States and Canada.

Important Decision—A Gigantic Fine. CINCINNATI, Aug. 23.—Judge Kuntler, in the court of common pleas, granted a mandamus on the application of the union labor party, directing the board of elections to hereafter recognize the union labor party in making appointments of clerks, registers and judges of election.

Scientists are interested in finding today in an excavation for a sewer on Walnut Hills a section of human vertebrae, petrified, of such dimensions as to indicate that it belonged to a race of giants five feet high.

BUSINESS COLLEGE CURRENCY. It is Used as Money to Swindle Immigrants.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 23.—Complaint has been made that immigrants at Castle Garden were being swindled by paper notes resembling United States money, but called college currency, steps were taken to find out its origin. It was found in Jacob H. Long's printing office at Hamilton, O., and quite a number of plates were seized.

INSTANTLY KILLED. John Holwager, an I. & W. Section Train Hand, Strained by a Train.

NEW CARLISLE, Aug. 23.—John Holwager, a section hand on the I. & W. railroad, was killed a few miles west of here on Monday. Holwager is slightly deaf, being known as "deafy" by his fellow workmen. He was standing near the track working when a train approached. Either he thought he was a safe distance from the track, or else did not hear the whistle of the train, or else he was stepping over the cross beam on the front of the engine struck him on the head and knocked him down. He died almost immediately. The remains were put on board the train, which was stopped, and brought to this place.

SAME OLD THING. Only the Chamber Gambler in Cotton and Goes to Mexico.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—A Charleston, S. C., special says: The Sumpter national bank closed yesterday because Cashier Charles E. Bartlett had absconded with the funds of the bank amounting to $5,500 and his books were short to the amount of $20,000. Bartlett is believed to have gone to Mexico. The bank officers knew of the condition of his books weeks ago and requested his resignation if he did not fix them by August 15. Bartlett's downfall is caused by heavy speculations in cotton futures.

A Golden Spring. KIRKERSVILLE, O., Aug. 23.—Mr. James Hancock has a spring on his place southeast of the village which has some peculiar properties. Articles of glass placed in the water for four days will acquire a beautiful golden color which is permanent. The water is ice cold and clear as crystal, has no perceptible odor or taste, and when poured from a vessel it falls upon the water breaks into minute globules which resemble silver. Many have been drinking of the water and fancy they feel improved in health.

After His Sculp. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—Some local democratic politicians are endeavoring to secure the dismissal of Richard Nevins, who is government architect in charge of the public buildings in this city. Nevins is a member of a prominent family of Ohio, and is also a brother-in-law of James G. Blaine, Jun. He is accused of having voted for Blaine at the last presidential election.

Florida Cyclone Coming. WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The cyclone previously reported off the east Florida coast is more clearly defined this morning. The barometer is near the center, reading 30.54. It is apparently moving northward slowly and will cause dangerous gales off the Atlantic coast. It is not safe for vessels to sail for southern ports.

Burned to the Ground. NEWIA, Aug. 23.—A tenement house on the farm of James Bryson, about one mile north of this city, was destroyed by fire about midnight Sunday night. The house was occupied by a colored family named Dunbar. Loss about $600; no insurance. Supposed to have been set on fire.

A Terrible Dose. YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 23.—Miss Katie Thomas, residing near Girard, Sunday night swallowed a large quantity of ammonia, mistaking it for medicine, burning her mouth and throat in a frightful manner. It is feared the organs of the throat are permanently injured.

Trimmers to Trouble. CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Discontent reigns once more among the men at Pullman. It was caused by the announcement Saturday morning that the wages of all trimmers were to be cut down 10 per cent. There are nearly 100 men in the department, and for a time the striking sentiment ran high.

W. J. Murphy Made General Superintendent. BUFFALO, Aug. 23.—It was announced here this morning officially that W. J. Murphy, superintendent of the Buffalo division of the Erie railway, had been promoted to the position of general superintendent in place of B. Thomas, resigned.

Big Loss on the Rice Crop. COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 23.—The probable loss on the rice crop will exceed by $100,000 the estimate made two weeks ago. Discouraging reports continue to come from the flooded districts in lower Carolina, along the Santee and Savannah rivers.

The Princes Were Arrived. ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 23.—Official reports say that the prospects for Russian wheat crop for both winter and summer wheat are favorable in most districts.

Arrived here yesterday evening. SOFIA, Aug. 23.—Prince Ferdinand arrived here yesterday evening.

SOUTH CHARLESTON.

A Pleasant Gathering of Pioneers in Madison Township.

SOUTH CHARLESTON, Aug. 23.—Last Friday was one of the pleasantest days of my life. As was announced a week ago, there was held in Mr. Levi Jones's grove, near Holly Varden, in this (Madison) township, an old-fashioned pioneer picnic, in honor of Mr. Cyrus Jones, of California, San Jose county, old and young came together about 10 a. m., and ages ranged from infancy to 80 years, old Mother Haus being 85, and one of the pioneers of the neighborhood and quite feeble.

Next was Mr. Abram Kitehen. But I can not give all names; suffice to say, it brought out a pleasant remembrance of yesternight. Dinner was announced—and such a dinner as only these fathers of mine spread. The white linen was laid on mother earth in a. s. o. as to bring all as closely together as possible. Over 100 surrounded this table, and Mrs. Myers, in her speech, she thought justice was done, and each one enjoyed the feast. After dinner, Mr. G. F. Hemphreman called Mr. Almon Bradford, who opened the meeting with a few remarks, introducing Mr. Cyrus Jones, of San Jose, California, who gave a history of his life and what the climate of California had done for his health. Mrs. Jones, the daughter of Mrs. Snyder, is a daughter of Mr. A. B. Winters, formerly of this county. She gave reminiscences of her life, which were ably and lively presented by Mrs. Labell, of Iowa, and Mr. John Harrison, of Nebraska, real fathers of mine. There were other sates, the equal of California. Just at this time Mr. Nelson Jones arrived on the ground, he being a brother of Mr. Cyrus Jones, and lives near Bloomington, Ill., and of course his see on was the garden spot of the world. Messrs. Abraham Kitehen, Edward Jones, John Hemphreman and Charles Stewart, of C. & C. Co., Ohio, reminded the visiting party that old Clark was still at the head of the parade. Mr. Baird, of the West, said he had seen him in Ohio. "Why, come up to Findlay and other northwestern Ohio villages, and have the real thing and not your own state stuff."

But that was not all. Mr. Jap. Craig, who had been from Maine to California. He portrayed the ups and downs of his life, and said that "nearly" he was full of speaking. He said while he was in California they had never seen a man like him, and thought that if he kept his health he would live forever. Only those present recall what a very pleasant day was spent. All in all, one would say, "What a day! What these social picnics." We say yes, if we are invited to dinner.

SHE IS A DEAD SHOT. Arrest of a Woman for the Murder of a West-End Child.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—A special from Gardner, Ill., says: Miss Sarah H. Dodge was arrested last night on a charge of being the murderer of Babcock, the wealthy lumberman from Chicago, who is just dead from a mysterious pistol-shot received at Gardner. Miss Dodge is 30 years of age, and has been living with her mother on a farm. Babcock frequently visited them, and it is said she paid much attention recently to the daughter, notwithstanding she is far from being attractive. There is gossip to the effect that Babcock returned considerable money from one of his trips to the west, and Miss Dodge was reported throughout the surrounding country as a dead shot with a pistol. Nothing of consequence was brought out in the preliminary examination.

ENLARGING THE BORDERS. A New Methodist Episcopal church Added to Springfield's List of Appointments—Organization of Grace Church on West Main Street.

In accordance with the action taken by the official board of St. Paul M. E. church, Rev. Frank G. Mitchell, presiding elder of the Springfield district, organized the Grace M. E. church Monday evening.

The following board of officers of the new church were chosen: Trustees—D. W. Stroud, J. W. R. Cline, P. P. Mast, Daniel DeLong, L. W. Miller, George N. Sive.

Of the board of trustees, Mr. D. W. Stroud was chosen president and Mr. J. W. R. Cline, secretary.

Stewards—J. R. McConnell, J. H. Mowett, D. W. Stroud, Daniel Huffman, John Mowdy.

Of the trustees Messrs. Mast and Cline are members of St. Paul church.

The new organization starts out with a membership of eighty, with fair prospects of reaching a round 100 at once. Within the next few weeks under the able pastor, Rev. B. J. Jackson, the whole community has been visited, and regular services held each Sabbath with increasing interest and growing congregations. The next conference, at its coming session, will appoint a regular pastor for the ensuing year.

The meeting which is held in the new building, has a population of several thousand and nearer to it than any other established place of worship, which, by actual census, has been found to comprise a large number of Methodists than of any other religious persuasion.

Rev. Mitchell has reserved next Sabbath for Grace church and will be with the congregation both morning and evening, preaching in the morning and administering the sacrament of the Lord's supper in the evening, at which time the names of new members will be announced. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the services.

Central Ohio Shooting Association. A tournament of the Central Ohio Shooting association is being held on the Springfield club's grounds, south of the city. The shoot began this afternoon at one o'clock. Quite a number of visiting sportsmen are present, among whom are Wickersham and Allen, of Jamestown; Ackerman, of Lima; Went, of Kenton; Bolla Haiks, Keffer and Bunton, of Dayton.

Catholic Observance. At 8 o'clock mass on Sunday morning at St. Raphael church, forty-two little girls clothed and veiled in white, took their first communion. After vespers at 3 o'clock p. m. they all received as members into the Young Ladies' St. Mary's sodality. Father Sidley presented each one of the little ones with the usual medal, after which he enrolled them in the scallop.

Street Car Change. It is understood on excellent authority, but too late to investigate, that Mr. D. W. Stroud, president of the Street Railway company, has sold out his interest in the road to Messrs. Wardner, Bushnell & Gleason.

Divorce Asked. By his attorney, J. K. Mower, esq., Harvey McClintock today brought suit for divorce from Rose McClintock on the ground of adultery and wilful absence. The parties were married in 1865.

Mr. James DeWolfe, Box Line ticket agent at Columbus, was in the city yesterday.

Meals at No. 25 South Market street, opposite Arcade, Lunch 15 cents. Lodging 25 cents. Meals served at all hours. Good attendance. Waiters and everything first class.

Lemons and sugar for lemonade at Hohl & Lyon's.

SENSATIONAL SCENE.

S. J. Straley Attempts to Shoot a Lady Who, He Imagines, Wronged Him.

An Exciting Episode at the Residence of Mrs. M. B. Baskerville, Monday Night—A Back of Grapes—Details of the Affair.

A sensational scene was enacted on west Jefferson street last (Monday) night between 9 and 10 o'clock, the principal parties in which are well known and prominent people of Springfield. The scene was created by an attempt on the part of a man to SHOOT A LADY, and the attempt was frustrated by the man's wife, together, perhaps, with a fear of the consequences such a murder would bring upon him.

Last fall Mr. and Mrs. Madison A. Baskerville moved to this city and took up their residence with their children, on the north side of west Jefferson street, near the corner of Battery. They had previously resided in Fayette county, near Jeffersonville and Jamestown. They are people of wealth and culture, and the unfortunate scene of Monday night is deeply to be deplored, especially as no just cause for it ever existed. Mr. Baskerville is a RED-HIDDEN INVALID and has been for several months. He is suffering from that dread complaint, Bright's disease, and for many days he has been lying almost at the point of death. The excitement of last night had a terrible effect on him and during the entire night he moaned piteously and his system was almost hysterical. His nervous system had been greatly shocked and in consequence he was much worse this morning.

The trouble which culminated last night almost in a tragedy dates back several years. Mrs. Baskerville's maiden name was Cramer, and until her marriage she lived with her mother in Fayette county. Residing with them was a Miss Milburn, who was looked upon almost as a member of the family.

S. J. STRALEY, the well-known fruit dealer, who by the way was the principal of last night's scene, became acquainted with Miss Milburn and ultimately married her. Mrs. Baskerville and Mrs. Straley have known each other since childhood and it is not, therefore, surprising that they should be on intimate terms. For some time Mr. Straley has expressed to Mrs. Baskerville an endeavor to prejudice his wife against him. He imagined that his wife was being persuaded against her own will to apply for a divorce, and his suspicions so worked on his mind that all that was bellevue in his nature was aroused, and he determined to put an end to all tampering with his family affairs. He went to Mrs. Baskerville, related his suspicions and warned her that he would shoot her if she did not cease talking to his wife about him. The lady assured him frankly that she had never uttered a word against him and did not propose to, and tried every means in her power to quiet the man.

His suspicions were not allayed, however, and he has only been awaiting an opportunity to carry his threat into execution. On Monday night between 9 and 10 o'clock, Mrs. Straley, accompanied by her little girl, was driven in her carriage by a colored driver to Mrs. Baskerville's residence. They alighted and entered the house, but had been there only a few minutes when a man was heard walking rapidly—almost running—near the house. Mrs. Straley and Mrs. Baskerville stepped to the door and saw the man, who they recognized as S. J. Straley. He had evidently followed the carriage and seemed to be

IN A GREAT HURRY. Mrs. Straley ran screaming to the carriage and Straley rushed up to Mrs. Baskerville, and drawing a revolver, leveled it at her head and said: "D—n you, I'm going to shoot you." Mrs. Straley screamed to him not to fire, while Mrs. Baskerville stood calmly and faced the muzzle of the revolver, which almost touched her face. Her little daughter, about 20 years of age, and her son William, about 10 years of age, and her little daughter, appeared on the scene at this juncture. The revolver wavered in Straley's hand, his arm dropped to his side and he ran, being completely cowed by the steady look which Mrs. Baskerville had flashed at him. After the man had fled, Mrs. Baskerville stepped back into the house, almost overcome by the reaction of the strain she had been under.

IT WAS AN AWFUL EXPERIENCE and one which would have shaken the nerves of anybody. In about 20 minutes Straley's little daughter entered the house and told Mrs. Baskerville that her father was in a carriage in front, wanted to see her, to give her a sack of grapes. By the advice of friends, the lady declined to take the risk of being murdered by accepting the invitation. The carriage was presently driven away.

This morning a representative of the REPUBLIC called at the residence of Mrs. Baskerville and interviewed with her about the incident. The house is richly furnished and the family is evidently in very comfortable circumstances. Mrs. Baskerville is a tall, handsome woman, of splendid presence, and in every respect

A PERFECT LADY. She regretted exceedingly that the matter had become public, but made her statement, which is embodied in the above, in a calm, straightforward manner that carried with it a conviction of its truth. She said that she had never presumed to advise Mrs. Straley with regard to her family affairs, much less urge her to procure a divorce. She stated that Mrs. Straley had asked her whether she ought to apply for a divorce from her husband, but that she had discouraged any such idea. When asked what she supposed had actuated Mr. Straley in making such a desperate break she replied that she was almost convinced that he was crazy. However, she does not propose again to pass through such a scene, or longer be the subject of STRALEY'S THREATS. She telegraphed to her brother, Mr. L. H. Creaper, of Mechanicsburg, and he will probably be here before this article is in print. It is extremely probable that account will be taken to prevent a recurrence of Monday night's scene and if it becomes necessary Straley will be arrested.

Mrs. H. B. Brooks and daughter, Miss May, are the guests of Mrs. E. F. Hill, of the north side.

A MATTER OF HEAT.

The Board of Education Refuses to Accept the Bid of a Contractor for Furnishing the Pleasant Street Building—The Teachers and the Institute.

The board of education met in special session last night to consider the heating of the Pleasant street building. The meeting was called to order at 7 o'clock by President Martindale. The following members were present: Beck, Hill, Cox, Holden, Keam, Kay, Kraus, Lorenz, Miller, Reifsnider, Spellman, Strumpf, Troy, Winger, and President Martindale.

The board decided the object of the meeting and then called on Mr. Reifsnider, chairman of the committee on heating and ventilation, for his report. He submitted the following bid:

George H. Hensel & Co., Chicago, Ill.: We will place in the Pleasant street building two 12 inch Pure Air Stove Furnaces, per inch stack and all connecting pipes for $1,335. The object is to provide a chimney with a good draft to do all carpenter and brick work and complete work ready for a first-class boiler. We will guarantee the furnaces to heat the rooms of the building from 65 to 70 degrees above in ten hours.

We will furnish pipe on board the cars in Springfield two 12 inch pure air stoves, per inch stack and all connecting pipes for $1,335. The object is to provide a chimney with a good draft to do all carpenter and brick work and complete work ready for a first-class boiler. We will guarantee the furnaces to heat the rooms of the building from 65 to 70 degrees above in ten hours.

We will place in the Pleasant street building two 12 inch Pure Air Stove Furnaces, per inch stack and all connecting pipes for $1,335. The object is to provide a chimney with a good draft to do all carpenter and brick work and complete work ready for a first-class boiler. We will guarantee the furnaces to heat the rooms of the building from 65 to 70 degrees above in ten hours.

The committee on heating then retired to consider the bids. The committee on heating then retired to consider the bids. The committee on heating then retired to consider the bids.

On motion of Mr. Lorenz the committee on building was instructed to receive bids for a 200-barrel chifter at the Pearl street building, and also to look up merits of the Hopper boiler and report at the next meeting. This was brought about by a statement that the steam boiler at the Pearl street building was nearly on account of the hydrant water used in it.

Mr. Lorenz moved that Superintendent Taylor report to the board at the next meeting on the merits and value of the city teachers who are attending the teachers' institute. Mr. Lorenz said that he understood that the institute was not being largely attended by the city teachers and he thought they ought to attend. This created some discussion, but the board had no right to compel the teachers to attend the institute. The motion was put and carried.

The committee on heating here returned and the president called for its report. Mr. Reifsnider rose and quizzed all three of the bidders with reference to their bids, and Mr. Reifsnider's bid was accepted. The report of the committee was called for and Mr. Reifsnider stated that the committee had decided not to recommend to receive the bids and would, therefore, throw them open to the board, as the board would in any event probably assume the committee's prerogative. Mr. Hill, who had spoken before the board, moved that the Patrie bid be accepted. After some debate the vote was taken, resulting as follows:

Mr. Strumpf moved that the Bennett bid be accepted. The motion was lost by the following vote: Ayes—Beck, Hill, Cox, Kraus, Lorenz, Miller, Winger, Martindale.

Mr. Strumpf moved that the Bennett bid be accepted. The motion was lost by the following vote: Ayes—Beck, Hill, Cox, Kraus, Lorenz, Miller, Reifsnider, Spellman, Winger. On motion the board adjourned.

WARMED AN ADDER. Joe Wilcox's Sorrow Return for Harry Richardson's Kindness.

The old fable of the man who warmed the adder receives daily illustrations in everyday life. During the recent soldiers' reunion held in this city, a man named Joe Wilcox, hailing from Troy, O., came to Springfield to attend. About the only person who had been in the city was Harry Richardson, the west end flagman, and they had been schoolmates together. He "sponged" off of Richardson in the most unbecoming manner, and he was so greedy that he ate everything at his expense, even to running up saloon bills of considerable dimensions. Then he suddenly skipped out, leaving the man who had warmed him with him a fine guitar and a bunch of switch-knives, all belonging to Richardson.

The loss of the keys was a very serious matter to Richardson, but he was so kind-hearted that he did not mind the loss of the keys, but he was so greedy that he ate everything at his expense, even to running up saloon bills of considerable dimensions. Then he suddenly skipped out, leaving the man who had warmed him with him a fine guitar and a bunch of switch-knives, all belonging to Richardson.

Mr. Dye has also on exhibition a perfect little Shetland stallion, "Prince Donnie," which is the most symmetrical animal of its kind the reporter ever saw. It is 28 1/2 inches high and weighs 285 pounds. The swine exhibit is about equal to that of former years. Amongst the principal exhibitors are Perry Bros., Cable, O. B. and C. W. Watt, Xenia, Cotswolds and Southdowns—15 in all.

The poultry exhibit is unusually large. The same can be said of the agricultural display, which will be noticed more fully tomorrow. The art hall is filling up nicely and promises to be finer than ever. In power it stands pre-eminent the central enclosure being a mass of bloom and verdure. Not a tenth of the exhibits are in place, however, and the same may be said of the dairy and kitchen products. A much more satisfactory account of these exhibits can be given tomorrow.

THE SPRINTING FEVER. This department shows up big this year. In the green trot this afternoon there are twenty-three entries, and the race is being trotted in sections. There is a 3-year-old in the race, and all the races during the fair have filled. In the 2:35 trot to follow the entries are, with others yet to come, the following:

C. O. Taylor's "Alice S.," s. m.; "Humphrey Marshall," b. g., owned by J. Welsh, Napoleon, O.; "Napoleon Belle," b. m., J. Welsh, Napoleon, O.; "The Gem," s. m., owned by C. O. Taylor, Xenia, O.

In the 2:35 pace Thursday the entries are: "Annie T.," b. m., F. M. Taylor, Marysville, O.; "Daniel D.," b. g., Galbreath Bros., Mt. Sterling, O.; "Cory B.," g. m., Irving Linson, London, Ky.; "Wilson," s. m., C. F. Richmond, London, Ky.; "Hilly Kid," b. g., John Slivers, West Jefferson.

There are running races every day. Tomorrow (Wednesday) is Children's Day.

OPENS WITH A BOOM.

The Clark County Fair Starts Off in Great Shape and Gives Promise of Merry Sunshine.

The Exhibits in Detail—The Horses and Cattle Exhibits Pre-eminently Large—What There is to See on the Grounds and What is to Come.

The thirty-fifth annual Clark county fair commenced auspiciously today and indications are for the best exhibition in the history of the society. On no previous year has the work been at such an advanced stage as at this time. The infusion of fresh new blood into the agricultural body has been having good effects and the fair is growing larger, better and more modern every year.

At noon today the number of entries made was largely in excess of any previous year, and Secretary Sprague and his assistants are kept on the jump by parties making entries. In not one single department is the fair a weak one and in some it is strong and promises to be unusually strong. Mention has before been made of the unusual size of the horse department this year. The stalls are entirely inadequate to accommodate the large number, and the fair is the best of the kind in the state to provide for all the entries. Apart from the speed classes, there are nearly 400 horses and exhibition this year, and the fair is a difficult problem to solve. At one time, yesterday, part of the agricultural department was in favor of finding stalls for some of them outside the limits of the grounds, but this was set down on. Today, finally, the matter was left to the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time, in arranging matters, but not until there was considerable hand feeling amongst the exhibitors. There was considerable changing about of stalls, and horses, but stallions and trotting horses were given the preference. Much valuable work was done by the fair committee, and the fair is in a better time