

GREATER REDUCTIONS!

To move them more quickly and make room for New Fall Goods now coming in, we have made still greater reductions in the prices of our stock of Summer Goods, Dress Goods, Gingham, Fancy Embroideries, all at less than one-half former prices.

MURPHY & BRO.

48 & 50 Limestone. New Goods opening every day now; New Suitings; the latest novelties in import-dresses and combination suitings; new Velvets and Plushes, etc.

Warder, Bushnell & Gleason Place a Very Large Order With the East Street Steel Works—The Lagonia Works Starting Up.

FOR 800 TONS OF STEEL. 600 to 800 tons of best steel, representing a cash exchange of nearly $40,000.

It will require several months to complete the order and will keep a large force of men working all the time at the Steel works.

NEW MEN EVERY HOUR. By next Monday will be running a very fair force.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

MUNICIPAL MANAGERS.

The City Council Puts in Two Hours in Transacting Important City Business.

Appointment of Taxes—Various Market House Matters Considered—A $400,000 Pay Ordinance—Ryan & Spelly's Petition.

The city council met in regular session last (Tuesday) night, with President Thomas in the chair. The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock. The following members were present: Berlew, Blee, Burnett, Crumley, Deiss, Fried, Funk, Hanika, Hoppes, Korn, McKenna, Miller, Slack, and President Thomas.

Business was then transacted as follows: By the clerk—Communication from Mrs. A. J. Jarrett, representing that council have ordered her property, thereby damaging her property, and that in order to protect her property she would be obliged to erect a stone wall along her premises at considerable expense. The communication asks that the members of council view the place and agree with her as to what is best to be done, in which case she will waive all damages.

Referred to committee on city improvements. By the clerk—The following from Auditor Service, showing the appropriation of net taxes due the city of Springfield at the August settlement, 1887:

General expense fund $ 6,894 30
Fire department $ 1,021 12
Police department and cemetery fund $ 1,524 20
Public library fund $ 1,672 92
Buildings, fire engines, etc. fund $ 706 00
Water works bond fund $ 1,541 72
Water works fund $ 1,524 20
Hospital fund $ 706 00
Sewer and ditches fund $ 706 00
Greenwood sewer fund $ 706 00
Taylor street sewer fund $ 1,471 20
Plum street sewer fund $ 1,471 20

Total $40,228 06

Appointment of assessments collected under the Dow law in city of Springfield at the August settlement, 1887:

For general purposes $ 3,827 20
For police fund $ 1,524 20
Total $ 5,351 40

Received and placed on file. By the city solicitor—Communication from J. C. and W. A. Robert, administrators of the estate of Andrew Robert, deceased, stating they hold a claim in favor of their father for curbing and guttering 518' long on East street at 35 cents per foot and amounting to $181.47, the same to be placed on tax duplicate against George Spence, who refuses to pay the claim because the curbing and guttering was not put in the proper place. Mr. Spence proposes, however, to pay the contract price of the work provided that the same be placed in the proper position. Referred.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises. Adopted.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

By the solicitor—An ordinance changing the grade of sidewalks on a portion of High, Center, Washington and Market streets. First reading.

By the solicitor—An ordinance to provide for the construction of a Market street sewer and an extension of the York street sewer. The rules were suspended, the ordinance was read the second and third time.

By the solicitor—Resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to serve legal notice on persons occupying that part of lot No. 29 in James Lowry's addition recently purchased by the city, to vacate said premises.

DUMP IT INTO MAD RIVER.

That is What Colonel Waring Suggests be Done With Springfield's Sewages.

Full Text of the Engineer's Report to Council. He Recommends the Sewage System and Makes Some Wise Observations.

It will be remembered that Colonel George W. Waring, the eminent sanitary engineer, was here last Saturday, looking over the city to gather data from which to make a report to the city council, with reference to putting a new system of sewerage in this city. His report was written in Chicago, and was received by City Solicitor Summers on Tuesday. At the meeting of council on Tuesday night, Solicitor Summers presented the report, and after it was read it was referred to the committee on drainage. The report contains much interesting information, and Mr. Waring, therefore, takes pleasure in laying it before its readers in full.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22, 1887. To the City Council, Springfield, Ohio: Having examined the general map of your city, conferred with your city engineer and considered previous recommendations, I was shown the drainage lines of the whole area by the City Solicitor and Engineer.

I beg to submit the following observations: Much of the difficulty that has beset the city in the past, has been due to the fact that the sewage has been dumped into the river. This is a most objectionable practice, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

The food and other organic material used by the population, and discharged after use, is a most objectionable material, and one which is not only a nuisance to the city, but a source of danger to the public health. It is, therefore, imperative that a system of sewerage be provided for the city, which will collect and dispose of the sewage in a safe and sanitary manner.

PROMOTERS OF THE YOUNG IDEA.

Tuesday Afternoon and Wednesday Morning Sessions of the Teachers' Institute.

Tuesday afternoon's session of the Teachers' Institute, after singing exercises were over, became very lively over a motion offered by the secretary. Mr. M-Farland made a motion to adjourn the institute on Thursday afternoon, so as to allow the teachers a chance to attend the county fair. It received a second and was put before the vote, and carried by a vote of 45 to 3 of those who voted, but two-thirds of the teachers did not vote on this question. Then President Pierce ruled the motion lost from the fact that not more than half of the enrolled members were present and that a great many who were present would not vote. He said he didn't think the institute should break any day for such a purpose and the unanimous opinion of the teachers is that he ruled the motion correctly.

Prof. Ridge gave another of his lively and instructive lessons in reading and diacritics.

Professor S. J. Finley, who has been elected principal of the South Charleston school, was present, and in a most interesting manner, he was followed by Professor F. H. Tuttle, of Antioch college, who talked to the teachers a short time and was highly appreciated. The institute then adjourned until 7 o'clock p. m.

THE SOCIAL AND ENTERTAINMENT. There were perhaps 500 teachers and their friends at the Central building last night to participate in the delightful occasion which was held from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in the evening. The program was most enjoyable, and a happy time was enjoyed by all present. Promenading, music and all kinds of enjoyment were in order until 11 o'clock, when the program was closed.

After singing by institute in Gospel Hymns, a quartet consisting of Messrs. Joseph H. Ervin, Garret Bittow, Carey and H. E. Boggs sang a pretty selection entitled "Tune, Good Night, in a style which brought forth eloquent commendations. The quartet consisted of Messrs. Ervin, Bittow and the crew." This piece was rendered in such a pleasing style as to make the applause of the audience simply tremendous. They responded by singing "The Wolf" song, and were equally well received. Owing to some unfortunate circumstances, the next two participants in the program could not be present. Both were regretted. The program finished with a duet by Messrs. Carey and H. C. Boggs, which was heartily applauded, but they did not respond.

On next Thursday evening the last social session will be given, and an extra effort is being made in the preparation of the program.

WEDNESDAY MORNING'S SESSION. After exercises in song, devotional exercises were led by the Rev. Dr. Kyle, of the First Presbyterian church. Prof. Ridge followed in lesson on reading, pronunciation and drilling in sounds of letters. The lessons are very instructive and made the greatest interest of all.

The following names have been called to the roll: Mr. Wm. Hackett, South Charleston; Miss Adeline Bonart, Mr. Jack Taylor, Miss Gertrude Ballentine, city; Miss Belle Hayes, Melway; Mr. H. S. Fairchild, New Richmond.

An extra effort is being put forth in the preparation of the program for next Thursday night, and it is hoped that a great deal of pleasure will be derived from the program.

The station house state this morning showed that the following arrests had been made during the previous twenty-four hours: William Parker, Dick Bannels, Albert Hamilton and Samuel Gray, disorderly conduct; John Doyle, boisterous; and Thomas Callaghan, drunk and disorderly.

President Cleveland. The president's attention was called today to matter lately appearing in the New York World, to the effect that he was not properly supporting the commissioners appointed to examine the affairs of the Pacific railroads and giving as proof what was alleged to be the contents of his dispatch, concerning the affairs of the Pacific railroads, concerning the affairs of the Pacific railroads, concerning the affairs of the Pacific railroads.

Word was received at police headquarters today that two horses belonging to Mr. Tom Greaney, of Urbana, were stolen from his stable last (Tuesday) night. One was a steel road horse, 15½ hands high, 12 years old, and blind in one eye; the other was a bright bay 16 hands high and 3 years old. Mr. Greaney is the father of Greaney, of the Springfield police force.

Excursion to Gettysburg Battlefield via Pennsylvania Lancers. For the reunion of Ohio veterans and dedication of Ohio memorial on Gettysburg Battlefield, September 14th, the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg will sell low fare excursion tickets to Gettysburg on September 10th to 12th that will be good returning until September 25th, 1887. Full information can be obtained from the nearest ticket agent of the Pennsylvania company, Pittsburg, Cincinnati & St. Louis R.R. Co., of Chicago, St. Louis & Pittsburg R.R. Co. As all stations will not have the excursion tickets in stock it will be necessary that notice be given the ticket agent at the point where excursionists will take one of the lines named two or three days in advance, in order that tickets may be procured. Detailed information may be procured by addressing E. A. Ford, general passenger agent, Pittsburg, Pa. 339-2004.

Wetake pleasure in informing the public and the patrons of the Dunlap hat, that Mr. T. M. Guehenheim is sole agent for the sale of our goods in Springfield, O. Any other offering for sale or advertising our hats in your city do so without our consent, and are perpetrating a fraud on the public, as they have no authority from us to use our name in any shape or manner, his firm being the only one we sell to in Springfield, Ohio.

The fall block will be out on the 3d of September. We will see that you have them not later than the 5th.

Yours respectfully,
D. DUNLAP & Co.

For the best Anthracite, go to Wheldon & Merrill.

Get O. H. Nell's pure apple cider, there it is best domestic Hocking in the city.

</