Arizona "Personals" On several different occasions we have urged that Jack Crosby, proprietor of the Blue Front saloon, and better known to our people as "Private Jack," be taken to the lone tree behind the court house and hanged up to a limb. We have given the names of eleven men who have been robbed and brutally beaten in his place, or who so stated to us, and we have incidentally referred to Jack as a train robber, burglar, horse thief and incendiary.

GENUINE SPRING WATERS. Dr. Casper's Drug Store has the following genuine Natural Waters.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES. HOW BIG IS GROVER CLEVELAND, PA? [By T. C. Harbough.]

"How big is Grover Cleveland, Pa. That people call him great? And when they say so they mean his intellect or weight? Well, now, my boy, if you knew, I know you'd surely find That Grover Cleveland's only great In his majestic mind."

"But what great actions does he do To cleanse the land from ill? He writes a free trade message, boy, And vetoes pension bills; And when we strew the pretty flowers On those who whipped the gray, He takes his little fishing pole And fishes all the day."

"Now, pa, did Grover Cleveland go To war the foe to shoot?" "No, son, he bravely stayed at home And sent a substitute. 'But did the substitute get killed Who wore for him the blue?" "No, no, he died a lauder, boy, And Grover knew it, too."

"I heard you say last Sunday, pa, That you would cast a vote this fall For brave Ben Harrison. And Jimmy, with a whoop, says he, 'Though I'm a dimwit, An' niver voted nothin' else, I'll take your hand on that!"

"Say, pa, is the bandana flag An anarchist sign? Tell me what means the crimson rag They've raised along their line. 'What does it mean?' No mortal knows. At least not one has said; No more conscripts, if you please: Shut up and go to bed."

Mrs. Leonard, of No. 8 Boler street, is ill. The Arcade received its annual bath this morning. Everybody is surprised at the rapidity of the work on the city building. James Winbush, of Findlay, is in the city, the guest of Constable Coates. Miss Jessie Wilkins, of Cincinnati, visited friends in the city during the past week.

Miss Carrie Barnett, of near Urbana, is the guest of Miss Laura Thatcher, of South Market street. The Bee Line Springfield and Cincinnati accommodation is the first morning train out of the city. The drummers of this city go to Dayton this afternoon to play the drummers of that city a game of base ball. Bishop Henry W. Warren will preach the opening sermon at the Urbana camp meeting, August 9th, at 3 p. m. Charles Aldrich, who jumped the chain-gang this morning, was found by officer McAuliffe up on the hill this afternoon a lid locked up.

One of the fish in the Arcade fountain died this morning of crazyness. It called around on its side for some time, then lay on its back and died. Hon. John H. Thomas and wife have left for Manchester-on-Sea, New Hampshire. Mr. Will S. Thomas remains in town to look after the building of his new house. Clerk Shewalter issued building permits to the following parties: Frank McClure, new frame on Jackson street, $750; Wm. Barry, new frame in Fourth ward, $650. General and Mrs. Kelfer are enjoying themselves on the Atlantic ocean. The general has been interviewed and reports Ohio sure to give Harrison and Morton at least 30,000 majority. The occupants of the bicycle camp at Snyder's station, on the I. B. & W., are Forrest, Albert, Chester, Noble and George Wolfe, Henry Haase, George Reed, Frank Reed, Wm. Russell, Harry Collins, Harry Scandon, Robert Sindle and Lamar Worthington.

Death of Mrs. Brain. Yesterday at 12:30 o'clock p. m. Mrs. Lizzie D. Brain, wife of Mr. Wm. G. Brain, died at her home, 149 West Pleasant street, after a long illness, in the 47th year of her age. The funeral will take place Monday forenoon, July the 30th, at 9:30 o'clock, at the family residence. Friends of the family are invited. Burial private, at Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati. There is left the husband, two sons and two daughters, Robert D., who is now absent in California; Miss Belle, the well-known drawing teacher in the public schools, and a young son and daughter, aged about 11 and 5 years respectively. The family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends. They Chaired Him. Recently Mr. Clarence L. Hillery took his brother Elks by surprise, if not by storm, by his marriage to a bonny belle of Richmond, West Virginia. They presented him with a handsome, elegant and substantial rattan easy rocking chair, purchased of Mr. W. M. Platenburg. Mr. Hillery will have many hours of solid comfort in his easy chair, in which to reflect upon the general characteristics of Elksdom. Rifle Practice by the C. C. G. The Champion City Guard held a very spirited and successful practice rifle match yesterday at the range on Mad river. Sergeant Henry Bradford made the best score—37 out of a possible 50. Corporal Davis, Lieutenant Mower, and Captain Wagner followed, making 36, 32 and 31, respectively. Private Nibberger brought up the rear, making the superb record of 4. The guards have rented the range, and will hold practice shoots twice a week.

THE CLARK COUNTY REGIMENT. Meeting of Committee and Officers This Forenoon.

At the meeting of the Clark County G. A. R. association this forenoon, Colonel Kilpatrick was chosen chairman and Ira W. Wallace secretary. Most of the posts in the county were represented. The business of the meeting consisted principally in hearing reports of committees and further instructions to committees whose work is not yet completed.

Comrade R. F. Delo, chairman of the committee on transportation, reported that he had no definite report yet from his application for rates. Quartermaster Ira W. Wallace reported that he had secured quarters in North Camp Nell for the accommodation of four hundred men from Clark county. It is expected that there will be a greater number of men from the county than four hundred, but that number will probably be all wanting camp accommodations.

It was resolved to call the association the G. A. R. regiment of Clark county. The Big Six band has been secured for the entire time at $50 per day and expenses, and the boys say they will have the best band in the camp. The field and staff officers were appointed a committee to secure a suitable banner to designate the organization. The same committee was also instructed to use their judgment in regard to procuring guidons or markers, whether to procure them here or through the department headquarters.

Quartermaster Wallace was instructed to procure horses of the National guard for the use of the field and staff officers, which has already been done. There was a general discussion of encampment matters, and everyone urged to do what was possible to secure as large an attendance as possible. Owing to the great crush of people in Columbus during the encampment, it is possible that the Clark county men may return home every evening and back to Columbus the morning again. Columbus will find it difficult to take care of all the people and most of the posts near will adopt this plan. The association adjourned to meet again next Saturday forenoon at the same place.

LATE POLICE PICKINGS. What the City Guardians Were About Today—Minor Arrests.

Officers Mast and Greaney arrested Bill Dean, colored, this morning, for a row in Tolson's disreputable joint on the levee. Dean had a row with another negro named Toll Payne, and the two pounded each other severely over the head with billiard cues. Payne is still at large, but the police are after him. The same officers also arrested Emanuel Tolson at the same joint on the charge of abusing his family.

Officer Thompson arrested Wm. D. Rice, a grocer whose place is at the corner of Pleasant street and the old Dayton road. Rice has been on a spree for some time past and last night threatened the life of A. Collier, a carpenter, with a revolver. He ran into the street and flourished the weapon around in a very menacing manner. At Haberman's boarding-house on east Pleasant street, Angus Schaffer, rooming in the Mitchell block, stole a gold ring from a border named Billy Sheehan. Officers Mast and Greaney recovered the ring and Sheehan will not prosecute.

SHE MEANT BUSINESS. A Carefully Planned Suicide Which Did Not Take Place. A colored woman attracted a large crowd in the vicinity of the Factory street bridge, last night, by her vociferous declarations that she intended to commit suicide by jumping from the bridge to the railroad track below, about twenty feet. She was slow in putting her threats into execution and took time to fully explain her plans. She had a razor, a gun and a rope, and in case the jump did not do the business she intended to cut her throat, in case that failed she would shoot herself and finally in case she found herself yet alive she intended to hang herself.

She seemed to have everything in readiness except the coffin and funeral equipage, when some colored man came along in a buggy, gathered her up and took her off. No one seemed to know either her or the man in the buggy, but a well arranged suicide was unceremoniously nipped on the bud. AM OVERDOSE. Close Call for Constablin Thomas From Morphine.

Constablin E. T. Thomas, of the Second ward, and wife, returned last evening from Circleville, where they have spent several days on a visit during the past week. Constablin Thomas had a very close call from merging into a corpse while there. He was taken with a severe case of stomach cramps, doubling him up and causing a most excruciating agony. A physician was called who saw that the only way to ease the agony was to administer morphine. A hyperdermic injection was made, but the quantity was too great and Mr. Thomas relapsed into a profound unconsciousness from which it was almost impossible to awaken him. He is better now, but still weak and prostrated.

WORK IN THE SCHOOLS. It is Planned on Exhibition to the Public. Pursuant to announcement in the REPUBLIC, the writing and drawing exhibits executed by the pupils of the Springfield public schools, which are to go to the Ohio centennial at Columbus, have been placed on exhibition in the room lately occupied by Straley. The specimens of writing and drawing are all of the most meritorious character, and a profound credit upon Miss Knott and Miss Brain. The writing of children from six years old up is as beautiful as copperplate, while the original drawings possess a wonderful degree of merit. No city in Ohio will exhibit a better collection than Springfield.

A Moped Derailed by a Spreading Track. Last evening an I. B. & W. road engine was derailed near East street by the spreading of the rails. It was long after midnight before the iron monster could be gotten back on the track again and the entire yard crew was engaged in the work. A Dismal Fall. John Kizer, living near Lawrenceville, fell and broke both bones of his right arm late this afternoon. Dr. Russell was called out. The Wick Woods. The county redeemed $8,000 worth of the Theodore Wick defalcation bonds this morning. The Kuquas buggy is the best made. Buy one.

KINNANE, WREN & COMPANY'S GREAT CHEAP SALE

MONDAY, JULY 30, CONTINUING TWO WEEKS ONLY.

The prices at which goods will be sold during this sale should characterize it as the most memorable and inviting ever announced in this city. If interested in yourselves, your first thought on Monday Morning should be to attend this sale.

COME EARLY TO AVOID THE RUSH! THE BARGAINS ARE HERE, AND WILL BE SOLD AS ADVERTISED.

RESPECTFULLY, KINNANE, WREN & CO.

Bureau and Trunk in One. "What is the latest novelty in the trunk business?" was asked by a reporter of a well known dealer in that line of goods a few days ago. "The very latest thing, I believe, is called the 'bureau trunk' and is made especially for the use of ladies going to the country or seashore, where the accommodations are likely to be more or less cramped in the matter of room. I think it about the neatest thing of the kind ever put on the market, and, to use a hackneyed expression, fills a long felt want for those who are practically forced to 'live in a trunk' for three months in the year."

LACONDA LACONICS. Items of Interest from Springfield's Lively Little Suburb.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Groves have moved to North street, in the city. Mr. Elijah Allen and family have moved to their new residence on Lagonda avenue. At Haberman's boarding-house on east Pleasant street, Angus Schaffer, rooming in the Mitchell block, stole a gold ring from a border named Billy Sheehan. Officers Mast and Greaney recovered the ring and Sheehan will not prosecute.

Mrs. Sparks, of near the East street shops, visited her father, Mr. T. J. Simpson, in the Zimmerman addition, this week. Mr. William Eagan has gone to Cincinnati, and will probably go on to his former home in Kentucky, for a two weeks' vacation. Miss Mollie Wells and her son and daughter, and Miss Lottie Wells have gone to Kepton, O., for a visit to friends and relatives.

Mr. C. M. Tuttle, of Lagonda avenue, returned Thursday morning from the harvest fields of the west, and was sent away a man to Tulsa, O., by the W. B. & G. company in their interest. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Killen returned from their wedding trip yesterday, and will begin the realities of married life in Lagonda. It is needless to say that "Tammany Hall" was waiting for Howard.

Mr. W. W. Neal, one of the veteran foremen of the shops here, was pleasantly surprised yesterday by a call from Mr. James Miller, of Atlanta, Ga., who formerly worked for Mr. Neal. Mr. Miller is here looking up capital to manufacture some articles of his own invention. Joseph Berry, Jr., E. Britain, George Mitchell and Hans W. Welch returned yesterday from a fishing excursion to the "Reservoir," in Logan county, and today another party, consisting of Wm. G. Burkert, Willie Locke, Bert Jones and Charley Bueck, went to the same place to catch what was left, unless sooner eaten up by the mosquitoes.

No Help for Such. Scene in the office of M. Pasteur: "Sutler—Doctor, I have come to consult you as a last resort. Can you do anything to relieve me from the consequences of these wounds?" Doctor—Those are a little the worst dog bites I ever saw. "Sutler—Doctor, those are not dog bites, they are Jersey mosquito bites. Doct—My dear sir, I can do nothing for you. Next—Judge.

A Deep Insult. "Aw, Cholly, I haven't seen you out lately with Miss Flossie. Anything the matter, old boy?" "Yes, Alford. She insulted me the other day, and I've dropped her." "Insulted you, Cholly? How?" "She told me a little pug dog, that she had twained to sit upright and suck the head of a cane, had Jove!"—Chicago Tribune. How He Knew. "Don't you know who I am?" asked Gus De Smith of an Austin gentleman, who had just returned from Mexico after a long absence. "Certainly I do. You are De Smith, Gus De Smith. So help me heaven! if I hadn't known your Christian name, I never would have recognized you, you have changed so much."—Texas Sittings. "Give Him 52, and Let Him Guess." "We once heard a man complain of feeling badly, and wondered what ailed him. A humorous friend said, 'Give a doctor 52, and let him guess.' It was a cutting satire on some doctors, who don't always guess right. You need not guess what ails you when your food don't digest, when your bowels and stomach are inactive, and when your head aches every day, and you are languid and easily fatigued. You are bilious, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pills will bring you out all right. Small, sugar-coated, easy to take. Of druggists. Starch made up with soapy water will be glossier. Long Branch gambling houses are not disturbed by the authorities.

Big Holders of Bank Stock. "August Belmont," recently remarked an old Wall street man, "is one of the largest holders of bank stock, and having good opportunity of learning values he has made fine investments. He has been in successful business for half a century and has made an immense fortune, and yet you never see his name among real estate buyers, nor is he found in the railroad market. On the other hand, being a banker himself, he knows that it pays well, and he therefore puts his money in this shape. A few years ago the public was astonished to learn that he owned a half million in one bank—this fact having been revealed in the course of an investigation, and it is now supposed that he has several millions thus invested. The Astors also hold heavy amounts of bank stock. Old John Jacob, who died forty years ago, was one of the largest shareholders in the Bank of America and the Manhattan company, and the family has been increasing this investment ever since. The Havemeyers are large bank stock owners. There are retired families in this city which have lived on bank dividends for half a century, and the old bank of New York can give some figures of still greater antiquity."

On the other hand, A. T. Stewart, notwithstanding his millions, held but little bank stock, his preference being real estate. One can very easily see the reason of this. Stewart was always watching his clerks to keep them from stealing, and he knew that bank clerks have an equal opportunity. His caution, therefore, led him to invest in real estate. Morgan, on the other hand, carried on a business in which thieving is impossible, and he got so used to trusting clerks that he had no suspicion of bank troubles. Percy B. Pyne, president of the City bank, is a very extensive owner of bank property. He inherited his present office from his father-in-law, the late Moses Taylor, who left twenty millions. Taylor, like Morgan, incurred no risks from "crises, and therefore was a buyer of bank stocks. It will be generally found that leading commercial men naturally prefer bank shares, while retail merchants, who have been long required to watch their employees, invest in real estate.—New York Mail and Express.

Royalty at Honolulu. The present king, Kalakama—meaning Day of Battle—is not of Kamehameha descent, but was elected to the throne in default of an heir apparent, none having been named by the sovereign. He is not a man who commands the respect of the better classes of the people on his islands. He is much more at home with his native singers and dancers at Kailua than in managing and conducting governmental affairs at Honolulu. In June last year his subjects became so intolerant that the leading citizens of Honolulu inaugurated a bloodless revolution, forcing the king to dismiss his entire cabinet and appoint citizens whom they named, and also to sign a new constitution virtually modeled upon that of the United States. The queen is of good demeanor and possesses more or less dignity. They have no children, and the heir apparent is Mrs. J. O. Dominis, wife of the governor of the island. She is the king's sister. Her husband is white, color not counting for much in that country.—Charles H. Wetmore in Detroit Free Press.

Scottish Pipers in New York. Last year Mr. Carnegie, determining to identify himself with the customs of the country, engaged a piper, who, having played the guests out of bed, discoursed to them in the day and played them into dinner in the evening. This musician was taken to New York, where he astonished the natives by many a feat of musical gymnastics. Other millionaires, not to be outdone, ordered out pipers, until they are now quite fashionable in New York houses. The pipers say that the dry air of the Empire City cracks the pipes and spoils the strains, which is worth mentioning in the interests of such pipers as may be contemplating a trip across the Atlantic.—Fall Budget.

They Are the Best. And everybody pronounces them so. Only those who have them know their true merits, and those who buy takes the word of their neighbors and buy of Kuqua & Son. Low rate excursions to Grant points via I. W. & B. route in August, September and October. Will announce date later. C. L. HILHEARY, Ticket Agent.

"George," said the happy bride, "papa has placed a check among the wedding presents." "Is that so?" whispered George, anxiously. "Did you notice if it's certified?" Buffalo has increased 1,557 names over her last year's directory list, and now has a population of 258,560.

Country Folks in the City. On the top floor of the city hall I found them, and immediately my mind wandered away to the homely farm house, less imposing than the great barn and outbuildings near by, the old orchard, with its wide spreading trees, the narrow lane to the spring, the jealously treasured wood, the perfume of clover, the soft eyed cattle, the wild backside rides in the back pasture fields, the singing school, the protracted meetings, the paring bees and country dances, the harvest home, the hundred memories that belong only to the country, that cluster about the farm. I say I found them. There was a whole family, six of them, and they were talking on the sights of the city hall. The old father and mother, the grown son, the two daughters emerging from their teens, the precocious young lad, who knew more than the whole party—that was the holiday crowd.

I rode down with them in the elevator. The young man led the way across the floor, flicking his whip recklessly. The girls were skittish young things, and they didn't like elevators. I braced my back against the side of the car and quietly watched them. One of the girls wore a pin on which the name "Jennie" was picked out in the metal. She was the youngest, prettiest and most nervous. When the car started her heart climbed into her mouth, I could see, and she swallowed it with evident difficulty. She leaned her head on the other girl's shoulder and indulged in a little hysterical laugh. "Will it ever stop?" she asked. The robust young lad heard the query and assailed her cowardice. "Don't be scared, Jennie," was his advice, but Jennie couldn't help it. She was hysterical when she got down, and walked out to the "democrat" wagon with all the color missing from her pretty cheeks. A couple of young lady teachers going down from Superintendent Crooker's room smiled in quite a superior way, and I wondered if the positions were reversed, and the city girls had to milk a kicking cow, whether the country girl wouldn't have the smile on her side and a heart sinking in the rear.—Buffalo News—"Man About Town."

Mr. Hawes, the sensational London preacher, is short in stature and halts in his gait. His hair is black, and he bears well his fifty years. He is an admirable companion, and an exquisite performer on the violin. The American relic hunter is the most ravenous in the world. Unknown persons have begun to remove the rails from the historic Yale college fence, presumably with a view of securing them as relics before the whole thing is taken down by order of the college authorities.
