THE SUREST ROAD TO WEALTH IS THROUGH LIBERAL ADVERTISING!

THERE is much concern about the Lytle insurance law which has just passed the lower branch of the Legislature and is now before the Senate. It is patterned after what is known as the Massachusetts law, and has been adopted in several other states. It secures to policy holders, who have paid at least two years' premium and who lapse, a return to them of the "net value" of the policy, either in cash, or in such proportion of the policy payable at death as this net cash value would purchase. A man may have paid his premiums to a company for thirty years, and then through accident or inability, his payment is not made on the date it is due and his policy is cancelled, and he loses all his rights under it. This law states that and insures to such policy the "net value" of such policy, a sum fixed by insurance law and custom, and well known and agreed upon by all insurance companies. This net value of the lapsed policy holder at present is divided up among the remaining policy holders in the shape of rebates or dividends. In equity it belongs to the poor lapsed policy holder, and this law secures to him the small justice.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR ATTACK GENERAL ORDWAY.

THEY MAKE SEVERAL CHARGES

His Lecture to the Militia Denounced as Treasonable and Incendiary—Probing Pension Office Troubles.

By National Press Association.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A committee, composed of Messrs. Paul T. Bowen, L. P. Wild and E. W. Hamilton, representing District Assembly No. 60, Knights of Labor, called upon the Secretary of War and presented to him charges against Brig.-Gen. Albert Ordway, commanding the National Guard of the District of Columbia.

The charges are in effect that Gen. Ordway in a lecture to the officers on the guard used language which was treasonable and incendiary, calculated to create in the minds of the militia officers a sense of their superiority to the law, excessive fear of the dangers to be encountered in the line of their duty and a bitter hatred and bloodthirsty vindictiveness toward such people as they may be called upon to restrain in the interest of peace and good order.

Also, that when he abandoned the field of instructions in the proper military tactics to be used in the suppression of civil disorder, to elucidate, compare and condemn social, political and economic doctrines, he exceeded his proper function. The Secretary promised the committee that the charges shall have proper consideration.

PENSION BUREAU TROUBLES.

The Charges Preferred Against Major Barker Investigated.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Assistant Secretary Dussey and Commissioner of Pensions Raum instituted an investigation at the Pension Office into the charges preferred against Major Barker, Chief of the Record Division, for appropriating to his personal use money which was raised for the widow of a clerk, recently deceased, and also against J. M. Donahue, who endorsed notes and represented a money-lender not employed in the office.

Twenty witnesses were examined, the bulk of the testimony showing conclusively that Barker never had the money belonging to the widow in his possession. The conclusion of the evidence will, it is thought, exonerate Barker; but the charges against Donahue were fully substantiated by the evidence adduced. The Assistant Secretary said that he was satisfied that Donahue was using his position for personal gain and would recommend his dismissal.

A WAYWARD WIFE FAILS TO SECURE BAIL.

SHE MAKES COUNTER CHARGES.

She is Charged With Desertion and Goes to Jail—Two Junk Dealers Run Away to Escape Costs.

An instance of marriage being a failure was unearthed in Squire Williams' office last night. Mrs. Lizzie Becker, formerly known as "Lovy" Barry, was called upon to answer a charge of desertion made by her husband, William. There were many sensational developments in the case and, at times, there were lively scenes in the justice's office. The husband charged his wife with neglecting him, getting drunk and associating with disreputable men and women. The wife did not deny the charges, but answered them with the assertion that he, her husband, not only condoned her conduct, but had made himself the beneficiary of her illicit earnings. The wife attempted to get at the husband several times during the hearing and begged the officer to let her go "just one rap at him." She was asked to furnish $200 bail and, being unable to furnish it, was committed to jail until the next term of court.

Shirk Swindler.

A well dressed man entered a Pittston clothing store on Friday night and proceeded to make purchases of various articles of apparel, amounting in value to $18. He had them put into a new valise and he then asked permission to leave his valise and all in the store till next day, when he would call and pay for them. Early Saturday morning when only the errand boy was present, he called at the store and saying that he had left his valise on Friday, he picked up the property and walked off without paying the $20 or more which was due. He is supposed to be a professional swindler who works this as a special racket. The Gazette says: He is evidently a professional swindler. He is about 35 years old, 5 feet 6 inches high, has a sandy moustache and is dressed in a black coat and vest, with striped pantaloons. It is said he is wanted in Wilkes-Barre also, where a few days ago he stole a gross of lead pencils from an errand boy on the street. The business people of the coal region are notified to be on the lookout for the rascal. He is a slick one.

MILLION FAILURE.

ANOTHER SHOCK TO BOSTON'S MERCANTILE COMMUNITY.

POTTER, WHITE & BAYLEY ASSIGN.

The Firm Transacted a Shoe Business of $20,000,000 a Year. The Crash Caused by Failure of the Hill Company.

By National Press Association.

BOSTON, May 26.—Potter, White & Bayley, boots and shoes, doing business at 120 Summer street, have assigned to E. H. Dunn, W. H. Allen and President Bullins of the Revere Bank, where Mr. Potter is a director. Their liabilities are estimated at about $1,000,000.

The firm has done a business of $20,000,000 a year, and the failure gives the mercantile community a decided shock, although during the past three years there has been more or less talk to the effect that the firm's condition was not of the best.

The firm is composed of John G. Potter, H. M. Stephens and Frank C. Potter. John G. Potter is the only living member of the original firm. In June, 1889, Mr. Potter admitted his son, Frank C., and Mr. Stephens, the latter having long been an employe of the house. The firm's factories are at Farmington, N.H., and Cochranton, Mass.

The Hill failure is believed to have been the immediate cause of the failure. The slump in the Western and Southern trade also has much to do with it. Members of the firm declined to talk of the failure and referred all inquirers to their counsel. The latter, however, is out of town.

WILL ASK FOR A RECEIVER.

Interesting Developments Expected About the Star Rubber Company.

TRENTON, N. J., May 26.—The counsel for the Star Rubber Company will ask the Chancellor for a receiver. No explanation is made as to where the money has gone, except that the banks will refuse to discount the paper now held by the Star.

It is estimated that there is at least $700,000 of the Star Company's paper scattered around in New Jersey banks, with some in New York and Philadelphia. The plant of the concern is valued at $200,000. The value of the stock on hand is not known. There will be some interesting developments in the next two days.

BIG BAIL FOR BARDSLEY.

He is Still Too Ill to Appear for the Keystone Bank Hearing.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 26.—Chief of Police A. W. Wikert of Harrisburg arrived in this city with a warrant for the arrest of City Treasurer Bardsley, charged with the embezzlement of State funds. The warrant was sworn out by Chief Wikert before Alderman Maurer of Harrisburg, and immediately thereafter Auditor-General McCamant and Chief Wikert started on a train for Philadelphia, being joined at Lancaster by Attorney General Hensel, and reaching this city shortly after 10 o'clock.

The warrant and affidavit, made by Chief Wikert charges Mr. Bardsley "with embezzling a large sum of money, to-wit: The sum of $133,634.95 belonging to the State of Pennsylvania, and was demanded from him on the 19th of May A. D. 1891, in a settlement, made by the Auditor-General, according to the act of General Assembly in such cases made and provided."

Bardsley was put under $50,000 bail for a further hearing on Friday, and will go to jail as soon as he is able to leave his sick bed, which will be in two or three days, his attending physician says, providing he improves as he has done to-day.

No trace of G. W. Marsh, the fugitive president of the Keystone Bank, has yet been discovered. United States Commissioner Bell said to-day that it would be impossible for him to leave the country, as every port is watched. He also said that he never knew of such strenuous efforts being made to capture a fugitive, no expense being spared.
