Sudden Deaths.

Heart disease is by far the most frequent cause of sudden death, which in three out of four cases is unexpected.

Take up and boom your own town. Don't expect strangers to do it for you.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Siles Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation.

Only babies and sucklers get what they want by crying for it.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community.

The preserving season begins with strawberries and cherries.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that most terrible disease, Consumption. Ask your friends if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it.

Perhaps overcoats in May mean linen suiters in October.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure is the most successful cough medicine we have ever sold. It cures Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine.

Leather belts will be worn by gentlemen this summer.

DR. DUMOUIN'S LEGACY.

The great Dumoulin, when dying, said: "I leave you two great physicians—simple diet and soft water."

It is reasonable for nature to melt into ecstasy and song.

To Nervous, Debilitated Men.

If you send us your address, we will mail you our illustrated pamphlet explaining all about Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and Appliances, and their charming effects upon the nervous debilitated system.

The festival season is now here in all its glory.

Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills.

Act on a new principle—regulating the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new discovery. Dr. Miles' Pills speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles, constipation.

A well known physician in New York advises his patients who suffer with Coughs and Colds to use Pan-Tonic Cough and Consumption Cure.

True Patriotism.

"Well, I suppose you are going to celebrate Decoration day in the proper spirit?"

"Yes, I'm going to the ball game."

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY, Washington, April 8, 1891.

WHEREAS, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The Merchants' National Bank of Shenandoah," in the Borough of Shenandoah, in the County of Shenandoah and State of Pennsylvania, has complied with all the provisions of the statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking.

Now, THEREFORE, I, Edward S. Lacey, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The Merchants' National Bank of Shenandoah," in the Borough of Shenandoah, in the County of Shenandoah, and State of Pennsylvania, is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in section fifty-one hundred and sixty-nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we hereunto set our hand and seal of office this 8th day of April, 1891.

E. S. LACEY, Comptroller of the Currency.

THE GRADUATES.

book part in the dialogue. The stage was arranged during a brief intermission to represent a town hall and when the curtain was raised the young men straggled upon the stage, in "down-East fashion," attired as farmers, lawyers, doctors, dudes, squires, etc.

"The Town Meeting at Grabtown" is called to discuss and decide upon a site for a school building. The Town Clerk (G. A. Howells) calls the meeting to order and Squire Grabb (Bert C. Hooks) is made chairman by a vote of all, except Mr. Skinfint (John A. Kerns) who differs with all the others, and votes "No" on everything they favor.

THE HOG POUND.

Lawyer Chatter (A. A. Reed, Jr.) jumped to his feet and seconds the proposition with these remarks: "The pound, though not fit for hogs, would be an excellent place for a school. True, it is only twenty feet by twenty; but children can be packed close."

Mr. Sharp (James O'Hara) prefaces his remarks with an expression of regret that he is obliged to differ with his friends and says he thinks "we can cut off an angle from the old burial ground that will afford a site quite as economical as the hog-pound, and more central. Some dainty people," he continues, "refuse to live opposite, because of bad smells; but the children will not mind the smells."

Mr. Skinfint says he has "listened with profound interest to the remarks," and after expressing the hope that his fellow-citizens will believe he is "actuated by the sincerest devotion to the public good," and that in him "also the spirit of seventy-six burns bright" he suggests that his old stable be purchased for a school.

Farmer Bright (W. F. Reber) interrupts by asking Mr. Skinfint "if he has not repeatedly said that the old stable wasn't fit for his cattle," to which Mr. Skinfint replies, "Well, sir, it doesn't follow that it may not be made into a very respectable school-house."

Farmer Bright says he is a poor speaker and asks that "my son Jeff (W. H. Brown), who can talk like a book," be allowed to speak. The permission is granted and Jeff seizes hold of the question intelligently. But when he says "What, sir! a place not fit for hogs fit for your children and teachers?" His auditors applauded loudly, while Squire Grabb raps for order and demands that Jeff "confine himself to the question and not indulge in any impertinent remarks."

Jeff replies that he "can conceive of nothing more pertinent than the inquiry whether a place which the hogs protest against is suitable for a school for human beings. We love pork, sir, but we love our children better. Again Jeff is called to order amid a storm of applause, but his auditors rebel against the chairman and insist that the speaker continue. He does so and arouses Mr. Sharp's ire by ridiculing his burial-ground proposition, saying: "Sir, the economy which he recommends is the self-same economy that would lead a man to buy tanned beef for his family because he could get it cheaper than good beef." Applause and laughter follow this statement, and in reply to Mr. Sharp's "Is this order?" Squire Grabb, who has been won over by the speaker, says, "silence! No Interruption!" Jeff then turns his attention to Mr. Skinfint's preferred locality "with his cow-yard on one side, and his pig-gery on the other," and says, "I admire the self-sacrificing devotion which led him to give up, with many tears, his ancestral stable, at his own price, now that it is no longer fit for four-legged cattle." Amid the laughter and applause following these remarks Mr.

Skinfint protests against the allusions made to him, but he is obliged to take his seat amid cries of "Put him out!" "Trip him up!" "Skin him!" etc.

Jeff then recommends the selection of "the best and healthiest ten-acre lot in the town for your school-site," and all but Mr. Skinfint cry "Good!" "That's it!" Jeff then points the result of such a purchase in glowing colors and as he concludes the question is called for.

Mr. Skinfint says he sees "ruin and bankruptcy" in the measure proposed by Jeff, but he is silenced by cries of "Shut up!" "Sit Down!" "Enough!" "Question!" &c.

A vote is finally taken on the hog-pound proposition and it is defeated, Mr. Skinfint being the only one voting for it. The ten-acre lot proposition then prevails with Mr. Skinfint's vote recorded against.

The dialogue created considerable merriment and the audience applauded it enthusiastically.

Among those who took part in it and whose names have not been mentioned were Harry Owens, "Mr. Easy, John Cosgrove, Mr. Crane, Edward Shoemaker, Dr. Pshaw, Harry Clauser Dude, John Price Negro, and John Campbell, John Hughes, Patrick Stack, Patrick Dougherty, Benjamin Mansell, Charles Leitold, Patrick Stanton, Roy Swank, Jere McAvoy and John Scheily, farmers.

After the applause following the dialogue had subsided Ruby Yost gave a vocal solo, "Bonnie Doon," in a very pretty manner. Miss Yost was accompanied on the piano by Mable Straup.

"Yankee Doodle," by Jane T. Lamber, her fourth grade primary class, was well rendered, and a solo, "I Cannot Sing That Old Song," was sweetly sung by Sallie J. Griffiths.

Miss Dugler's class appeared for the third time and gave the song, "Isle of Long Ago" with splendid effect.

Bert C. Hooks and Wm. H. Brown were next introduced. They appeared in old military dress and gave a duet entitled, "Two Men of the Olden Time," in which they told of "our joys and sorrows of a hundred years ago."

Edith M. Morgan's rendition of the solo, "Dad's Sweet-Heart," with chorus by the senior class, was intensely listened to and heartily applauded.

The exercises closed with the singing of "Home, Sweet Home" by the senior class.

NOTE. As the HERALD issues a morning edition to-day, and as the time between the closing of the High School graduating exercises in the theatre last night, and the time of going to press this morning was so short as not to allow justice to the report of the proceedings, the publication is deferred until Monday's issue.
