THE SURE ROAD TO OPULENCE LIES KNEE-DEEP THROUGH PRINTER'S INK

DIRTY CAMPAIGNING.

Monday's Philadelphia Inquirer says the campaign of defamation begun at the ratification meeting conducted under the auspices of Mr. Harrity is continued by the Democratic organs, notably the Times. It will be remembered that in that remarkable document promulgated by the ratification meeting State Treasurer Boyer was "arraigned and condemned," not because he had done anything, but because he was a Republican and it was considered the proper thing to "arraign and condemn" every Republican in the state. Following out the line of defamation the immaculate Times, always in the lead when some job like South Mountain or the sale of the gas works is being engineered by the vultures, assails Boyer for having dared to leave the state for a few days of fishing. It says among other things:

The topic of discussion at the State Capital to-day is the disappearance of so many Treasury and ex-Treasurer officials. It is regarded as a strange coincidence that simultaneously with the calling together of the Legislative Investigating Committee during the past week Boyer should be in Canada, Livey in Milwaukee or somewhere else and that Quay should have taken a cottage by the sea sands of New Jersey, where his family intend to join him.

This is about as mean a fling as even the Times is capable of. Of course, Quay is at Atlantic City for the sole purpose of escaping the Investigating Committee. He never goes there for any other reason. His interests are in Pennsylvania. His home is in this state. He is in Atlantic, not for the purpose of fishing, but to escape the questions of a committee. Of course, he will continue a fugitive. He will give up his home and his office and remain by the seashore, just because a Legislative Committee is taking testimony—a committee that began operations long before the Senator's flight. The innuendo concerning Boyer is on a par with the declaration concerning the escape of Quay. The Times adds:

People are recalling the fact that Boyer was the first witness examined by the committee, that his examination was very perfunctory, being confined to a few questions about the condition of the Treasury when he took charge of it; the banks in which the state money was deposited and the exact condition of the money deposited by his bondsmen to make good the Jamison and Delamater losses, and that he started for Canada on a fishing excursion the next morning.

Doubtless such attacks are pleasing to the Harrity combine, but there are some Democrats left who decline to support the newspaper in his course of defamation. John Fow is a member of the Investigating Committee, and is a Democrat. He put the questions to Boyer. Says Mr. Fow in indignation to the Times reporter:

There was nothing perfunctory about it. In point of fact, the Treasurer was on the stand over two hours and we got from him all the information we expected to get. Nobody believes that Mr. Boyer has actual knowledge of anything criminally wrong. The crooked work is done by outsiders, and I for one did not expect to connect Mr. Boyer with the looting of the Treasury that has been going on for so long. As for his being out of the jurisdiction of the committee, I know that he is in Canada, where he is heavily interested in valuable fishing grounds, but I am satisfied that he is willing at any time to give us what information he can and to aid us in removing the load of disgrace that Pennsylvania is now staggering under. I myself asked him every pertinent question I could think of, and his answers were in every instance clear and satisfactory.

The facts concerning Mr. Boyer are just these, and they were easily obtainable by the Times had it used the slightest possible effort to learn them: Mr. Boyer is in the habit of making an annual trip to Canada to fish. He delayed his vacation in order to appear before the committee, and there was not a member of it that did not know this and did not further know of his intentions to take his vacation as soon as his examination was over. Captain Skinner, another Democratic member of the committee, adds to Mr. Fow's announcement:

The committee knew that Treasurer Boyer was going on his vacation, and we arranged with him for a further examination upon his return. I am sure that Boyer did not run away from the committee, and I know that the committee will examine him upon all points in connection with the Treasury upon his return. It has been Treasurer Boyer's custom for several years to spend a few weeks in Canada gunning and fishing. He is a member of a club which owns a great many acres of woodland. The Treasurer will probably return in a week or two.

This ought to be sufficient to satisfy any honorable person, but the vultures will still flap their wings.

BOROUGH BUDGET

PROSECUTIONS AGAINST SUNDAY BASE BALL PLAYERS.

TWO OF THEM SENT TO JAIL TO-DAY

They Refused to Pay the Fines. Presentation of a Medal to a Leader—The Eastern Pennsylvania Conference.

Thomas Fluck and Michael Ryan were arrested last night on a warrant sworn out by Charles Jones, charging them with participating in a game of base ball at the trotting park on Sunday last. The accused and others were members of a club of town that played a game at the time and place stated against a club from Jackson. Warrants are out for other parties.

Charles Jones and J. H. Kurts were present to press the case. The accused did not deny the charges. They said they did not know they had violated any law and, as they work during the week, Sunday is the only day on which they can enjoy themselves.

Squire Dongler read the law and imposed a fine of four dollars upon each of the young men. They said they would not pay and were committed to the lockup for the night. This morning Constable Tish took the accused to the Pottsville jail, where they will remain for six days, which is the term of imprisonment prescribed in default of payment of fine.

The Uncertain Jurors.

The first case tried in room No. 2 of the new Pottsville court house was one against Stephen Lehr for selling liquor on Sunday. The District Attorney and S. G. M. Hollister, Esq., represented the Commonwealth and W. D. Saitzer, Esq., appeared for the accused. Mr. Hollister says that notwithstanding abundant evidence against the accused and a charge by the Judge that was little less than a direction for a verdict of guilty the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" and put two-thirds of the costs on the prosecutor, Edward Gray, and one-third on the defendant. The prosecutor was unable to pay the costs and was sent to jail.

A Presentation.

Prof. Philip E. Evans was last night presented with a handsome gold medal as a testimonial of esteem from the Shenandoah Glee Club, of which he is leader. The presentation took place in the Watson House. There was a spread and the glee club and Shenandoah Choral Union rendered several excellent pieces. Mr. Evans' friends were present in large numbers to congratulate him and he enjoyed one of the most pleasant evenings of his life.

Died.

BAIRD.—At Shenandoah, Pa., Tuesday evening, Sept. 8th, 1891. Charles Miles, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baird, aged 8 months. Funeral on Friday, Sept. 11th, at 2 o'clock p. m. Interment in Odd Fellows' cemetery, Shenandoah. Friends and relatives respectfully invited. 9-3-t

The Conference.

The laymen's convention of the Pottsville district, Eastern Pennsylvania Conference, closed in the Evangelical church on Cherry street yesterday afternoon. The following delegates to the general convention, to be held at Philadelphia, were elected: Isaac Christ, John Huber, John Maurer. Alternates, W. S. Souder, J. H. Kehler and W. H. Zaring.

Concert Each Evening.

Willie Kendrick, the phenomenal cornetist of the U. S. Marine Band, is home on a vacation and will play at his parents' home, the Kendrick House, each evening, rendering some of the most difficult and popular solos of the day, accompanied by the Kendrick orchestra. Change of programs each evening. 9-3-15

Keep Off the Corner.

Residents in the vicinity of the corner of White and Coal streets threaten to institute prosecutions if they cannot induce the boys and girls who infest the corner at nights to keep away by other means. The actions and language indulged in by the mashers is of the most disgraceful character, they say.

Important.

Do you want a good stable, suitable for livery purposes, in a good location. If so, apply to John J. Robbins, 130 North Main street, or at the HERALD office. 9-5-1w

The Reese Inquest.

Deputy Coroner Brennan last night held an inquest in the case of Daniel Reese, who was killed in the West Shenandoah colliery. The jury decided that the young man met his death through his own carelessness.

It is a well known fact that Pan-Tina Cough and Consumption Cure has cured Consumption, Coughs and Colds when all else failed. 25 and 50 cents. Trial bottles free at Kirlin's drug store.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. D. O. Pritchard has given birth to a son.

Misses Virgie and Ethel Hoppeler spent today at Pottsville.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, of New York, is visiting her parents in town.

Deputy Sheriff Boddall, of Pottsville, was in town yesterday on official business. Mr. and Mrs. John Thurlby witnessed the G. A. R. demonstration at Mt. Carmel. Miss Robena P. Glover left town today to take charge of a school at Atlantic City. S. E. Boyer, of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, who was visiting friends here, went to Thomax yesterday.

W. Jeff Havenstock, formerly a resident of town, and lately of Wilmington, Del., has taken up his abode in the Soldiers' Home in Virginia.

Mrs. Hoppeler and Misses Edith Morgan, Sallie R. Wasley, Bella Brown, Maggie E. Jacoby and Hattie A. Callan attended the W. C. T. U. convention at Mahanoy City today.

Miss E. C. Korn, one of the best teachers Raton ever had, has returned from her sad visit to Pennsylvania, where she attended the funeral of her mother.—From the Raton Range, New Mexico.

Newspaper Notes.

Harry G. Stebbins, formerly a reporter on the Daily Republican, Pottsville, has, in connection with Mr. Galtzman, purchased the Shamokin Dispatch, and the new firm intends to improve and make the Dispatch one of the best dailies in that section of the country.

Bro. Sallenberger, late of the Shamokin Dispatch, we understand, is going to take Pullitzer's place on the New York World.

The Call, Schuylkill Haven's new newspaper venture, continues to fill a long-felt want. It is being liberally patronized by the people of that town, as it should be.

Will Steble, formerly of the Ashland Telegram, on his return home from the Woolley West, will go into the newspaper business again, probably in this county.

The Harrison Sentinel has been greatly improved and changed for the better. Messrs. Maue and McCarthy can, if they will, turn out a good paper.

Political Greed.

The proposition, whoever made it, to allow each party to elect a Poor Director this year, does not meet with favor with the Democrats. They want the whole hog or nothing.—Shenandoah Herald.

That's a fact, brother, there is nothing very generous in Democratic politics or there would not be a candidate ran against Judge Green, the only Republican upon the bench, while the Democrats have two. They could well afford to let things remain unchanged, but as the HERALD says, they are not contented with even the lion's share, but hanker after the whole hog.—Tri-Weekly Record.

Columbia County Fair.

The thirty-seventh annual exhibition of the Columbia County Agricultural Society will be held at Bloomsburg, October 14-17, 1891. This old and well established society, in order to hold its position in the van of similar organizations, has again revised and increased its premium list, providing for an additional race each day, while at the same time offering extra inducements to exhibitors in several of the other departments. The five railroads which have access to Bloomsburg will sell tickets at excursion rates during the fair and the indications are favorable for the largest attendance in its history.

The Pastor Kept His Promise.

David Thomas, aged 70 years, one of the oldest Welsh citizens in New York, died on Friday, from the result of an accident, falling down a hatchway. He was just recovering from an accident received a year ago. He was a contractor, and employed a large number of teams. He was a deacon of the Eleventh street Welsh Congregational church. He saved Rev. E. J. Morris, of this city, who was for many years his pastor, that if he survived him he should preach his funeral sermon. Mr. Morris kept the long promise, and left on Saturday to officiate at the funeral, which occurred yesterday.—Wilkes-Barre Record.

AN OPEN LETTER.

NEW YORK'S LEUT.-GOVERNOR WRITES TO CLEVELAND.

HE WARNS THE EX-PRESIDENT.

A Claim That His Friends Are Interfering in the State Campaign—A Vigorous Protest Against Power of Wealth.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sep. 9.—The following open letter is published by a paper in this city:

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sep. 8.

Hon. Grover Cleveland, New York.
Sir: Excuse my addressing you through the "press," but as the subject considered is one in which the public is greatly interested, I deem it proper to do so.

It is understood that you are a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1892. This renders it not only proper, but incumbent upon you to take all honorable means to protect your interests, and prevent your friends from complicating you in alliances which may result to your injury. Your friends are taking active interest in our State campaign and are freely using your name in their support of Mr. Flower.

Your strength as a Presidential candidate lies in your strength with the masses, the wage-earners, the toilers and producers. They are a large majority of the people in this country, and they are not in sympathy with the class of people whom Mr. Flower represents.

The movement "along the line," manifesting itself in alliances, leagues, various combinations and organizations, as well as the free expression of the people in "daily talk," is a protest against the aggressive power of wealth, now accomplishing its purpose by its free use in debauching the political morals of the people.

Yours truly,
EDWARD F. JONES.

THE ROCHESTER CONVENTION.

New York Republicans Meet To-Day to Nominate State Officers.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 9.—The Farnest boom is carrying everything before it here and his name will probably be the first on the State ticket to be nominated to-night or to-morrow.

Shortly before noon West Washington rink was crowded and at 12 o'clock the State Convention was called to order.

Prayer was offered by Rev. H. H. Stebbins, after which William W. Goodrich of Brooklyn was elected temporary chairman. He appointed the standing committees on contested seats, platform and permanent organization.

The convention then took a recess till later in the afternoon. There are only two contests, one in Seneca County and one in Chemung, both of which will, it is expected, be made short work of.

The platform will commend Harrison's administration and will praise Blaine's foreign policy in equally strong terms. This will give the delegates a chance to show their preferences for Blaine or Harrison.

The strongest plank will be that in favor of the McKinley tariff, and much space will be devoted to it. Credit will be claimed for the Republican party in reducing the rate of State taxation. Free silver will be denounced.

Sued for Kneeling a Count.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—Count Eugene Logotheth, a member of one of the most distinguished families of Hungary, has brought suit for $5,000 damages against Col. Sinn of the Park Theatre, Brooklyn. The Count states that on April 6 he was forcibly ejected from the lobby of the theatre, where he was standing, waiting for a friend who was purchasing tickets. He resisted the expulsion, and was arrested and confined in a cell at the police station until he was bailed out by the Austrian Consul-General, Mr. Polithek, who is one of his friends. The suit will be tried next term of the United States Circuit Court.

Odd Fellows in Session.

CARLEISLE, Pa., Sep. 9.—The Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of District No. 1, comprising the State of Pennsylvania, in convention here elected R. H. Bumery of Allegheny City, chairman; Patterson Holland, vice-president; J. M. Stafford of Marietta, secretary; W. H. Bishop of Philadelphia, assistant secretary, and Rev. W. H. Davis of Philadelphia, chaplain. Grand Master W. T. T. Forrester of Richmond, Va., reached this city last night.

ADMIRE AMERICANS.

Our Business Tactics Praised by the Earl of Aberdeen.

BOSTON, Mass., Sep. 9.—The Earl of Aberdeen, now a guest of Dr. Seward Webb in the White Mountains, is a great lover of Americans and their business qualifications. Speaking the other day to a reporter here he said:

"In England we are always surprised that with the immense capital employed in your business there are so few labor disturbances, and that when happening they are so quickly and amply adjusted. I wish that the keen, cool judgment of your Chauncey Depew, and other American business masters could be indoctrinated in England.

"There is, and will be always in Great Britain, a deep and proud love of her American cousins, and the pride is greater yet when there come over to us such grand men as your Lowell and Phelps and Lincoln."

Go to Coslett's for your preserving fruit. 6-23-1f

POLITICAL.

It will be Sheriff Smith. Ohio and McKinley go together.

If you have not paid your taxes yet, do so at once. October 31 is the last day.

If you want to be an American citizen, you should vote. If your taxes have not been paid, take a move on yourself and call on the collector before October 31.

Every Republican should vote this year. There is no excuse for sulking. A President is to be elected next year and a victory this year means a bigger one next.

Lows Republicans are wide awake and bustling. The state will be found in the Republican column this year as well as next.

Judge Green grows in popularity every day. It is only a question how large his majority will be.

New York Republicans will work in harmony this year and the big Republican majorities from the other side of the Harlem bridge will be astonished when the returns come in.

The Berks County Fair.

Among the most successful fairs in Pennsylvania are those held at Reading by the Berks County Agricultural Society. Every man, woman and child in the county takes an interest in the fair, which is made the great holiday occasion of the year, and there is usually a fine display in every department. Visitors are promised a grand entertainment this year. The immense fruit crop in the county will bring out the choicest products of the orchard and garden. Many new attractions have been provided, including Roman, flat and hurdle races and a regular circus performance daily on the track. Balloon ascensions and parachute leaps by a gentleman and lady will take place every afternoon. The grounds are splendidly equipped with buildings, race course, grand stand and all necessary adjuncts, including a large and well-conducted hotel. Passenger trains arrive at the main entrance every few minutes. The dates are September 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Off for Mt. Carmel.

Watkin Waters Post, No. 140, G. A. R., Henry Hornecastle Camp, No. 49, S. of V., the Grand Cornet Band and a large number of citizens went to Mt. Carmel this morning to witness the Grand Army day celebration.

Obituary.

Charles Miles, the infant son of Superintendent Thomas Baird, of the Kohley Run colliery, died last evening. The funeral will take place at 2 p. m. Friday.

Mrs. Richard Harrington died at her residence on East Centre street this morning.

Last Picnic.

Columbia park will be abandoned next September, as the site will thereafter be used as a dumping ground for the Kohley Run colliery. The last event to be held in the park is a picnic of the Columbia Glee Club, to be held on Saturday, September 12th. 9-5-1w
