"God Sees You."

As the 4:30 train from New York reached Stamford Wednesday, an antique looking dame thrust her head out of the window opposite the refreshment room door and briefly shouted, "Sonny!" A bright looking boy came up to the window. "Little boy," said she, "have you a mother?" "Yes, mam." "Do you love her?" "Yes, mam." "And are you faithful to your studies?" "Yes, mam." "Do you say your prayers every night?" "Yes, mam." "Can I trust you to do an errand for me?" "Yes, mam." "I think I can too," said the lady, looking steadily down on the manly face. "Here is five cents to get me an apple. Remember, God sees you." J. M. BAILEY.

THE SENATE INQUIRY.

Treasurer Boyer and Deputy Superintendent Stewart Give Testimony.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 22.—State Treasurer Boyer was subjected to a rigid examination yesterday afternoon, and largely on his connection with the drawing of the Philadelphia school warrants for $430,000 and the delivery of his check for that amount to John Barsley, who used $200,000 of it in paying an old debt to the school district of Philadelphia, but still owed it $445,000, all of which was lost. William Livesey, his chief clerk, whose whereabouts is at present unknown, was the first to suggest to him the payment of the money in order to prevent it from going into the Sinking Fund.

In pursuance of a conference between them, he said, Livesey visited the Department of Public Instruction and asked for the necessary warrants. Anything done by Livesey, he declared, was within the scope of his authority and he (the witness) was responsible for it. He deferred greatly to his chief clerk, who had much experience in the office. In view of this fact he intimated that he was left in ignorance of $150,000 paid to John Barsley on December 31, 1890, in addition to the drawing of warrants of $420,000 for the same party. He was also much annoyed about that time by the failure of the Jamison bankers and Delamater & Co., involving a loss to the State of $125,000.

Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction Stewart testified that the State Treasurer made personal application for the Barsley warrants, and H. Hollowell, secretary of the Public School Board, testified that he had prepared the certificates on which the warrants were issued at the instance of Barsley.

The State Treasurer, by advice of his counsel, claimed that the money paid to Barsley was for the year 1890, and not for the year ended on the first Monday in June, 1891, as contended by the Attorney-General, and that, consequently, the Philadelphia school district was entitled to over $400,000.

BUNCOED OUT OF $8,000.

A Bank Director Who is Considerably Sadder and Wiser.

CORLAND, N. Y., Oct. 22.—It has just leaked out that George Fitts, a farmer at McLean, and a stockholder in the Second National Bank of Cortland, was buncoed out of $8,000. It had been known for weeks that he had been victimized by sharpers representing themselves to be nephews of the late Judge Boardman of Ithaca.

Mr. Fitts is very reticent and refuses to discuss the matter. How the bunco men got the money is not known.

The sharpers went to Cortland, hired a horse and wagon, drove to Derayter, where they left the horse and took the cars for Little Falls. They sent back $20 to the livery-stable keeper, telling him where the horse was.

A nephew of Mr. Fitts said last evening that the amount lost by his uncle was $8,000, and it was secured by giving him an interest in a bogus land deal.

Post Office Department Finances.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The annual report of the Auditor of the Treasury for the Post Office Department showing the receipts and expenditures of the Post Office Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, has been submitted to the Postmaster-General. It shows that the postal revenues during the year were $68,931,735. The expenditures to September 30, 1891, were $71,692,463, leaving an excess of expenditures over all revenues of $5,739,677.

ANTIQUE can be tolerated in almost any thing but hats. If the head is out of date the rest of the body is pretty sure to follow suit. It will cost you no more to be up with the times than it will to be half a mile behind them. Everything about our $1.50 hat is handsome but the price, and $1.50 for such a hat can scarcely be called anything but a ridiculously low figure. The same can be said of our 25c neckwear. Our line of goods' furnishing goods is the lowest priced in the market.
