TRUMBOUR AND OSTRANDER.

Their Applications Regarding Bail Not Granted by the Court.
KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 18.—An application was made before Judge Edwards of Hudson, yesterday, to admit Matthew T. Trumbour to bail, and for a reduction of bail in the case of James E. Ostrander, who are confined in jail here on several indictments, charging them with embezzling the funds of the Ulster County Savings Institution.

Little change was noted in the appearance of the prisoners when they were brought into court. Their wives sat beside them during the entire proceedings, and it looks as if anything, their faces depicted greater anxiety than those of the prisoners. A sensational episode occurred when the Judge announced that the sureties of Trumbour were not sufficient. His bride of but a few months gave way to her anguish in bitter tears and, rising to her feet, implored the Judge in pitiful tones to be merciful and release her husband. The prisoner was very much affected by this act of devotion on the part of his wife. The examination as to the sureties lasted for several hours. Among those accepted were three sisters and a brother-in-law of Trumbour. Objection was made to Mrs. Martha G. Travers, the mother-in-law, who wished to qualify in the sum of $7,000. The Judge asked that some one else be obtained to go on the bond for the additional sum of $13,000 necessary in place of Mrs. Travers. This not being forthcoming, the prisoner was returned to jail.

Counselor Westbrook then made an application to reduce Ostrander's bail from $40,000 to $30,000. Judge Edwards ordered that this matter be taken before some county judge and dismissed the application.
KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 18.—On a petition of the old trustees as some depositors Judge Furman has granted an order that the Attorney-General, the Superintendent of Banking and N. E. Brodhead, receiver of the Ulster County Savings Institution, should show cause before him, at Troy, on Saturday, why the prayers of the petitioners for the resumption of business of the institution should not be granted, the receiver discharged and the trustees increased from 11 to 23.

THE FOURTH DAY.

AT THE SCHUYLKILL COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

MANY INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESSES

Superintendent Houck Speaks of the State Teachers in General and Schuylkill County Teachers in Particular.

Miss Seegmiller opened the afternoon of the teachers' county institute in Ferguson's theatre yesterday by resuming her instructions on drawing. Construction underlies all decoration. First think of the object to be decorated. The decoration should be subordinate to the construction. Stability, unity, repose and variety should be embraced in decorations.

Dr. Balliet was introduced and gave a very interesting talk. Reading furnishes the printed symbol of ideas. Talk furnishes the vocal symbol of thought. Spelling furnishes the written symbols. You have studies that deal with the material of thought, and studies that deal with the symbols of thought. In other words, studies that deal with the actual things in one sense, or with actual or real knowledge; and studies that deal with the husks of knowledge. You have studies that deal merely with words and language. If you take language work from the thought work of the schools you would be dealing with the husks of knowledge. Get something to read that puts flesh and blood in the subject studied. Take one line of reading for a start—connected reading—and then take up another. Don't take up a little on this and a little on that. Say you take one line on literature, one on science, one on geography and another on history. How shall you find time for a new study? You can do it by connecting your thought work with your language work. Why can't a boy learn to read just as well by reading some subject in geography or history, as well as reading meaningless stories. The reading in schools ought to be of such a character as to contribute to all the other studies, then you would gain something for some other study. It ought not to require more time to have reading and other branches than to have only the other branches and no reading at all.

Prof. George B. Haucher took the platform and spoke on "The Demands of our Schools." One of the demands of the state on our public schools is citizenship, something that will make the boys grow up to be good citizens. To be a good citizen is to be intelligent. Individuality is another demand by the state. The state does not want men who allow themselves to be driven to the ballot box like cattle, but men who have the individuality and intelligence to vote for themselves. Manhood, discipline and patriotism are among the other requirements. Patriotism can be taught by having children sing patriotic songs. These lessons must be taught in the school rooms. The state has no other means of reaching these ends. The children have a sought of second birth in the school rooms and if they are born right the state will have a population of which it will be proud.

Dr. E. O. Lyte made his farewell address and held the attention of the large audience for about twenty minutes while he gave his ideas as to how children should be treated and trained by the school teachers. Hearty applause followed the conclusion of the address.

Superintendent Houck wanted the institute to sing, but the demand for a speech was too strong. Mr. Houck touched the sentiment of the teachers and was applauded frequently and vociferously.

Mr. Houck said that he would show how Schuylkill stands in public school circles of the state, which embraces 67 counties. The average school term in Schuylkill county is 8.35 months. Only five counties in the state have a better average than that—Delaware, 9.42; Lackawanna, 9.29; Allegheny, 9.19; Carbon, 9.81; Montgomery, 8.61. The tax rate of Schuylkill county is 7 mills. Seventeen counties of the state have a higher rate. The average monthly salary of male teachers in Schuylkill county is $50.19. There are only seven counties in the state that have a higher male average. They are: Allegheny, $64.06; Beaver, $50.29; Elk, $56.25; Delaware, $63.02; Lackawanna, $54.27; Luzerne, $61.71; Wayne, $55.67. The average salary paid the lady teachers in Schuylkill county is not very good—$35.36. It is altogether too low and if there were any school directors here this afternoon I would tell them that there is better work for them to do than meet and condemn the institutes. The average salary of lady teachers in this state is entirely too low. The school teachers have given this state the grand place it occupies in the states of this nation. Only ten counties pay higher average salaries to female teachers than Schuylkill does. The counties are: Delaware, $44.27; Allegheny, $41.30; Blair, $35.79; Bucks, $37.10; Chester, $37.11; Clearfield, $36.29; Lancaster, $39.67; Montgomery, $38.29; Washington, $36.55; Westmoreland, $37.40. They are all too low. But there is a cry that county institutes cost too much. Let us see. The state gave Shenandoah an appropriation of $5,307. The next appropriation will be $13,017.50. Give the teachers $35 a month for eight months ($280) and $10 for attending county institute—a total of $290 for the year. Then say that county institutes cost too much! $20 a year for teaching school and attending institute, and then you must not get married. If I were you I would get married at the first chance. You can do better than that with a stick of a husband. County Superintendent Weiss closed the institute for the day with a brief address.

Institute Notes.

The fascinating Miss Carrie Holdeman, of Tamaqua, was voted one of the most popular teachers in attendance at the institute. Misses Ella and Mame Haughey, of Mahanoy City, were among the most attentive listeners as all the institute sessions. A Pottsville paper would like to have the county institute broken up into fragments. Then, surely Pottsville would have an institute of its own every year.

A photograph of those teachers, who were described in a Pottsville paper, as being badly rattled because they had to go so far away from home to attend the institute at Shenandoah, would be an interesting study for next year's institute at Pottsville.

Shenandoah merchants are well satisfied so far with the institute. They had the stocks, and the prices were all right. The teachers took advantage of fair prices, fair dealing, and went home satisfied with their purchases.

County Superintendent Weiss said today that Ferguson's opera house is the best hall in the county for institute purposes and Marshal P. Wilder remarked last night the acoustic properties of the hall are of an excellent character.

The electric road was not in running order at this time. What a good time we could have given the strangers—a trip through this entire valley at a very low rate.

50 cents a bottle. No better investment can be had than a bottle of the celebrated imported Anchor Pain Expeller for rheumatic complaints. It has received the endorsements of prominent physicians. Ask your druggist for it. 3t.

Council Meeting.

The Borough Council held a meeting last night and listened to a proposition of the Water Company for the sale of the plant to the borough on the terms offered to the joint committee. Council did not accept the proposition. The extended report of teachers' institute proceedings in today's HERALD excludes a full report on the water question, but it will be given tomorrow.

The proprietors of Pan-Tina have spent thousands of dollars to make it known that it cures Coughs, Colds and La Grippe. Trial bottles of Pan-Tina free at P. P. D. Kirin's drug store.

Ferguson House Resolutions.

At a meeting in the parlor of the Ferguson House, Thursday evening, December 16, 1891, of the guests of the hotel who are members of the Schuylkill County Teachers' Institute the following minute was adopted, and ordered printed in the Shenandoah HERALD:

Resolved, That we have found the house to be, in all respects, an agreeable house during our sojourn here; that the proprietor and his wife, and all others connected with the hotel, have been patient and unremittent in their efforts to promote our comfort; that the service has been marked by all that could be desired, that, in short, we have found the Ferguson House to be a first-class hotel, worthy of all the praise we can give it, and that our stay in it shall always be looked back with pleasure.
J. A. M. PASSMORE, Chairman.

THE LAST DAY.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON.

STIRRING RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Farewell Addresses by the Instructors, Superintendents, Houck, Weiss and Others. Pottsville Wins.

THE LAST SESSION.

The attendants at the teachers' institute were in excellent humor this morning when Superintendent Houck opened the session and asked them to sing, for the last time, "My Country 'Tis of Thee." The request was complied with vigorously and the anthem was closed with this verse:

Three cheers for Henry Houck
Three cheers for Henry Houck
Three cheers for Henry Houck
Three cheers for Henry Houck

Miss Seegmiller then proceeded to give her closing instructions on drawing and decoration. The definition of hue is the characteristic of the color that distinguishes it from every other color. Tone is any state of color as it passes from light to dark. Normal tone is that tone of color that is considered typical of the hue. Tint is any tone of a color lighter than a normal tone. Shade is any tone of color that is darker than a normal tone. The three primary colors are red, blue and yellow. Yellow is the stronger and is rated at 3; red at 5 and blue at 8. The secondary colors are yellow and red (mixed) making orange; yellow and blue—making green; red and blue—making violet.

Combining secondary colors we get the tertiary colors: Citrine, composed of orange and green; russet, of violet and orange; and olive of violet and green.

Prof. George B. Haucher then closed his series of instructions with an exceedingly interesting talk on the sacrifices one must make to be a successful teacher. Hours of leisure and pleasure must be sacrificed, all questionable habits must be broken off, bad temper must be controlled, and studies you may pursue outside of your profession must be subordinate to the teaching.

Dr. Thomas M. Balliet then closed his series of instructive talks.
County Superintendent Weiss thanked the teachers for their attendance and splendid deportment at the institute. In his experience of ten years as County Superintendent he has not seen a better institute. Teachers must have better salaries. Mr. Weiss closed by thanking Superintendent Froeman personally for his assistance in making the institute a success.

The committee on elections reported that Pottsville as the next place for the institute by the following vote: Pottsville 327; Girardville, 220. The committee also reported the following committee on Permanent Certificates elected: S. H. Cair, Ashland; Miss Jane T. Lambert, Shenandoah; William Fausset, Pottsville; W. W. Wood, St. Clair; Livingston Seltzer, Palo Alto.

The committee on resolutions then reported the following:

WHEREAS, The sessions of the 29th annual institute of Schuylkill county are at our drawing to a close;
WHEREAS, We have listened to the clear, concise and concrete presentation of arithmetic by Dr. Balliet; to the logical, instructive and profound talks on language and history by Hon. Thomas B. Stockwell; to the practical exposition of form work and drawing by Miss Seegmiller; to the well-timed, humorous and ever welcome remarks of Mr. Houck, and to the inspiring talks by Dr. Lyte and Prof. Haucher;
WHEREAS, We have been royally entertained by a series of lectures and musical performances; and
WHEREAS, We have spent a week of social intercourse rendered pleasant by the greeting of friends, by the renewal of old acquaintances, and the formation of new ones; enlivened by the cheery conversation of dining hall and parlor, or by the friction of mind with mind in friendly discussion; therefore,
Resolved, That we, the teachers of Schuylkill county, stand by the institute; that we have been intellectually, morally, professionally and practically benefited by it; that we have found in it a source of inspiration, a stimulus to self-improvement, an incentive to do better work, an animating spirit, an esprit de corps such as can emanate only from a live, enthusiastic, earnest, well conducted and well organized teachers' association.

Resolved, That our thanks are due to Superintendent Weiss, for the able and dignified manner in which he has presided over our meetings, and that we congratulate him in view of the fact that this institute, which has been "to him the cause of so much anxious solicitude, has terminated so successfully; also that a vote of thanks is due the advisory committee for assistance and suggestions to the superintendent.

Resolved, That our thanks are due such railroad companies and hotel proprietors as have reduced their rates for the accommodation of teachers and to all the good people of this borough who have in any way whatever contributed to the happiness and comfort of the teachers.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this institute that the over crowded condition of many of our primary schools is a fact to be deeply deplored, and that fifty (50) pupils should constitute the maximum enrollment of a primary school.

Resolved, That beginners, that is pupils who for the first time apply for admission to school, should be admitted at stated periods only.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this institute that, owing to the increased state appropriation, we recommend the passage of a bill to increase the minimum school term to seven months.

The committee also reported a resolution of condolence on the death of Dr. James Wickerham, superintendent of Public Instruction, and the following:

WHEREAS, The death of Dr. James Wickerham, superintendent of Public Instruction, is a loss to the community at large, as well as to the profession; therefore,
Resolved, That we bow submissively to the decree of Him who doeth all things well, humbly trusting that our loss is their gain.

All the resolutions were adopted, the adoption of the resolutions of condolence being made a rising vote.

The Finance Committee made the following report for the institute held December 15th to 19, 1890:

Another Frohman Success.

"The Witch," which is to be produced at Ferguson's theatre Tuesday, Dec. 22, is one of the most pronounced successes of recent years. Charming audiences and receipts alike by its singular beauty and originality of construction. It is under the direction of Mr. Gustave Frohman, who was the manager of the Madison Square Theatre during its palmiest days and from whence emanated those wonderful successes: "Hazel Kirke," "May Blossom," "Esmaralda," "Young Mr. Wintrop," "The Professor," etc. Judging from the universal praise bestowed upon "The Witch," it is destined to have even a longer life than either of these plays.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

"Oh! What a Night!"

The success of both star and comedy was most pronounced. The piece affords the star excellent opportunities for the favorable display of those peculiar powers to please which made him popular, and, more than this, it is a really meritorious comedy, rich in laughable incidents, confusing contraptions, amusing accidents, and funny situations. It belongs to that class which was made popular by Mr. Charles Wyndham and his company, and it is by no means the poorest thing of its kind which has been given here.—Boston Herald. At Ferguson's theatre Saturday evening, 19th.
