THE HIGGINS TAX CASE.

STATEMENT BY THE DEPUTY COLLECTOR.

SCHEMES TO ESCAPE PAYMENT

The First Man Arrested Presented a Tax Receipt That Did Not Belong to Him—How Walukivich Got in It.

HERE has been considerable discussion the past few days over a case in which Michael Walukivich, a West Coal street merchant, and Deputy Tax Collector Higgins are interested. The discussion has been precipitated by the claims of Mr. Walukivich's friends that his arrest was an outrage, but their story of the case does not by any means conform to the one told by the Deputy Tax Collector.

Mr. Higgins says that he arrested a Pole who was about to leave for town for Silver Brook and refused to pay his taxes. He showed a tax receipt for 1891 and on comparing the name on the receipt with his books Mr. Higgins found that the taxes for 1892 were still due. The man asked to be taken to Walukivich's store to have matters explained. The collector agreed.

When in the store, Mr. Higgins says, Walukivich said, "You have got the wrong man. I know this man. He has been dealing with me and I know he has been in this country only eight months. You haven't got his name on your books."

Mr. Higgins said he had his name on his book and, the conversation growing warm, Walukivich offered to bet ten dollars that he had not. Walukivich then gave the name of the man, which was entirely different to the one on the tax receipt that was produced at the depot.

The collector then said, "Well, then, this man is producing a receipt that belongs to another man." This, Higgins says, exasperated Walukivich, who struck Higgins in the face and knocked him backward several feet. Higgins says that the man he had under arrest and another man who was in the store joined in the assault and he caused the arrest of the three. Walukivich and the third party was put under bail for trial on a charge of assault and battery. The other man was held on charges of assault and battery and uttering a false tax receipt. As he was unable to furnish security for his appearance at court this man was sent to the county jail.

Mr. Higgins says that only people who have had experience in collecting taxes can fully appreciate the case. He says that the arrests were perfectly justifiable and they will be thus shown at the trial. The gist of the affair is that the man who wanted to go to Silver Brook tried to get away without paying his taxes by producing a tax receipt belonging to another man.

The Madara Case Settled.

Several weeks ago the HERALD gave a detailed report of a Gilbert case in which Frank Madara figured as prosecutor and Dr. Gillars and Mrs. Madara were defendants. The case excited considerable comment at the time. It has now passed into the line of disposed cases, a sed. procs. having been entered. It is understood that the payment of $300 to Madara and payment of the costs was the basis of settlement.

MORE ENTRIES FOR THE "HERALD'S" CONTEST.

Miss Connelly Retains a Good Lead and There is a Lively Scramble for Second Place—Miss Lafferty Starts Out Well.

Mary A. Connelly.....	110
Lillie B. Phillips.....	87
Irene Shane.....	41
Bridget A. Burns.....	34
Hattie Hess.....	27
Mary A. Lafferty.....	23
Maggie Cavanaugh.....	10
Anna M. Dengler.....	9
Mahala Fairchild.....	5
Augusta Myers, Ashland.....	4
Carrie M. Smith.....	1
Total.....	318

The second day's returns of the contest to determine what two public school teachers shall visit the World's Fair at the expense of the HERALD gives every indication that the affair will become very popular, and the returns only show the actual work that has been done, not the full interest that is being taken in it.

The excellent start made by Miss Connelly in yesterday's report leaves her still in the lead with many votes to spare and the scramble seems to be for second place, which is still held by Miss Phillips with 87 votes. Miss Burns, who started out with one vote, is forging ahead rapidly and now has 34 votes to her credit. Miss Hess is doing well and Miss Lafferty has shown considerable popularity by entering the contest with 23 votes at the first clip. Misses Lafferty and Dengler and Myers are now entries, making eleven in the contest up to the count at 4 p. m. yesterday.

It is understood that a contest club has been formed in one part of town. Those who are interested in it will meet once a week. Each one will contribute from five cents up and decide by vote which teacher will be supported for that week. When this is decided the money will be expended in purchasing coupons for the teacher thus decided upon. The club met last Monday night. But there is little to fear from any of the combinations that have been talked of. When the boys and girls of the schools once thoroughly grasp the idea they will do some royal service for their respective favorite teachers and none will be certain of the laurels until the result is announced. All the teachers will have a fair show and nothing will be allowed that will prejudice the interests of any one.

Although the above returns show 318 polled coupons we have accounts that indicate the preparation of nearly two thousand other coupons. The people who are engaged in the work require time for filling out the coupons, so we do not expect heavy returns every day for the present, although assurances have been given by some that they intend to keep up a lively plying of coupons every day until the contest closes.

The HERALD did not anticipate that the contest would take root for a week or two after the announcement of the opening and is therefore very agreeably surprised to have in hand over three hundred votes at the close of the second day. It is an evidence of more interest than was anticipated.

Reference to the table published at the head of this column will show a new entry in the person of Miss Augusta Myers, a popular young lady who teaches school at Ashland, and starts out with four votes to her credit.

Several additional letters have been received asking how the coupons may be sent in. We again answer that they may be sent by mail or messenger.

A count is made every day at 4 p. m. All coupons received up to that hour are published in the table the following day.

The name of N. H. Downs' still lives, although he has been dead many years. His Elixir for the cure of coughs and colds has already outlived him a quarter of a century and is still growing in favor with the public.

Wonderful Realism.

Every atom of scenery used in the production of "She Couldn't Marry Three" is specially built for the play. There are over three tons of it; it is worth going miles to see. One of the most notable scenes in the play is a picture of the Cornish coast, with practical revolving light-house and moonlight on the ocean; also, the view of Carbury's Abbey with crumbling walls and clinging ivy, a scene so beautiful as to baffle description. In the last act of the play is shown an exact representation of Dingley Tunnel, one of the most stupendous and natural railroad scenes ever produced. Every one of these novel effects are guaranteed by Manager Haasenfelder, and will be seen here in the production of "She Couldn't Marry Three."

FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR!

THE LEHIGH VALLEY COMPANY TO EXHIBIT.

MAKING A MONUMENT OF GOAL

The Structure Will be in Sections of Sixteen Feet in Length and Have a Total Height of Fifty Feet.

TEPS have been taken by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company to prepare an elaborate and very appropriate exhibit from this section of the anthracite coal fields for the mines and mining department at the World's Fair. The principal exhibit will be a monument constructed of coal mined in the Packer collieries of this valley and it is now in course of preparation at Packer colliery No. 3, near the western outskirts of this town.

The monument will be fifty feet high, ten feet square at the base, and from three to four feet at the top. It will be constructed in sections of sixteen feet in length and will be shipped in such sections to the Exposition.

In selecting the material for the monument care will be taken to cut out pieces that will present to view, when they are placed in the monument, all the connecting minerals that are found. In some parts the coal will be left in its raw state, while in others it will be polished and suitably inscribed.

The coal used in the construction is being selected from Packer collieries No. 3, 4 and 5, but principally from the first named place and the best material from all the veins on which these collieries operate is being selected. One rough piece sent to the surface at No. 3 the other day weighed two tons.

The delicacy required in handling coal in such work make the operation very tedious and it is not expected that the monument will be completed before the first of April, next. Those who have examined the plans say that the exhibit will be one of the finest ever made in the interest of the anthracite coal industry.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Bookings of Plays to be Produced at Ferguson's Theatre.

The theatrical season has hardly opened yet and to that and to the fact that "The (New) Boy Tramp" is not known here must be laid the size of the audience at Putnam Music Hall last evening. It was not a small house but it was not a large one or a fair recognition of the merit of play or actor. The melodrama is strongly constructed and Augustin Neuville is a decidedly clever young actor. The support is good and the whole play has "go" in it. A second visit here would probably prove more successful than the first. The company carries a great deal of special scenery and the stage setting last evening was particularly good.—Morning Union, Saratoga Springs, N. Y. "The Boy Tramp" will be produced in Ferguson's theatre on Saturday evening, next.

"THE LIMITED MAIL."

Elmer E. Vance, manager of "The Limited Mail," is a living testimony to the truth of the assertion so often made, that "blood will tell," and that pluck and energy will push itself to the front. July 31, 1890, Manager Vance was a telegraph operator and train dispatcher at Columbus, Ohio, on a salary of fifty dollars a month. During the interim of business and the click of his instrument he wrote what has proved the most phenomenal, artistic and financial success of the century, "The Limited Mail," which netted him a clear profit of $60,000 in one season. "The Limited Mail" will appear at Ferguson's theatre on Monday evening, Jan. 30th.

A Humane Appeal.

EDITOR HERALD:—I take occasion to call attention to the practice of some owners and handlers of horses to a small, yet very important matter. Last night I observed a horse standing in front of a business place, evidently suffering intensely from the cold. I learned that the poor animal had stood there for some time and it had nothing thrown over it. A horse is one of the best friends man has and deserves treatment accordingly. I believe that when standing out in the cold, especially in such weather as we now have, they should be blanketed. I am not a crank, I only call attention to this from the dictation of humane feeling. F. Shenandoah, Jan. 18, 1893.

THE D. K. L. A. SOCIETY.

The Object of the Society and its Membership.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lithuanian Citizens Society, D. K. L. A. of Shenandoah, was held in Schmidt's hall on West Coal street. This society was organized with less than ten members, but now it can show a membership of upwards of one hundred and ten, all in good standing, and prospects for continued increase is so promising that it is believed the organization will become national in the near future. A branch has been established in New York and there is also one in Chicago.

The society has for its main object the educating of its members to the highest and noblest aims of American citizenship. No one can become a member who is not an American citizen.

At its last meeting the society decided to contribute the sum of $15 to the Soldiers' Monument Fund and appointed A. Melusky and P. W. Bierstein a committee to confer with the committee having this project in hand.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, P. W. Bierstein; Vice President, M. Glawickas; Recording Secretary, M. Samoilis; Financial Secretary, S. Antromski; Treasurer, Peter Wisocki; Marshal, M. Kielus; Trustees, George Sankiewicz and Andrew Szankiewicz.

TOURS TO

California, Florida, &c. via Pennsylvania Railroad.

For people contemplating either extended or limited pleasure jaunts during the winter and spring of the new year, an inspection of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's announcement of its personally-conducted tours will prove of great assistance. As far as territory covered is concerned, the first in its series is the series to the Golden Gate and Pacific Coast points, starting from New York and Philadelphia February 28th, March 2d and 29th. The same liberal provisions recorded last year, as to conditions and use of tickets, will be in effect for these tours.

A series of five will be run to Florida—January 31st, February 14th, and 29th, March 14th and 28th. The rates of $50 from New York, $45 from Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Washington, and proportionate rates from other points, cover all necessary expenses en route in both directions. Tickets for the first four tours will admit of a stay of two weeks in the flowery state, and for the fifth until May 30th.

There will be a series of six to Washington, D. C., each tour covering a period of three days—January 19th, February 2nd, March 23d, April 13th, May 4th and 25th. The rates of $13 from New York, and $11 from Philadelphia and Wilmington, and proportionate rates from other places, include railroad fare and hotel accommodations during the stay in the capital. For information and itineraries application should be made to Tourist Agents, 549 Broadway, New York, and 233 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, or ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Electing Tickets.

The auditors of townships and boroughs should bear in mind that the law requires that the tickets to be used in their districts at the approaching spring election must bear a facsimile of their signatures and this will require a cut of the signatures. The HERALD is prepared to furnish
