OPPOSITION INCREASING

The Annexation of Hawaii is Being Delayed.

KAILUANI ON HER WAY HERE

She Left England Yesterday on the Tennessee—Will Appeal to the New President—Sentiment in Favor of an American Protectorate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Every day opposition to the Hawaiian annexation treaty appears to grow stronger.

As chairman of the Appropriations committee, Senator Allison can do more to defeat the treaty than any other Senator on the floor, since he can at any time bring up an appropriation bill, which has the right of way.

By judiciously consuming time with these bills the friends of the treaty can be prevented from any opportunity of considering it before March 4, and it is charged by some of the more impatient friends of annexation that the remarkable delay in passing the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill in the Senate was mainly caused by the opposition to the treaty.

Only nine days of the session are left and the only hope of getting the treaty through is by rushing the appropriation bills. If, however, the treaty should not be ratified before March 4, it will come up at the extra session of the Senate, which will be summoned to confirm the new Cabinet and such other nominations as Mr. Cleveland may make.

It is difficult to forecast its fate under the new administration. Mr. Cleveland has been quoted as favoring annexation, but now he has become more wary and is expressing an opinion on the subject.

The commissioners themselves now believe the treaty will not be ratified before March 4, and that Mr. Cleveland may not encourage its ratification when he comes into power.

The White Star liner Teutonic, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday bound for New York, has on board the ex-Princess Kaiulani, accompanied by her English guardian, with whom she has been living at Southampton.

The Princess is following out her plan as outlined in her lately published appeal to the American people.

Shortly before she set sail a newspaper correspondent had a long talk with her concerning Hawaiian affairs and her contemplated visit to America.

She treated him with great respect, although she showed some uneasiness during the interview.

She said that she had nothing to add to the appeal which she had addressed to the American people, and she expressed her thanks that her appeal had been forwarded to the American newspapers.

She proposed to spend two days in New York and then visit Boston, where she would remain until after the inauguration of President Cleveland.

Then she would go to Washington, and would probably make a personal appeal to Mr. Cleveland.

The Princess added that she had no friends in America, except the friends of the American people.

She continued in a modest, unassuming tone, "why I should be continually deprived of my rights of citizenship, and without being given any voice in the government of my country, is a matter which I am deeply grieved about.

In answer to other questions, the Princess said that she was entirely opposed to the policy of the Queen, especially in regard to the bills which the Queen is reported to have signed, and which gave rise to the annexation of Hawaii.

The Princess said that she did not believe that the Hawaiian people were in any danger of being annexed to the United States.

She said that she believed that the Hawaiian people were capable of governing themselves.

THREE FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENTS

Passenger Trains On the Penn Road Collide in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—The following is a revised list of the dead and injured in the terrible accident on the Pennsylvania railroad here yesterday:

KILLED. Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Steiner, of Media, Miss Maria, Boston, Mass., Rev. James Walker, Leominster.

INJURED. George W. Haines, Media; Miss Genevieve Zahn, Swarthmore; Rev. Jacob Wiseman, Clifton Heights; Miss Rachel W. Hillborn, Swarthmore; Mrs. James Walker, wife of the Mr. Walker killed; Miss Kate Kercher, Morton; Mrs. W. H. Lindermuth, Morton; J. H. Hantry, Swarthmore; Miss Lillie M. Lewis, George Town; Francis McAlister, Clifton Heights; Harry Soyars, a schoolboy; resident unknown; H. V. Purdum, Lansdowne; Mary D. Arnold, Morton; A. R. Arnold, Morton.

None of these number are seriously injured. A half dozen others, whose names cannot be learned, had their injuries dressed at the hospital and then departed.

The accommodation train was crossing a switch to pull into South street station. All the cars but the last one had crossed when the Southern express came rushing down the track and struck the local passenger car that was upon the switch full in the middle.

The express was made up entirely of heavy Pullmans, and the light passenger car was hurled 50 feet from the track, broken and smashed by the terrible force of the blow.

The express train escaped injury, and the engineer immediately stopped the train.

The crash of the colliding trains and the shrieks and screams of the unfortunate people pinned down beneath the broken members of the wrecked car speedily attracted an excited crowd to the scene.

A rumor gained wide circulation that the special train bearing President Harrison from Washington to New York was one of the trains in collision. This, however, was untrue.

The 21st district police station is but a few squares from the place where the accident occurred, and a squad of officers were soon on the scene, and the work of extricating the injured passengers was soon accomplished.

READING, Pa., Feb. 23.—A wreck occurred on the Pennsylvania, Schuylkill Valley road, between Phoenixville and Spring City, during the night. Shifting engine 1,293 going East with an empty train of forty coal cars, collided with an extra freight running West about one and a half miles west of Spring City.

The shifting engine was totally demolished and both engines lay on their sides with fourteen coal cars completely broken up.

Watson Weller, John Dennis and Walter Brunner, employed by the company at Spring City, were riding on the shifting engine on their way home to Norristown. Weller and Dennis were killed.

Freeman DeWolf and Flagman Davis, of the shifting engine crew, who were riding in the engine, were seriously injured about the legs.

DOWN AN EMBANKMENT.

A Fatal Wreck on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 23.—Passenger train No. 29, bound East on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad, wrecked two miles east of Columbus City last night.

The accident was caused by a broken rail.

The smoking car and first coach left the track, turned over and went down an embankment 15 feet high.

John W. Farrow was killed and C. B. Johnson and John Kelso were fatally injured.

Twenty others were more or less badly hurt.

Wanted to Stop the Train. Four Scott, Kan., Feb. 23.—Last night a mob went to the residence of Rev. C. C. Goins, a colored preacher and ex-member of the Board of Education, with the intention of bogging him. They were met at the door of the parsonage by a number of Goins' friends armed with shotguns. The mob withdrew, and the mob retired. In the excitement Goins escaped, but afterward surrendered to the authorities and asked protection from the mob. He is accused of insulting a colored school teacher.

TO Ward Off Strikes. BEHALF, Feb. 23.—The railroad managers here are taking steps, it is said, to prevent an anticipated strike in the spring, which would interfere with the World's Fair traffic. It has been given out that complaints will be considered and wrongs righted, but any attempt to create discontent will be vigorously discouraged. The Central has already laid off ten switchmen who, it is said, were creating strife among the men.

Nebraska's State Railroad Scheme. LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 23.—The Legislature has passed a joint resolution declaring that the States in the great Interior basin should unite in building a railroad from Galveston to the Dakotas. The resolution recites the benefits of such a railroad, which it is estimated will cost $27,000,000, and it proposes to secure funds by levying a tax of five cents per acre on the lands of the States.

Yale Law Students to Have a Ball Team. NEW HAVEN, Feb. 23.—The Law School of Yale has at last made a movement to organize a baseball team. A call has been issued for a meeting to take place this evening to form a baseball team, elect officers and transact other suitable business. The call for the meeting is issued to law students only, but any member of the graduate or under-graduate department may join.

Snow Causes Courts to Close. OXFORD, N. Y., Feb. 23.—The heavy snow storm which has just passed over Central New York has left the roads throughout Madison county blocked so as to make travel outside of the city almost impossible. Court is in session at Morrisville and many witnesses and jurors are unable to reach the county seat.

Ice Sticks a Tug. NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The tugboat Grapeshot, which lays up nights at the foot of 14th street, Hoboken, was stuck yesterday, the wedged ice about her having cut a hole through her hull. There was no one on board of her at the time but the watchman, who escaped to the dock as the boat went down.

Bank Robbers Safely Jailed.

In the Attempt to Rob the Leeburg Bank They Killed a Man, and Before Workmen Could Hardly be Restrained from Avengeing the Death—Disperate Battle—Held Tight—Guarding the Jail.

PERKINS, Feb. 23.—Two separate attempts were made yesterday to lynch the two men arrested in connection with the murder at the Leeburg bank.

That the men were not strung up by the infuriated citizens of the town is due to the courage displayed by a half dozen men before a mob of at least a thousand citizens. In both attempts there were fights in which the would-be lynchers and guards were badly used up.

The prisoners were gotten out of the town safely, however, and are now in the jail at Kittanning, safe from the hands of the men who demanded their blood.

At the engineer's tugboat on the body of William Shaffer, the murdered man, the prisoners were ordered to be taken to jail at Kittanning.

They were placed in charge of Constable Collier, and Citizens Cline, Wagner and Doyle. At the station a mob of fully 1,000 men and boys surrounded the prisoners and their guards.

When the train arrived the trouble began. The officers tried to force their way through the crowd.

They met with determined resistance. The prisoners were beaten, the officers lashed this way and that.

One man flourished a rope. The mob went wild at the sight of it. Then began a fight with fists and clubs.

The guards and the prisoners finally reached the car, where the fight was renewed. The mob was finally beaten off.

Word was telegraphed to Kittanning by the mob, and another crowd of would-be lynchers met the train upon its arrival and attempted to take the prisoners from the officers.

The officers fought their way through the crowd to a sleigh which was waiting for them.

Upon arriving at the jail there was another fight, in which one shot was fired to keep the crowd back. The guards had to fight their way up the stone steps and finally got inside the gates.

Every one in the party was bleeding from cuts and wounds. The prisoners were so badly injured that they had to be half carried, being unable to walk.

A strong guard of armed men has been placed around the jail, as it is feared an attack will be made.

The men composing the mob are mostly iron workers from the mill of Kirkpatrick & Co. at Leeburg. Shaffer was a roller in the mill and one of the most popular men in the town.

Both prisoners admitted that they tried to rob the bank, but the shooting of Shaffer, they say, was caused by the accidental discharge of a revolver.

MAY DEBERT MITCHELL.

"Squire" Abington Recently Sick of His Treatment in America.

New York, Feb. 23.—There is a possibility of a separation between Charles Mitchell and "Squire" Abington, his lawyer. The police interference and the various annoyances in which the Mitchell party had been subjected since their arrival in this country, are said to have made the "Squire" heartily sick of the whole business of match making. So when the temporary stakeholder proposed to hand the $20,000 pooled with him back to the rival parties, "Squire" Abington made up his mind to get his $10,000 and cut himself off from further connection with Mitchell and his proposed fight with Corbett. Accordingly, he went to the Dramatic News office ready to grab his money at the first opportunity.

Somebody, however, told Mitchell about the "Squire's" scheme, and the Willy Englishman induced two of his companions to keep Abington out of the room until he had secured the money himself. In the "Squire's" absence the temporary stakeholder handed $20,000 to Brady and "Barney" Abrahams put his hand out for the "Squire's" money. Mitchell then very adroitly waved Abrahams aside and taking the bills turned them quickly into his pocket.

When the "Squire" was allowed to enter the room he promptly asked Mitchell for the money but the latter told him that he must take a "chawnee," inasmuch as he had posted the money in good faith. Deprived of this little nest egg there was nothing left for the "Squire" to do but to go to his bankers and draw $40,000 with which to enjoy the suites of America. But at the same time Mitchell's action did not leave a very good impression. Indeed the "Squire" may force Mitchell to hand over the money before long.

Denial From the "Squire." LAKEWOOD, N. J., Feb. 23.—Sport "Squire" Abington denies the story that there is trouble between him and Charles Mitchell.

Took Twenty Years to Reach a Decision. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 23.—The State Supreme Court at Jefferson City has decided an interesting point in a case which has been pending in the courts for over twenty years. A colored woman brought suit for $5,000 damages against a railway company, alleging that she was ejected from the ladies coach of a train and forced to ride in another. The railway company was victorious in the lower courts and also the Supreme Court which held that railway companies had the right to make such regulations in regard to the color line.

Another Fatal Kentucky Pond Revived. MOONSHIRE, Ky., Feb. 23.—Near West Liberty yesterday an old feud which had existed between the Caskeys was re-kindled, in which Sam Caskey, his brother, Jeff Caskey, and uncle, Jesse Caskey, fought Jesse and Jeff were both killed and Sam fatally wounded. It is feared that this will fan into a blaze another mountain riot, which, if not quelled, will cause much bloodshed, as they are largely connected.

Snow-Hide in New Hampshire. CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 23.—A snow-blast on the Maine Central railroad at Mt. Willard buried an engine. The crew barely escaped death. One section man has not been seen since Monday morning. All mountain trains are cancelled.
