The cuckoo is no longer the favorite bird of the Administration. The crow has taken its place.

The President is a lucky man. He has a chance of redeeming his reputation, confounding his enemies in the Senate and rescuing his party from disgrace. A veto will do much to restore the good name of the party and to save its badly damaged stock of principles.

The President is not laid out so badly as the House. He put out an anchor to windward in his Wilson letter. He surrendered to the Sugar Trust in advance of the House. The sugar schedule of the Gorman bill will not trouble him, for his Secretary of the Treasury had a hand in it, and he himself has said that, Trust or no Trust, "It is Democratic to tax sugar."

A DISGRACE.

The last extreme of disgrace has been accepted by the decision of a full Democratic caucus, and by the action of the Democratic House. The caucus was distinctly informed by Mr. Wilson that "the Sugar Trust had the people by the throat," and that it had bought abroad $12,000,000 worth of sugar, on which the Senate schedule would give it a profit of $40,000,000. Yet he proposed, Speaker Crisp moved and the caucus voted 130 to 21, to give the Trust its enormous bribe. Mr. Wilson's reason, which he called witnesses to support, was that the tariff bill could not be passed at all without giving this plunder to the trust; but what decency is there in giving so shameful a price for a bill so bad? Mr. Wilson and his Democratic friends are so frantically anxious to strike down protected industries of Northern States that they were even willing to vote for this gigantic robbery, carrying it through the House by a vote of 182 to 105, in order to prevent the failure of a measure which, for other reasons, the President had denounced as full of perjury and dishonor. No one imagines that the supplementary bill or bills will get through the Senate. They cheaply show what the House would be glad to have folks think it ready to do, if it only had the manhood.

WEST VIRGINIA farmers are feeling the effect of prospective free trade already. The large farmers along the Ohio river raise large quantities of cabbage from which they manufacture sour kraut for the Pittsburgh market. Before these Democratic times came they got $6.00 a barrel for their kraut. One farmer last fall put up 700 barrels from which he expected to realize $4,200. He wrote to the firm at Pittsburgh that had been handling his product and received word that they could not pay more than $4.00 a barrel for the times were hard. He thought the loss of $1,400 was pretty hard, but agreed at last to take the $4.00 a barrel after waiting awhile for a better offer. When he wrote at last that he would accept the price offered, Judge his surprise, when the answer came that they didn't want the kraut at any price. The men who usually bought kraut from them were out of work and had no money to buy anything, he couldn't use it at any price. He tried to find another market but failed. For ten years, he said, he had no trouble to sell his kraut and last year he lost 700 barrels of kraut that ought to have brought him $4,200. He had been a Democrat, but is a Republican now. "No more Democracy for me," he says. "I am for protection and want none of their free trade. This free trade business has cost me $4,200 in one year, and I'll now help the Republicans to carry this state for protection. We're going to carry West Virginia by 10,000 to 15,000, and don't forget it."

CAMP CRAWFORD.

Our Soldier Boys Enjoying Their Summer Outing.

CAMP CRAWFORD, Aug. 15.—The boys in Camp Crawford are enjoying themselves as only "soldier boys" can. All the regiments have now been inspected, and the entire camp has settled down to regular soldier life. Much dissatisfaction is felt in our ranks over the treatment of the Third Brigade. The First and Second Brigades have so far received all the honors, while the Third has hardly sufficient room to pitch their tents.

The trolley line from Gettysburg to the battle field has doubled its fare since the camp opened. The cars are crowded on each trip. The boys from Shenandoah were glad to greet quite a number of visitors from home during the week, and tried to make their stay pleasant.

The Young Men's Christian Association tents, where games and music, reading tables and correspondence facilities are at the disposal of the boys, is a favorite landing place.

Ben James and Harry Parker are both indisposed. The former has an attack of rheumatism, while the latter is suffering from summer complaint.

Louis Hopkins and Harry Parker were arrested and placed in the guard house for attending church on Sunday without a pass from the Colonel.

Stephen Lindenmuth's only objection to soldier life is because he is compelled to remain away from one of Shenandoah's fair damsels.

Harry Jenkins is acting in the capacity of assistant cook, while Jerry Fry fills in his spare moments viewing the tombs of departed heroes.

Charles Parish is the beauty of the camp. John Shoup enjoys the life in camp immensely, and will probably join the "regulars."

Stabbing Affair.

Patrick Burns, aged 25 years, and a brother of Chief Burgess Burns, was stabbed in a fight near the eastern limits of the borough, between two and three o'clock this morning and narrowly escaped death. The stabbing was done with a penknife and there were two wounds, one in the chest and the other in the neck. Dr. J. Pierce Roberts dressed the wounds. The wound in the chest was half an inch in length and three-quarters of an inch deep. The neck wound was half an inch from the carotid artery. Had that been severed instant death would have resulted. The stabbing was done by a man named Golden. His first name could not be learned. No arrest has been made and all parties concerned refuse to speak of the affair, so that the particulars as to the fight cannot be learned.

Died.

FERGUSON.—On the 16th inst., at Shenandoah, Pa., Annie, daughter of William and Mary Ferguson, aged 1 year and 1 month. Funeral will take place on Saturday, 16th inst., at 3 p. m., from the family residence on South Bevers street. Interment in the Annunciation cemetery. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend. S-10 2t

Onward it Strides.

The demand for the EVENING HERALD has so greatly increased that it has become necessary to establish an additional agency at Hook & Brown's stationary store, 4 North Main street.

A Breezy Drummer Sings.

A drummer at Hallock got breezy with a water girl. After he had ordered soup he sent her in quest of the substantial. When she returned and began to plant dishes before him, he inquired: "When did I see you before?" "When I brought your soup," she said, and she went out, followed by the laughter of the other fellows.—Crocketon (Minn.) Times.

Dismissing Ignorance.

Cholly—Why did you discha'g' your man?
Algy—He was too ignorant. When I was writing a letter and wanted to know how to spell a word, he had to look in the dictionary.—New York Weekly.

The Spanish colonization period began with the discovery of America, and the first colony was Hispaniola.

Dissection of human bodies by medical students has been practiced since B. C. 620.

A Definition.

Little Harry—Pop, what is a cinch?
His Father—A cinch, my son, is an arrangement of things which enables book-makers to roll in wealth, while the holder of the cinch wears whiskers on his pants legs as long as the ones on his chin.—Brooklyn Eagle.

PECULIARLY MADE. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are made of refined and concentrated botanical extracts. They're different from the large old-fashioned pills for these Pellets are as tiny as mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They're made in an improved chemical laboratory under the direct supervision of scientific men. Everything else being equal, the smaller the size of a liver pill, the more comfort they do not shock the system, but regulate, cleanse and tone up the liver, stomach, and bowels, in nature's own way. They're put up in sealed glass vials, neatly carried in the vest-pocket.

In Bilious Disorders, Sick Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Dizziness, or for breaking up sudden attacks of Colds, Fevers, and Inflammation, "Pleasant Pellets" are prompt and effective in action.

THEIR BIG DAY.

The Electric Railways Make a Mint of Money.

Yesterday was a big one for the lines of the Shenoykill Traction Company and the Lakeside Electric Railway. Money flowed into the coffers all day and night and the full complement of cars were kept running by both lines. The business done by the old railway lines was insignificant compared with that of the electric roads. In some instances the demand for accommodation was so great that many of the passengers scrambled to the roofs of the cars for seats.

On the Lakeside line even the big eight wheelers were taxed beyond their capacity and for several trips two cars were started simultaneously from the Shenandoah and Mahanoy City terminals.

The management of both electric lines was of a very efficient character. Notwithstanding the unprecedented rush of people to and fro through the valley the plans of Managers Ash and Phillips had been so well laid as to meet every emergency and no accident occurred on any part of either line.

Yesterday's results in connection with these lines demonstrated that in this region the old line railways are rapidly degenerating in popular favor and their electric competitors are steadily succeeding them as money makers.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A Great Success.

The picnic of the Columbia H. & S. E. Co., at its new park, yesterday, was one of the most successful events ever held by the company. It was held from 10 o'clock until after midnight the dancing platform of the pavilion and the surrounding grounds were crowded by people. The attendance ran into the thousands and the gathering was of the most orderly character. The people realized the park and its arrangement in the highest terms and the place will undoubtedly become one of the most popular in the county. The illumination by electricity has a novel effect upon the grounds and the park enjoys the distinction of being the only park in the county enjoying that advanced method. The dancing orchestra was of a superior order. All the latest selections were rendered in a very artistic manner and the orchestra may be recorded as one of the features of the affair. The committee which made the arrangements is to be congratulated on the success. Handicapped as it has been by limited means, the company has rendered a service deserving the hearty thanks of the company. During the evening there was a grand display of fireworks which delighted the old and young alike. The fire company's treasury will be considerably swelled by the receipts of yesterday, but none too much for the enterprise it has exhibited.

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This small bottle cured them all and he had some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewistown, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be cured with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Grubler Bros.

A Terrible Crash.

An accident occurred at the Indian Ridge breaker at noon to-day which will result in the loss of a boy's life. The victim was Edward A. Reardon, the thirteen-year-old adopted son of John Reardon, of South Emerick street. His left leg was caught and crushed in a set of rollers. The limb was drawn in until it was cut off at the thigh and the balance of it was crushed into a pulp as far as the hip bone. Dr. Langston was summoned. He said the injury was of such a character as to be beyond surgical skill and the boy's life could not be saved. Late this afternoon the boy was still alive and conscious. He had not cried once from the time of the accident and told the story of the accident freely. He said he was sitting the machinery when he was drawn into the rollers by the leg of his pants being caught. On the other hand, the officials of the colliery say the boy had no business in the part of the breaker where he was injured.

"VETS" IN RE-UNION.

Survivors of the Forty-Eighth Regiment Have a Good Time.

Nineteen hale, hearty and happy veterans of Co. E, 48th Regt., Pa. Veteran Volunteers, assembled in the parlors of the Commercial hotel yesterday afternoon, for a social time in celebration of the 33rd anniversary of their organization. After the election of officers for the ensuing year, the afternoon was spent at the banquet table which, after a good meal, song, wit and story flowed right merrily.

The company left Schuylkill county for the seat of war on August 15, 1861, two hundred strong. To-day there are thirty-six members alive and all the officers with one exception.

At precisely 3 o'clock the members, some accompanied by their wives and children, gathered at the dining hall. Place of honor, at the head of the table, was assigned to Capt. Wm. E. Winlack. An excellent bill of fare was served by host Goldin, who, having been a cavalry man, knew how to tickle the appetite of the boys in blue. As the refreshments went down the spirits came up and flowed over in speech, song and conversation.

To the call for a toast, Captain Winlack, gave a general and grand oration, standing perhaps against a wall of fire, but never flinching. To-day there is no dark, frowning forehead to charge upon, no musketry or cannonading, no dead or dying comrades lying about the field; all has given way to scenes of peaceful industry. But to-day we meet to recount battles, marches, retreats, victories and a hundred dreadful struggles that to-day strengthen the memory of the past. To-day thirty-three years ago we left happy homes to endure privations, hard work, want, and grief, and to suffer the tortures of that desolate island "Hatteras." To General Williams more than to any other man belongs a high status in the army. We see him foremost at Bull Run, at Fredericksburg, at Stone Mountain, where brave Reno fell at Antietam where we stormed the bridge and at Knoxville where our repast was a cob of corn for 9 days, with Genl. Williams always steadfast, confident and solid as a rock.

What crowds all your glory, brave comrades, was when after long and hard service, you rushed forward to a man to set down your names for three years more for the country's defense. There is one shrill cheer upon the old soldier in jest and in earnest, which I here wish to repeat. It is generally said that the "You went out to fight for the negro; what better are you or him to-day?" We may have fought for the negro, but what we went out for was to save the Union, to keep together the United States of America, and let the man with the star understand it.

The South fought for their slaves and we for the Union. When the call came for volunteers our brave mother said: "Go, my son, and may the blessing of God and our country be upon you. Let the stars be for victory for the Union, and the put down the rebellion." The speaker's words closed amid loud cheers.

Other entertainers were: Lieutenant J. C. McElrath, David McAllister, who recited a poem describing the night songs of the boys in blue; Mr. Beddall, of the Rappahannock near Petersburg, a song of "The Old Virginia Lowlands"; John Watson, David Morgan; William Hodgert, Chief Burgess of Mt. Carmel, and S. A. Beddall, of town. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Beddall recalled the fact that though he had fought north, south, east and west of Richmond all through the war and had been in the vicinity several times since, he had never set foot in the once-orber-strong hold until last February.

The following telegram was read from C. W. Schnerr, of Philadelphia: "I greet my old companions, but am debarred the pleasure of associating with them on account of illness."

"All our officers are living but one," remarked one of the number. "They were all dandy good runners," suggested a private.

"You should have seen John Clemens run at Bull Run," cracked another joker. "You weren't far behind," retorted Clemens.

Captain William Winlack was elected permanent president of the organization, and the officers elected for the ensuing year were: Secretary, C. W. Schnerr, Philadelphia; and Treasurer, J. C. McElrath, Pottsville. Those attending the re-union yesterday were Captain Wm. Winlack, Goadale; Lieut. J. C. McElrath; Pottsville; Lieut. James M. Shamokin; Cornelius Dress, Shenandoah; Sergeant William Clemens, Shamokin; William Hodgert, Mt. Carmel; Benjamin F. Woerner, Shenandoah; Sergeant David McAllister, Shamokin; John Cameron, Mahanoy City; John Clemens, Audenried; Thomas McGee, Branchdale; John Penman, Mt. Carmel; David Morgan, Shenandoah; John Shuman, Shenandoah; Sergeant S. A. Beddall, Shenandoah; Joseph Lord, Mahanoy City; John Watson, Shenandoah; Sergeant Patrick Lynch, Wilkes-Barre; and Samuel Clemens, Shamokin.

The rascal thought he was out of reach of the officers, but was foiled in his attempt to escape, captured and sent to Sunbury jail to await trial.

The game yesterday between Bellanca and Allentown clubs was really interesting to the hundreds that witnessed it. "Tolerably good batting is credited to both teams and the opinions of several good ball tossers are, that if the pitchers for the home team had been properly supported they would have given the Allentown a good "shaking up." Morse and Jones, two of our young pitchers, who occupied the box, did good work and are deserving of much praise. If our boys did suffer defeat every one went away from National Park satisfied with the exhibition. Score, 14 to 1 in favor of Allentown.
