SENATOR QUAY'S SWEEPING VICTORY.

Schuykill Endorses Him For State Chairman.

SOME STUBBORN BATTLES FOUGHT

GILKESON DOES NOT GET A SINGLE DELEGATE IN THE COUNTY.

LOSCH AND WHITEHOUSE FAIL!

Hon. D. D. Phillips Has no Opposition in the Second District—Dengler and Ball Win Easily—Riot Threatened at the Pottsville Con- vention.

One of the hottest battles ever fought within the ranks of the Republican party of Schuykill county was concluded this morning by a sweeping victory for Senator M. S. Quay in the fight made against him for the chairmanship of the Republican state committee. Quay gets every delegate in Schuykill county, which is more than many of his most sanguine friends had hoped for.

Congressman "Jack" Robinson, of Media, one of Quay's staunchest lieutenants, viewed the Schuykill field of battle yesterday and, after visiting Pottsville, Mahanoy City and Tamaqua, came to town last night and said the indications were that so far as this county was concerned Quay's victory would be complete, although he realized that all the power possible was being moved against the Senator in Mahanoy City. He heard that one delegate in Mahanoy City had been offered $50 and five free tickets to Atlantic City for his family in return for an out-and-out vote for Hastings. Robinson did not remain here long and proceeded to Ashland.

Congressman Robinson did not fully grasp the nature of the fight in the First district. It was not really an anti-Quay fight at any time, but a fight against Senator Coyle. In other words, the victors assert that they have won everything they fought for, namely: the election of Quay delegates without the assistance of Senator Coyle, and, in fact, in spite of his opposition to the delegates who have been elected. Hence, the two delegates elected are for Senator Quay, but anti-Coyle.

The fact that the convention in this district endorsed the course of Representative Wyatt, and failed to say anything about the Senator from the 30th Senatorial district, is looked upon by many as a condemnation of the latter's course. Be that as it may, the fact that the convention refused to endorse Senator Coyle places that gentleman in an embarrassing position and proves conclusively that his star is waning.

When it was announced Thursday night that Charles Smith, of Mahanoy City, had withdrawn from the contest for a state delegateship in this district many supposed that Dengler and Ball would have nothing to do but lay back on their oars, but the more shrewd and far-seeing politicians advised against a cessation of any hostilities and urged as active work as if a full-fledged fight was still on hand, and this advice proved valuable, for within a few hours Hon. M. P. Fowler, of town, an old-time opponent of Senator Quay, and John Phillips, of Mahanoy City, were launched in the field and they at once commenced a vigorous eleventh-hour fight, but it was of no avail, as shown by the returns.

The Second district fight was so clearly one-sided in favor of Senator Quay that there is nothing to say in regard to the returns.

In the Third district Senator Quay has also won. The Gilkeson people claim that Job is against Quay, but assurances are given by those who know the delegate elected well that he will be in line for the Junior Senator when his name is called at the state convention, and this statement appears to be confirmed by the defeat of Weldy, who is a pronounced anti-Quay man.

The hottest battle of the four was that in the Fourth district, and Hon. S. A. Losch, the Schuykill Haven statesman, who for weeks past has been filling the Philadelphia newspapers with self-made interviews primed for Gilkeson's edification, goes down in the wreckage with ex-District Attorney Whitehouse and a gentleman named Millington, of Tremont.

The convention of this district was red-hot to the very moment of adjournment, and at one time there was danger that it would end in a riot, although this disturbance was due to a personal encounter between an over-ardent Gilkeson admirer who could not refrain from ruffianism, and Congressman

Charles N. Brumm, who made an unswerving battle for Quay, and was not due to any proceeding in the convention itself.

The circumstances of the encounter as furnished by a reliable Pottsville correspondent are that Brumm was in the convention, talking to one of the delegates, when Jack White, an official at the Schuykill Haven almshouse, who was standing by, heard the name of Whitehouse mentioned and said to Brumm, "You are a liar." Brumm turned and asked, "Do you mean to call me a liar?" White answered "Yes," whereupon Brumm struck him a blow with his fist in the face. A crowd immediately gathered and further hostilities were prevented. White left the convention hall and swore out a warrant for Brumm's arrest before a Pottsville Justice. An opportunity to get Brumm out of the convention hall, Brumm's friends say, presented itself and the Gilkeson people lost no time in grasping it. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Wade, also known as a strong Gilkeson man, who tried to get into the convention to get Brumm, which caused a great uproar that extended into the convention. A riot inside and outside seemed imminent, when Brumm left the hall, furnished bail before the Justice who issued the warrant, and returned to the convention. This occurrence was the cause of the delay in receiving the returns.

DENGLER AND BALL.

An Eleventh Hour Move in Shenandoah Failed in Effect.

The convention of the First Legislative district was called to order in Robbins' opera house at 10:05 this morning by William Neiswender, member of the county executive committee, and instructed temporary secretary Harry Carl, of Shenandoah, to call the roll, which showed the absence of the two delegates from Delano, E. H. Evans and Edward L. Phillips, and the presence of their alternates, David Allen and H. C. Engle. The roll call also showed the absence of Victor Burchill, of Gilberton; James Reese, Morea; Howard Kleckner, Lost Creek, and John Farr, Mahanoy City. William Brown, of the Fifth ward, Shenandoah, was present at roll call, but absent when his name was called at voting time.

WHO WILL RECEIVE THE PLUM

Judge Jackson's Successor to be Named When Congress Reconvenes.

GOSSIP ABOUT THE "PROBABLES."

Postmaster General Bissell and Secretary Olney Talked of, While New York State Favors Judges Rufus W. Peckham and D. Cady Herrick.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—There is much speculation as to who will be President Cleveland's choice for the United States supreme court bench to succeed the late Justice Jackson, but beyond the mention of available names there is little of a definite nature thus early. It is the general understanding that no appointment will be made until after the meeting of congress, as the place is one of too much importance and dignity for a recess appointment to go on the bench and take the chance of subsequent rejection by the senate. There has been no case in the recent history of the country where an appointment has been made to the supreme bench during a congressional recess.

It is suggested that the selection is most likely to be made from the east, and probably from New York, as Mr. Cleveland made the last appointment—that of Justice White—from the south, after the senate had rejected the names of Hornblower and Peckham, both of New York. When the serious illness of Justice Jackson was first announced gossip mentioned the name of Mr. Bissell, then in the cabinet, as the probable successor. The same suggestion is heard at the present time.

As is usual when an important place is to be filled, the name of Secretary Carlisle is mentioned, but the general opinion is that should Mr. Cleveland go to his cabinet for an appointee he is more likely to consider Mr. Wilson or Mr. Smith. The name of Representative Josiah Patterson, of Tennessee, will probably be called to the attention of the president, as he comes from the state of the late justice, and is known as a most loyal friend of Mr. Cleveland. The name of Don M. Dickinson and Solicitor General Holmes Conrad are also mentioned.

There are persons, however, whose relations with the president are of the closest character, who believe that Mr. Cleveland's first choice would be Mr. Olney, the secretary of state. It is known that he places implicit confidence in the soundness of Mr. Olney's opinions on all important legal questions which come before him, and that he fully appreciates the great assistance Mr. Olney has rendered him in the disposition of the great questions that have arisen during the last two years. Whether Mr. Olney's residence in Massachusetts will render him unavailable is not known, but it is the opinion of many well informed persons here that, but for this objection, Mr. Olney would surely be the man. Next to him Mr. Rufus Peckham is thought by many to be the most likely to receive the nomination. The question of confirmation would not be raised, it is said, as it was in the cases of Wheeler H. Peckham and Hornblower.

NEW YORK'S "PROBABLES."

Judge Rufus W. Peckham and Judge D. Cady Herrick.

ALBANY, Aug. 10.—Judge Rufus W. Peckham, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Justice Jackson, of the supreme court of the United States, is the second judge in succession to the chief judgeship of the court of appeals of this state. He is a personal friend of President Cleveland, and was one of his chief advisers when he was governor. He was elected to the court of appeals in 1888, and re-elected in 1894 for eight years, his term expiring in 1900. His father before him was a justice of the court. Judge Peckham writes the straight opinions handed down from the present bench, and is considered a jurist of extraordinary ability.

Judge D. Cady Herrick, of the supreme court of this district, a resident of Albany and a very close personal friend of President Cleveland, is also being talked of here as Judge Jackson's successor. He, more than any other man, was responsible for the nomination of Grover Cleveland at Chicago in 1892, and his friends here believe that the president will favor him. He is a brilliant jurist and well known to the bar of the state.

An Interesting Sprint.

Much interest is manifested in the one-hundred yard foot race between Charles Kirlin, son of the Main street druggist, and E. B. Brumm, the jeweler, for $100 a side, which is to take place at the Trotting park next Wednesday afternoon. Elmer Opp, the Ferguson House chef, is backing Kirlin and Brumm is putting up his own wherewithal. The race has been on the tapis for several weeks and grew out of a banter. Kirlin was talking foot racing to a young man and Brumm said Kirlin couldn't give him three yards in a hundred for $3. Kirlin talked even start and finally the exchanges led Opp to offer backing for Kirlin to the extent of $100 for a 100-yard race with even start, which was promptly taken up. Kirlin has had pretensions to sprinting for some time and has won a race, while Brumm has never been considered in connection with the endeavor and it is now thought that he may prove a "sleeper." Brumm ran a trial race at Ringston yesterday and, it is said, showed up in excellent form. Kirlin had a trial at the Trotting park with equal success. The race is exciting as much attention as a professional one.

C. ROBINSON.

In fishing around the market we found a couple barrels of extra fine Norway mackerel cheap. Very fat and white. Not large. Weight about 3-4 of a pound. 14 cents a pound. We have the big ones, too; weigh 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 pounds, for little more money. These are the finest fish caught, and we can not always buy the small ones.
