—In "Breakfast Bits for Carbondalians" in the Scranton Republican of Friday last, we find the following flattering notice, which it goes without saying, is fully appreciated:

Since it passed recently into the hands of its present management THE CITIZEN has shown wonderful improvement and bids well to take its place among the leaders of its class. —Rev. P. C. Nagel, pastor of St. Nicholas German Catholic Church, of Wilkes-Barre, celebrated the fiftieth year of his ordination to the priesthood on Thursday last. From the date of his ordination in 1858 until 1863 he had charge of St. Mary Magdalena's German Catholic church here, and under his supervision the present church building was erected, after the destruction of the first edifice by fire in 1860. It was under Father Nagel's pastorate that the land for the German Catholic cemetery was purchased of the late Daniel Schoonover. Monsignor Nagel's golden jubilee in Wilkes-Barre, was a very happy affair, priests being present from all parts of the diocese to extend their felicitations and join in the ceremonies. Mass was celebrated at half past nine in the morning, six hundred children of the church attending in a body. —"Thorns and Orange Blossoms" is a very taking title, and it is a dramatization of Bertha M. Clay's book of the same name. "Thorns and Orange Blossoms" comes to the Lyric, Friday evening, Dec. 4th.

—An unaccountable fire occurred at the home of George A. Kimble in Oregon township, on Sunday afternoon last. Mr. and Mrs. Kimble were seated in the sitting room reading, when the latter fancied she detected smoke, and went to the kitchen to see if anything had gone wrong with the stove. All appeared in proper order, but a peculiar roaring, at first attributed to a passing wagon, and later to the possible burning out of the chimney, prompted further investigation. Hastening out to see if the chimney was on fire, Mr. Kimble discovered nothing wrong in that direction, but at the same time saw that smoke was issuing through the roof. Returning to the kitchen, he opened the door of a closet located several feet from the range or any stove pipe. The clothing, and other contents of the closet were found to be burning furiously, and a volume of smoke and flames poured out into the room, nearly suffocating Mr. Kimble and singeing his hair and whiskers. Mrs. Kimble ran to the top of the hill near the house and called for help, her cries being heard by Calvin Kimble, who, with others who reached the house a little later, finally put out the fire, the damage being estimated at about $100, which is covered by insurance in the Wayne County Farmers' Mutual.
