

COUNCIL TO BEGIN PAVE SOMETIME THIS YEAR

PLANS AND COST PREPARED BY STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT DISCUSSED.

Definite Action Will Probably be Taken at Regular Meeting Next Thursday Evening—Mr. Reigel Present.

A special meeting of the borough council was held in the city hall on Wednesday evening for the purpose of considering the advisability of immediately paving Main street, the cost of same and what portion of the entire cost would be paid by the State.

Superintendent Reigel of the State Highway Department, explained to the council that in order to obtain the full benefit of state aid they must pave Main street its entire length, that is, from the Gurney Elevator Plant, south, to the borough limits, north, and also Park street. There is the sum of $17,500 now available from the state but in order to get this amount the council must decide to pave the whole thing. If Main street is to be paved only to the up-town bridge then the amount available from the State would be only $9,500.

The members of the council discussed the plans and cost but no definite action was taken. At the regular meeting next Thursday evening a franchise will be voted upon calling a special election for the purpose of raising the necessary funds to begin the work.

Mr. Draper, representing the Wayne County Street Railway company, was present, and told the council that they expected to begin work next month. He also informed them that the railway company would lay their share of the pave at the same time the other work was being done. Mr. Allen, president of the proposed railway company, and Mr. Hardenbergh, a director of the company, were present.

FIVE CONSTABLES WITH POWERS OF POLICE APPOINTED

Judge Searle approved the appointment of five deputy constables for Canaan township Tuesday morning. The recommendations were made by Dr. Fitzsimmons of the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Farview. The petition was signed by twenty-five citizens of Canaan township who live in the neighborhood of the institution and who claim that more protection is necessary for the safety of persons and property in that section.

The men appointed deputy constables were: Moses T. Spangenberg, Michael McDonnell, W. J. Lamb, Chas. A. May and Frank Romick. A certificate was made out immediately by Prothonotary Barnes giving the five men the power of policemen in cities for making arrests. Their duties will include watching over the State property at the institution.

The recent deprivations caused by persons to the property at the hospital led up to this action by Dr. Fitzsimmons and it is thought that this will also more properly protect the property in that locality.

Three Divorces Granted.

Judge Searle holding argument court Wednesday morning, granted three divorces. Those granted were: Lizzie P. Bodie from her husband, Allen R. Bodie.

Robert E. Sands from his wife, Grace S. Sands.

STREET RAILWAY COMPANY CAPITALIZED AT $400,000

AT STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING WEDNESDAY OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS WERE ELECTED

Mr. Draper, of New York, Present at Special Council Meeting—Says Work Will Start Next Month—This Will be Good News.

The Wayne County Street Railway company formally organized on Wednesday afternoon and the following officers and directors were elected: M. B. Allen, president; C. H. Dorflinger, vice-president; C. E. Dodge, secretary; and C. A. Emery, treasurer. The directors are: M. B. Allen, E. B. Hardenbergh, H. T. Menner, W. H. Riefler, G. Wm. Sell, Sigmond Katz and C. H. Dorflinger.

The meeting of the stockholders was held in the Allen House and Mr. E. F. Draper, of New York city, who is financially interested in the new venture, was present. After the election of officers and directors, by-laws were drafted and other business connected with the organization was completed.

The Wayne County Street Railway company was incorporated for $100,000 but at the meeting Wednesday it was voted to increase the capitalization to $400,000.

The proposed railway's portion of the pave will be independent from the borough's portion or that of the State. They will be obliged to contract for their own work or sublet it to the other contractors.

Mr. Draper accompanied by Messrs. Allen and Hardenbergh, attended the special meeting of the borough council Wednesday evening. At this meeting Mr. Draper told the council that the railway company would commence the work in some part next month and that they were holding off principally to find out when the council intended to begin paving. He expressed a desire to pave the railway's portion of the street at the same time. He was informed that the attitude of the council was to start work as soon as possible this year.

BASEBALL MEMORIAL DAY.

German Catholic Club Will Cross Bats With Olyphant on Local Field—Two Games.

Weather permitting, two games of baseball will be played at Athletic Park on Memorial Day. The German Catholic Club has made arrangements with the Olyphant team to play morning and afternoon at this place upon that day. The first game is scheduled at 10:30 a. m., and the afternoon game will be called at 2:15. The batteries for the G. C. C. will be Schilling, Rose and J. Hessling. The team will be strengthened by several of Honesdale's players, namely, B. Hessling, the little wonder with an iron arm, W. and J. Polt, W. Mangan, and J. Schilling.

It is hoped that the boys will be liberally supported. They are deserving of a big crowd in that they have the enterprise to organize a club for Honesdale's entertainment this summer. A large attendance will encourage the team and place them in a position where they will be able to better represent the Maple City in base ball circles.

Ben Hessling has been elected captain, manager and coach, and Julius Polt assistant manager of the German Catholic club. Valley teams desiring games can secure dates and make arrangements for return games by addressing Captain Hessling, Honesdale, Pa.

CROWDED OUT—SORRY!

Several columns of local and general matters, as well as a quantity of county correspondence are unavoidably crowded out of this number of The Citizen. This is occasioned by demands on the part of advertisers. Of course while we are sorry over the enforced omission we are glad because The Citizen is so popular with the advertising public.

Fifty Years Ago

(By Homer Greene)

Written Exclusively for the Citizen's Memorial Day Number.

FIFTY years ago this May the high-tide of the Civil War had been all but reached. At no time during the conflict had the hope of the Confederacy for ultimate victory been higher. At no time had the Union forces had greater cause for discouragement. Grant had been baffled again and again in his attempt to reach Vicksburg. In December Burnside had witnessed at Fredericksburg the fruitless sacrifice of 12,000 of the flower of the army of the Potomac.

In the early days of May, Hooker at Chancellorsville had been worsted in a four days' battle with a loss of 17,000 men. The outlook for the Union armies was most discouraging. The Confederate forces were flushed with victory. Then Lee determined to push the war into the enemy's country, and with a great army he invaded Pennsylvania. Meade, who had been given command of the Army of the Potomac, followed him, and on the first three days of July, 1863, came that tremendous battle at Gettysburg, with its dramatic climax, the charge of Pickett's men and its tragic ending, and victory resting finally on the Union banners. Gettysburg was the beginning of the end. From that day the star of the Confederacy waned to its final extinction at Appomattox.

Fifty years ago the clash of war between North and South was fiercest, the slaughter was greatest, the final event was most uncertain. It is impossible for those of the present generation, living in these days of peace, in whose lives the brief war with Spain some fifteen years ago created a feeling that existed in this community, as in all other communities, in that spring of '63. Alternately there was hope and despair, and always the dread of personal or national disaster hanging like a dark cloud over all the people. There was no man or woman or child in this or any community to whom the war had not brought its emotions and its tragedies. Every mind was occupied with its developments, every heart was tense with its activities. We cannot realize, we can only imagine today, to what depths the souls of the men and women of '63 were stirred. And then the storm died away. Green grass grew over the graves of the dead. Time healed the wounds that grief had made. And today the causes, the story, the glory, the tragedy of the great war are all forgotten. Were it not that after fifty years a few old heroes who marched and fought and faced death to uphold the principles so wisely stated and so vigorously enforced by Abraham Lincoln, are moved to come together on a day in May to commemorate the deeds and virtues of their comrades who have gone before, we should have little to remind us, outside the pages of history, that fifty years ago today the tide of the mightiest and bloodiest war ever waged was just turning for the ebb. It is well that the old causes of war have disappeared, that the old enmity between North and South has been forgotten, that the men of the blue and the men of the gray can clasp friendly hands this year on the field for possession of which they fought each other with tremendous bravery and awful sacrifice a half century ago. But, it is well also that a day is set apart out of the busy life of this twentieth century to honor the memory of those who fought in that great war and who have gone on into the land of everlasting peace, and to remember and restate the principles for which they fought and which, reestablished by their blood and bravery, have made and will keep this nation dominant and great.

KRANTZ MADE TRUSTEE OF FOOTWEAR COMPANY

MOTION FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF A RECEIVER WAIVED BEFORE JUDGE NEWCOMB.

Many Stockholders of Company Whose Business Was Destroyed by Fire Present at Hearing Wednesday.

Judge E. C. Newcomb, of Scranton, sitting in equity here Wednesday morning, appointed former President W. H. Krantz of the Honesdale Footwear Company, sole trustee for the purpose of winding up the business of the company and converting the assets into cash, the same to be distributed among the stockholders of the company. He was required to furnish a bond in the sum of $45,000. The suit in equity brought by Levi Penwarden et al., through his attorneys, Peter H. Iloff and C. A. Garratt, for the appointment of a receiver for the company, was thus brought to a successful conclusion with the appointment of a trustee, rather than a receiver as this action will probably mean a saving of many dollars to the stockholders of the company.

Judge Newcomb offered a mode of settlement in which he suggested that the plaintiffs drop their action for the appointment of a receiver for, as he said, it was a very expensive proceeding. He suggested that W. H. Krantz be made a trustee to wind up the affairs of the company and make a settlement to the stockholders. After a brief conference with their clients Attorneys Iloff and Garratt agreed to the proposition and said that the stockholders would be glad to receive even $36,500 of the amount due from the insurance. The motion for a receiver was waived.

The proceedings had attracted considerable attention in Honesdale where most of the stock of the company had been sold, and many of the stockholders thronged the court room during the hearing.

The court made the following order based upon the agreement of the parties interested:

Now, to wit, May 28, the motion for the appointment of a receiver is waived upon the following conditions hereby made an order of court, by the agreement of the parties concerned.

First—That W. H. Krantz be appointed Trustee to wind up the business of the defendant company and to collect and take into his possession, for the use of the parties entitled thereto, all and singular the assets of the said company.

Second—That with respect to the insurance, he shall not compromise the claims for less than the total sum of Thirty-Six Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars ($36,500).

Third—That he shall proceed with all possible dispatch to collect the outstanding claims, including the insurance, and to convert the other assets into cash.

Fourth—That he shall be entitled to employ such attorney or attorneys as may be necessary in and about the collection of said claims and the settlement of the company's affairs, at the expense to be subject to the supervision and final order of the court.

Fifth—That upon the collection of the assets aforesaid and the reduction of the same into cash, he shall account in due form of law, in this court, subject to the right of exception as in similar cases by any party at interest, said accounting to date from the time of the fire, to wit, the 21st of February, 1913.

Sixth—That the term "assets" as herein used refers only to personal assets and not to real property.

Seventh—This order to be without prejudice to the right of the plaintiff eventually to claim repayment, out of the funds in the accountant's hands, for the costs incurred in this proceeding, including a reasonable counsel fee to be fixed by the court or agreed upon by the parties.

Eighth—This order contemplates a speedy settlement of the matters in controversy and prompt accounting thereafter, and for default in that respect, upon due cause shown to the court, the trustees shall be subject to removal and the vacancy thereupon to be filled by the appointment of some other person.

Ninth—This order to be effective upon bond being filed by the said W. H. Krantz, conditioned for the faithful performance of the terms hereof, in the penal sum of Forty-Five Thousand Dollars ($45,000), with security or securities to be approved by the court or a judge thereof.

GEORGE BEURKET QUALIFIES FOR WEST POINT.

George S. Beurket, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beurket, of this place, has successfully qualified as a student to enter the United States Military Academy at West Point. George received his appointment last August, it coming through Congressman W. D. B. Ainey of this district. He went to Washington, D. C., on the 29th of last April where he spent four days in taking the necessary examinations. At that time between 700 and 800 students took the test and from this number a class of only 125 was selected. This speaks in words of highest praise for George and we are always glad to learn when our Honesdale young men come to the front.

The qualify notice was received May 28. George leaves on June 14 for West Point, where he will take a four years' course. At the end of that time he will be given a commission of Second Lieutenant, and then serve the United States 8 years in its regular army.
