A pugilistic encounter raised quite an excitement on a back alley Friday night.

The highest ambition, apparently, of some people in this world is to make trouble.

Will Columbus Day, October 21st, be observed in Reynoldsville? Who will answer?

An infant child of Paul Seance was buried in the Catholic cemetery yesterday afternoon.

A. E. Dunn, the hardware merchant, is moving into his new store room next to his old location.

The inclement weather put a damper on the G. A. R. bean bake at Brookwayville last Thursday.

The Reynoldsville Cornet band played some excellent music on Main street Saturday evening.

The circulation of the DuBois Courier at this place is increasing since August Anderson became agent.

Quimby, of the Clarion Breeze, believes it is a newspapers business to root out crime instead of planting it.

Green & Conser, proprietors of Hotel Belnap, are making some interior improvements in their hotel.

A trough at Hotel McConnell containing sixteen turtles has considerable attraction for the small boys.

We have been threatened with libel suit No. 2, but that seems to be the end thereof, they do not materialize.

A valuable horse belonging to A. T. Sprankle, of DuBois, died at Hotel McConnell barn Sunday evening.

Arrests are becoming an oft repeated story here of late and the dispensers of law are doing a "good" business.

A steam separator made wheat, oats and rye chaff fly at Ed. D. Seeley's barn on the hill last Saturday afternoon.

Save money by buying Pillsbury and Reynolds Bros. shoes at Arnold's at from 33 to 50 per cent less than cost.

Ninety-four criminal cases are already on the list for the coming session of court. Six of these are from Reynoldsville.

The Scotch people of this section picnicked on the hill near Fuller's farm last Saturday. They had a very pleasant time.

Don't forget the elocutionary and musical entertainment to be given in the Baptist church Tuesday evening, September 6th.

It would be to the credit of Reynoldsville to decorate the town for the K. G. E. re-union to be held here on the 13th of September.

A brass band from Coal Glen, on their way to the Scotch picnic near Fuller's on Saturday, made music in Reynoldsville for a short time.

The ladies of the Daughters of America will give an ice cream and cake festival in the lower part of Centennial hall Saturday evening, Sept. 3rd.

Mrs. C. C. Hunt, wife of Rev. Hunt, the C. N. U. teacher who is well known here, died at her home in Russell; Warren county, Pa., on the 17th inst.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Grange of Jefferson county will be held at the Union Grange in Warsaw township on Saturday, October 1st, 1892.

A broken piece of machinery at Hopkins mill was the means of putting stop to the music of the saw, etc., Thursday and Friday of last week.

David Roll, the genial attache of Hotel Belnap, has a finger ring that eclipses anything of the kind from Dan to Beersheba. It was presented to him by an agent.

The Sons of Temperance will hold a necktie social in Centennial Hall Saturday evening, Sept. 3rd, to which all are invited to attend. Ice cream, cake and lemonade will be served.

The Salvation Army advertise that they will be at DuBois on the 3rd of September to "make war against the devil." They certainly will attack one his majesty's strongholds.

The Knights of Labor of Rathmel are making preparations to have a jolly time there on Labor Day. The people of that village generally succeed in their efforts to have a good time.

Volume 1, No. 3, of the Dayton News, Armstrong county, found its way to our exchange table last week. It is published by Marshall, Hoover & Co. We wish them success in the enterprise.

The fifty-seventh session of the Erie Annual Conference, of the M. E. church, will be held at Warren, Pa., commencing on Wednesday, September 7th. Bishop John P. Newman will preside.

We were given a curiosity the other day by Mrs. Elijah Trudgen. It was twin apples, both having grown from the same parent stem. They were so perfect that you could not tell one from the other.

Two Rathmelites bunked in the lock-up one night last week and paid well for their lodging when brought before the Mayor in the morning. The whys and wherefores leading to the arrests might be a good subject for the officers to meditate upon.

Mrs. W. M. Foster, who has been at Pittsburg for two weeks receiving treatment from Mrs. Dr. McGranor of 350 Wylie avenue, returned home Thursday afternoon much improved in health. She speaks very highly of Mrs. McGranor's treatment.

The pedagogues and the pupils will assemble at the temple of learning in this borough one week from next Monday for the purpose of mastering the difficult lessons that will confront them five days out of every week during the prospective school term they will that day enter.

Policeman Mincer has not received his new blue suit yet and there seems to be no effort made towards getting him one. Surely Reynoldsville has sufficient pride to want to see our police look as if the town means business. A blue coat and star go better together than common citizen attire.

F. F. Hoffman, the veterinarian of Brookville, was called here last week to prescribe for one of Frank J. Black's bus horses that had been showing indications of becoming carrion and letting the maggots feast on his flesh, but the beast reconsidered the matter and is now on the convalescent list.

The street railway is doing an immense business. On Friday last 2,000 passengers were carried, and on the day of the re-union the number was more than three times that amount. The owners of the line are highly pleased at the liberal patronage it receives by our people.—Punxsutawney News.

Alfred Bell, of Rochester, N. Y., a well known lumberman in Jefferson county, after whom Belts mill, near Brookville, on the A. V. R'y was named, died at his home last Wednesday evening, aged eighty-two years. He was father of Mr. Fred Bell, of the Bell, Lewis & Yates, Coal Mining Co.

The Jefferson County Medical association picnic held at the DuBois Electric Park last Friday was an enjoyable outing for the participants. Our postmaster, Dr. J. W. Foust says: "It was the largest congregation of doctors that has assembled in this locality for over a thousand years, and the repast was fit for a king."

The Fair Bulletin, edited and published by W. L. McCracken, devoted to the interest of the Jefferson county fair to be held at Brookville Sep. 20th to 23rd, promises that the fair this year will surpass all previous fairs ever held in the county. If the business like manner with which the new management take hold of the affair is a criterion it will certainly be a success.

The Brookville Democrat and Ridgway Democrat each devoted considerable space last week to the true statement about the game of ball that was to be played at Ridgway on the 19th inst. The reader who would see just one of the papers would be convinced that that was the right version, because it is presented so plausible, but to read both papers one is in a dilemma. Suppose you split the difference, gentlemen.

James W. Stevenson, son of Henry Stevenson, of Sandy Valley, a young man of rare ability, is visiting his father and Reynoldsville friends. Jim commenced his newspaper career on the Pittsburg Times, from there he was a reporter on the Pittsburg Dispatch, and he ascended the ladder so rapidly that he became noted and now furnishes news for the world—New York World. The young man is deserving of success and we are glad to see him make use of his talent.

Injured in the Mine.

Monday forenoon John Watson was severely injured in Big Soldier Mine. Squeezed across the breast, a broken jaw and a bruised head were the extent of his injuries. He will be able to resume work in a few weeks.

A Boy's Answer.

The Sunday school lesson last Sunday was about Stephen being stoned to death, and a teacher, who had charge of an infant class in one of our schools, was commenting on the good man's conduct and asked the class what they would do if some one stoned them? A little boy said: "I would jiv 'em a dood kick."

A Few Hours of Pleasure.

Miss Lou Foust, the assistant in the postoffice, gave a party last Friday evening at the home of her father on Jackson street, which was a very enjoyable affair and was largely attended, about one hundred and twenty-five young people being present. The hours were whiled away by various games. Ice cream and cake were served before the home-going time arrived.

Charged with Assault and Desertion.

Philip Walker, of Rathmel, was arrested on a warrant issued by his wife for assault and battery, threatening to kill her and desertion. He was given a hearing before Esquire McGaw Thursday afternoon and bound over to court. The bail required for his liberty until court time was five hundred dollars. He failed to get bail and is now boarding with the sheriff at Brookville.

At the Opera House.

"Our German Ward" was the attraction at the Opera house Monday evening. The house was packed and the play well received. The play was rendered by Middaugh's Musical Comedy Co. The appearance of the players and the band is a great drawing card for the company. The band made the finest appearance of any band that has ever paraded the streets of Reynoldsville.

Stereopticon Show.

The stereopticon entertainment in Centennial hall Saturday evening, under the management of B. A. Hays and A. C. Anderson was fairly well attended and was a good entertainment. The views shown were: Uncle Tom's Cabin, The Drunkard's Progress or Ten Nights in a Bar-room, Rip Van Winkle and his scolding wife complete, Landing of Columbus, portraits of leading men of the United States, and many other interesting views.

An Excursion.

The B., R. & P. R'y will run an excursion to Ontario Beach and return Saturday, September 3rd, tickets good to return until September 6th. Train will leave Falls Creek at 10:05 A. M. Tickets $3.00. On Monday, September 5th, the international boat race for the world's championship and a purse of $5,000, between four great oarsmen, Hanlan, O'Connor, Gaudaur and Hosmer will be rowed at the Beach. Race will be rowed between 4 and 6 P. M.

Quarterly Meeting.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the M. E. church, for the present conference year, will be held next Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Dr. F. H. Beck will conduct all the services of the occasion, which will be as follows: Preaching Saturday evening at 7:30, followed by the quarterly conference; Sunday school at 9:45 A. M. Sunday; preaching at 11:00 A. M., followed by the administration of the Lord's Supper; Love Feast at 3:00 P. M.; preaching at 7:45 Sunday evening.

Easy to do.

Fault-finding is one of the easiest things done that our poor human nature undertakes. It is so very easy to see the faults and imperfections of other people. It is no trouble in the world to find notes; but oh, how difficult to see beams? We find it unpleasant to look within, but the most agreeable business in this world is to tear to pieces the character of others, by magnifying their faults while we minify their virtues. Every reader should pray to be delivered from fault-finding.

A Verification.

Some weeks ago we devoted a little space in speaking of Miss Ella Seeley's ability as an artist. We clip the following from the Indiana Progress of last week which is a verification of the statement made by THE STAR and shows that the young lady is getting a reputation in her chosen profession: "Miss Ella Evelyn Seeley, one of Reynoldsville's charming young ladies, spent several days in town this week. Miss Seeley is an artist of genuine worth and is fast gaining renown in the Art World."

A Fractured Arm.

Thursday of last week was William Hollanbaugh's fifteenth birthday, which the lad will not soon forget. He came from Sandy Valley to Reynoldsville with his father, Solomon Hollanbaugh, on the day above mentioned and in getting out of the hack in front of Dillmon's restaurant he stepped on the rubber block and his foot slipped throwing him in such a manner that he fell on his right arm, breaking it at the wrist. Dr. Bowser dressed the arm, tied it up in shingles and the boy went home with a sad looking countenance.

How it Originates.

The origin of a slander comes about in this way: Mother, Ezekiel told me that he heard Greatwood's wife say that John Hardstone's aunt mentioned to her that Mrs. Gossip was present when widow Wantahusband said Capt. Hartwell's cousin thought Ensign Doolittle's sister believed that old Mrs. Nebber reckoned that Sam Rattlebrain's better-half told Mrs. Hefflefinger that she heard Hezekiah Knockerbacker's woman say that her mother told her that she heard her great grandmother say that Mrs. Lovetoowell had two husbands.

Elocutionary and Musical Entertainment.

An excellent elocutionary and musical entertainment will be given in the Baptist church on Tuesday evening, September 6th at 8 o'clock, by J. J. Parsons, the reciter and singer. It will be an evening of entertainment, pleasure and profit. It will consist of best selections from best authors, dialectic renditions, vocal selections, ballads, songs and solos. They will be pathetic and humorous. The Christian Endeavor, under whose auspices it is given, will send a delegate to the State Convention at Altoona, with the proceeds. Admission 25 cents, children 15 cents.

Not to be Trifled with.

Ed. Fuller, of Iowa Mill, has discovered that the A. V. R'y is not to be trifled with. The above named individual, in company with a boon companion, got on the Brookville accommodation at Falls Creek on the evening of July 10th and with ghoulish glee commenced to ventilate their profane vocabulary in the ladies car. Conductor Faust stopped their fun and escorted them to the smoking car. When they got off the train Fuller hurled a rock as large as a half brick at the conductor. He was arrested and given a hearing at Brookville Monday morning of this week and in default of $1,000 bail is now peeping through the iron bars at the county seat awaiting the coming session of court.

Broke the Seventh Commandment.

[Clarion Breeze.] Al. Shoemaker and Tillie C. Simcox who were boarders at the residence of Mrs. DeLacy, and living in this town as man and wife since July 4, were arrested yesterday at the instance of the woman's real husband, who had been hunting for them for some time. The charge against Tillie is adultery, and Mr. Shoemaker's offense was also found to be a jailable one. In the hearing they had before Squire Cummings, they pleaded guilty, and after a brief incarceration in our own pretty little prison, they were removed to the Ridgway jail. They hail from Sandy Valley, Jefferson County, Pa. The name of the injured husband—the man who Tillie says she does not love—is Geo. W. Simcox.

Jail Bird Re-captured.

About three years ago Charles Mathise was arrested in West Reynoldsville for hitting one of the Brink women on the head with a club. He was taken to Brookville and put in jail to await the decision of the court in the matter. At that time three or four prisoners escaped from jail, he being one of the number. Mathise came back to Reynoldsville not long ago and lives on Jackson street. He worked on a mill near Big Soldier. Saturday morning Sheriff Young came to this place, hired a horse and buggy and, accompanied by Mincer, went to the mill and requested the escaped prisoner to go down to Brookville to answer the charge of breaking jail. The prisoner claims that the other men opened the way of escape and he walked out because they had given him a good opportunity to do so. Whether he will be excused from a year's lodging in the penitentiary on that plea is yet to be found out.

In the Hands of Bishops.

Rev. W. P. Murray, the talented young pastor of the M. E. church at this place, returned last Thursday from a trip to Omaha, Neb., where he had been by request to preach for a congregation of that city who are looking for a pastor. The people were well pleased with Rev. Murray and at a special meeting of the official board, which was attended by a large number of other members of the church, they gave him a unanimous call. The matter is now in the hands of Bishops Newman and Warren and if the transfer is granted Rev. Murray will accept the call, although he is giving himself no concern about the change. Rev. Murray thinks Nebraska climate would be better for him. He likes his present charge and will, without doubt, return here for another year if the transfer into another conference is not made. The official board of the Reynoldsville church will, doubtless, request his return. Various rumors are floating around on the sea of gossip in regard to the matter that have no foundation, but are the offsprings of some fertile imaginary mind.

Attention Ladies.

We wish to inform the ladies that we are selling the best fitting, best wearing and neatest looking shoe in Reynoldsville at $2.50. REED'S SHOE STORE.

People who desire to buy a house or a lot, will find it to their interest to inquire of Walter Spry.

The Work of Consumption.

Mrs. Andy Baum, of DuBois, died at the McClure homestead at Pancoast on Wednesday morning, August 24th, 1892. She went to Pancoast on a visit nine weeks prior to her demise, not being in good health at the time, and in a few days was compelled to go to bed where she remained until the icy fingers of death encircled her life giving power. Margaret McClure, her maiden name, was a daughter of Thomas McClure, deceased. She was born in Ireland and came to America with her parents thirty-nine years ago, she then being seven years old, and they settled at Pancoast on what is now termed "the old homestead." She was married to Andrew Baum when about twenty years old. Three of her children preceded her over the river of death and four yet remain to mourn for a loving and thoughtful mother. The McClure family numbered ten children, nine girls and one boy. The father, mother and five daughters have yielded to the monster death, five children still living. Mrs. Baum was a member of the M. E. church at DuBois, and almost her last words were spoken in an assurance of the joy awaiting her beyond the din of earthly sorrows and trials. Consumption was the life-destroyer that caused crape to flutter in the breeze at "the homestead." The funeral services were held at the home in Pancoast, conducted by Rev. Cearing Peters, M. E. minister at DuBois, assisted by Rev. Geo. Hill, Presbyterian minister of Beechwoods. Her remains were interred in the Rumbarger cemetery.

Frustrated Again.

Amanda Engle, the lady of domestic affairs at Dr. Alexander's, put her hair up in "tins" Saturday night so that she would have curly locks on the Sabbath day. Her hair was twisted so tightly that she could not close her eyes to sleep and could not sleep with them open. The hours passed monotonously by until after the town clock struck two and then there was quite a commotion in the household for a short time. The girl heard a noise outside and she stuck her head out of the window and to her utter consternation she beheld a man at the window directly under her attempting to gain an entrance into the house. Whether it was the noise the girl made in trying to unlock the door to warn the other members of the house, or her head done up in "tins" that frightened the man away, is unknown, but he lingered not for an invitation to enter the house. "Shoot him! Will," and various other exclamations were given vent, yet the burglar and his "pard," as there were at least two of them, escaped, and no doubt, will borrow THE STAR and read this article and chuckle over the affair. On Monday a small arsenal was established at the Alexander mansion and unless these thieves want to die in their own town they had better ply their vocations in some other locality until the Alexander family's scare works off a little.

Glad School will Begin.

It is not an unimportant remark to hear parents make that they are glad school will soon begin. There are so many parents in this broad land who are willing that a public school teacher or a Sunday school teacher shall have the responsibility of teaching their children the ways to manhood and womanhood. The child is dressed and sent to day or Sunday school and the parent feels a great relief, because the responsibility has been shoved off onto another's shoulders for a time at least, and if the teachers have the audacity to look cross or apply the rod to the child they are severely criticized by the indulgent parent who cannot control the offspring at home.

Sunday School Picnic.

The Presbyterian Sunday school, with a large number of friends, picnicked at the DuBois Electric Park yesterday. The day was an exceedingly pleasant one and the participants were in good spirits and it was a real picnic for all. A special train over the R. & F. C. R'y hauled the picnickers. The Reynoldsville Cornet band accompanied the school and furnished music for the occasion. This made the third Sunday school picnic from Reynoldsville to the Electric Park at DuBois this season.
