LOCAL LACONICS.

Yes! Reynoldsville's progressive. Of this there is no doubt. And her business men, conservative.

The town was lively Saturday. See Robinson's $1.00 shoe for children. Now for the festive buckwheat cake.

Excursions rates to Pittsburg next Wednesday. One obstreperous fellow was "pulled in" Saturday evening.

Father Brady shot a canvas-back duck near Reynoldsville Monday afternoon. The Reynoldsville cornet band furnished the town with some excellent music Saturday evening.

Friday of next week is "Columbus Day" and no efforts are being made to observe it in Reynoldsville. Bell Bros., the enterprising clothiers, have a new advertisement on another page of this issue. Read it.

The Jefferson County Sunday School Convention meets at Brookwayville Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Bell Bros., the clothiers, are having a mammoth advertising bulletin put up opposite the A. V. R'y passenger station.

The new iron fence for the Beechwood's cemetery was unloaded from a car onto wagons at this place last Friday. John Geisler, who left Reynoldsville on the 7th of September, arrived at Innsbruck, Tyrol, Austria-Hungary, after a journey of sixteen days.

John Barkley, Porter Harris, M. Fred Reed, Roman E. Koehler, W. F. Womer and George Engle were appointed last week as ushers in the M. E. church. Rev. J. Ash, of St. Petersburg, Clarion county, Pa., will preach in the Lutheran church at this place next Sunday, at 11.00 A. M. in German and at 7.30 P. M. in English.

In a hasty make-up last week only one column of the three column article entitled "The Lost Mail Bags," was run. This week the entire article will be found on the first page. The stockholders of the proposed electric railway will meet at Cam. Mitchell's office to-morrow, Thursday evening, to elect officers. All stockholders are requested to be present.

Mrs. R. D. Beer returned Saturday evening from a visit at Fairmount, West Virginia. Her sister, Mrs. M. E. Bennett, came with her but returned to her southern home Monday morning. The Allegheny Valley Railway Company will sell excursion tickets to Pittsburg on Wednesday, October 19th good to return until Saturday, October 22nd. These excursions are very cheap.

A number of charming young ladies of Reynoldsville, who are apparently interested in matrimonial affairs, went to the Catholic church to witness the marriage of Ed. Gooder and Miss Nugent. The Daughters of Liberty will hold a chicken and waffle supper in the G. A. R. hall on Saturday evening, Oct. 22nd from five to eight o'clock. The taxation for the supper will be thirty-five cents.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church will hold an "Observation Social" at the residence of Dr. W. B. Alexander on Grant street, on Thursday evening of this week at eight o'clock. Prof. W. H. Quigley, of Punxsutawney, who taught one term in this borough, is principal of the Sykesville school for the present term. The Prof. drove to Reynoldsville last Wednesday evening for a supply of books for his scholars.

Robt. J. Thomas, the tonsorial artist, will open a shop in the room formerly used as an ice cream parlor at the City Bakery. Bobby has bought a new outfit and will be ready for business the last of this week. The delegates from Reynoldsville to the State Christian Endeavor Convention which is being held at Altoona this week are, Albert Lusk, of the Presbyterian church, and Ernest Davis, of the Baptist church. Robert Ferguson, an employee at Hopkins' mill, was walking around town a few days the past week with two fingers of his left hand tied up in white linen. His fingers were too close to some machinery on the lathe mill. David McCargo, general superintendent of the A. V. R'y, accompanied by Engineer F. M. Ashmand, and Supervisor M. Phalon, passed through this place in his special car Monday, which was attached to mail train eastward bound. A number of shares have been taken in the electric railway for Reynoldsville since our last issue. A Sligo gentleman, who is well acquainted with this place, wrote a letter to ye editor to buy a number of shares for him. He is a wise man. John Christie, a young man who lives near Sandy Valley, was in town yesterday afternoon with his right arm in a sling. He was leading a frisky horse to water last Thursday evening and gave it too much strap and the animal kicked him which resulted in a very sore arm. The new Methodist Episcopal church at Sugar Hill, Pa., will be dedicated next Sunday, Oct. 16th. Rev. Cearing Peters, of DuBois, will have charge of the dedicatory services, and Prof. J. G. Dalley, assisted by the Brookwayville M. E. choir, will furnish music for the occasion. Harry E. Barton, who has been a clerk at Rathmel for sometime, left here yesterday for Patton, a new coal mining town in Cambria county, where he and a brother-in-law have gone into the mercantile business for themselves. Mr. Barton is a real pleasant gentleman and has made many friends in this vicinity who wish him success. Five cars became unmanageable on the incline at the Standard mine Monday morning and came down the incline at a reckless speed and the "dummy's" ascent beat Nancy Hanks' record. The speed of the cars and "dummy" was not slackened until some damage was done, but not what might have been expected while the inanimate cars were running off. Messrs. J. Van Reed and Solomon Shaffer, whom we mentioned last week were putting up steps for an entrance into Centennial hall from Main street, will also have a platform built at the rear end of the hall and have the seats raised so that the hall will be a much more comfortable place to hear lectures, &c., in hereafter than it has been in the past. The DuBois Passenger Traction Railway company has purchased the Electric Light Power and Heat company's entire plant at that place. It is said that the plant will be conducted as a separate institution from the street railway, yet the two plants will be consolidated for the sake of economy in running expenses. The transfer will be dated from the first of this month. Mrs. J. F. Alexander will be in the city this week purchasing her fall and winter stock of millinery, and will have a grand display of New York pattern hats and bonnets, everything new in ribbons, special attraction in tips and fancy feathers, children's sura and plush caps in great variety. It will be to your interest to call and examine her stock and get prices before purchasing elsewhere. Tell me, ye winged winds that around my pathway soar, do ye not know some quiet spot where wives clean house no more; some lone, sequestered, leafy dale; some island, ocean-girt, where life is not one ceaseless war with cobwebs and with dirt; where only nature's carpet spreads beneath their tired feet, and wretched men are ne'er compelled its emerald folds to beat? The lake breeze fanned his heated face and said: "Beat on! There's no such place."—Ex. John McClelland, one of the early settlers in Beechwoods, where he followed farm life for many years, and moved to DuBois last spring, died at his home Sunday evening in the seventy-fourth year of life's journey. Mr. McClelland was married to the oldest daughter of John Smith of Beechwoods. His funeral services were held in the Beechwoods Presbyterian church yesterday forenoon and his remains were interred in the Beechwoods cemetery. Mrs. Elizabeth A. Slingerland, mother of Homer B. Leach, of Alton, Kan., formerly of Reynoldsville, died at the home of her son on the 23rd ult., after a long illness, at the age of seventy-eight years, three months and nine days. Her first husband died about seven years after their marriage and she was married the second time. Her remains were interred in the Alton cemetery. Mrs. Slingerland made many friends while living here who were sorry to hear of her death.

Arm Mangled.

Harry Flickinger, fourteen-year-old son of John Flickinger, who was employed as a trapper in the Big Soldier mine, met with a sad accident last Wednesday which cost him an arm. He was on the front end of a train of coal cars and in jumping off to slack the speed of the cars he fell under the wheels and had his right arm so horribly mangled that it had to be amputated at the shoulder.

Republican Meeting.

The Republican County Committee will meet in Reynoldsville at 3.00 P. M. Friday, October 14th. There will be a large parade in the evening after which D. B. Heiner, of Kittanning, Republican candidate for Congress, and John W. Reed, Esq., of Clarion, will speak in Centennial hall. Republicanites from Brookville, Punxsutawney, DuBois and other places are expected to be present. This will be the first political enthusiasm of any consequence manifested in Reynoldsville during the present campaign.

Committeemen.

The Republican and Democratic County Chairmen have appointed the following named gentlemen for this vicinity: Republicans for Reynoldsville, John M. Hays, Jerry Heckman, E. Neff, J. W. Warnick, John Lowther, John Cottle and Charley Ritsie; East Winslow, Ed McKee, O. H. Broadhead, G. B. Bowser, J. B. Sykes; West Winslow, S. E. Brewer, H. J. Hutcheson, S. E. Brillhart. Democrats: Reynoldsville, Frank J. Black, E. T. McGaw; East Winslow, Geo. Hughes, J. H. Ake; West Winslow, J. M. Moore, E. L. Daily.

"They are all Stomach."

Jingle—"I think the ladies might have asked their husbands for dinner." Jocond—"What! You not attend the Convention and then expect the ladies to invite you to eat all the good things from them?" Jingle—"The way to a man's heart, you know, is through his stomach." Jocond—"My dear sir, some men have no hearts, they are all stomach." The above conversation was heard the other day between two gentlemen who were talking about the Home Missionary Society Convention held here last week.

Is More Than a Thought.

[Punxsutawney Spirit.] Reynoldsville is seriously considering the building of an electric street railway, and the considerations will no doubt materialize into a road. The great suspension bridge at Brooklyn was once merely a thought in the mind of Engineer Roebling. The American Republic and the French Revolution were at one time merely ideas in one man's brain. Electric railroads are just the thing for a town of this size, and after you have one for a few months you will wonder how in the name of sense you ever managed to get along without it.

Will be Charged For.

As "resolutions" and "card of thanks" are of little interest to the readers of newspapers, save the people who are personally interested, therefore, the editors of the Volunteer and THE STAR have decided to hereafter charge for such notices at the regular advertising rate, five cents per line. It has been the custom of some of our county exchanges to charge for "resolutions" and "card of thanks" for some time. We make this announcement so that all our readers, and even those who borrow their neighbor's paper, may understand that such notices will cost money in the days to come.

Will Observe Columbus Day.

Columbus Day, Friday, October 21st, will be observed in a fitting manner at the Dean school house. The exercises of the day will be under the auspices of Washington Camp, No. 602, P. O. S. of A., of Rathmel. The Rathmel Camp will meet the Reynoldsville delegation at Sarah's crossing at 9.00 A. M. and form a line of march and proceed to the Dean school house. An interesting program has been arranged for the occasion. Good speakers will be present. Martial and brass band music will enliven the day's doings. Dinner will be served at what is called the upper school house. If the elements vie with the committees by granting a beautiful day, a large crowd will be present.

A Strike Averted.

[Brookwayville Record.] The miners of the Shawmut coal company's works at Shawmut have accepted a reduction of five cents a ton for mining and have returned to work. A meeting was held on Monday by the men, which resulted in the action above stated. All but about eight of the old men are back at work. More men are being employed at Shawmut, and the prospects are for better and steadier work. The reduction was based, it is said, on the possibility of a 50,000 ton contract, which was to be divided between the Shawmut and Noble works. Now that the men have accepted the reduction it is expected that the contract will be secured which in addition to others that may come in, will make steadier work.

In Durance Vile.

A man with a pup under his left arm, two dogs on a string and he himself filled with "spirits frumentis" was in Reynoldsville hilarious Monday afternoon and was taken to Brookville in the evening by Chief-of-Police Adelsperger greatly changed in his demeanor. The man resides at Eleonora and came here to get dogs that were shipped from Tyler to this place and he got too familiar with the pup that intoxicated. He started up Main street with his highly prized dog flesh and near old Samsy Lick there a boy about fourteen years old with a swarthy complexion and a "cow boy" hat upon his head was standing at the lower side of the walk and the canine-lover, without a word from the boy, gave the little fellow a kick above the left eye making an ugly cut. A warrant was issued and the Eleonora sport was put in the lock-up until 7.00 P. M. and then was given a hearing before Esquire McGaw. He was found guilty and in default of $200.00 bail was escorted to Brookville to answer to the court in December for his devilishness. The boy's father offered to take the hungry looking dogs and keep them as security until the culprit went to Eleonora to get money and settle the case, but the fellow preferred to leave his dogs with a friend and go to jail rather than leave them with one whom he looked upon as an enemy until he could go to Eleonora and return.

Arbor Day.

Friday, October 21st, is the day set apart for fall tree planting. Nothing higher and nobler could interest the ladies of the town than with their own fair hands plant a tree for the coming generation to point to with pride for the departed and say they took thought for those coming after them. Will all now take enough interest in this day to see that hundreds of trees are planted to beautify the town. Let it be done systematically. Have your committees appointed and let some go to the woods with teams while others do the planting and in a few short years you will be proud of your day's work. Let the teachers and school children take hold. It is through the little folks you reach the parents. You cannot please a mother more than by flattering her child, nor anger her quicker than by speaking evil of her son, though he be a horse thief.

Threatened to Kill.

A man by the name of Nulton and John McMinn, who were both employees on the Ames mill near Sandy Valley, went to settle an account last Friday and there was a difference of twenty-five cents between them, and McMinn, without using any harsh words, told the other man to bring his book and they would settle, but Nulton, without any provocation, threatened to kill McMinn, and getting hold of an axe that was sticking in a log nearby he attempted to fulfill his threat instant and struck wickedly at his victim cutting an ugly gash in his forehead. It is stated that he also attempted to push McMinn against a saw that was running. Nulton has made himself scarce in that locality since Friday, as a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Bring Back the Whip.

Three years ago Dr. J. B. Neale bought himself a good whip and only had it a few days until some unsophisticated scoundrel borrowed it from the doctor's buggy in his absence. From that time on a cheap whip answered the purpose for him. Week before last the doctor got financially reckless and bought another good whip. One night last week while in Rathmel for about twenty minutes some unparalleled unscrupulous, dastardly thief stole the new whip. If the physician finds out who the guilty one is he will punish him to the ultima thule of the law.

To The Point.

The Ridgway Democrat made the following pertinent statement last week which may fittingly be applied to some people even in our own thriving town: It makes us feel awful tired to hear croakers that are lounging, around, eternally jabbering away about the dullness of the times. Why in the world don't you get a move on you and help the board of trade to make things lively. Call in some of your capital and invest here in Ridgway in building and encouraging manufacturing interests and thus put an end to this everlasting yelping.

A Big Tree.

[Big Run Weekly Echo.] W. M. Blöse scaled a hemlock tree in Elk county on the job of John Cassidy & Son, for Seifert, Cowan & Hamilton that had but three logs (two 12' and one 16') which scaled 3,686 feet. Can any one beat this with three logs in one tree of the same length.

Woman's Relief Corp.

The members of John C. Conser W. R. C. No. 75 are requested to meet at the G. A. R. Hall Friday, October 14th. Every lady is requested to be present for special business. MELISSA SCOTT, Secretary. MRS. GORSLINE, President. Don't forget a tablet with each pair of shoes at Robinson's. FOR SALE—One car load No. 1 18-inch pine shingles. S. SHAFER. Try a pair of Robinson's test slippers.

Hymen's Altar.

At eight o'clock yesterday morning Father Brady performed the ceremony that united Ed. Gooder, the jeweler, and Miss Julia A. Nugent, youngest daughter of Michael Nugent, in the holy bonds of matrimony. The announcement of the marriage was not a surprise to the people, as it was generally known that such would be the result of the courtship going on between the twain. Albert Gooder, the groom's brother, and Miss Josie Aaron, both of Brookville, stood up with the contracting parties. Some of the young ladies who witnessed the marriage say the bride made a handsome appearance as she gracefully went through the ceremony. Amid a shower of rice the happy couple left on the 1.42 P. M. train for Pittsburg and other places. They will be absent a week or ten days and then return to Reynoldsville and go immediately to their own home on Hill street in Wm. Priester's house. Mr. Gooder had the house nicely furnished before he was married. He believed in having the cage ready before he caught the bird. Mr. Gooder is a very nice young man and Mrs. Gooder is a pleasant and agreeable young lady and, no doubt, home-life will be pleasant and happy for both of them. THE STAR joins with their hosts of friends in wishing them unlimited success and unbounded joy in life's journey.

Missionary Meeting.

The fourth annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society, of the M. E. church, Clarion District, was held in the M. E. church at this place on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. It was a pleasant and profitable meeting, the delegates all returning to their homes filled with enthusiasm for the work they are engaged in. Four sessions were held which were open to the public, but were not as well attended as they should have been by the membership of the church. The Conference President, Mrs. E. J. L. Baker, and Conference Secretary, Miss Annie Cummings, both of Chautauqua, N. Y., and the District President, Mrs. John Knapp, of Clarion attended the Convention. The next meeting will be held at East Brady the last week in October of 1893. The pulpit had been set aside and the inside of the altar was beautified with flowers, and entwined among vines and flowers, in large gilt letters, was the word "welcome," which was the heart-felt expression of the society of this place to the delegates in attendance. Thursday noon a tempting lunch was spread upon two long tables in the lecture room of the church, where the ladies of the Convention and the ladies of the Foreign Missionary society, who were invited, partook of the viands and made merry during the noon hour.

An Old Settler Gone.

One by one the old settlers of the Beechwoods settlement pass over the River of Death, most all leaving behind them a good record. At five o'clock last Saturday morning the body of William Dougherty was encircled in the embrace of death in the old home where for so many years he had gone in and out. Mr. Dougherty was born in Ireland and came to this country with his parents, five brothers and two sisters, all of whom, but his brother Hugh, preceded him to the great beyond. About 1838 he became identified with the interests of the Beechwoods settlement and in 1846 he selected Jane Smith as a help-mate in life's trials. She died almost eighteen years ago. Seven children are now left parentless. Mrs. Mary Devoport, of Beechwoods, Mrs. Ellen Penfield, Sugar Hill, Mrs. Sarah Richell, Warsaw, Mrs. Maggie Jane Cooper, daughter-in-law of our townsman Ninian Cooper, Wm. Dougherty, of Paradise, James, who resides on the old homestead, and John, the youngest boy who also lives in Paradise. The deceased was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral services were held in the church of his choice in Beechwoods Monday forenoon and his remains laid beneath the sod in the cemetery at that place. Mr. Dougherty was well and favorably known far and near and the long funeral train, seventy vehicles, was evidence that his friends were not a few. Hugh Dougherty, who lives near Allens Mills, Pa., is the only living member of the Dougherty family that came to America over a half century ago.
