LOCAL LAONICS.

The Angelic Husband.

There are husbands who are pretty. There are husbands who are witty. There are husbands who in public life are as smiling as the moon.

There are husbands who are healthy. There are famous ones and wealthy. But the real, angelic husband—well, he's never yet been born.

Some for strength of love are noted. Who are really so devoted. That when their wives are absent they are lonesome and forlorn.

And while now and then you'll find one Who's a fairly good and kind one. Yet the real, angelic husband—oh, he's never yet been born.

So the woman who is mated To a man who may be rated As "pretty fair," should cherish him for ever and a day.

For the real angelic creature, Perfect, quite in every feature— He has never been discovered, and he won't be, so they say. —Scissored.

November 1st. New shoes at Reed's. Thanksgiving month. Go to Riston's for gums.

Van Bennett will lecture in the M. E. church at Emerickville at 7.30 next Sunday evening.

A very desirable farm of 80 acres one mile west of Reynoldsville for sale. For particulars inquire of Mrs. M. E. Weed or Mrs. A. J. Burris.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in the Masonic hall Friday evening, Nov. 3rd. Remember the date.

Walter Mason, sr., received a severe contusion of the left knee and two cuts on his head by a fall of coal in the Big Soldier mine last Thursday.

Miss M. E. Moore, our leading milliner, will receive more new hats this week. Her stock is always the largest and prices to suit everybody.

Jos. McKernan, baggage master at the A. V. R.'y station, is gathering in his potato crop this week and Hubert Farrell is handling the baggage.

A number of young sports of this place went to Troutville Thursday night to attend the re-opening of the hotel at that place which has been enlarged.

It is a sign of popularity and prosperity to see a merchant adding to his stock these days. That is just what Henry A. Reed, "the shoe man," is doing.

M. V. B. Bennett, an orator of some repute, will talk at the Prohibition question in Centennial hall next Monday evening. Bennett is an able and eloquent talker.

Dr. B. E. Hoover, the dentist, was very busy last week. He began the week's work Monday by doing work for nineteen different persons and closed Saturday by doing work for sixteen persons.

A school girl stopped at the postoffice the other day and when informed that there was no mail for her she said: "Oh, paw! every time I come here I am mistaken." Disappointed, was what she meant to say.

The Jefferson and Clearfield County Medical societies met together at DuBois last Friday. Reynoldsville doctors were not represented. The eastbound train being almost three hours late was the reason therefor.

A concert and entertainment will be given in the church at Pancoast on Tuesday evening, Nov. 14. Concert will be given by the brass band. The entertainment will consist of recitations, singing, dialogues, &c.

If we are to accept the statements of the candidates now seeking the various offices of this county we are lead to believe that there will be a Democrat and Republican elected for each office. We don't believe it, however.

A Bible School Convention of the Western Division of the Clearfield Association of the Baptist church, was held in Brockwayville yesterday. Rev. E. T. Dorr, Jacob Booth and W. S. Stone, of this place, were on the program.

A society was organized in DuBois Saturday evening for intellectual culture, and was named the "Women of the Round-Table." This society is similar to the "Utopia Circle" of Reynoldsville and the "Whittier Club" of Brookville.

Hallowe'en was not passed by unobserved in Reynoldsville, although there was very little, if any, real damage done. There were more young ladies and young men out on a lark last night than usual, and perhaps the girls kept the boys from being devilish.

The Keystone band serenaded J. H. Bell, new superintendent of the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co., last evening. Mr. Bell had been notified a week before that the band was coming and preparations were made and after playing several pieces in front of Mr. Bell's residence the boys were invited in and excellent refreshments were served.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church will hold a "Gypsy Social" in the G. A. R. hall to-morrow, Thursday, evening, which promises to be the most mirthful social the Endeavor has ever held. The committee are making a special effort to have a very pleasant time. Admission, ladies five cents, gentlemen ten cents.

Miss Dillo Sibert had her right side and arm very badly scalded Sunday by upsetting a bucket of hot water upon herself.

By an act of the last legislature, Tuesday, Nov. 7th, election day, will be a legal holiday from 12 o'clock noon, until midnight.

Ed. C. Burns, the liveryman, hauled a valuable gray mare to the bone yard last Saturday morning. This makes nine hundred and three dollars worth of horse flesh Ed. has hauled out for burial inside of two years. Knocks the profits off livery business.

We notice by exchanges that swindlers are traveling over the country with samples of seed wheat which they show and claim will yield 50 bushels to an acre. They propose that they will furnish the seed and 100 pounds of phosphate per acre, and ask in return one-half of the crop. This is certainly a bargain for the seed, but it is still better to be a note for two or three hundred dollars.

The Mayor of Chicago was assassinated Saturday evening and our own beloved Mayor, John M. Hays, received a notice through the mail Monday calling his attention to the deplorable condition of several sidewalks on Fourth street. The writer of the notice accused Mr. Hays of showing partiality between the rich and poor, claiming if it were poor people on Fourth street whose sidewalks needed repairing, he, or his man Heninger, would soon be after the property holder. We believe, so far as possible, our Mayor serves all alike.

Father Brady, who is a good marksman, went to the creek Monday to shoot ducks. He found six and they were in such a position that he had a good shot to kill two and probably three. Father Brady took good aim and pulled the trigger. A few feathers flew and so did the six ducks. He got a second shot at them but was not successful in breaking the half dozen. After the ducks had flown he discovered a dipper in the creek, which he shot at five or six times, but he came home without even the dipper. Of course it was the gun's fault that the game was not bagged.

Rev. Slattery preached the third sermon Sunday evening in his series of sermons on "What makes a man." His Sunday evening subject was "A Christian in politics." The Reverend thinks it is not only possible for a christian to take part in political affairs, but that it is his duty to do so. There is no use in trying to deny the fact that christian people do not take the interest in political matters they should, and the time to get interested is not on election day, but at the caucus and primary. It is a common saying that the politics of to-day are very corrupt, which we do not propose to deny, but who is to blame?

The "foot sore" Polander, whom we mentioned last week, was taken in charge by the poor overseers of West Reynoldsville. The Polander wanted to go to Pittsburg and Dr. J. B. Neale, who was attending the crippled man, raised a subscription of $4.00, with which he bought a ticket for $4.20 and gave the Polander 70 cents in cash and sent him to Pittsburg Monday. The Polander kissed Dr. Neale's hand when he bade him good bye. The man walked from Buffalo, N. Y., to this place without anything on his feet but an old pair of shoes. Dr. Neale says the man's left foot was walked to death.

The indications are now that the C. & M. passenger train between Reynoldsville and DuBois will be discontinued in the very near future for the lack of patronage. The company officials claim the train does not pay. It is rumored that DuBois hotel men ignore the train and tell traveling men that there is no train to Reynoldsville in the evening only the one that gets here at 8.48, thus making it too late for them to do any business here and they remain at DuBois until the following morning. Commercial men can now come to Reynoldsville on the 7.40 P. M. train and have time to transact considerable business before time to close.

Tom Reynolds drove to DuBois one day last week with two ladies in the buggy with him, and on leaving DuBois one of the ladies wanted to drive, but just got hold of one line when the horse, which is a spirited animal, started off at a lively gait and the woman pulled on the one line and an upset was the result. Tom told a reporter on the Express that one of the ladies was killed. "Tis a wonder Tom did not tell the reporter that both women and the horse were killed and the only whole piece of the buggy left was one of the hubs. Tom could have given the reporter an exciting article had he been so disposed. His ability along that line was established when he was correspondent for the Puxsuttawney Spirit.

E. W. McMillen drives a spirited span of black horses, which he has been making good use of in his political canvass for election as sheriff of Jefferson county on the Democratic ticket. Saturday morning he went to his barn just about daylight to "hook-up" his horses for a big days' drive, and when harnessing one of the horses the animal ran out of the barn and up onto the vacant lots below Ed. Seely's. Several dogs ran after the horse and it started down over the hill at the speed of an express train and ran into the barb wire fence Ninian Cooper built around Test's two vacant lots on Grant street to keep his cows in during the summer. The horse was cut up badly. Its throat was cut, almost severing the wind-pipe, and its breast and front legs were badly lacerated. Mr. McMillen telegraphed to Brookville for F. F. Hoffman, the veterinarian, who came up and sewed and dressed the animal's wounds. The horse doctor had to put fifty stitches into the horse.

Occasionally a few "soiled doves" come to town and open a house of ill repute, which is a curse and cancer on the morals of the community where they locate. At present there is a house on Jackson street, not far from Fifth street, that is a disgrace to our town. A man who will rent his building to such "critters" is very greedy for a paltry sum of money and is not deserving of very much respect from the people at large. A man may rent his property to people before he knows who or what they are, but when they become as bold as the parties whom we refer to, when the man who lets the house cannot help but see for himself, then it is time to oust them, and the quicker the better. Reynoldsville has plenty of room for respectable people, but none for low, lewd women.

The DuBois Evening Express of Monday contained a half column article headed, "How George Sykes got there." The article was giving Mr. Sykes' experience on his way home from the World's Fair. As the story goes George was riding on the "limited" and the train stopped at a little town in Ohio to change engines and George and a fellow-traveler went to a near-by saloon for a glass of beer, but the train started, and so did Mr. Sykes, before the beer was drunk. George done his best and the people at the depot shouted: "Go it old man!" "Turn on more steam!" "Where did you get that gait?" etc., etc. The colored porter saw Mr. Sykes chasing the train and he pulled the bell, or perhaps the "limited" would have runaway from our townsmen.

We were standing in the postoffice the other day when the school children were homeward bound, and of course the postoffice was not passed by without inquiring if there is "any mail." Many of them would be greatly surprised if they were to get mail, but this is one of the thorns in a postmaster's life. The noise made by the school children is trying on a p. m.'s patience, but when a half dozen offsprings of the same family appear at the delivery window amid the confusion and inquire, "any mail for us?" then it is that the postmaster must summon up his angelic disposition. School children rush to the delivery window like pigs to a trough, and have about as much respect for each other.

At the regular meeting of the Shining Light Lodge No. 37, A. P. L. A., the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: Past Mistress, Mrs. Alice Guiny; Worthy Mistress, Mrs. Susie Marshall; Worthy Deputy Mistress, Mrs. Isabel Walker; Rec. Sec., Mrs. Mary McIntosh; Fin. Sec., Mrs. Mary Barkley; Asst. Sec., Mrs. Maggie Mohney; Trustee, Mrs. Maggie Sarah; Chaplain, Mrs. Alice Stewart; Cond., Mrs. Kittie Hays; Asst. Cond., Mrs. Blende Clawson; Inner Tyler, Mrs. Catherine Cameron; Outer Tyler, Mrs. Lizzie Walker.

We have been informed that the flag presented to the West Reynoldsville public schools by a patriotic order of this place a couple of years ago, has been used by the scholars for a jumping rope and had pieces torn off occasionally for dust rags, and the stars and stripes are not now in a fit condition to unfurl in the breeze. If this is really a fact, and we have it from good authority, the principal of the schools when this was done is deserving of severe criticism for allowing a flag to be destroyed in that manner.

The following dispatch from Berlin, Oct. 22, to the Pittsburg Times explodes the story that the Hettricks of this vicinity would soon be in possession of an immense fortune. It was evidently a money-making scheme of some sharper who required cash in hand to get hold of the fortune for the Pennsylvanians: "Last April a Pennsylvania newspaper advertised a German estate of $70,000,000 as awaiting distributions among George Hettrick's heirs in Germany. There is no foundation for the stories beyond the confidence of claim agents."

In the early days of our town's history it was not an uncommon thing for hunters to find an occasional bruin roaming the nearby forests, but in these latter days, when even grey and black squirrels are becoming scarce because the white man and his dog and gun have become numerous, it is not strange that considerable excitement would be created if it were announced on our streets that a bear had been treed within four miles of the town. C. F. Hoffman, one of our jewelers, has a good gun, an excellent hunting dog and he loveth to spend an afternoon in the woods looking for game. Last Thursday our above named nimrod shouldered his gun and away to the woodland. As the evening shadows were chasing daylight to China and it was difficult to discern objects, Casper discovered, what he decided in the twilight to be a young bear, climbing a tree. The nimrod had just one loaded shell left which he peppered into his bearship without bringing down the game. Casper left his faithful dog as a watcher at the base of the tree and he came to Reynoldsville on the evening train for something better than small shot to kill the bear. The story was told in town and was the leading topic of conversation in hotels and other evening resorts. John C. Conser and Thomas Green, proprietors of Hotel Belnap, Will F. Ford, David Cochran and John Thomas accompanied Mr. Hoffman in a hack to the lodging place of bruin. The night was clear and the gentlemen had no difficulty in seeing the bear on the tree. It was a thrilling adventure for the six men for if they missed their mark and would make the bear ferocious by an injury they might have a hard tussle with the strong beast of the forest, but such thoughts were soon banished when Will Ford, who had his gun loaded with buckshot, took good aim and before the smoke cleared away the beast fell to the ground dead. The hunters gathered around the dead carcass and lo! and behold you! the bear was a porcupine. It is needless to say that the men were bored, but they had considerable sport over their bear hunt. Mr. Hoffman, who is a jolly fellow, enjoyed the joke about as much as if he had not been the first to call the porcupine a bear.

The most loving affair we have seen for many days, was the affectionate manifestations of friendship between two men of Polish nativity in West Reynoldsville yesterday. The men put their arms around each other and were extravagant with their kisses, and the sound thereof, when they did kiss, was similar to that produced by a horse pulling its feet out of mud that was deep and stiff. A little beer may have been the cause of the loving scene. Swedes, Italians and Polanders are not averse to kissing one another, but you don't catch American born males indulging in any such affectionate outbursts, but when a pretty maiden, with rosy lips, shows any signs of a willingness to kiss, then you can always count on American lads.

The DuBois Courier said in Monday's edition: "A German tailor hailing from Reynoldsville came up here Saturday and had the misfortune to lose his pocket-book. Since the accident he has been getting along as well as could be expected." The lost pocket-book racket may have resulted in a few extra beers which the German otherwise would not have poured down his throat, for the "elephant tramped on his pocket-book" several years ago and is still on it.

We published an article last week about a calf falling off a freight train near Hopkins, and said it was a mystery how it got out of the car. The mystery has since been solved. The car door had been broken off accidentally and three calves fell out, one near O'Donnell, one at Hopkins one in the yards at this place. The two that fell out of the car down the road were returned to the R. R. Co., but the one here is being taken care of by some unknown party.

The Republican county committeemen at this place are: Charley Ritzke, John Fink, Jerry Heckman and George Harris. Winslow township, O. H. Broadhead, L. A. Hays, J. H. Null, Joseph Hutchison, Wm. T. Cox. West Reynoldsville, S. E. Brillhart, S. E. Brower, S. G. Austin. The Democratic committeemen at Reynoldsville are: J. B. Neale, S. T. Dougherty. Winslow township, L. L. Henry, James Hughes, J. M. Moore, F. W. Deemer.

The Daughters of Rebeckah gave a Hallowe'en basket social in the I. O. O. F. hall last evening. After the well filled baskets were sold and the contents devoured, a short program, consisting of singing, recitations and a tableau, representing "Rebeckah at the well," was rendered.

The heavy frost Monday night made the ground and sidewalks slippery yesterday morning and as "Todd" Seely was descending the hill near the school house he took a tumble and in doing so he broke his right fore-arm.

H. Alex. Stoke was in DuBois yesterday. J. Van Reed is in Emporium this week. J. C. Glass, of Verona Pa., was in town this week. N. T. Arnold, of Ridgway, was in town last week. Rev. J. G. Noble, of Puxsuttawney, was in town last week. George H. Jones is in St. Marys this week looking for a job. Herman Sindorf and Frank Schlabig were in DuBois Sunday. Miss Annie Barry returned Saturday from a visit in Driftwood. C. F. Hoffman and wife were in Pittsburg during the past week. W. C. Gibson and wife were in Pittsburg during the past week. Chas. Montgomery, engineer on Sligo Branch, was in town this week. Miss Clara Swartz went to Pittsburg Monday and returned yesterday. C. E. Jones and wife are visiting the former's parents in Clarion county. C. T. Myres, of Renova, had pressing business in Reynoldsville over Sunday. Dr. R. V. Spackman, of DuBois, was in town yesterday to see Dr. Reynolds. Miss Bessie Richardson, of Driftwood, is visiting several young friends in this place. Miss Flora Neil, of Cool Spring, is visiting Wesley Motter's family in this place. W. H. Baker, editor Ridgway Advocate, was in Reynoldsville on business last week. Mrs. James M. Marsh, of Sligo, visited her parents at this place during the past week. John McCroight, one of the thrifty farmers of this section, was in Brookville Friday. Mrs. Joseph Strauss, of Brockwayville, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. N. Hanau. Mrs. Joseph Shaffer is down with bilious fever. Dr. Lawson, of Brookville, is attending her. Miss Minnie Whitmore, who is teaching at Carrier, Pa., spent Sunday at her home in this place. Misses Blanche and Maggie Emery, of Brookville, are visiting their sister, Mrs. U. G. Schoenocker. Miss Annie Williams, of Oak Ridge, who was visiting John Davis' family, returned home yesterday. Albert Reynolds went to Pittsburg yesterday morning to meet his wife, who has been visiting in Ohio. Robt. Clark, one of the business men of DuBois, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Geo. Rhoads, at this place. Harry Heckman and wife were called to Lock Haven Friday to attend the funeral of a cousin of Mrs. Heckman. Harvey Hoke has moved his family from O'Donnell to the rooms over Wm. Burge's store in West Reynoldsville. L. J. McEntire, James K. Johnston and Thomas E. Evans left here Friday afternoon to take in the World's Fair. H. A. Kernott, of East Liverpool, Ohio, visited his sister, Mrs. L. J. McEntire, at this place during the past week. Mrs. J. H. Webb, of Falls Creek, has been visiting her brothers, A. B. and M. E. Wood, at this place the past week. Andrew Williams, of Tarentum, son of Rev. J. N. Williams, returned home Saturday after a two weeks' visit with Reynoldsville friends. Mrs. Annie Winslow, District Deputy for the Daughters of Rebeckah, and Mrs. Chas. Hoppel, instituted a new lodge at Lindsey on Monday evening. Mrs. M. E. Bennett and Mrs. M. M. Clayton, of West Virginia, are visiting R. D. Beer's family. The first named lady is a sister of Mrs. Beer and the latter is an aunt. Dr. Armstrong, of Lock Haven, was called here last week in consultation with the Reynoldsville doctors in Dr. S. Reynolds' case. Dr. Armstrong came Wednesday evening and returned home Thursday morning. Wallace Lowther, who has been spending the summer at Clearfield, will work in W. H. Hoppel's barber shop this winter. He went to Clearfield Monday for his trunk. Tenny May Barkley and Junia Love went with him. George Harding, of Ocala, Florida, who has been making his annual summer visit in this vicinity, returned to the southland yesterday. Mr. Harding is still a property holder in Reynoldsville and is interested in the town's prosperity. James H. Cox, son of Peter Cox, of Sandy Valley, who has been taking in the "wild and woolly west" and roughing it in the "Rockies" for sixteen years and a half, is now in this section again, where he expects to remain for sometime. The past two years Jim has been in Oregon, where he owns some valuable land. George Mellinger went to Ridgway yesterday and to-day entered into his duties as manager of the Shawmut Coal Co. Mr. Mellinger is a first class civil engineer and has had fifteen years experience about coal works. Hall & Kaul will find him a competent man for the position they have given him.
