LOCAL LACONICS.

The Keystone band was on the streets last evening.

See our men's fine shoes $1.10; best in town at Robinson's.

$3.00 pictures reduced to $1.49 per dozen at W. E. Lenney's gallery.

The proceeds of the firemen's fair at DuBois last week amounted to $2,500.

For a good substantial fine shoe for ladies see Robinson's $2.50 line. Can't be beat.

The commissioners are having a new iron bridge put over the North Fork at Brookville.

At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise.

Sam'l M. Lowther received his commission last week as District President of the P. O. S. of A.

Only $1.49 per dozen for those lovely aristo pictures. W. E. Lenney, back of Centennial hall, Reynoldsville.

A little sensation is brewing which will give gossipers something to talk about when the truth becomes known.

The regular monthly meeting of the Building and Loan Association will be held at Flynn's Hall next Monday evening.

Henry, ten-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Doworth, of Prescottville, died April 14th and was buried Monday.

An ice cream social will be held at the home of Mrs. J. M. Hays Saturday evening, April 21st, by the W. C. T. U. All are invited.

The men working at the Hopkins mill are getting from 5 to 10 per cent less this year for the same work than they did last year.

If reports be true, Reuben Hilderbrand and Miss May Steel, both of Sandy Valley, were married at Brookville last Thursday.

Vincent Modjeskia, a Poland, and Miss Mary East, both of West Reynoldsville, were married at the Catholic church yesterday morning by Father Brady.

Rev. R. M. Hunsicker, of Brookville, will preach in the Baptist church at this place next Sunday. The morning sermon will be followed with Communion.

John Thomas and Wilber and Henry Kline went fox hunting last Thursday and returned home with six of the cunning animals, five of them are yet of a tender age.

John Boyer applied to the borough of West Reynoldsville for aid for himself and family and the poor overseers are now supplying them with the necessities of life.

The Prudential issues small policies with correspondingly small premiums to suit every condition of life. Agent T. E. Davis has written over 200 policies since Jan. 1st, 1894.

Maude, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller, of West Reynoldsville, fell down stairs one day last week and was badly shaken up but received no serious injuries.

Mrs. Harvey McClarren, of Paradise Settlement, died April 16th and will be buried in a private cemetery on the Beam farm to-day. Consumption was the cause of her death. She was 38 years old.

John Robinson represented the miners and mine laborers of Reynoldsville in the U. M. W. of A. convention held at Columbus, Ohio, last week, and Wm. Lockyer was the delegate for the Rathmel miners.

William Anderson had the index finger of his right hand badly smashed last Friday at the Big Soldier mine. His work was to drop cars from the tippie and couple them. It was while making a coupling that the accident happened.

The house of widow Henry, mother of Chas. G. Henry, who lives on a farm a few miles south of Reynoldsville, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. It was rumored that her barn and corn-crib, with their contents, were also burned, which we cannot vouch for, but her house was burned.

A new ordinance for the borough of Reynoldsville will be found in this issue of THE STAR. This ordinance provides for fellows who will not pay their fines.

James McMann, who lives near O'Donnell, was in Reynoldsville yesterday. Mr. McMann has had a hard tussle with pneumonia the past two months and he looks considerably bleached.

Alex. Riston, Thos. Green, Ed. Gooder and George McKnight were out trout fishing Monday. The two first named were out very nearly all day and got about 30 trout. The other two went up the road on the one o'clock train and came home with fifty trout.

It would be worth while for the ladies to bear in mind that if they take a gentle course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the spring, they will have no trouble with "prickly heat," "hives," "sties," "boils," or "black heads," when summer comes. Prevention is better than cure.

The "poverty social" given by the Epworth League last Wednesday evening at Ab. Reynolds' was the funniest social the League has ever given. William Stauffer and Miss Carrie Albright won the prizes for being the most poverty stricken looking persons in the ragged crowd.

Several Polanders who attended the marriage of a Poland to an American girl yesterday morning, drove through West Reynoldsville at a reckless speed and shot off a revolver several times near the Moore House. The West Reynoldsville officers are looking for the Polanders who broke the ordinance.

It will be well for the sports who loveth to allure the speckled beauties from the rippling brooks to remember that the law prohibits catching trout under five inches long. The penalty for violating this law is $10.00. It is the duty of any person who knows of persons fracturing any of the laws of our land to have them arrested.

E. S. Hiles, of Allegheny, laid claim to the trimmed hats Dr. Aelxander received by express, of which mention was made in this paper last week. The hats were intended for the little town that appears on the map known as New York. The shipping clerk in Allegheny reads and hears so much about Reynoldsville that in a mistake he sent the hats to this town.

H. J. Sutton, of Clarendon, had one of Edison's latest Graphophones on exhibition at Hotel Dillman the past week. Mr. Sutton is the man that nine feet of a piece of 1-inch iron 21 feet long ran through his body some years ago. The iron fell from the top of a derrick of an oil well. Mr. Sutton was in Reynoldsville several years ago at which time a full account of the accident was published.

Volume 1, No. 1 of the New Bethlehem Leader reached our exchange table last week. It is published by Miller & McDowell. We take it for granted that Geo. P. Miller, formerly editor of the Big Run Tidings, is one of the editors of the Leader, as he went to New Bethlehem to start a paper. The Leader is the same size and style as was the Tidings. The new paper has our best wishes for success.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid, and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused," and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

J. L. Baley, of Bradford county, Pa., a Seven Day Adventist evangelist, was in Reynoldsville the past week trying to make arrangements to hold a series of meetings in this place, but as the tariff for hall rent was more than Mr. Baker care to expend for that purpose, he decided to postpone his meeting at this place until June, and then he will probably bring a tent with him and holding meetings in it. The Seven Day Adventist are very few in Reynoldsville.

We had business at Brookville last Friday and during our stay there we dropped into the commissioner's office and found the county commissioners, Messrs. Shields, States and Brewer, hard at work, in fact they seem to be always at work. Mr. Brewer is a carpenter by trade, Mr. States followed the lumber business for some time, and Mr. Shields, is a lumberman, farmer and a "jack-of-all-trades." No matter how busy they are they always have time to be pleasant and accommodating.

G. W. Palen, superintendent of the tannery in West Reynoldsville, had a little experience Monday evening that might have resulted in a runaway. He has a new horse and buggy and as he was driving along Main street, near the City Bakery, a boy rode past on a bicycle and the horse shied and ran under the wooden awning in front of the bakery. Several men were standing nearby and they caught the horse. One post was knocked from under the awning and the horse would have soon knocked out another post and then down would have come the entire awning. The horse, which is a young one, was never known to get frightened before.

Rosebud Circle.

A dozen young lassies, ranging in age from eight to ten years, have organized a Rosebud Circle in Reynoldsville. The girls meet at different places every Saturday. They have a little literary program every time they meet which consists of singing, recitations and select reading. Every four weeks they have refreshments of some kind. The dues are a penny a week. Nula Neale is president and Pearl Hamilton is secretary.

Gone to Join Cowey.

A. B. Weed, who is well known here as the train dispatcher for the A. V. R'y, left Reynoldsville yesterday morning on the 7:40 train. Just before he stepped onto the train he told a gentleman with whom he was talking that he had received a letter from General Cowey and that he was now going to join the army to take the position occupied by the "Unknown," who has been so rudely dethroned. Mr. Weed can amuse the comrades while in camp by "spinning" them a few "yarns," with which he is so well stocked.

Broken and Sprained.

When people least expect it they meet with accidents. Last Wednesday evening we were talking to Frank C. Miller in front of Bing & Co's. store. Mr. Miller started to go home and on the down grade between Hotel Belpap and Thomas' barbershop his feet flew into space and he took the biggest tumble he has participated in for many a day. Mr. Miller sprained his right wrist very badly and broke a small bone of the same wrist. He has not been getting as much comfort out of existing on this mundane sphere since the accident as he did previous to it.

Climax Road Machine.

John W. Phillippi, agent for the Climax Road Machine, is selling a large number of these machines. There are fourteen now in use in Jefferson county, two in Washington township and two in Winslow township. The two in the last named township have been in use about two years. The Climax is so well liked wherever used that it is taking the place of other road machines as they wear out. The company was fortunate in getting Mr. Phillippi for an agent, as he is hard to beat when it comes to selling machines. The Climax is certainly an excellent machine and it gives good satisfaction to all purchasers.

Town Council.

The town council held a special meeting last evening and transacted the following business:

Purchased from the Revere Rubber Co., of Boston, Mass., 600 feet of hose, one hose cart, two slamese couplers, two nozzels with double hand holds. Eli Boyer was given the contract to build the tower on the hose house. The tower is to be fifty-three feet high and Mr. Boyer is to get $120.00 for building it. The R. & F. C. R'y Co. offered to furnish the lumber for extending the paving over the R. & F. C. R'y to the iron bridge if the borough would do the work of putting down the paving. The proposition was accepted.

Slippers Cheap.

Slippers sold cheap in Reynoldsville for a short time Monday afternoon. A new shoe store was opened near Henry A. Reed's store recently and these two stores began cutting on the price of slippers. Seventy-five cent slippers were reduced until Reed had them marked 15 cents and his competitor marked his 9 cents. By the time the slippers were marked down to 9 and 15 cents a large crowd was around to buy. Reed sold his slippers at 15 cents, but the other fellow would not sell until he was compelled either to sell at 9 cents or take down his sign, and then he would only sell two pairs. He claimed that was all he had of that kind. Of course such business is not profitable for merchants to indulge in very extensively, but the man who wants to cut in prices should be willing to sell his goods, even though he does lose money.

Death of Mrs. Solida.

Mrs. Mary Solida died at the home of her daughter, Maggie Solida, on Thursday, April 12th, and her remains were laid beneath the sod in a private cemetery near DuBois on Sunday. The deceased, who was over sixty-six years old, was born in Brookville in 1828. She moved with her parents to Winslow township in 1827, in which township she lived and raised a family of five children, of which Maggie Solida is the youngest. While the children were little tots, Mr. Solida was killed by a limb of a tree falling upon him in a wind storm, leaving a widow with five fatherless children to do battle with the world in gaining a livelihood, which Mrs. Solida bravely succeeded in doing. Three daughters and one son survive the mother. The deceased had been a sufferer for a year with cancer, and her suffering was terrible for a few months before she died, yet she was patient and did not complain. She had the christian's hope which was an anchor to her soul even when her poor body was racked with pain. She was ready to obey the summons to pass through the "Valley and shadows of death." Mrs. Solida had been a member of the M. E. church for many years. Rev. J. C. McEntire conducted the funeral services.

WILL ALL STRIKE.

The Miners of this Place will stop Work Saturday.

It was settled at a meeting held in Reynoldsville several weeks ago that the miners and mine laborers of this section would abide by the decision reached at the U. M. W. of A. convention to be held in Columbus, Ohio, April 10th, in regard to the time for a general strike. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the national convention:

Resolved, That on and after 12 o'clock noon, Saturday, April 21, no coal shall be mined in any state or territory where the organization has control unauthorized by the national officers and the executive board.

Resolved, That if the first general suspension shall fail to secure the desired results the executive board is authorized to order another suspension at any time it may deem advisable.

The miners held a mass meeting near the Fuller watering trough yesterday forenoon to listen to the report from the national convention. A committee was appointed to confer with committees from other sections of this region to draft a scale of wages for this region, the scale to be submitted to the men at the next meeting.

We are unable to tell what the result will be, but we do know we would like to see the men get the forty-five cents a ton asked for, and believe if they stand together in the matter that they will gain a victory. We have it from good authority that if the men carry out the program as outlined by the U. M. W. of A., that the Bell, Lewis & Yates C. M. Co., are not averse to the strike, and that there is no antagonism between the operators and miners at this place. Some people fear trouble when the men strike, but they have no grounds for such fears in this immediate vicinity. The miners of Reynoldsville are gentlemen who merely ask for living wages, and we don't blame them for it. We have faith in the men of this section and believe they will not resort to anything desperate.

Arbor Day.

The response to the request made from the pulpit of the Presbyterian church Sunday before last, for shade trees for the yard, was equal to the capacity of the ground. Thirty-one trees were required and thirty-one were provided. The stakes where the trees were to be placed were numbered. Slips of paper bearing corresponding numbers were drawn by those who planted trees. The trees surround the lot and all are inside the yard except the front row.

The trees will be known by the following names, beginning at the N. W. corner and passing towards the N. E., continuing around to the starting point: 1 Thos. Shields, 2 Sam'l Lattimer, 3 Fannie Alexander, 4 Emma E. Johnston, 5 Wm. Alexander Jr., 6 El-nora Johnson, 7 Merl T. Johnston, 8 J. C. Ferris, 9 J. K. Johnston, 10 Lois H. Robinson, 11 John Waite, 12 Emille Johnson, 13 Dr. S. Reynolds, 14 Y. P. S. C. E., 15 N. T. L., 16 N. Cooper, 17 Mary Cooper, 18 Scott Ayers, 19 Leon Ferris, 20 H. R. Johnson, 21 Clare Ferris, 22 W. J. Borer, 23 Jas. Campbell, 24 Mrs. Alex. Riston, 25 Clara Simmons, 26 L. M. Simmons, 27 Henry Roden, 28 J. B. Arnold, 29 Belle Arnold, 30 G. W. Palen, 31 F. K. Arnold. Each one is expected to care for his own tree and replace it, should it die.

He is Prominent.

G. R. McKinney, the man who conducted a revival in the M. E. church at this place a year ago last January, is now located at McKinney, Oklahoma, which town he is the founder of. He is editor of The Teller, of which we have a copy on our exchange table. From this paper we learn that Mr. McKinney is a prominent man in McKinney, he is postmaster, justice of the peace, member township board, keeps a grocery and dry goods store, a hotel and livery stable, real estate agent, editor, pastor and is a "died in the wool" Democrat. He donates all fees received as justice of the peace and member of the township board to the benefit of the poor of the township in which he lives. Few men run a whole town as does Mr. McKinney, although we have a few people in Reynoldsville who would like to. If such people would go west they could build a town of their own and run it, for a time at least, and they would not be missed from our town.

Their Work Appreciated.

The following named teachers having just closed the most successful terms of school in the history of the township, the School Board takes pleasure in giving them high praise and recommendation in their success, and cheerfully recommend them to all persons wishing to procure good and competent teachers: Lizzie Burris, Mildred Fuller, O. H. Johnston, Ethel McCreight, J. M. McCreight, Tacy Dempsey, Minnie Smeltzer, Jessie L. Smeltzer, May Patton, Mollie Miles, J. J. Wingart, B. G. Woodward, Reynoldsville; S. A. Hunter, P. A. Hunter, Brookville; Iras Johnston, Susie McGranor, Rathmel; Myrtle Geist, Cool Spring; Laura Patterson, Mattie Waite, Sherwood; Etta M. Work, Sykesville; W. H. Quigley, Punxsutawney; Charles Stevenson, Pan-coast.

Directors—Thomas Hutchison, Thos. McCreight, O. H. Broadhead, W. T. Cathers, Henry Stevenson, J. B. Sykes.

Arrested as White Caps.

In our issue of January 24th, 1894, we mentioned that white caps had visited the shanty, near G. W. Fuller's, occupied by J. Y. Snyder and wife and frightened the couple by threats and shooting a ball into the shanty. Mrs. Snyder was so terrified that she left the place the next day. The band of white caps numbered from ten to fifteen. Snyder was arrested soon after for selling liquor on Sunday and is now serving a term in the county jail for violating the law. Snyder did not forget his white cap visitors of Jan. 16th, and although they did not leave their cards, nor is Snyder anxious to ever have another visit from the band, yet he seems to have a desire to know who composed the party and as has not had time to leave his job given him by the Judge, he has had D. E. Breneman, Esq., of Brookville, look after the men and if possible get acquainted with them. Mr. Breneman seems to be of the opinion that A. A. Swab and John Davis, of Rathmel, know something about the white cap band, for a warrant was issued and served on Swab and Davis last Thursday and they went to Brookville Friday and appeared before a justice of the peace and gave bail in the sum of four hundred dollars for their appearance before the same justice next Friday for a hearing. The attorney has the names of at least ten more who played "white caps," but nothing will be done with them until after the hearing of Swab and Davis.

The charges in the case are of a serious nature, as follows: Conspiracy to injure, delivering threatening letters, riot, assault and pointing fire-arms. The letter given Snyder on the night the white caps visited him, is decorated with a drawing of a skull and crossbones, a man hanging to a tree, a revolver, &c. It is stated in the letter, which will come up in evidence, that the band had just learned that he kept a disorderly house and that if he did not move withing ten days they would pay him a second visit.

It is likely that the persons who composed the white cap band were out for fun more than anything else, but if they are found out it may prove to be more of a serious matter than they had thought for.

Wanted His Fees.

Before the license was granted in February for Jefferson county a remonstrance was circulated at Rathmel against any license for that place, which was signed by a number of citizens. It was claimed that Kerr, the man who had license last year, had violated the law and an attorney was hired and a number of subpoenas were served by Constable Ed. Moore on Rathmel people to prove that Kerr should not have license. The constable wanted his fees for serving subpoenas which amounted to over seven dollars, and as time passed and the money was not forthcoming he sued six men who were selected from the list of names on the remonstrance paper. They had to appear at Squire Barr's office in Brookville at one o'clock last Friday to get a hearing for Mr. Moore's fees. As the constable had served the warrants and was plaintiff they could not make a case out of it. Mr. Breneman, who had been employed as the attorney to oppose Kerr's license, paid Mr. Moore for his trouble after it was discovered he could not make a case out of it. Breneman would not say who had employed him or where the money came from that he was then paying Moore.

It now appears that there are five or six witnesses at Rathmel who went to Brookville on the Kerr case that propose to sue the same six men for their fees as witnesses. It is not likely they will make anything out of it, but they may give the six men the trouble and expense of going to Brookville again.

Married at Clearfield.

W. J. Weaver and Miss Etta Henninger, of this place, hid themselves to the county seat of Clearfield Thursday morning, April 12th, over the C. & M. R'y, where they repaired to the Register's office and procured a marriage license and then engaged Squire McCullough, whose office is hardly the court house, to tie the knot instanter, if not sooner. The Clearfield Public Spirit in mentioning the facts in the case says:

"As is customary on such occasions all the old bald-heads and other officials about the county capital building made a bee line for McCullough's office to witness the ceremony with Prothonotary Ginery in the lead. Just as Mr. G. was about to swing himself through the door the bride-elect saw the mob and quick as flash reached the door and turned the dead latch, exclaiming, 'No you don't, gentlemen, we don't require your presence.' The Squire then tied the knot and the crossfallen would-be witnesses gazed in admiration from the outside. As soon as the all important words had been spoken the new Mrs. Weaver opened the door and invited the gang inside."

The Keystone band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Weaver at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Henninger, Monday evening.

Mal. Whitehill, of Brookville, stopped off at this place Friday night to see his brother John B. Mal. was on his way to Williamsport where he will spend the summer working for a machine company and also play second base for a base ball nine of that place.

Joseph Mallet, a coal miner who has lived at this place for some time, has gone to Ouray, Colorado, where he has been promised work in a silver mine at $2.75 per day. Mr. Mallet has found it difficult here to support his family, which numbers nine, with the amount of work he has been getting and at the wages paid. If Mr. Mallet likes Colorado he will move his family there in the course of time.

Reflect Parents.

We may pass our jokes about the staid old town of Brookville and of its multiplicity of lawyers, and so forth but there is one noticeable feature about its social standing that will bear commendation and imitation anywhere. We have had occasion to spend a week in Brookville at almost all seasons of the year and must say that we never saw its streets promenade by young girls who laugh loud and talk loud to attract the attention of strangers. In fact, the young girls keep off the street except only on errands. The parents are certainly to be commended for the way in which they have their daughters trained to know that the public streets are not the proper place to spend their leisure time. This is a feature that, we are sorry to say, Punxsutawney cannot boast of. It is a deplorable fact that too many young girls in this place trot the streets too much, and especially are permitted to be away from their homes till quite late at night. Such carelessness on the part of parents in permitting their young daughters to walk the streets too much is sure to have no good influence. The schooling they get on the street will be hard to overcome, and many a young lady's downfall can be traced directly to the time when she began to run the streets.—Punxsutawney News.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to our kind friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness during the sickness and death of our beloved mother.

MAGGIE SOLIDA, MRS. ELIZABETH LUBOLD.
